NEW-ORLEANS:
MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 24, 1844.

GRAND RALLY.

The Whigs of New Orleans are invited to attend a Mass Meeting at Banks' Arcade on Monday, 24th inst. at half past 7 o'clock, P. M. Several of the Candidates for the Convention will address their fellow citizens.

THE MEETING TO-NIGHT.

There will be a grand rally of the Whigs of Orleans this evening at Banks' Arcade. We trust that every member of the party will be present. The great topic of the duties and obligation of the Convention is one which should interest every voter of our city—It is one, upon which the whigs are disposed to act with perfect frankness and sincerity. They wish to lay their opinions before the people and to let the latter judge between them and their opponents. The vast assemblage which congregated a few evenings since at the St. Louis Ball Room demonstrated the intense interest felt by the Whigs in the question at issue. We are pleased and surprised on that occasion, to recognize a large number of gentlemen who rarely, if ever, mingle in party politics, or attend public assemblies; but who had been attracted thither by the momentous character of the proceedings. This evening several of the candidates for the convention, who have not yet spoken, will make known their views, and we hope that every friend to conservative institutions, every enemy of ridiculous, every opponent of an elective judiciary will give our candidates an impartial hearing.

MR. LABRANCHE.

The Courier devotes half column of Saturday's paper to an eulogy on Mr. LABRANCHE for his agency in procuring the passage of the bill adjusting the Land Claims in Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri and Arkansas. We are happy that this important bill has passed, and we congratulate the people of Louisiana that this tardy measure of justice will finally become a law; but it strikes us that the Hon. ALCEE LABRANCHE has had about as little to do with its passage, as any other member of the House. The Mississippi delegation were the gentlemen who urged the merits of the bill and defended its provisions with great perseverance and terror. We have delicately counted the votes, and we find that the author, whose merit it came before the House, and who yet to discover the first speech, explanation or syllable uttered by Mr. LABRANCHE, in its behalf. The land bill has passed the Senate at every session of Congress for a number of years, and until now, the House has invariably contrived to give it the go-by. We fancy that if any credit is due the Louisiana Representatives for their agency in promoting its adoption, Messrs. BARROW and JOHNSON over Whig Senators, can at least claim a portion of it, for carrying the bill successfully through the Senate.

But whatever may be Mr. LABRANCHE's signal services in the matter of the Land Bill, the people of the Second Distrikt will take account to settle with him for his votes on the Tariff. Mr. LABRANCHE is the representative of a large section of the sugar growing district of our State, and the planters of that staple are deeply and directly interested in the preservation of the present rate of duty, and the maintenance of a protective Tariff. But Mr. LABRANCHE's sympathies, if we may judge by his votes, seem to be altogether on the side of the ultra Free Traders, and it his anxiety to conform to the professed principles of locofocoism, he was willing to renounce the advocacy of a measure vital to the interests of Louisiana. He voted to take up the bill to repeal the present tariff—he joined with the Free Traders at every stage of its progress—he voted on the final motion to lay the bill on the table, in the negative. It was no fault of his that the duty on sugar was not reduced half a cent. He did his best to effect such a reduction. The voters of the Second District will bear these facts in mind. We are happy to add that there is every indication that they do bear them in mind. It is within our knowledge that a number of highly respectable planters in St. James and the adjoining parishes, who voted for Mr. LABRANCHE last year, confiding in his promises to sustain the Tariff, have become indignant at his course and are determined to support his whig competitor. St. James gave nearly a majority for Mr. BARROW G. THIBODAUX will not receive one hundred and fifty votes in that wealthy and populous parish. No matter for Mr. LABRANCHE's new trade notions. They will consign him to the shades of private life.

P. S.—Since writing the above, we perceive that the Land Bill has been reconsidered in the House—despite Mr. LABRANCHE's influence—and we have strong apprehensions that it will be lost. The following from the Baltimore Patriot, of the 15th instant, is all we have been enabled to gather on the subject. It is worthy of regard that Mr. White—a friend of the bill—is a whig. Mr. Dromgoole and Speaker Jones, who seem anxious to kill it, are locofocos:

LAND CLAIMS.

