FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,
HENRY CLAY.

NEW-ORLEANS:
SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 14, 1843.

CLAY CLUB.
A meeting of the members of the Clay Club will be held at their room, (25 Exchange Place), on Monday evening, 16th instant, at seven o'clock.
A punctual attendance is required, as business of great importance will be submitted to them.
ALFRED ROUSSEAU,
C. C. WILLIAMS, } Secretaries.
ALPH. CANONGE,

First Gun from Maryland.
SPLENDID WHIG TRIUMPH IN BALTIMORE!!!

The election in Maryland for members of the Legislature took place on the 4th inst. In the city of Baltimore—the time honored citadel of locofocoism—which even HARRISON failed to carry, the WHIGS ACHIEVED A SPLENDID VICTORY, electing four out of the five delegates to the House. The entire vote was 12,016—a heavy poll, and the average whig majority is 97. The whigs have not carried Baltimore before in seven years. This is a most gratifying evidence of what our party can do, when they work with energy and zeal. WELL DONE BALTIMORE! We hope soon to be able to add "WELL DONE MARYLAND." First confidence is entertained that the election throughout the State has resulted in the success of a decided whig majority in the House of Delegates. The Senate is already whig. The election is an important one, as the Legislature has to choose a United States Senator. All honor and thanks to the noble whigs of Baltimore!

GEORGIA.

By the way of Montgomery and Savannah we have received returns from six counties in addition to those already given. The counties are Habersham, Macon, Laurens, Heard, Tattnall and Early. In 1842, these counties gave a locofoco majority of 15. They now give a whig majority of 430—nett whig gain 525—Crawford's majority can scarcely be under 3,000, and will probably reach 4,000.

The Legislature thus far stands: whigs, 152; locofocos 73—whig majority, 79. This may be reduced some 10 or 15 by the remaining counties.

The Town Elections throughout Connecticut were held on Monday, the 4th inst. Of course but few returns have yet reached us. In Norwich the entire whig ticket was elected by an average majority of over 100. Preston, which has been locofoco for several years, has gone whig by 40 majority; and in Franklin the first whig Assessor was known to be elected—last year the town was lost. In New Haven, the whig ticket was elected throughout. North Branford is also whig.

HEALTH OF MOBILE.—Six new cases of Yellow Fever were reported by the Board of Health on the 11th instant, as having occurred within the preceding twenty-four hours.

FOR HAVANA.—The fine steamboat Alabama, Capt. WINDLE, has resumed her regular trips to Havana, and will leave this morning at 9 o'clock. We commend her and her excellent and experienced commander to the attention of our travelling friends. We shall, hereafter, feel assured of receiving our papers and correspondence regularly.

FROST.—The Baton Rouge Ledger, of Wednesday, says:—"It has been a disputed point, since Monday last, whether or not there was frost on that morning in this place. We incline to the opinion that there was; and if there was not, there should have been, for it was windy cold enough. Tuesday, ditto, and Wednesday morning looks as though the clerk of the weather, not satisfied with the deluge of last week, is preparing another."

The venerable CLARKSON CROLIUS, Sr., for some years a member of the New York Legislature and Speaker of the House, died at his residence on the 3d inst, of a disease of the heart.

We have been deluged with rain for the last week. We fear the cane will suffer considerably, and that the crop will be a great deal less than has been expected.—Patriot of Lafourche.

Hon. WILLIE HALL is slowly but steadily regaining his health. He walks across his room with the assistance and talks freely with his friends.

MR. MACREADY has played Richelieu with marked success at the Park Theatre, N. Y. He is getting up Byron's tragedy of Werner.

BOY KILLED BY A LION.—The Bangor Courier says that while a caravan was on exhibition at Norridgewock, a little boy approached too near the lion's cage, and was instantly seized by the beast, who tore off one of his arms and part of his shoulder, causing immediate death.

ASBESTOS.—This singular substance, which has as yet defied all the efforts of chemists to analyze, inasmuch as it will neither melt with fire nor dissolve in water, and is entirely free from taste or smell, is found in considerable abundance in Pennsylvania, at no great distance from the borough of York.

GREAT RAILROAD FETE.—We learn from the Macon (Ga.) papers that no common [illegible] to the citizens of that State, by a celebration of the completion of the Central Rail Road, the largest [illegible] road now finished in the world. We hope, says the Messenger, a large number of the citizens of Georgia, each of whom should be proud of this stupendous monument of southern enterprise, will [illegible] us with their presence. Ample arrangement will be made for them to accommodation, and they may be assured of a hearty welcome.

THE WHIGS of every ward in Richmond (Va.) have organized Clay Clubs in view of the spring elections and of the great Presidential contest. They have put on those armor for no holiday campaign, but are determined to fight the battle from first to last with all the vigor and valor they can command. We are gratified to observe that this spirited movement is being followed up in the country. Louisa, Hanover and a number of other counties have already established their clubs, and are preparing to act effectively in concert with the Whig Associations in Richmond. There are no more efficient instruments of political warfare than these clubs. They keep up zeal and activity, and disseminate in distant and dark regions the lights of sound republicanism. Their influence was felt in 1840, and in 1844 we trust that they will be found powerful aids in the re-establishment of true democratic principles.

