LOUISIANA LEGISLATURE.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE SENATE OF LOUISIANA.

THURSDAY, January 11, 1844.

Mr. Sparrow presented a petition from some citizens of the parish of Concordia, relative to the location of the seminary lands, and on his motion it was referred to the same committee to whom the same subject had already been committed—to wit: Messrs Sparrow, Davis and Walker.

Mr Carter, agreeably to previous notice, introduced a bill to amend the law relative to the electing of electors of president and vice president of the United States on behalf of Louisiana, and on his motion, said bill was referred to a special committee of four, to be selected from each congressional district. Mr C at the same time, desired to be exempted from serving on that committee.

The president appointed Messrs Davidson, Downs, Armant and Hoa, on said committee.

Mr Bernard, with leave, introduced an act for the relief of Col A Matta, and on his motion it was referred to the committee on the militia.

Mr Carter, with leave, introduced a joint resolution fixing the election of state printer for Thursday, 13th inst.

On motion of Mr Bernard, the rules were dispensed with, and this resolution was taken up and passed; and on motion of Mr Walker it was communicated to the House of Representatives for their concurrence.

Mr Hoa, on behalf of the judiciary committee to whom were referred the bill to incorporate the subscribers to the Mutual Marine and Fire Insurance Company of the State of Louisiana, reported said bill with amendments.

On motion of Mr H said bill was taken under consideration, and several sections being read and adopted—

Mr Morse objected to the section which prescribed that dividends not claimed within two years should be forfeited to the company and be placed to the credit of the surplus fund. Mr Morse thought this period too short. It might be prejudicial to absentees and to persons inheriting while abroad.

After some remarks from Mr Hoa, who argued that the interests of all persons should be considered as represented in the State, and that our Legislation should not be exclusive in its character, granting greater favor to absent persons than to our resident citizens.

Mr Morse, with the consent of Mr Hoa, moved that the period be fixed at five years, which was carried and the several sections were adopted.

On motion, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the several bills from the House of Representatives, which underwent their first reading.

On motion of Mr. Armant, the bill relative to making a road to Bayou Grosse Tete from Devall's Landing, was laid upon the table subject to call.

On motion of Mr Thibodeaux, the bill authorizing the probate judges therein named, to appoint clerks for said courts, was taken up.

And the same having been amended, on motion of Mr Davidson, the rules were dispensed with; and it was passed and taken to the House of Representatives.

Mr Davidson, on behalf of the special committee, to whom the subject was referred, reported the bill introduced by Mr Carter, to amend the law relative to the electing of electors of President and Vice President, without amendments.

On motion, said bill was taken up.

Mr. Bernard said he was not disposed to throw any obstacles in the passage of this bill, but it seemed to him that the committee had not examined it as closely as was desirable. In the law passed last year for districting the State, regard had been paid to the federal population, so as to preserve something like an equality in the districts. He had not examined the present bill further than it referred to his own district, and he found there that in place of its quantum of population being allowed, which should be at the ratio of 47,000 the sixth district, instead of the whole population of the State, only 33,000 were allowed. He did not know whether a similar inequality was to be found among the other districts, but as regarded the district to which he considered it his duty to refer, he should propose that the parishes of Pointe Coupée and West Baton Rouge, with a population of 11,000 be added thereto, which would bring the number to about 47,000, the amount of population to which the district was entitled.

Mr. Davidson did not think the committee were liable to the charge of inattention, and went into an explanation for the purpose of showing that their action in reporting favorably to the bill without any amendments was proper and correct. He contended that it was a matter of no consequence as to precise equality of population among the districts, inasmuch as the electors were chosen as general tickets; and all that was indeed desirable was to secure in these nominal districts as far as practicable, contiguity of territory. He read the law, of which the present bill was an amendment, and exhibited that the districts laid off were pretty nearly similar, allowing for the difference of an additional elector.

Mr. Bernard replied to the arguments of the Senator from Livingston, and stated that he certainly did not mean to imply that the committee had exhibited any lack of fidelity in the discharge of the duty assigned.

By consent the parishes of West Baton Rouge and Pointe Coupée were added to the third district, as proposed by Mr. Bernard, and the bill as amended was passed.

Mr. Walker, on behalf of the committee of elections, reported that that committee had examined the credentials of the honorable Zenon La Bauve, Senator from Iberville, and A. Livaudais, Senator from the Third Senatorial District, and that they were in due form.—The same senator also stated that the committee had examined the returns at the office of the Secretary of State, and that the honorable Mr. Marshall appeared to be duly elected Senator from the county of Natchitoches.

