COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DRS. }
THIRSAY EVENING, March 21, 1857.

We have still a fair amount of business to report in our general market for the past week, and prices for most articles have been well maintained. The demand for Cotton has been good, and the rates have further advanced, operations being restricted to some extent by reduced supplies. Tobacco has been in good request at full prices. In Sugar and Molasses, a moderate business has been done at previous rates. Flour and Grain are without material change, and the same remark will apply to most articles of Provisions. Freights have been dull and still easier for shippers, and Exchanges held at firm rates.

On Wednesday morning we published the Africa's accounts, embracing Liverpool dates to the 7th inst. They reported a firmer Cotton market, with sales of 51,000 bales for the week, including 9,000 for speculation and export. Fair Orleans was quoted at 5¾d., and Middling at 5¼d. The stock on hand was stated at 541,000 bales, of which 231,000 were American.—In the Havre market, New Orleans fair ordinary was quoted at 110 francs.

COTTON.—Arrived since the 20th instant, 20,315 bales. Cleared in the same time for Liverpool, 2,700; Havre, 3,424; Pawtucket, 1,284; Bordeaux, 750; Brenon, 459; Antwerp, 1,053; Barcelona, 1,000; Maldivia, 1,040; Havana, 60; Vera Cruz, 1,125; Boston, 4,850; New York, 1,661, and Philadelphia, 407 bales; together, 41,972 bales, making a reduction in stock of 23,657 bales, and leaving on hand, including those all on shipboard and in the various presses and pickeries not cleared, a stock of 270,586 bales.

The market opened on Saturday with a quiet appearance, the demand being checked by the firm pretensions of factors, and the sales were confined to 3500 bales. On Monday, however, buyers came forward wonderfully apart, and although advanced rates were generally claimed, the sales amounted to 20,000 bales, the closing prices showing an advance of fully ¼c on all qualities. With a reduced supply on the market, the business did on to 10,000 bales on Tuesday, and 8,000 on Wednesday, holders generally being the advantage in rates, and most of the trading, which being at certain figures, though without any further quotable advance. Yesterday only 2,000 bales were sold, but at rates showing an improvement of ⅛c after previous quotations, and today 6,000 bale changed hands, making the total business of the week 40,500 bales. The market closes at the subjoined prices quotations, which are advanced ¼c for the week.