VAN BUREN ON REPEAL.—The Freeman's Journal, the Irish Organ in New York, in publishing the ex-President's letter on Repeal, makes this pointed comment:—

"We commend the letter to the attention of our readers, wishing them better luck in ascertaining the sentiments of the distinguished writer, than we have had.— Though we read it over several times for the purpose, we are obliged still to confess ourselves in the dark as to what is the writer's opinion on the propriety of the American movement. If our friend succeeds better, we should be glad to hear from him—postage paid.— Seriously it would have gratified us much, had the ex-President been somewhat explicit. It is rather amusing to see the sentimental big Gun of the Plebeian in its praise of this clearness," &c.

TAMMANY NOMINATIONS.—The Tammany Committee has gone the whole figure in riding down all the delegations to the nominating committees except those pledged for "the sage Lindenwald." Yesterday the Van Buren Senatorial committee met, and nominated as a candidate for Senator a young lawyer named David R. Floyd Jones, to the rejection of several experienced and it is said more capable candidates. Mr. Jones has been in the legislature. We understand there is little doubt that Daniel Penz will receive the nomination for County Clerk, and John Emmons for Sheriff.—N. Y. Express.

A VETERAN.—Mr. William Abrams died in Boston on Wednesday, at the advanced age of 102 years, 8 months and 11 days. Mr. Abrams was a tailor formerly, but after the age of 60 he took a grocery store which he kept for many years. His living was very simple; he ate and drank every thing in moderation, and was uncommonly active. For the last eighteen months, with the exception of a few weeks, he walked daily from his residence in Prince, near Salem street, to Charlestown Bridge and back. For about eighteen weeks previous to his death he slept most of the time, and was only awakened by his daughter for the purpose of giving him nourishment.—Salem Register.

ARRIVAL OF THE ACADIA.
FOURTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Acadia arrived at Boston on the 3d instant, with dates from Liverpool and London to the 19th ult. We have only got a few extras containing the news, neither the English newspapers nor letters have been received in this city.

The commercial advices continue satisfactory; the sales of cotton in Liverpool had been again very extensive at a slight advance in prices.

Wilmer's Times says:—"The state of trade in every part of the country is encouraging. Confidence has revived, foreign orders come pouring in, money is abundant, the home trade has received an impetus, and, what is perhaps better than all, the harvest, thanks to the lovely weather of the last few weeks, has been got in with safety, and is described as an average one.— Commercially speaking, a better feeling prevails now than has existed for years. The cotton market has been quite buoyant, it received a stimulant some 2 or 3 weeks back, when accounts came to hand that the cotton crop in the southern States had been seriously injured by the rains.

The accounts received this week by the Hibernia prove these fears to be groundless, and that the new crop is likely to reach two millions of bales. Still the market, uninfluenced by the heavy stock on hand or the heavy stock which will shortly arrive, maintains its buoyancy, and speculation to a great extent is taking place. It is a singular fact, exemplifying the truth of the adage, that 'when one door shuts another opens,' that this extreme activity in the cotton market is not produced by our trade with the United States, which continues very depressed. Indeed, the stringent provisions of the new American tariff have cut off the trade with this country to a mere bagatelle, and the improved feeling may be traced to the existence of new channels of consumption to the British manufactured products."

The noble steamship Missouri was totally destroyed by fire at the bay of Gibraltar. Particulars below.

The Caledonia had not arrived.

LONDON MONEY MARKET, Sept. 18th.—Money is plentiful at a discount of 1 1-2 to 2 per cent. Exchequer Bills have slightly improved. The British Funds have been steady to-day, but little business has taken place. Consols have met with buyers for Money, at 94 3-4 to 7-8, and Exchequer Bills at 61 63, and 59 61 prem.— Mexican Bonds have been done at 33 1-4 to 33 1-2, but to effect large sales lower rates must be submitted to.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 19th.—One of the most pleasing as well as the most remarkable events of the age, is the visit which the young and lovely Queen of England accompanied by her consort, has just been paying to the King of the French, followed by a round of graceful and elegant hospitalities, in which the royal families of both countries, their courtiers and their ministers have joined. Those great drawbacks from the personal comforts of sovereigns, the ostentation, the éclâge, which their high social position would seem to demand, did not find their way to the Chateau d'Eu, where all the parties assembled were seen in their natural character, and where the Crowned Heads more especially appeared divested of all the formality appertaining to royalty. A more happy or a more convivial party, from all the accounts which have transpired respecting it, could not exist.

The high moral character of both Sovereigns, so far from clogging to the liveliness of the scene, imparted to it additional exuberance and gaiety. As a mere personal interchange of civilities, and drawing closer in the bonds of amity the representatives of the most powerful and civilized monarchies in the world, the visit is an excellent guarantee for the continuance of friendly relations between their respective subjects. Upon the people themselves, especially the French, it can hardly fail to have a beneficial influence. The anti-English feeling has been on the increase in France, but nothing could be devised for arresting it so effectually as this royal visit. The Parisians were annoyed, that the Queen did not go to the metropolis, and, all things considered, it is to be regretted that she did not, as her reception would have been flattering, and the visit would then have become more national.