Mr. La Bauve, on behalf of the committee to wait upon the Governor, reported that he had submitted to that functionary, the resolutions relative to the abduction of slaves into Texas, and the resolutions for the settlement of private land claims.

Whereupon, on motion, the Senate adjourned.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, January 10th, 1844.

The House met pursuant to adjournment. The roll being called, 37 members answered to their names.

Leave of absence for a few days was granted to Mr. Ratliff.

Mr. Brewer presented a memorial from the members of the Police Jury of the parish of Rapides, praying the Legislature to pass a law declaring defalcations of the recipients of public moneys a penal offence. The memorial was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Fluker offered a resolution appointing a special committee of five to enquire into the expediency of establishing a Quarantine for the protection of New Orleans.

Mr. Winchester thought the power existed in the corporation of New Orleans.

Mr. Brewer said if the corporation did not exercise the power, it might be proper for the Legislature to act. The resolution could do no harm at all events. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Selby, agreeably to notice, offered a bill to repeal certain acts therein recited. The bill was referred to a select committee of three, composed of Messrs. Selby, Rogers and Brou.

Mr. Stille presented a bill to create an additional election precinct in the parish of Sabine; an act relative to Justices of the Peace in that parish; and an act to re-organize elections in the same parish; and an act to re-organize the Police Jury wards in the parish of Natchitoches.

Mr. Briant introduced a bill to amend the charter of the Roman Catholic Congregation of St. Martinsville.

Mr. Frerot introduced a bill to amend the act abolishing imprisonment for debt. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Claiborne, from a select committee, introduced an act creating an additional office of Associate Judge of the City Court of New Orleans.

Mr. Phelps gave notice of an act to amend the act creating the parish of Franklin.

Mr. Morgan gave notice of an act to authorize the Police Juries of the different parishes to establish election precincts.

Mr. Nicolas gave notice of an act to grant additional powers to the Police Jury of Lafourche Interior.

Mr. Perkins gave notice of a bill for the Lafayette Artillery Company.

Mr. Brewer introduced an act to increase the revenue of the State and extend the right of suffrage. Mr. Brewer asked its reference to a special committee. His chief object was to extend the right of suffrage, and to secure the exercise of the right at the approaching election of 1844. For this purpose the bill should be examined and properly framed by a select committee.

Mr. Boudousquie proposed that the committee should consist of seven members. This was accepted and the motion prevailed.

Mr. Brewer gave notice of a motion to amend the 23d rule of the House, so that the messages, communications, &c. should be disposed of before bills and notices of bills are presented.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication extending the privilege of the Medical College to the members of the Legislature. The invitation was accepted.

Order of the Day.

A resolution from the Senate appointing a joint committee to consider that portion of the Governor's message which related to the Convention, came up and was taken up and read.

Another resolution from the Senate requiring the State Treasurer to furnish information in regard to the appropriations to the various colleges, the sums disbursed, &c., was taken up and read once.

Second Readings.

The act to promote the better security of mechanics and others erecting buildings in New Orleans, was postponed, in consequence of the absence of Mr Hunt.

The act to abolish the office of recorder of mortgages in the parish of Natchitoches, was taken up by sections and adopted.

The act to reduce the rate of conventional interest, next came up.

Mr Selby suggested in the outset, that usury was based on loans of money only.

Mr Brashear observed that his intention in framing the bill was to obviate a higher rate of interest than 7 per cent., under all circumstances. If usury on money alone were prohibited, the capitalist might easily evade the law, by lending, at a usurious rate, on coffee, sugar, goods, &c. He had once entertained very different views in regard to conventional interest, but after mature deliberation his opinions had been changed. Everything that happened around him had conduced to bring about this change. It was his belief that a large portion of our deplorable embarrassments arose from the exhorbitant rate of interest. It was true that 10 per cent. was the highest rate allowed by law, but it had now become the universal rate. The staple commodities of our State were now at a low ebb, and no business would justify the borrowing of money at such high rates. He considered the practice injurious at once to the lender and borrower. The effect of the bill would, in his opinion, be salutary. It would tend to raise the price of property, because capitalists would invest their means in real estate when they found themselves unable to procure exhorbitant interest on loans. As the laws stand, property depreciates in value. The capitalist refuses to bid at sales, because by loaning his money at high rates and reducing the borrower to the most straightened condition, he ultimately obtains the property on his own terms.

Mr Winchester considered this bill too important for hasty action. He moved its reference to the judiciary committee.

Mr Selby concurred with Mr Winchester. If the bill was pressed now, he would be compelled to vote against it. He wished time to examine it.