A motion was made yesterday, but not then acted on, to reconsider the vote by which the Bill in relation to certain Private Land Claims in Louisiana and other States, was passed. This motion came up, and Mr. White raised the question that the motion was out of order.

Messrs. White and Dromgoole discussed the point at some length. The former gentleman contended that the motion was not out of order, because the bill had been sent to the Senate and was no longer under the control of the House. The Chair decided that the motion to reconsider was in order, and gave his reasons at length. Mr. White appealed, and the House sustained the Speaker.

Mr. Dromgoole offered a resolution directing a message to be sent to the Senate for the return of the Bill to the House.

Mr. White contended that the resolution was out of order. The Chair decided otherwise, and Mr. White appealed from the decision. The decision was sustained by a vote of 91 to 71.

Mr. Dromgoole's resolution was then adopted. The same gentleman called for the previous question to reconsider the vote by which the bill had passed. The motion to reconsider was adopted; yeas, 91; nays, 77.

The question then was on the passage of the bill.—The bill, however, had not yet come back from the Senate.

Mr. Tibbatts moved that the subject be postponed for an hour. The motion was agreed to.

LOCOFOCOISM AND ABOLITION.—The New York Evening Post, one of the ablest and firmest party organs in the country, referring to the stand taken by Mr. BENTON on the Texas question, says:—We hope that while men of Mr Benton's capacity, occupy without flinching their original position, we shall not be told that the only test, the shibboleth of democracy, in the year 1844, is this new fangled nonsense of immediate annexation."

We wonder if the Spectator will not read the Post out of the ring.

SUICIDE.—A fine young man named EDWARD HASELER, a son of the late Mr. Haseler, the distinguished mathematician, shot himself through the head with a pistol, on the 24th instant, in New York. No cause can be assigned for the rash act. In his pocket was found quite a large sum of money, and he was supposed to be worth $20,000 besides. His own brother was called up the Jury of Inquest, and on recognizing the body, became almost frantic.

APPOINTMENTS OF THE PRESIDENT.—The Intelligencer of the 15th, says:—

"James S. Green, of New Jersey, was yesterday nominated to the Senate by the President for the office of Secretary of the Treasury.

"We learn that Lemuel Williams of Massachusetts, was yesterday confirmed by the Senate as Collector of the port of Boston, and that the nomination of Charles G. Ferris as Collector of the port of New York was rejected."

REJECTED.—The nomination of DAVID HAYDEN, as Collector of the port of New Orleans, was rejected by the U. S. Senate on the 14th inst.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

CRIMINAL COURT.—His Honor Judge Cassonge, on Saturday last, passed sentence upon the following persons:

William Enos, James Garrity and William Bennett, convicted of larceny—for the stealing of about $700 from the bed room of Mr. Rodgers, proprietor of the Montgomery House—were sentenced to two years imprisonment at hard labor, in the Penitentiary.

FROM TEXAS.

By the arrival Saturday of the steamship New York, Capt. Wright, from Galveston, we have received our files of Texas papers to the 15th inst. The papers contain little worth extracting—they are filled with articles on annexation. The Gazette of the 15th says that if Texas could procure from Mexico a complete recognition of her independence, a majority of the citizens would be opposed to annexation.

The trial of Commodore Moore was still in progress at Washington.

Intelligence to the Indian troubles on the frontier, the Houston Telegraph of the 12th, has the following:

"We have direct information from Bexar, that the dancer is no less than hereforth—that the Indians are still committing their depredations in perfect security, and that it is not in our power to travel the road unless armed and in company. And it is certainly no less important to congratulate our strangers to be so well supplied with as fine a lot of well and experienced Indians as Bexar, who never leave town without arms and company."

THE MORMONS.—From the account received by way of St. Louis, we think it highly probable that the career of the lawless Joe Smith will be shortly and effectually stopped. The greatest excitement prevails against him and his deluded and pugilistic followers, and we are in daily expectation of hearing that a general attack has been made upon Nauvoo, and Holy Joe himself safely consigned to justice which should long since have awarded him a halter for his iniquities.

The people of Warsaw, whose press—the Signal—has been thrust with destruction, are greatly exasperated, and have resolved to defend it at all hazards, as well as to carry the war into the enemy's camp, and rid themselves of the Mormon leaches, once and for all. These resolutions adopted at a public meeting, breathe a most determined and resolute spirit, and if they are seconded by the citizens of other counties, Joe Smith and his adherents will be caught and caged.

