ENGLAND AND PERSIA.

AN ARMISTICE DECLARED.

Church-burning at Nashville.

ARRIVAL OF THE CANADIAN.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The Liverpool and Montreal steamship Canadian, from Liverpool on the 25th ult., has arrived at Portland, bringing four days' later intelligence from Europe.

ARRIVAL OUT OF THE NIAGARA.

The Royal mail steamship Niagara, Capt. Ryrie, from Boston, March 11th, arrived out at Liverpool on the 23d.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

LIVERPOOL, March 25.—The Cotton market closed rather dull, but without any change in prices.

The sales of three days amount to 18,000 bales, mostly to the trade; speculators and exporters taking only 1000 bales each.

BREADSTUFFS.

The market is very dull, and transactions are limited. All qualities have declined.

Provisions are firm.

The money market is easier. Consols for money closed at 93⅛.

AUSTRIA AND SARDINIA.

Advices by the Canadian confirm the report of trouble between Austria and Sardinia, and state that diplomatic relations have been suspended between the two countries.

ENGLAND AND PERSIA.

An armistice has been concluded between England and Persia, pending the ratification of the late treaty.

CHURCH BURNT AT NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, April 8.—Dr. Ferguson's new church (Cristian) was burnt to the ground this morning. The fire was the work of an incendiary. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

STEAMBOATS PASSING.

VICKSBURG, April 8.—The Wm. Morrison passed down at 11 last night; the Philadelphia and Yazoo Bell passed at 8 this morning.

ENGLAND AND NAPLES.

Previous to the dissolution of Parliament, Lord Palmerston, in replying to questions, said that no direct overtures had been made by Naples for the return of the Embassies. Naples had, however, indirectly asked whether sending the prisoners to Lapland would be considered sufficient. He (Palmerston) said that the British government would not be satisfied with Naples, merely emptying her prisons to fill them again.

TREATY WITH MOROCCO.

A commercial treaty lately concluded with Morocco was laid before the House.

THE NEW PARLIAMENT.

The House had disposed writs for the new Parliament returnable on the 13th.

BUCHANAN'S INAUGURAL IN ENGLAND.

The English press speaks very favorably of the moderation of President Buchanan's inaugural address.

FRANCE.

Late accounts from some of the manufacturing towns are rather favorable. There is some complaint in regard to the non-arrival of orders for silk from the United States.

Advices from Algiers state that a fifth more land there is sown in wheat than there was last year.

Marseilles letters of the 18th say that the master of the ship Adriatic, which was seized in consequence of the collision with the French steamer Lyonnais, had demurred against the jurisdiction of the French Courts and appealed to an American tribunal. His demurrer was overruled, and the case will be tried before the Tribunal of Commerce.

SPAIN AND MEXICO.

Letters from Cadiz state that the forts of Vera Cruz had fired into the Spanish war steamer Ferrolana, and when the commander demanded an explanation, none was vouchsafed.

The Mexicans, it is said, boast that they have assistance from the United States.

THE SWISS CONFERENCE.

The Neufchatel Conference would probably meet on the 25th.

THE POLES FOR CIRCASSIA.

The Ottoman Porte has appointed a commissioner of enquiry to answer the demands of Russia for an explanation in regard to the sending of Poles and Turks to Circassia.

PERSIA AND ENGLAND.

The armistice between Persia and England is to hold for three months. A civil war is raging in Persia.

ENGLAND AND JAPAN.

The cause of the misunderstanding between England and Japan was the refusal of the Japanese to admit the British steamers into the port of Nanghai, as agreed in the treaty.

The steamers entered the harbor by force, and the Emperor afterwards published an edict, opening the ports to them but forbidding the crews to penetrate into the interior.

CHINESE AFFAIRS.

We have nothing of importance from China. The baker who poisoned the bread at Canton has been executed. He said he acted according to orders.

THE SOUND DUES.

According to the London Gazette the Sound Dues are abolished from and after April 1st.

STEAMBOATS PASSING.

VICKSBURG, April 8.—The Nick Thomas passed down at 10 this morning, the Crescent City at 2, and the R. J. Ward at 7 o'clock this evening.

MARINE DISASTERS.—A dispatch from Sandy Hook states that four schooners and one sloop are ashore on the Jersey coast. A schooner and a sloop are ashore on the Hook, and a sloop on Horseshoe; also, a bark on Coney's Island. No names, and no further particulars have been received.

The schooner Stephen Taber, of Mobile, for Providence, is ashore at Point Judith, R. I., in a bad situation, but may probably be saved. Her cargo consists of 700 bales of cotton.