Our little Queen, in the exuberance of her spirits, seems bent upon enjoyment this season. In the beginning of this week she sought again the element of which she is said to be the mistress, in order to pay a visit to her uncle, the King of the Belgians. Off Dover the companion of Napoleon leaving his retreat at Walmer Castle, paid a visit to the royal yacht, and was asked to dinner. While in Belgium the Queen will visit Waterloo, the field on which the destinies of Europe gathered at the tablet, a little more than a quarter of a century back, and, as a metropolitan contemporary has remarked, "she will remember that Wellington is her subject."

The outrages in South Wales, so far from showing symptoms of diminution, are on the increase. Blood has been shed, the Rebeccaites daily become more bold and daring, while the system which the people of that isolated district have been long enduring from their fellow subjects in England, having been drawn notice by the sturdy vigor of the peasantry, the forces of society generating "Rebeccas, stratagems, and spoils." As Rebecca has become a nuisance, some alteration in those ill-favored spots has been complained, and the probability is, that so far as the acts of Parliament can reach the cause, the agency will not be wanting when the proper time arrives.

Mr. O'Connell keeps the ball of agitation moving with undiminished vigor, notwithstanding the prorogation of Parliament. He had another monster meeting at Loughrea on Sunday the 10th, which he regards as one of the largest, it was hardly inferior, if the great agitator himself is to be credited, to any that have gone before. According to his testimony there were no less than 10,000 horsemen present at the Repeal gathering. The proceedings were a good deal damped by the heavy rains which fell during the greater part of the day. Mr. O'Connell was obliged to address his hearers from [illegible] from an [illegible] The [illegible] and on the [illegible] that the [illegible] After the meeting a dinner took place, at which Dr. M'Hale and other dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church were present.

The speeches were of the ordinary kind; those of Mr O'Connell—for he made two—related chiefly to the denunciation of the Queen's speech, which he still treated as the speech of the Ministry. He evinced a tendency, he said, to absorb the Irish attachment which the Irish people entertained for the person of the Queen.— The proceedings at the Corn Exchange have not presented more than the average interest. Money continues to roll in from America. Last week £600, which had been collected in Pennsylvania, was announced in a letter from Mr. John Tyler, son of the President, expressing sympathy with the Repeal movement, was ordered to be entered on the journals of the association, and a respectful answer returned. Mr. O'Connell has been lately employed in blackguarding Mr. Bennett, of the New York Herald, whom he has followed up with a malevolence almost fiendish.

The state of trade in every part of the country is most encouraging. Confidence has revived, foreign orders come pouring in, money is abundant, the home trade has received an impetus, and, what is perhaps better than all, the harvest, thanks to the lovely weather of the last few weeks, has been got in with safety, and is described as an average one. These combined circumstances have operated most favorably on the public mind. Commercially speaking, a better feeling prevails at the present moment than has existed for years.

For four months of the present Mail, which is now nearly at the Bermudas [illegible], has reached the [illegible] The [illegible] of Saxe. LOSS OF THE STEAM FRIGATE MISSOURI BY FIRE.

We regret to have to announce the total destruction, by fire, of the splendid American steam frigate Missouri, while at anchor in the Gibraltar bay on Saturday week. She had the Hon. Mr. Cushing on board, proceeding to Alexandria, en route for China, as Minister.

The alarm was first given at 9 o'clock precisely, and was immediately followed by several barrels or flame from the engineer's store room so as to leave little doubt that it originated among the oil and spirits. Every exertion was made to extinguish it, and the large pumps were instantly put in operation, but the progress of the flames were so rapid that it was impossible to find the cause engine, which was done so effectually that it was not until twenty minutes after three, A. M. that an explosion took place, and then not to an extent to endanger the shipping in the bay, the nearest of which had been removed by the exertions of the acting captain of the port.

Assistance was promptly sent from the Malabar, under the personal superintendence of Sir George Sartorius and the Locust got up her steam and ran alongside the Missouri, with the view of towing her into deep water, or rendering any other aid, but, unfortunately, she has already grounded, which rendered it impossible to accomplish it.

As soon as the fire broke out, the governor ordered the Waterport gates to be opened, and proceeded himself to the wharf, from whence he despatched two engines under the charge of the artillery and sappers, but in spite of the united efforts of the crew of the Missouri and her friends on shore, the progress of the flames, which at one time appeared to be got under, was such, that at length Captain Newton was forced to abandon his ship, after summoning a council of his own officers and those British officers about him, who unanimously decided there was no hope of saving the ship.

The order was then given by Captain Newton for all to quit the ship, which was done immediately by the crew taking the water, and receiving the ready assistance of boats sent to their relief from the Malabar, the Locust and from the vessels in the harbor. Such was the state of the ship, when the officers and crew left her, that they saved nothing but what they had on. Captain Newton did not quit the ship until half past 3 A. M., but at a quarter past eleven o'clock. We are happy to add, that the officers and crew are believed to be all saved.

His Excellency the American Minister, after securing his papers of any importance, returned to the ship, and zealously united his exertions to those of her officers.

