NEW-ORLEANS: THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 17, 1843.

CLAY CLUB [illegible]. [EXCHANGE P[illegible]] August [illegible]th, 1843.

The EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the DEMOCRATIC WHIG PARTY [illegible] for the sale of REAL ESTATE, respectfully [illegible] notice to all persons who are desirous of [illegible] voters by obtaining the requisite PROPERTY QUALIFICATIONS, that they are now prepared [illegible] trifling cost, to place them in the lawful p[illegible] of the RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE, by the [illegible] IMMEDIATE APPLICATION to the Secretary [illegible] of the Clay Club, between the hours of [illegible]

By order of [illegible] Committee. S. W. DALTON, Chairman. CHARLES [illegible], Secretary.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE BEE.] Galveston, August [illegible]

To those who witnessed the unwearied superhuman exertions of Commodore Moore [illegible] Orleans, to get the Texan fleet fitted out [illegible] news that he has been dishonorably dismissed [illegible] a trial, from the service of that Republic, [illegible] pirate, and murderer," will be passing [illegible] will see from the newspapers that [illegible] dismissal, but some of the little "de[illegible] not be uninteresting to you. The [illegible] the proclamation declaring him [illegible] a daring night attack upon the [illegible] ding adieu to the hopes that had [illegible] of striking one bold and effective [illegible] returned to meet his fate. Immediately [illegible] anchor, he dispatched a message to [illegible] had returned, and was ready to [illegible] civil authorities, receiving for [illegible] had no orders to arrest him, because [illegible] met at the wharf and escorted to the [illegible] a crowd of citizens, to whom he [illegible] eloquent speech, followed by one [illegible] Morgan, roundly denying that [illegible] disobeyed orders. He had done [illegible] again—by the powers—if placed [illegible] and he took the responsibility [illegible] lent Colonel was [illegible] crowd. The few days that [illegible] forwarded to the Executive [illegible] a reply received, were spent [illegible] between the officers and [illegible] feeling and confidence [illegible] of the Commodore alone [illegible] with every thing relating to Texas and [illegible] able how, and watch over the interests [illegible] faithfully that they never for a day leave [illegible] Texas, for her part, does not perhaps feel [illegible] representatives from the government [illegible] but listen! And by-and-bye, when England [illegible] in her hand the ultimatum, peace [illegible] from Texas some slight concession—[illegible] ery, for instance, or perhaps [illegible] commercial treaty that [illegible] will hear [illegible] English grasping, [illegible] been rung upon the [illegible] revolution.

NEW WORKS.

Our thanks are due to the publishers, through Mr. J. B. Steel, Camp street, for the following new works:—

From Harper and brothers we have received No. 8 of Harper's Family Library, containing the First Series of the Natural History of Insects—a work of extreme interest.

Also—The Complete Works of Hannah More, No. 1, [illegible] at 25 cents each. [illegible] Part 9th. [illegible] No. 11. This great [illegible] will bring it to [illegible] productions [illegible]

[illegible] Repealers, containing the [illegible] Addis Emmett.

A GOOD ONE.—A placard has been placed [illegible] church door in the county of Hertfordshire, which reads as follows:—"The public are [illegible] that in future no one will be buried in this [illegible] unless he lives in this parish. Persons wishing to be buried, are requested to apply to the Clerk of the parish."

A DASTARDLY OUTRAGE.—The venerable [illegible] Thompson, of Indiana, is now holding court [illegible] Albany. Yesterday, as he was going from [illegible] to court, Gen. Burnett, the locofoco postmaster [illegible] had been cursing him through the streets all [illegible] ing, approached him in apparent friendship [illegible] suaded him to step into a house. As soon as [illegible] crossed the threshold, Gen. B. and his se[illegible] commenced a political conversation with [illegible] the locofoco editor, asked him whether there [illegible] been more whigs than democrats naturalized [illegible] Court. The Judge replied that there had [illegible] called him "a damned old liar." The Judge, [illegible] sixty years old, clenched his fist indignantly, [illegible] marked that he "took such language from no [illegible]" Thereupon Gen. Burnett and another locofoco [illegible] upon the sexagenarian and held him fast, while [illegible] young man of thirty, mauled him mercilessly [illegible] fists. Kent was afterwards hunted for by me[illegible] know how to deal with such scoundrels, but he could not be found. Some of the best citizens of New Albany were determined to do him justice last night. [illegible] deserved to be caught and held under water as long [illegible] a bubble came to the surface to tell that his [illegible] breath lingered in his nostrils.—Louisville Journal.

AN ANECDOTE.—A Tyler man seeing a Deacon who is no less esteemed for his staunch Whig principles than respected for his piety, riding upon a fine horse, [illegible] marked to him that he did not seem to follow the example of his Divine master, [illegible] upon an ass. Really [illegible]

ALABAMA.—The following paragraph from Tuesday's Mobile Advertiser sums up the information from this hopeless locofoco State.