The last accounts from Nauvoo, says the St. Louis New Era, intimate that Joe Smith and his associates have ordered the arrest of all who oppose his despotic proceedings. The mass of the people of Nauvoo still remain his jackals. He and his legion still hold the public arms, furnished to them by the authorities of Illinois, and he refuses to obey the warrant issued by those that were engaged in the recent mob.

The Keokuk, of the 15th instant, contains the following particulars:—

THE MORMONS.—At the last accounts, the counties bordering on the Mississippi and the river were in a state of great excitement, and bloodshed was looked for.

The Iowa Vernon, on her last trip, took about sixty stand of arms from Quincy to Warsaw, and would take more if required.

There was a mass meeting of the citizens of Hancock county, at Carthage, on the 10th inst. Resolutions were adopted as the sense of the meeting, which resolutions, it will be remembered, are very severe on Smith and his abettors, recommending immediate extermination of the Mormons, if they attempted any aggression on the property of the neighbor elsewhere produced by the Institutions.

6—The most difficult and embarrassing of all the subjects to be submitted to the Convention will unquestionably be the organization of the Judiciary Department. All agree that it should be independent, all admit that it should not be irresponsible. The question is, how can it be made to responsibly appear from popularly constituting for that purpose, would yet be concurrence of these two qualities is a greater or less degree, is absolutely indispensable. The people are sufficiently in which the people will be willing to confide. In assuming this end, the Convention must decide, first, what is the proper extent of power; and second, what shall be the source of office.

I am in favor of leaving the appointing power where it now is. A selective judiciary, whether it be made by the Legislature, or by the people, is, in my opinion, prove a curse to the State. I cannot reflect without dismay upon the possibility of a seat upon the judgment bench being occupied by a man who owes his elevation or successful intrigue. Let not the cause of justice be polluted in scenes of party strife. Let the responsibility in the choice of the Judiciary rest upon the people, and let all who aspire to the Judiciary, place their fortunes and our reputations, be based as it now is on the Executive, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate. Let no selfish appeals be made to certainty as human infirmity and present, appoint and remove Judges in our Courts.

The proper tenure of office is a subject of still greater difficulty. The appointment of Judges to hold office during good behavior is certainly attended with some objections. Experience has shown that such courts have shown a diminished age and increasing infirmity, and should we then be to retire from public life, long with perverting tenacity to offices which they are unable to fill, and from which, at the same time, under our present system, it is impossible to dislodge them. A remedy for this evil was sought by the people of New York when they prohibited the holding of a judge of election by any judicial officer above the age of sixty years. The enactment has had the effect of depriving the people of the State of the services of many of the most enlightened jurists and learned Judges that the country has produced, and the law, at the very time when it is desired by the people with unparalleled confidence as a very summary of the law. Such a provision, if contained in the Constitution of the United States, would have deprived the country for many years of the services of a Marshall. On the other hand, the appointment of Judges for a term of years would, as I believe, be hailed by the people of the State as a great improvement on the present system. The great number of persons who are dissatisfied with the manner in which the Judges should be selected, and the shortest and most expected members of the bar, but it will be found impossible to induce such men to abandon an extensive practice at the bar, and to accept seats on the bench for a limited number of years.

Surrounded with difficulties as this subject is admitted to be, I believe the tenure least liable to objection would be a term of years. I would, however, be in favor of facilitating the removal from the bench of an obnoxious or objectionable Judge, and suggest, though with strong diffidence, that the provision of the Constitution of New York directing the tenure of office to cease at the age of sixty years might be usefully adopted with the modification, that the Judge selected for a term of years, should, if expired, might be reappointed for a second term of years, any few years, and his services thus remained for the State by repeated applications until his increasing infirmities ought induce the Executive to do a kind office.

I have not adverted to some abuses in our system of elections, which I have frequently exposed in the Legislature, and which resolutions, it will be remembered, I offered in the Legislature for abolishing the French language. I cannot believe that any one seriously entertains such projects, but I am satisfied in the belief, that not only are they entertained, but are seriously contem