The line wall was crowded until a very late hour with spectators anxiously watching the fate of the noble ship. The sight was awfully grand; until the masts at length fell overboard, the tracery of her spars and shrouds standing out in bright relief against the dark sky, was beautiful. The whole rock was as light as day; and probably such a sight has not been witnessed in the bay since the conflagration of the floating batteries in the memorable siege.

We trust it will not be considered presumptuous to refer to the discipline on board this ill fated vessel; but, as persons, employed alongside during the progress of the calamity, and on whose veracity we can place the utmost reliance, have been desirous of bearing undeniable testimony on this most important subject, we beg to inform our readers that they describe the discipline and order, on board as most admirable. The several orders were given and obeyed as if the vessel had been in perfect safety, and nothing had occurred to excite alarm or confusion.—Gibraltar Chronicle.

THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO OSTEND.

On Monday morning, the Queen, Prince Albert and a number of the attendants on royalty, sailed from Brighton, in the royal yacht, on a visit to the King and Queen of the Belgians. The morning was fine, and the scene, of a very imposing description. Arrived off Dover, about three in the afternoon, the Duke of Wellington left his seat at Walmer Castle, embarked in a boat, and visited the royal yacht in the offing. The Queen shook hands very cordially with him, and his grace was asked to stay to dinner. The Duke left about six o'clock, but in landing got a complete drenching from the heavy sea that was running. On landing, he mounted his horse on the beach, and rode to Walmer Castle, about a mile distant. The royal yacht, and the vessels which accompanied the Queen, remained at anchor all night, and got under way the next morning early. At three o'clock, the same afternoon, the royal party reached Ostend, where the King of the Belgians was in waiting to receive his illustrious guests. It is uncertain how long the visit may continue.

The Queen's reception in Belgium has been very rapid, and the reporters of the London papers who accompany her to catch all her movements with tedious minuteness. After visiting Ostend, she proceeded to Bruges, and in its ancient cathedral where she visited every thing worth seeing. She was most enthusiastically received by the people of the Netherlands. She will return to England in the course of the present week. Lord [illegible] and the Foreign Secretary, and Mr. President Tyler must not feel surprised if, some fine morning, her royal Highness [illegible] expresses, he receives a specially visit from England's spirited and mighty sovereign.

CHRISTINA'S DAUGHTER.—Those of our readers who take an interest in American affairs will have noticed, that the first demand made upon the United States under the treaty was for the person of Christina Gilmour of an Chelmsford, a fugitive from Scotland, accused of the murder of her husband. After numerous legal impediments, Mrs. Gilmour was at length secured, and she arrived by the steamer on Monday evening last, in the New York packet-ship Liverpool, in custody of George M'Key, a New York officer. She was confined in our Bridewell till Tuesday night, and at twelve o'clock on Tuesday she left Liverpool for Glasgow. She is represented as a very young woman, and more than twenty-five years of age.

VILLEQUIER.—Victor Hugo, the celebrated French novelist, and M. Leopoldine, her husband, were drowned by the upsetting of a boat on the Seine, on Tuesday week.

SPAIN.—The new government of Spain is busily engaged in a conflict with the discordant elements which called it into being. Barcelona is in arms, and the expulsion of Espartero is likely to be succeeded by a sanguinary civil war. The Fort of Montjuich has been firing on the Ayuntamiento. As the army cannot be depended upon, measures of extreme severity have been adopted to reduce it into subjection. A battalion of the 3d regiment at Barcelona mutinied a few days ago, and about 500 men, it was feared that the example might be contagious. Narvaez promised, if they laid down their arms, they should have what they wanted; they did so, and a number were immediately placed under arrest; pickets were introduced to them, and, soon after, five sergeants, two corporals and a private were led out and shot within sight of the barracks.

On the 25th, Mr. Aston, the Minister Plenipotentiary of England, announced to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, in an official note which he had required for that purpose, that his government recognized the Provisional Government, and that the relations of friendship and harmony which had prevailed until then between the two countries should continue as heretofore.

The Queen and Infanta returned to Madrid on the 27th. They were received, with the warmest enthusiasm. Madrid was then perfectly tranquil.

ITALY.—The most contradictory accounts respecting the insurrection in Bologna find their way abroad. The Allgemeine Zeitung of August 28th, has private advices by way of Corfu, which represent the disorders as important, and it reports the chiefs.

The Augsburg Gazette has a paragraph dated "Aug. 24th, which arises light of the affair, representing it as a mere contest with smugglers. This is inconsistent with subsequent accounts.

The Madrid Gazette of the 25th contained a decree of the Minister of the Interior, prescribing that as soon as the elections for the Cortes shall have been terminated, all the Provincial Deputations shall be renewed, and enter on their functions the 1st of November next. This decree had created considerable sensation at Madrid, as it was considered a violation of the constitution. The Ministers are accused of sending officers to the army favorable to Espartero to distant posts, in order to render their election for Madrid impossible.