Professor MICHAEL TUOMEY, the distinguished Professor of Geology, Mineralogy, and Agricultural Chemistry in the University of Alabama, is dead.

SUICIDE.—A man who entered his name as Mr. Johnson, of Virginia, committed suicide at the Girard House, Philadelphia, on the 1st, by taking strychnine. His real name is J. Alfred Halsey, a clerk in a carpet store in New York.

ROTATION.—Isaiah Rynders, chief of the "unwashed Democracy" of New York city, believes firmly in this cardinal principle of his party, as we infer from his first announcement after he walked into his office. Addressing the dependent officials under his predecessors, he affirms, "I have friends to provide for, and it is probable you all will have to walk the plank." It is said, however, that two of the old deputies will be retained, to initiate Rynders into the duties of his office.

Rynders promises, nevertheless, to make an efficient Marshal. He says he is determined to do his duty at all hazards; that he means to set an example of efficient service, and compel all under him to do the same or be discharged. "If," says he, "a fugitive slave is to be caught, I'll catch him; if a slaver is to be prevented from sailing, I'll stop her, and do the latter duty a little more readily than the former; and if filibusters attempt to break the laws of the United States, they shall receive no favor at my hands. I approve of filibustering; but, as I said at the Tabernacle, 'my feelings as a man are one thing, my duty as an officer another.'"

STEAMER ISAAC NEWTON.—There are at least some two hundred workmen engaged on the steamer Isaac Newton. Her bottom has been removed, and efforts are now being made with casks, canal boats, barges, &c., to raise her. A steamer is in attendance to tow her to New York the moment she is raised. This is expected to be accomplished in the course of the week, should the weather prove auspicious. The extent of the damage sustained cannot be ascertained until the work is accomplished, though many are of the opinion that the vessel sustained more damage in the endeavor to drag her off than by running on the rocks.—Albany Journal, April 1st.

A GAME OF BILLIARDS—$5,000 ASIDE.—A celebrated billiard-player in this city has challenged another of equal celebrity to a game, for the modest sum of $5,000. The trial will come off some time next month. They are both manufacturers of tables, and probably understand the cue.—News.

THEN AND NOW.

A few years since, observes the Washington Union, it often happened that candidates for public office were questioned by abolitionists to ascertain whether they favored the political theories of that fanatical sect. In 1838 MARCY and SEWARD were candidates for Governor in New York; GERRIT SMITH and WILLIAM JAY, by direction of a public meeting, questioned them both, and among other things, their views of the then existing law of the State, which was in these words:

"Any person not being an inhabitant of this State, who shall be traveling to or from, or passing through this State, may bring with him any person lawfully held by him to slavery, and may take such person with him from this State; but the person so held in slavery shall not reside or continue in this State more than nine months, and if such residence be continued beyond this time, such person shall be free."

Governor MARCY returned one of those positive answers for which he has been distinguished, against the repeal of the law, which, it will be seen, is substantially that indicated in the opinion of the Supreme Court in SCOTT's case, as announced in the newspapers of the day. The following extracts from Gov. SEWARD's response we copy from an article published in the Essex County Republican, a paper published in Northern New York. It most clearly proves that his present professions against the slave laws of that period, and in favor of negro equality, are more delusion and insincere, like those of his political satellites in the Legislature at Albany, who refused to allow a negro clergyman to assist as a chaplain in opening their sessions with prayer:

"But, gentlemen, being desirous to be entirely candid in this communication, it is proper to say that I am not convinced it would be either wise, expedient or humane to declare to our fellow-citizens of the Southern or Southwestern States, that if they travel to or from, or pass through the State of New York, they shall not bring with them the attendants whom custom, or education, or habit, may have rendered necessary to them. I have not been able to discover any good object to be attained by such an act of inhospitality. It certainly can work no injury to us, nor can it be injurious to the unfortunate beings held in bondage, to permit them, once perhaps in their lives, and at most on occasions few and far between, to visit a country where slavery is unknown. I can even conceive of benefits to the great cause of human liberty, from the cultivation of this intercourse with the South."

* * * * * *

"I will not press the considerations, flowing from the nature of our Union, and the mutual concessions on which it was founded, against the propriety of such an exclusion as your question contemplates, apparently for the purpose only of avoiding an implication not founded in facts and which the history of our State so nobly contradicts. It is sufficient to say that such an exclusion could have no good effect practically, and would accomplish nothing to the great cause of human liberty."