"We give below, such additional returns of the election in this State, as we have received since our last publication. They are not so good as we could wish, and to be candid, not so favorable to our cause as we expected. Our old staunch Whig friend, Colonel Young, to our great regret, is defeated for Congress, by a small majority in the fourth district; Dixon H. Lewis beats Lea in the third, by 478 majority; and the prospect is, that we lose Pettit in the second. The second and the fourth, ought to have been carried by the Whigs, and they could have done it with ease, had they done their duty! From the seventh district, the returns indicate the election of Felix G. McConnell, Loco, by a large majority. The fifth and sixth districts are hopelessly Locofoco—no Whig running. So we shall save but one Whig member of Congress in the State—Mr. Dellet. There is a bare possibility that Pettit may be saved in the second, but not probable."

A COME-OUTER.—The following curious conduct on the part of one of those half-crazy fanatics who abound in the Northern States, is related by the Utica (N. Y.) Gazette:

"The religious services at the First Presbyterian Church in this city, on Sunday afternoon, were interrupted in an unusual manner. S. S. Foster, notorious as an itinerant abolitionist, a come-outer, non resistant, and just now as an agrarian lecturer, arose from the pew where he was seated just as Rev. Mr. Porter came forward to commence his discourse, and began a furious speech on the matters and things in general about which he was very much concerned himself.

Mr. Porter requested him to desist, to which Mr. Foster, with the greatest assurance, replied that "he believed he was entitled to the floor." Thereupon several officers of the Church interfered, and after intimating their wishes, which were disregarded, proceeded to enforce the direction of the pastor by a forcible removal of the disturber. True to his non-resistant principles, Foster made no fight, but threw himself upon the floor, from which he was lifted and carried out into the vestibule. Hardly had his bearers resumed their seats, when he again appeared, and, informing the congregation that this was precisely the way in which the Jews of old turned Christ out of the synagogue, again proceeded with the message which he deemed himself deputed to deliver. He was of course again removed, and this time [illegible] bolted against [illegible] went to his own [illegible] the disciples [illegible] reformers, who [illegible] invited by handbills to assemble at that place.

It was the same sort of "persecution" with which he was pursued in Massachusetts, of which he made such grievous complaints in the A. S. convention here the last fall, and for which, as he said, he had been repeatedly incarcerated.

SMOKING IN ENGLAND.—By the following extract of a letter from the junior editor of the N. Y. Express—E. Brooks, Esq.—who is now travelling in Europe, it would appear that John Bull is as inveterate a smoker, although not quite so great a spitter, as is Brother Jonathan:

"London looks like a great smoke house, and men's mouths seem almost to vie with the chimney's in smoking the city, to the discoloring of every thing that is clean and beautiful. Where must have been the consciences of the one hundred and one John Bulls, when abusing "the universal Yankee nation" as a country of tobacco growers and consumers? Never have I been so much smoked before, and without exception, and in every kind of public conveyance, from an omnibus and coach to a steamboat and the cars of a railroad; and what is worse than all, the tobacco used is often of the most miserable growth and manufacture. Spitting, I confess, is the greatest offence at home, but if my brief experience be a specimen of English manners and English smoking, give me the boorishness and rudeness of home to the politeness of the land I have just left behind me. You are smoked every where, and every where without saying, "by your leave, sir." Among the Belgians and Dutchmen I could endure this as one of the customs of the country, but not England, where the language of vituperation has been exhausted upon Americans for their eternal smoking and use of tobacco. Fiat Justitia. The smokers with us are great sinners enough in all conscience, but they at least use a decent cigar, which is more than can be said of most of the Englishmen I have seen. Nevertheless, I do confess, in all honesty, with some shame, that we beat the English out and out in the filthy ejections of tobacco from the mouth. The English word nasty, as common [illegible] English, we comprehends the indol[illegible]

[illegible] HUSBAND.—[illegible] in England, gives the following description [illegible] as he saw them on horseback:

"Their dresses were exactly such as one would see on a dozen of equestrians in London and New York. She wore a blue broadcloth habit, with a small linen collar, and kid colored gloves. Her hat was the usual riding hat of black beaver. Her down was the usual dress of a gentleman, and his hat was grey beaver, with a black crape band, in honor of the late Duke of Orleans.—These were the QUEEN OF ENGLAND and PRINCE ALBERT, her consort. Shade of Elizabeth! how would they not sink down with amazement could thou behold thy [illegible] successor! I, who had only read of Queens in books, which tell of their grand doings and their gorgeous robes, was not quite prepared for this simplicity. Victoria is of the middle size, and rather plump. Her hair is of a dark brown, plaited on each side, and tucked behind the ear. Her features are like the portraits we see of her, her eyes are bright. She looked before her with a flushed and anxious gaze, and bowed slightly on each side, with a sweet but pensive smile, while the people around took off their hats and courtesied in silence. [illegible] raised his hat [illegible]

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS.