The Bonsha's Deputation had arrived in Madrid.— They did not go to the Central Junta; but they insisted on guarantees against a purely Moderado ascendency, the appointment of Prim to be Captain General of Catalonia, the retention of Esteller as Commandant of Monjuich, the reunion of the Central Junta at Barcelona, and the [illegible] of their own friends. Meanwhile, Prim recently [illegible] making common cause with the Catalonians, and several battalions of [illegible] with the [illegible] was declared in the [illegible] to say that shows a [illegible] that [illegible] "should be granted to the entire country.

EGYPTIAN COTTON.—According to advices from Alexandria, of August 12, the Pacha of Egypt had made a large consignment of cotton to his house of agency in Trieste, and he had moreover drawn against it to the amount of 1 1-2 millions of florins with the usual promptitude of that shrewd old man of business. This agency, however, considered him rather too fast on the pension, and refused acceptance of the drafts. In the letter of explanation to Boghos Bey, the prime minister and adviser of his highness, the agents attested that cotton was a dead and unmarketable article, that they could not undertake to convert any sufficient quantity into cash to meet even part of his bills drawn, whilst the charges for freight, &c., were found very heavy. In reply, the Pacha at once and stated the position of the negotiation, and despatched a steamer with a remittance in hard money for one million two hundred thousand florins. Since that date intelligence will have reached Alexandria and Trieste of the improvement in the cotton market in this country, so that the Pacha's [illegible] and [illegible] turned into money, and some portion may probably find its way into this country to compete with the supply of American cotton. The large [illegible] of Egypt than the weight of the consumption of American cotton. What with heavy stocks in Egypt, a fair yield in the United States, and perhaps beyond what was anticipated, the more accredited accounts only, and the crop of 75,000 bales in Texas, (not 50,000 bales more than last year, there can be no doubt as to an abundant supply of cotton. The late advance of prices, moreover, will, as heretofore, bring considerable quantities of the undecided cotton, which very many is to be found in greater or less abundance in the provinces of the South American States, where it is often left to rot or not worth the expense of the shipment, except when prices have so advanced in Europe as to make it worth cost of transport and clearing.

We are indebted to the clerk of steamer Caledonia, for late St. Louis papers.

ROBBERIES.—The office of the Illinois Insurance and Trust Company, at Cairo, was entered on the night of the 21st, by means of false keys, and a large iron safe opened in the same way, and robbed of about $8,000 in notes of the Cairo Bank; $40 in Kentucky paper; a large lot of jewelry, and several drafts. Another safe was also opened, in which there was nothing but books and papers. The robbers, after possessing themselves of all they thought valuable, locked the safes and the doors and departed. It is supposed that a number of well-known gamblers, who were in the city, were the perpetrators, and they left in the night by some boat.— A liberal reward will be given for the apprehension of the rogues.—St. Louis Republican.

CRIMINAL COURT.—The progress of Mr. Bennis' case has been stayed by the illness of a juror.

A jury was yesterday empannelled in the case of Ramadier, charged with the murder of a man named Kent, near the Soulard Market, on the night of the 25th ult.—Ibid.

Seventy-eight youthful Pottawatomies, twenty, cheerful looking fellows, came down on the Oswego yesterday on their way to the school founded in Kentucky by Col. Johnson for the education of Indians. A few days since 17 of the same tribe passed through here destined for the same school.—Ibid.

The Hon. Lewis F. LINN, United States Senator from Missouri, died at his residence, in St. Genevieve, on the 3d instant.

THE PRESIDENCY FOR 1844.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes the following extract of a letter, dated BALTIMORE, Sept. 27, 1843.

The speech of Mr. Webster at the Agricultural Show at Rochester, to which you refer, is, in the main, a good one, and exceedingly patriotic and accurate knowledge of our country, its resources, &c.; and he tells us, in candid words, what we should do if we desire to become prosperous and independent of foreign countries. He tells us to be a good farmer, a good planter, a good mechanic, and a good merchant. I had thought he was a good lawyer only. The best is, we should all foster agriculture and manufactures—that is, make all we can among ourselves, sell and buy among ourselves, and buy as little as possible. In this end one country will become the greatest and wealthiest on the face of the globe. Home market is the best for all the Southern and Western States, and it is astonishing that all the planters and farmers are not in favor of a moderate Protective Tariff, which would at all times ensure them a good market at home for cotton, corn, flour, rice, hemp, &c., while the foreign markets are always uncertain, fluctuating, and generally lower than our own. I am glad to observe that the views of Mr. Webster on this point accord with those of Mr. Clay, because I ardently believe Mr. Clay will be triumphantly elected to the Presidency in 1844. No matter who may be the locofoco candidate, Mr. Clay will receive votes to his [illegible] and I think the [illegible] will carry the largest States New York, of course, being one of them.

The [illegible] was wrecked on the [illegible] Canal, and reached Chicago yesterday, and [illegible] were [illegible] of the [illegible] at the [illegible] was [illegible] Detroit, besides a large number of sail craft.—*Buffalo Com. We are requested to call the attention of the public to the sale of twenty lots of ground, located on Canal Avenue, the continuation of Canal street. The property is already wanted and most favorably situated. [illegible] improvement to the new [illegible] to the Canal. The sale will commence at 12 o'clock this day by Beard & Richardson at Banks' Arcade. After which will be sold several valuable negroes.