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

THE ISTHMUS TROUBLES—THE MCCORMICK & RAMSAY CONTRACT—THE NAVAL SERVICE.—Washington, April 1.—The Cabinet held a long session to-day, and it is understood that our difficulties with the New Granadian authorities was one of the topics under consideration. The result reached is not definitely known, but the impression among those well informed is, that the present administration will be equally as energetic in its demands for the reparation of past outrages as the past administration was, and, moreover, that these demands will be backed up by a strong squadron at the ports of Carthagena and Panama.

The case of McCormick & Ramsay against the government, for violation of their contract for carrying the mail between Acapulco and Vera Cruz, will soon be decided by the first Controller of the Treasury, in favor of the contractors, with such damages as will protect them from all loss.

The Naval Board of Inquiry, now in session here, have, it is said, decided to make but few restorations; there is much disappointment felt in consequence, by those who were urging their claims.

The appointments for Maine still "hang fire," and it is now reported that Mr. Appleton will not accept the Collectorship even should it be offered him.

THE POLICY OF THE ADMINISTRATION IN KANSAS AFFAIRS.—Washington, April 1.—The administration has initiated none of the proceedings in Kansas having in view the election of delegates preliminary to the formation of a State constitution; but, with the intention and desire to terminate the distracting question of slavery, will assist in carrying forward the measure which has been commenced in the Territory for that purpose, leaving the people at large, without any reference whatever to their political divisions, to settle it by a free and untrammeled vote for themselves. It having been repeatedly asked how an independent suffrage can be exercised if the laws of the Territory are to be regarded as valid, the reply from the best sources of information is that the law providing for the election is a fair one, it explicitly declaring that "all free white male citizens of the United States over twenty-one years of age, resident of the Territory on the first of April, shall be entitled to vote for delegates to the constitutional convention. This is to be administered without regard whatever to any test oaths. Gov. Walker and the Secretary of State recently appointed for Kansas have repeatedly said that their efforts, in accordance with the views of the administration, will be to secure a fair expression of opinion to all the people of Kansas, while they will carefully abstain from any act which could be construed into a partiality for one side or the other. Whichsoever way the citizens decide, the administration will be content. Governor Walker repeats his opinion that Kansas will be a free State.

REPORTED PURCHASE OF TEHUANTEPEC.—Washington, April 2.—The reported purchase of Tehuantepec by our government is premature, as I learn on reliable authority that no steps have been taken towards the consummation of such a project. It is not unlikely, however, that the Pacific mails will be sent by that route as soon as it is regularly opened.

Post-office Department.

THE MAIL LETTINGS.—Yesterday the reception of bids for mail contracts closed, and at 9 o'clock the department commenced opening the proposals, preparatory to rendering a decision thereon. The persons employed on the letting business are locked up like a jury, and the bids opened by the clerks in the presence of the Postmaster-General and one assistant, or, if the Postmaster-General be absent, in the presence of two assistants. Every bid, and every paper accompanying the bid, no matter how small, is marked with the initial of the heads of the department present. After being thus marked, they are handed to the endorser, whose duty it is to compare carefully their contents with the advertisement; and if any deviations are noticed therein, or if any alterations should be proposed, these are fully stated in the brief. The endorser, on completing his part of the work, signs his name in full on the case, and then the bids are passed over to the examiner, who investigates thoroughly the work of the endorser, and on concluding the same, signs his name, thereby indicating that the bid has passed through his hands. From the examiner the bids are transferred to the recorder, who enters them in regular order—the highest first, and so on down to the lowest—in a book which has previously been indexed and prepared for this purpose, and after entering each case, he places his name upon the proposal. The recording having been completed, the entries are reviewed, and then placed before the Postmaster-General for his decision.

Subjoined is the number of regular routes in each State, for which contracts will be given:

	Routes.
Maine	156
New Hampshire	82
Vermont	81
Massachusetts	122
Rhode Island	19
Connecticut	71
New York	442
Total	973

In addition to the above, contracts will be entered into for carrying the mail on six hundred miscellaneous routes, which are distributed throughout the different States in which regular lettings do not take place.—Washington Union.

