NOTICE.—To those who are desirous to procure their health. The admirable remedy for all the diseases that assail the stomach, by J. B. Montagne, had produced, under critical circumstances, during the late malady, the [illegible] results; and all persons who have made [illegible] period, are now in excellent health. It [illegible] remedy against those cramps in the stomach, difficult respirations, and weakness of the stomach, for which the apothecaries have prescribed various remedies, which are hardly ever effectual. It may be taken at morning as bitters, directly before breakfast; it will facilitate digesting, and is agreeable to the taste.

The [illegible] which have already been given of its efficacy, not only in this city, but among the slaves on the plantations of Charles Destigny, as well as the workmen employed at the hospital of Mr. Camille Zeringue are sufficient to establish its merits.

It will be very easy for the planters to make this composition, without recourse to any druggist or apothecary. Those who desire it will learn from the author the ingredients of the remedy, either by subscription or for a reasonable compensation, and they may rest assured that the secret will remain inviolable. They, of course, are expected to preserve it.

J. B. MONTAGNE.

N. B. A subscription list is deposited at Hewlett's Exchange, where the remedy can be tested. dec 17

NEW ORLEANS OMNIBUSES.

TWO New Carriages, one called 'The Cotton Plant' and the other 'The Tobacco Plant,' have taken the place of the former Omnibuses. These Carriages were built last summer by the Messrs. Carters of Newark, who have the greatest experience in the construction of Omnibusses, (most of those running in New York having been made by them) and for ease, safety and elegance, are superior to any before in use, uniting all the improvements which experience have collected.

They will [illegible] daily at the following stated hours, between the Levee Steam Cotton Press, and Canal street, head of Chartres street, (passing the Rail Road and Exchange Coffee House,) with four horses; under the management of Drivers—the fare is [illegible] out at the low price of twelve and a half cents, which affords every one an opportunity of benefiting by them.—Every reliance may be placed on the punctuality of starting; it will give a communication between the Lower Faubourg and Canal street, every half hour in the day, and it is confidently hoped that so great a public convenience will meet with merited support.

CARSTAIRIAN SYSTEM OF WRITING.

MR. DOLBEAR, Professor of Penmanship, has returned to New Orleans, & will re-open his writing establishment in this city, on the day 29th inst. at No. 48 Canal street, in the rooms over Miss Carroll's Book Store, where Ladies and Gentlemen are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens of the rapid improvement of persons from eight to upwards of fifty years of age.

Nineteenth class will commence every week during the winter and spring. A separate apartment for Ladies.

Persons visiting the city for a few days only, can receive a full course of lessons. Ladies are instructed in a neat, rapid and fashionable style of writing, by a method which obviates, entirely, the fatigue of writing, and Gentlemen in a style, bold and rapid. Hours of attendance for Ladies; one class from 10 to 11 1-2 A. M. another from 1 to 2 1-2 P. M.; The remainder of the day and evenings until 10 P. M. will be devoted to the instruction of Gentlemen.

Mr. D. expects his brother, from their establishment at the North, this week, when they will be prepared to give private lessons and execute all kinds of ornamental writing in a superior style, &c.

CERTIFICATES.

From his Excellency Governor Roman.

I have examined, with attention, the system of writing taught by Mr. Dolbear, and it is with pleasure that I can certify to its superiority over any other method, with which I am acquainted. Mr. Dolbear, having given private lessons in my family, I consider it but justice to add, that I believe him as much worthy of public patronage on account of the correctness and mildness of his character, as on account of the rapid improvement of those who received his lessons.

New Orleans, July 2d, 1832. A. B. ROMAN.

On the invitation of Mr. Dolbear, a Teacher of Penmanship, in our city, upon the Carstairian system; we have carefully examined specimens of the writing of his pupils, whose ages range from 5 to 50 years, written through an entire course of instruction; and after having done so, it is with the highest satisfaction, that we can testify to the rapid if not unparalleled, progress which they have made.

From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a concurrent opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any hitherto taught. If to write legibly, elegantly, rapidly, and in good taste, be an accomplishment, useful or desirable, it is upon the principles of this system that it is to be acquired. We therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage in favor of an Instructor, whose qualifications are of the highest order, and whose labors promise to be so exceedingly useful to this and other communities.

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES,

CONDUCTED BY

MDE. & MLLE. GARNET,

Mr. Landreau's house, Royal st. corner of St. Philip st.

TERMS.

THE course of studies lasts ten months from the first of November till the first of September every year.—The establishment, this year, opens on the 24th of December.

A general examination, followed by a public distribution of prizes, closes the course of studies and the establishment is shut up from the first of September to the first of November, a period during which the prevailing diseases induce most of the parents to retire to the country.

The course of studies comprises the complete and simultaneous teaching of the French and English languages and literature, writing, arithmetic, geography, chronology, history, astronomy, and the different sorts of needlework, lace making, tapestry, and fancy works.

Boarders, for the course of studies of ten months,	$300
Gay Boarders, do.	100
Day Scholars, do.	100
Washing and mending of the linen	25

USEFUL ARTS.

Harp, per quarter,	30
Piano, do.	30
Italian singing, do.	30
Drawing,	20
Dancing,	20

Beds and bedding complete are found by the establishment, for which the pupils have to pay once for all.

Each pupil is to bring twelve towels, a silver spoon, fork, and goblet, a dessert knife and a sufficient suit of clothes and linen.

School books and writing books are also found by the establishment, and paid for separately.

Payments to be made every three months and in advance. No deduction for the holidays or absence.

Madame Granet will make it a rule to avoid extra bills as much as possible, and will charge nothing but what she has actually laid out.

In opening such an establishment, Madame Granet is well aware that she can, as yet, have no claim based to the confidence of the inhabitants of New Orleans; being totally a stranger in the city, she must entirely depend upon the kind recommendation of those persons of whom she is known, and among whom she is proud to