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS.

THE price of Fresh Flour being this day $4 25 per barrel, in specie, according to the Tariff, bakers will give 42 ounces of bread for ten cents, during the ensuing week commencing on Monday, 16th October.

The loaves of second quality of three for ten cents, must weigh 33 per cent more,—say 57 ounces.

NEW ORLEANS, FRIDAY NIGHT,
October 13, 1843.

The late warm weather has [illegible] [illegible] has an a very [illegible] state of things that most [illegible] to [illegible] the city [illegible] its present satisfactory condition. With the present cool weather, we have confident however, that the epidemic will soon cease its ravages, after which we may anticipate a very active winter campaign. The elements of returning prosperity are apparent throughout the whole length of the country, and we are naturally led to hope that the present [illegible] may be [illegible] to reap a large share of those advantages, for which she is so eminently [illegible] by her commanding position and influence.

By to-day's mail we have received later accounts from Europe which have passed off thus far without producing any influence on our markets.

A strong northerly wind has been blowing during the last twenty four hours, which has materially lowered the temperature, and on the influence of which we trust shortly to be enabled to announce the cessation of the yellow fever.

COTTON. Arrived since the 10th inst. of Louisiana and Mississippi, 6,410 bales—Tennessee, 531—Arkansas, 99— Mobile, 212—together, 7,252 bales, making the total receipts since the 1st September, 44,981 bales, against 33,531 at the same period last year. Cleared, in the same time, for Bordeaux, 14 bales—Havana, 103—Boston, 494; together, 859 bales; making an addition to stock of 6,393 bales, and leaving on hand inclusive of all on shipboard not cleared this day, a stock of 38,615 bales.

Since our report of Tuesday night last, when we noticed the Cotton market as having closed with a tolerable degree of firmness, the transactions have been on a more moderate scale, induced to a great extent by the desire on the part of buyers and factors to hold off until the receipt of later advices from Europe which were then daily expected. On Wednesday, however, the market displayed some activity, and the sales reached fully 1,000 bales at steady prices, of which the greater portion was taken for the north, besides a small quantity for Mexico, and on speculation. Yesterday the market was less active, and the transactions only amounted to 900 bales, bought chiefly for the north.

This morning the mail arrived at an early hour, bringing the anxiously expected accounts by the Acadia steamer, reaching up to the 19th ult. from Liverpool. The commercial intelligence is decidedly favorable, the sales of Cotton, in Liverpool, during the fortnight preceding the Steamer's departure, having reached the large amount of 40,000 bales at an improvement in some instances of ⅛d. In Havre the market has advanced 1 to 2 centimes, with large sales, and an upward tendency in prices. We are likewise happy to add, that the accounts from the manufacturing districts continue highly promising, the demand for goods being on the most extensive scale, and at remunerating prices, clearly proving the astonishing increase that has lately taken place in the consumption.

However auspicious these may appear to us, yet we are free to confess that they have disappointed the expectations of many, who had counted a more decided advance in the price of Cotton; and to this we ascribe in some measure the calmer feeling which prevailed amongst dealers as soon as this intelligence was properly digested.

The non-arrival of any private advices contributed likewise to keep all parties in suspense; and it is to be added, that we have already largely anticipated any improvement that might have occurred in the European marts, we can more readily account for the complete stagnation which prevailed in our own market to-day. The transactions barely amounted to 300 bales, making the business of the past three days 3,000, and that of the week 6,700 bales. Our previous quotations are retained:—

TOBACCO.—The market continues to be characterised by the same degree of dulness which we have noticed for many weeks past. There is no stock to operate on, excepting a few hundred hogsheads in second hands, which the holders are not disposed to part with, unless at very full prices. This accounts from the interior in regard to the crop, are assuming a more favorable aspect, and the belief is now very generally entertained that we shall receive fully as large a quantity as this the case last season. SUGAR.—The market exhibits the same appearance; the small receipts confined to limited parcels, chiefly for the city trade, and prices are fully sustained. We quote 5½ @ 7c, according to quality.

MOLASSES. As before noticed, the limited quantity of this article upon the market precludes any operations of note. The last transaction was at 24 @ 25c ¥ gallon.

FLOUR.—The market has not displayed much animation since our last, the only sale for shipment that we are advised of was of [illegible] bbls, at $4 12½, for Havana. We quote Ohio $4 25 @ $4 50. St. Louis brands command a fraction more.

WESTERN PRODUCE. Since our last report the transactions in the Provision market have been generally on a limited scale; the late arrival of several boats from the Ohio river, has brought down considerable quantities of produce, and the market is in consequence well stocked; but the demand is so languid, that in less in most instances have given way. Pork is neglected, and sales restricted to small parcels, we quote Mess, $10 75 @ 11; Prime, none in market. There is no change in Beef, we quote Mess, in bbls, $10 @ $10 50; half bbls, $5 50 @ $6. Prime $7 @ $7 25 ¥ barrel. Transactions in Lard have been quite extensive, and with inducement for [illegible], about 4,500 kegs have changed hands for shipment to Havana, at 6½ @ 6¾c ¥ lb. We now quote extreme qualities, 6 @ 6½c. Bacon is extremely dull, with a large and accumulating stock, prices have been, and we quote Shoulders, 3 @ 3½c. Sides, 3½ @ 4c. Hams, uncanvassed 4½ @ 5½c; canvassed and sugar cured, 6 @ 8c.