A BOY FOURTEEN YEARS OLD CONVICTED OF MURDER AND SENTENCED TO DEATH.—In the Toronto Globe we find a detailed account of the trial of a boy named James McGavrie, between thirteen and fourteen years old, for the murder of James McCall, a boy nine years of age, in October last, in the township of Garafraxa, Canada. According to the evidence the murder was most deliberate and inhuman. Having had a quarrel with the boy McCall, he enticed him into the woods to get apples, and when there he beat him with a stick, and afterwards took a piece of a broken bottle, cut his throat with it, and inflicted gashes and cuts all over his body. He then stripped the body, hid it between two logs, and, with the clothes tied up in a bundle, left the scene. When questioned by McCall's father he denied the murder, but afterwards confessed it, giving its horrible details. He escaped the vigilance of the officers for two weeks, but was subsequently captured. After the evidence was heard, the jury, having retired a few minutes, gave a verdict of guilty of wilful murder, with a recommendation to mercy. The Judge, before passing sentence, asked the boy if he had anything to say why the sentence of death should not be passed upon him, who replied, "I say they've sworn to a lie." Old Boots says he gave me 25, and he did not." He then sentenced him to death by hanging on the 11th day of April next, stating that he would lay the evidence before the Executive, but intimated his own opinion that there was no hope of mercy from that quarter, on account of the horrible nature of the crime. During the whole trial the prisoner exhibited no signs of sensibility, and received the sentence with an air of callous and careless indifference.

RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.

PROVIDENCE, Wednesday, April 1, 1857.

The State election to-day resulted in a complete triumph of the opponents of the National Administration. Elisha Dyer, for Governor, and the other Republican candidates for State officers have been elected, and only a very few Democrats have been returned to the Legislature. Both of the Republican candidates for Congress have been elected, in the Eastern District, Nathaniel B. Durfee has a majority in every town in the District; and in the Western District, Wm. D. Brayton has a handsome majority over Charles Jackson, the ablest Democrat in the State.

Correspondence of the Bee.

HOUMA, PARISH OF TERREBONNE, April 7th, 1857.

Editors of the Bee—The result of the election at this precinct alone shows a majority of 75 for Judge Cole, for Associate Justice, out of 121 votes polled. There was no opposition to Judge Roman, for District Judge. Judge C.'s majority, as far as heard from, (all but two precincts) is near 150—it may reach 200—in this parish. Thibodaux, Lafourche parish, gave him 67 majority.

A shooting affair occurred here last night, which resulted in the clerk of Mr. Henry's store getting his hat shot off his head by a carriage-maker named Rose. The latter, we are told, got a pair of shoes at the store for his wife, but refused to return them or their purchase price, as agreed with the clerk, on his unwillingness to credit him on any other terms. Upon the refusal, the clerk went to Rose's residence last night to inquire into the matter, when Rose received him in the manner stated, and has, besides, rather anticipated him this morning by having him arrested for disturbing the peace of his household at night. Rose will, probably, be arrested also.

The stage is just at this moment about to leave, and I have but time to add that a severe frost last night seems to have injured the cane crops some and the corn very materially. The cotton crop of Dr. Wade, near this town, appears to be entirely killed, and vegetation of all kinds has suffered considerably.

J. J. L.

LOUISIANA ITEMS.

THE WEATHER AT BATON ROUGE.—The Advocate, of Monday evening, says:

About 4 o'clock on Sunday evening a tremendous storm of wind and rain set in upon us from the North, raging through the greater part of the night with the utmost fury, and blowing off this morning with a freeze. Ice was plentiful after sunrise. The young peaches have been either killed or blown from the trees, and the leaves on the fig trees look as though they had been boiled by the washerwoman and hung up to dry. It is still cold, and if last night did not complete the work of destruction to fruit and garden vegetables, it seems to have been merely postponed to another twenty-four hours. We fear the disaster will reach our planters with double force.

We find the following items in the Pioneer of Assumption:

ROBBERY.—A daring robbery was committed in town on the night of the 24th ult. The thief entered the store of Mr. F. Hebert, broke open his trunk and abstracted about $140, and decamped without leaving any traces by which he could be detected. Our town has been infested of late with a pack of scoundrels for whom hanging is too good. We hope they will ere long be discovered and brought to justice.

THE CROPS.—Never were the crops more promising in this section of the State, and if no unforeseen disasters befall our planters, the next sugar crop will be very heavy.

We had the pleasure of taking a ride through the extensive sugar estate of Dr. Kitridge, which is well worth a visit. We were shown over the cane fields by the gentlemanly manager, Mr. McWhorter, and can, from personal observation, certify that the future prospects were never more flattering.