GENERAL COUNCIL.

AN ORDINANCE

Amendatory of existing ordinances concerning the Levee Dues in and for the Port of Orleans.

The General Council ordains as follows:

Article 1. That from and after the 31st day of August next the levee or wharfage dues on ships and other decked vessels, and on steam vessels arriving from sea, shall be fixed as follows:

On each vessel under 75 tons, $ [illegible]

[illegible — table of tonnage and dues]

1,300 and upwards.

Article 2. Be it further ordained, That from and after said 31st day of August next, the levee dues on steam vessels navigating on the river, and which shall moor or load in any part of the incorporated limits of the port, shall be fixed as follows:

On each steamer under 75 tons,

[illegible — table of tonnage and dues]

700 and over.

Article 3. Be it further ordained, That hereafter it shall not be lawful for any pirogue, flatboat, barge, boat or keel boat to remain in port longer than twelve days, as fixed by the thirteenth article of an ordinance approved 21st October, 1839, under a penalty of $25; and it shall be the duty of the wharfingers of the several municipalities, to cause to be removed beyond the limits of the port any pirogue, flatboat, barge or other craft found in violation of this ordinance, within the limits of their respective municipalities. The fines arising from any violation hereof shall be recoverable before any court of competent jurisdiction, of the owner, agent or consignee of such pirogue, flatboat or other craft, for the benefit of the municipality within which the offence may be committed.

Article 4. Be it further ordained, That hereafter it shall not be lawful for any flatboat, keelboat, barge or old hull to remain within the limits of the port longer than twenty four hours after the discharge of its cargo, under a penalty of twenty-five dollars, recoverable as aforesaid; and after the expiration of said twenty-four hours, it shall be the duty of the wharfinger of either of the municipalities to cause to be removed beyond the limits of the boat, or to turn adrift, without delay, any such flatboat, keelboat, or other craft in contravention.

Article 5. Be it further ordained, That in case any captain, owner, or person in command of any steamboat, flatboat, barge, keelboat or other craft, shall neglect or refuse to obey the orders of the wharfinger to conform to the ordinances regulating the port, he or they shall be liable to a fine of $25 to $50 for each offence, recoverable as aforesaid.

Article 6. Be it further ordained, That from and after the 31st day of August next, all ships and other decked vessels and steam vessels arriving from sea, which shall have landed or moored in front of one municipality, and shall have paid, or be liable to pay the levee dues to such municipality, and which shall afterwards remove from such municipality to one of the other municipalities, shall pay to the municipality to which they remove, the following dues:

All vessels over 720 tons,			$3 00 per day.
"	600 and less than 720		2 50 "
"	300 "	600	2 00 "
"	300		1 50 "

All vessels under 300 tons,

Said daily levee dues to be collected for every day such vessel may remain in the port of the municipality to which they may have removed, the days of removal and departure excepted.

Article 7. Be it further ordained, That so much of all existing ordinances as is inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, is hereby repealed.

[Signed] C ROSELIUS, President.

Approved, 9th Aug, 1843. [Signed] WM FRERET, Mayor.

New Orleans, 14th August, 1843.

BAY ST. LOUIS HOTEL.—The subscriber respectfully announces to his friends and the public, that having made arrangements at Biloxi for the conduct of his house with his son, Mr. H. Milford, he takes charge of the Hotel of M. Kling, Esq. at Bay St. Louis for the remainder of the season. The entire conduct of the Hotel and table at Bay St. Louis, will be under his charge and he flatters himself that from the character of the arrangements which he has made, families and gentlemen visiting this establishment will find every thing to their satisfaction. New Bathing Houses are erected in a most desirable situation—the new steps and other approaches to the house are now complete, which, with other renovations Mr Kling has effected since his purchase of the establishment, make it now one of the most pleasant and desirable summer residences on the coast.

The terms are as follows:

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

NO physician doubts at present that there is but one sort of sickness denominated essential fever, from the mild intermittent to those cruel phlegmasies, the yellow fever and the plague; they are inflammations of the mucous membranes of the digestive organs, with all the complications and modifications which for a long time have hidden their real character, and presented them as a group of pernicious fevers, which hastened to their graves the unenlightened of those who had the misfortune of catching the infection; and now that their nature, their causes, their symptoms are better known, numberless is still the catalogue of their victims. I will not attempt a further description of those diseases, but ten years experience constantly crowned with success, having convinced me of the efficacy of the specific against yellow fever, I offer it to the public from the implicit confidence of its superiority over any other sort of medicine.

DOCTOR MARCHAND'S office is in Bourbon street, corner of St Louis, where he will be from daylight to 7 o'clock, and from 11 to 3. He will also attend to the cure of secret diseases in all their degrees. He treats and cures in two minutes the tooth-ache, considered as a disease of the Periosta, without surgical operation or pain. jy29—