WHISKEY.—Since our last the demand for this article has been very limited, and the sales too small. We quote rectified 19 @ 20c.

BAGGING AND BALE ROPE. The arrivals continue very large, but the demand does not keep pace, and the market is heavy. We make no alteration in our figures, but the tendency of prices is downward. We quote Kentucky Bagging, 13 @ 14c, cash; and 14 @ 15c on time. There is no Foreign Bagging in market. We quote Kentucky Bale Rope, 5½ @ 5¾c, cash; and 5¾ @ 6c on time.

COFFEE. There is no improvement in the demand, and prices are the same. We quote, Havana prime green, 8 @ 9c. Rio, 8 @ 8½c ¥ lb.

SALT. [illegible] of [illegible] cargoes alluded to in our last were sold at the time of closing our paper. Since then a lot of [illegible] sacks has been received from Malaga, leaving a stock of [illegible] sacks afloat, unsold. Small parcels of Liverpool are now selling to the trade at $1 40 @ $1 75 per sack, for coarse and fine.

EXCHANGE.—The bill market has been drooping since our last, and on all points drawers have submitted to a further decline. We quote Sterling, 7 [illegible] @ 7½ ¥ cent. prem. Francs, 5 37½ @ 5 40. New-York, 60 ds. 2 [illegible] ¥ cent. discount;—Sight 1 ¼ @ 1½ ¥ cent. dis.—Checks, 1 [illegible] ¥ cent. discount.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

LONDON MONEY-MARKET—SEPT. 18, 1843.

The funds have continued to some extent since our previous report, and of late, there have been uneasy feelings displayed, of regarding Ireland, with other warlike preparations, favorable for [illegible] government, antislavery struggle. On Monday and Tuesday last there was a rise, but on the latter day, large sales were made by the Bank broker which had the effect of depressing the market to about our present quotations. Money is plentiful at a discount of 1½ [illegible] Exchequer Bills have slightly improved.

The most [illegible] of the Foreign market is the [illegible] Mexican bonds. [illegible] at [illegible] Messrs. [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] The [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] to make the bond holders pay two thirds of [illegible] by this arrangement the [illegible] and especially [illegible] April and [illegible] quoted at [illegible] [illegible] 46 [illegible] 47 [illegible]

MONEY, [illegible]

The British Funds have been steady to-day, but little business has been done. Consols have met with buyers for money, at 94¾ [illegible] and for the account at 94 [illegible] 94 prem.

Considerable business has been done in foreign securities, [illegible] Mexican Bonds, in the Spanish [illegible] Buenos Ayres Bonds [illegible] Peruvian, 20½; Portuguese, 14; Spanish Five per Cents, 20; and Three 30¼.

LONDON, Sept. 18, 1843.

AMERICAN STATE DEBTS.—The following paragraph appears in the City article of the Morning Chronicle:— "We are already [illegible] of a [illegible] holders of American State Stocks, [illegible] [illegible] it appears that these parties are deprived entirely of such [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to the grossest [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] at a [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] London market do not even themselves to obtain justice from the delinquent states. We are certainly not [illegible] at [illegible] our [illegible] to effect any arrangement [illegible] and we [illegible] that the leading [illegible] are not wanting in their duty to them. Their position is of a [illegible] to the Americans are the [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] The [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of that world."

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET—SEPT. 16.

The transactions this week have not been so extensive as those of the preceding one, still they have comprised a large number of sales, and prices, though not decidedly higher, have had a leaning in favor of holders, especially so in the middling class of American and Egyptian. The business consists of American and 900 [illegible] taken on speculation. The sales of the week [illegible] [illegible] 11,200 [illegible] American, 2,600 Brazil, 710 Egyptian, 30 West India, &c. and 1,350 East India, &c.

SEPT. 15.—A very large amount of business has been transacted in Cotton this week; the tenor of the advices brought by the Hibernia and recent Western vessels calculated to impart a greater degree of firmness to the trade; and owing to the ready manner in which holders of American have met the demand, there is little or no change in the value of this description. In some partial instances an advance of 1-8d, per lb. has been realized, and a similar improvement is apparent in Brazil and Egyptian. Surats are 1 1-8d. per lb. better than on this day fortnight. 49,540 bales have met with buyers—viz. 37,630 American, 4,350 Brazil, 1,050 Egyptian, 150 West India, &c., and 5,750 East India, &c. 19,890 American, 200 Egyptian, and 200 Surat, have been taken on speculation.

SEPT. 18.—The demand for Cotton since Friday last has proved extensive. We have no decided advance in prices to notice, but the market has been firm, and 18,000 bales have changed hands, at steady rates, speculators have purchased 7,000 bales. The sales to-day have consisted of 10,500 bales, viz.—500 West India, 650 Bahia, 61—[illegible] Maranham, [illegible]—200 Egyptian, [illegible]—1,000 Surat, 3 [illegible]—200 Sea Island, [illegible]—200 Surat, 2 [illegible] and the remainder American.