The Shreveport Southwestern has the following:

MORE BLOODSHED.—We learn from the officers of the Lecomte that on Thursday last Capt. G. M. Branner (late of the steamboat Belle Gates) and Mr. Vercher, his overseer, were shot while riding in front of Mr. J. W. Brown's plantation, on Red river, about twenty miles above Campté. Mr. Vercher died in a few minutes. Capt. Branner received two buckshot in his left eye, and was very low when the boat passed, but the physicians entertained hopes of his recovery. We understand that a difficulty had occurred a few days previous between Capt. Branner and Mr. Brown, during which the latter was shot by the former. The affair was to undergo legal investigation the day following, and we presume the Natchitoches Chronicle will report the particulars.

The Trial of the Rev. Mr. Kalloch.

BOSTON, Wednesday, April 1, 1857.

The trial of the Rev. Mr. Kalloch, for adultery, was continued to-day at Cambridge. E. S. Bailey, one of the proprietors of the Lechmere House, resumed his testimony from yesterday, and occupied the stand for several hours. The gist of the testimony was, that, suspecting something, he took measures to have a peep into the private room engaged by Mr. Kalloch when he and his female companion returned from the lecture. This was accomplished by a large key, forcing an aperture at the top of the door, through which could be seen the bed in the room and a portion of the floor. The bed was not disturbed by the defendant, except to take from it the pillow, when the witness says the parties laid down on the floor together, but in a part of the room rather out of the range of his peeping-hole. The witness could not testify to the direct act of criminality, but repeated the disgusting conversation which he alleges the parties indulged in while on the floor, with other incidents, which he thought injurious to the reputation of his house. When Mr. Kalloch called for his bill witness charged him $5, which were paid without grumbling. Samuel R. Giddings, an omnibus fare-taker, who alternated with Mr. Bailey in peeping into the room on this interesting occasion, corroborated the preceding witness.

Mr. Steen, of Brattleboro, Vermont, said to be the husband of the lady implicated with Mr. Kalloch, was in Court very near to that gentleman, and occasionally conversed with him. It would seem that the gentleman is satisfied that his wife is blameless, and the testimony relating to her alleged criminality appeared to make no unfavorable impression upon him.

Those portions of the evidence describing the alleged endearments of the loving couple seemed rather to excite merriment than otherwise.

It is stated that Mr. Steen volunteers his presence to testify that, were it not for severe sickness, his wife would add her testimony to that for the defense.

The trial will occupy several days.

FOUNTAIN OF BLOOD IN A CAVERN.—E. G. Squiers's notes on Central America describe a wonderful effusion of a fluid resembling blood near the town of Vitud, in the State of Honduras. It appears that there is continually oozing and dropping from the roof of a cavern there a red liquid, which, upon falling, coagulates so as to precisely resemble blood. Like blood, it corrupts; insects deposit their larvæ in it, and dogs and buzzards resort to the cavern to eat it. Attempts have several times been made to obtain some of this liquid for the purpose of analysis, but in all cases without success, in consequence of its rapid decomposition, whereby the bottles containing it were broken. The small cavern or grotto during the day is visited by buzzards and hawks, and at night by a multitude of vampyre bats, for the purpose of feeding on the unnatural blood. It is situated on the border of a rivulet, which it keeps reddened with a small flow of the liquid, which has the color, taste and smell of blood. In approaching the grotto a disagreeable odor is observed, and when it is reached there may be some pools of the apparent blood in a state of coagulation. Dogs eat it eagerly.

The peculiarities of the liquid are considered due to the rapid generation in this grotto of some very prolific species of infusoria. The California State Journal, remarking on the above, observes that the estero of the town of Monterey contains a species of blood-red infusoria, (the larvæ of water insects) which, at certain seasons of the year, smells precisely like fresh fish, or, on exposure in a vessel, like putrid fish. In some seasons it has been found dried in flakes, and of the intense color of vermillion.