Mr Brewer said that the bill introduced last year and which had been discussed and lost, differed in some respects from this present bill. The bill before the House does not propose the entire forfeiture of the debt in cases of usurious interest, but only the forfeiture of the entire interest. He considered the motion to refer a test of the fate of the bill. It had been referred to the judiciary committee last year, and a large majority had voted against it. He well knew that he would be in a minority in that committee, and could anticipate its fate. He must therefore oppose the motion.

Mr Ogden was about to remind Mr Winchester of the facts stated by Mr. Brewer. He considered the facts sufficient to induce him to oppose the reference to the judiciary committee. But he would frankly state that he was hostile to the spirit of the bill, which he regarded as chimerical. To control and oppose the laws of trade was as impossible as to control the winds and tides. Individuals who want money, are unable to procure it at less than 10 per cent., because there are ten thousand circumstances in this State which affect the stability of security. When adequate security can be given, the effect of competition is to reduce the rate of interest. But why should we pass a law to prevent ourselves from obtaining the advantages of which we stand in need. These considerations influenced his opposition to the bill, but he was willing to be enlightened and would therefore urge its reference to a select committee.

Mr Winchester withdrew his motion, and was willing to sent the subject to a select committee.

Mr Brewer first moved to lay this proposition on the table, and subsequently withdrew it, and the bill was referred to a special committee of five.

The act relative to the property qualifications of the Police Jury of the Parish of Sabine, was read a second time and adopted.

The act to create an additional Jury Ward in the Parish of West Baton Rouge, was read a second time and adopted.

Third Reading.

The act to authorize the Parish Judges of Lafourche Interior, St. Helena and Livingston to appoint clerks, was taken up.

A proposition was made to include Terrebonne, East and West Baton Rouge in the bill. Mr Ogden opposed the annexation of East Baton Rouge, as a bill to that effect had been rejected last year, and he knew of nothing which had since occurred to render it necessary.

Some discussion followed. Mr Newport stated that he had asked the privilege simply in obedience to the will of his constituents. He considered, in strict justice, that the privilege was due to his Parish, equally with that of Lafourche or other Parishes.

Mr Ogden proposed as a compromise, that the Probate Judges should appoint their clerks when vacancies occur.

Mr Selby concurred with Mr Newport. He asked for nothing but right and justice. When the people of a Parish petition almost unanimously for a just object, it seemed to him that it should be granted. He thought the members from New Orleans should confine themselves more to the interest of their constituents, and not thrust themselves into matters which are really not their peculiar concern. He always held that offices were created for the good of the people, and not of individuals. This principle applied to the office in question. He would not be deterred from supporting correct principles for fear of legislating individuals out of office. Mr. Selby added some general remarks upon the powers of officers and their influence. He would always vote for the division of power.

Mr Wadsworth thought it a matter of some moment, and was opposed to hasty action. To divide offices might be correct, but if it were carried out too far, it would starve the officers, and prevent the choice of all gable men. He thought the necessity of the proposed change should be shown, before it was acceded to by the Legislature. Efficient officers in the country are not easily found, because the fees are not sufficient to support them. Hence they should receive a due compensation. Offices should not be divided unless they can support the individuals. When this was demonstrated he would be willing to accede to the proposition.

Mr Newport thought it a bad rule which would not work both ways. He would refer to the proceedings of the last session—to a petition sent in from his Parish instructing him to pursue this course. He was not opposed to Mr Winthrop, but wished to obey his constituents.

Mr Winchester approved of Mr Ogden's compromise. Clerks of District Courts are appointed during good behaviour, but no power had been given by law empowering the appointment of clerks for Probate Courts. He thought a general law should be passed. He wished the bill referred to the Judiciary Committee, and a general law framed authorizing the several Parishes of the State to appoint clerks.

Mr Nicolas considered the bill sufficiently advanced to attain the object by adding an amendment conferring the proper powers on the judges of the different Parishes.

The debate was continued some time longer by Messrs Brewer, Winchester and Ogden.

The motion to refer to the Judiciary Committee was lost. Mr McCrae proposed its reference to a select committee. Lost. The amendments proposed by Mr Clark and Mr Newport were adopted, and the bill was passed.

The act relative to the qualifications of Police Jurors for the Parishes of Carroll and Madison, was read a third time and passed.

The act to increase the length of the term of the 9th Judicial District for the Parish of Carroll, was read a third time and passed.

The resolution from the Senate, appointing a joint committee on the subject of the Convention, was, on motion of Mr Winchester, laid indefinitely on the table.

The House adjourned—Yeas 27—Nays 12.