LIVERPOOL TOBACCO-MARKET—SEPT. 10.

Our market is dull at present. The first cargo of Virginia is now landed, and buyers are awaiting its being sampled. The stocks on hand are large.

LIVERPOOL, SEPT. 15—American Provisions.

Since the 6th inst. there has been only a limited business doing in provisions. In new beef the transactions have been of a retail character to the trade, at prices ranging within the quotations. Of old, a few sales to the extent of about 400 barrels, are reported. The stock of pork being almost exhausted, leaves little room for comment on this article; mess, ordinary is ready for sale, as they, Cheese has rolled off. The supply of English promises to be abundant. This will be unfavorable to the import from America up to the present having proved of irregular quality, has checked the transactions to a limited extent. Lard is in good demand, and prices look upwards—with as could wish the consumption will increase. Grease butter sells in a small lot, but the active demand in favor for the present season. There are no sellers under the quotations.

MANCHESTER, SEPT. 15.—Early in the month a large amount of business was done in Yarns, at some improvement; but the prices demanded for future contracts are so high, that the transactions have of late been limited. Spinners are generally engaged, and it is thought that buyers must shortly be forced to pay the prices. Manufactured goods, which were previously in good request, in consequence of the near approach of the East India mail, have met a limited sale during the last week; the stocks, however, are low, prices remain firm, and are likely to continue so. Printing cloths, cords, domestic and other heavy goods, suitable for the home trade, are in tolerably brisk demand; and for cords, &c., higher rates are obtainable. For mouse-line de laines, there is an unusually extensive inquiry, workmen in that branch are steadily sought for, and pretty good wages are given. Some [illegible] has been effected. Silk printers are also very busily employed.

HAVRE COTTON-MARKET—SEPT. 16.

The advices by the Hibernia, received yesterday via Liverpool, imparted an additional degree of firmness to the Cotton Trade. An advance of 1 to 2 and 3 was generally demanded, but we have these terms those were to buyers, and prices cannot be quoted more than 1f. @ 2f. higher. The tendency of this market is, however, upwards.

HAVRE, SEPT. 13.—Cotton.—During the whole of last week, and in the early part of the present, our market exhibited a considerable degree of dulness, the transactions on some days were on a very confined scale, and prices in general began to wear a downward appearance. Dealers, in expectation perhaps of obtaining some concessions, bought sparingly and merely to supply immediate necessities, but importers, although certainly not [illegible], evinced no disposition to press forward or to accept lower terms.

The firm attitude evinced on their part would seem to have had the effect of rousing confidence, for since Wednesday more briskness has been displayed in the demand, the sales have been daily on a fair scale, and prices which were before drooping, have now become steadier, with rather an upper tendency than otherwise. The accounts from the other side of the Atlantic, respecting the whole fair crop, and the new but still being most prosperous, the buyers consequently to be good reason for anticipating further improvement, the more so as the stocks which have hitherto been laid by [illegible], and are not yet likely to add materially to our stock.

By the advices from the United States expected by the next steamers Great Western and Hibernia, will, in all probability convey some intelligence of an interesting nature, and go far to decide the point as to future prospects.

AMSTERDAM, SEPT. 12.—TOBACCO.—Since our last, 390 hhds Maryland, of very strong bought into the market, were disposed of, besides 14 hhds of another kind, 62 hhds Kentucky were sold to advantage. All other sorts remained quiet, and with the exception of 376 serons Cuba Seaves, in other sales came to our knowledge.

BREMEN, SEPT. 8.—Cotton has again advanced in value, 220 bales from the United States having been sold at [illegible] Domingo at [illegible] and 250 serons Laguayra at [illegible]

The Transactions in Tobacco are limited, 1,445 pkgs. Porto Rico, at [illegible] Havana and St. Domingo at different currencies.

LATER FROM RIO DE JANEIRO.

The barque Rebel, Capt O'Neil, and brig Henry P. Sumner, Capt. Howland, arrived at this port yesterday from Rio de Janeiro, bringing dates to 23d August. H. B. ship Illustrious, Com. Turner, was at Rio. The U. S. schooner Enterprise arrived at Rio on the 20th, from Montevideo—all well. We are indebted to a commercial house for the annexed letter giving the state of the markets:—

Coffee is scarce, weather continuing cloudy and unfavorable to supplies.

Coffee.—More favorable advices per "Gaston," with the circumstance of several houses entering the market, immediately on that vessel's arrival, and the report of large sales at [illegible] cents in the U. S. while stocks have been small, owing to late bad weather, have prevented the fall in price which had been anticipated. Rs exchange [illegible] of 3,100 a 3,900 for assorted $6 [illegible] per [illegible] 3,700 a 3,900, superior $6 [illegible] 3,[illegible] good firsts, $6 [illegible] As the demand has been chiefly [illegible] and is nearly satisfied, it is expected prices will [illegible] time, since more free supplies [illegible] which are looked for by the end of the month [illegible] is wanted for Hamburg, and any [illegible] the lower qualities.