CURIOSITIES OF SLEEP.—In Turkey, if a person happens to fall asleep in the neighborhood of a poppy field, and the wind blows over toward him, he becomes gradually narcotised, and would die if the country people, who are well acquainted with the circumstance, did not bring him to the next well, or a stream, and empty pitcher after pitcher of water on his face and body. Dr. Appenheim, during his residence in Turkey, owed his life to this simple and efficacious treatment. Dr. Graves, from whom this anecdote is quoted, also reports the case of a gentleman thirty years of age, who, from long continued sleeplessness, was reduced to a complete living skeleton, unable to stand on his legs. It was partly owing to disease, but chiefly to the abuse of mercury and opium; until at last, unable to pursue his business, he sank into abject poverty and woe. Dr. Reid mentions a friend of his who, whenever anything occurred to distress him, soon became drowsy and fell asleep. A fellow student, also, at Edinburg, upon hearing suddenly the unexpected death of a near relative, threw himself on his bed and almost instantaneously, amid the glare of noonday, sunk into a profound slumber. Another person, reading aloud to one of his dearest friends stretched on his death-bed, fell fast asleep, and, with the book still in his hand, went on reading, utterly unconscious of what he was doing. A woman at Hamadt slept seventeen or eighteen hours a day for fifteen years. Another is recorded to have slept once for four days. Dr. Macnish mentions a woman who spent three-fourths of her life in sleep; and Dr. Elliotson quotes the case of a young lady who slept for six weeks and recovered. The venerable St. Augustine of Hippo prudently divided his hours into three parts—eight to be devoted to sleep, eight to recitations, and eight to converse with the world. Maniacs are reported, particularly in the Eastern hemisphere, to become furiously vigilant during the full of the moon, more especially when the deteriorating rays of its polarizing light are permitted to fall into their apartments, hence the name lunatics. There certainly is a greater proneness to disease during sleep than in the waking state, for those who pass the night in the Campagna de Roma invariably become infected with its noxious air; while travelers who go through without stopping escape the miasma. Intense cold induces sleep, and those who perish in the snow sleep on till they sleep the sleep of death.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY.
J. M. Bergman, Shydestown, Pa., June 20, 1856, says: "My wife has been afflicted with a nervous debility since September, 1851, since which time I have been unable to find any physician or medicine that would benefit her in the least, until one day I called at the store of Dr. Harvey, of this town, for some tincture of iron, and described to him the situation of my wife. He then handed me a bottle of your German Bitters. I found them successful... I immediately procured a supply... from him, and am pleased to state that the use of the Bitters has done her more good than all the medicine she has heretofore taken. I wish you to send me a half a dozen bottles."

DR. ROBACK IN CINCINNATI.—The most brilliant success seems to have attended the practice of this celebrated Swedish Professor since his residence in Cincinnati. The most desperate cases of dyspepsia, scrofula, liver complaint, rheumatism, and cough are reported by the sufferers themselves to have yielded to his "Scandinavian Remedies." These medicines, it appears, act chemically upon the blood, purging it from the elements of disease, and curing an infinite variety of disorders by cutting off the supply of morbid matter which forms their basis.—Testimony to this effect, which cannot be impeached, is proffered to all who are hard of belief. SIGHT PRESERVED—BLINDNESS PREVENTED.

SEMMONS & CO., INVENTORS AND MANUFACTURERS of the Brazilian Pebble Spectacles, from Cornwall, England, respectfully announce their second visit, with a splendid assortment of their improved Spectacles, and Optical Instruments, and may be consulted at their office, over the office of George W. Hynson & Co.,
23 Camp Street, corner of Natchez.
These celebrated lenses are made of the Brazil pebble, and constructed in accordance with the philosophy of Nature in the peculiar form of a concave-convex mirror, thereby giving a large scope to vision without occasioning a sense of weakness or fatigue, generally complained of by the wearer of ordinary glasses, but enable the use of them for a greater length of time, both by day or candle light, with ease and satisfaction; added to the advantage possessed by them of long practice in the Eye business and under one of the most learned oculists, by which they have obtained a thorough knowledge of the diseases of vision, they are enabled, upon due examination of the eye, to suit the most difficult vision with accuracy.
Office hours from 9 o'clock A. M., till 5 P. M.
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,
New Orleans, December 15th, 1856.
Messrs. Semmons & Co.—Gentlemen: In compliance with your wishes, I have carefully examined and tried the samples of Menisca's Spectacles, made from rock crystal, and bearing your stamp. I have pleasure in certifying that the workmanship seems excellent, and the polish admirable; and I have no doubt they will be found satisfactory in use.
J. L. RIDDELL, M. D., Professor of Chemistry.
I have also examined the Spectacles of Messrs. Semmons & Co., and concur with Professor Riddell's certificate. JAMES JONES, M. D.
NEW ORLEANS, December ...
Messrs. Semmons & Co.—Gentlemen: I have examined the Spectacles left with me for trial, and find them fully equal, if not superior, to any I have used before. They are well adapted for the eyes, being the best size, and they are placed at an angle to keep the glass in its right position.
I shall take pleasure in recommending them to my patients and those requiring Spectacles; and when of proper focus adapted to the eye, they are all that can be required to improve visions, when, from age, a little assistance is necessary.
