THE CITIZENS' BANK.

We have before us the report of the Board of Bank Managers on the affairs of the Citizens' Bank and the Consolidated Association, addressed to the General Assembly. This document is a comprehensive exposition of the affairs of the Citizens' Bank since the last Legislative session. We learn from it, that since 1850 the Bank has regularly met its foreign debt as it became due, having paid off an aggregate amount of $1,731,180 02, consisting as follows:

Five dividends of semi-annual interest	$860,000 00
The 2d and 3d, out of the seven series of Bank bonds issued in 1848, for the funding of the arrearsd interest,	192,411 15
The 1st and 2d, out of five instalments of State bonds matured in 1850 and extended to 1855, also a small balance of said bonds not extended—together	521,099 87
	$1,573,800 02
Premium of Exchange on the above about	157,380 00
	$1,731,180 02

To meet these payments, a loan and negotiation of bills to the amount of $175,000 have been made. The Bank has to provide for this advance, and for the payment of the foreign debt of August 1852, about $280,600. The collections will be insufficient for this purpose. If another advance can be obtained, there will be no difficulty in effecting payment; but unless the stock contributions due last May and next May shall be collected in full during the present year, the Bank will be utterly unable to meet the payment of the 1st February, 1853, which amounts to about $447,000. The managers, aware of these anticipated difficulties, made in 1850, a call upon the Stockholders of $7 per share, payable at the rate of $1 per share, on the 1st May every year. The conflagration of the St. Charles, by giving them an opportunity of reclaiming the St. Louis Hotel from its depreciation, induced an expenditure of $130,000. That building is now paying seven and a half per cent on its estimated value, the additional expenditure upon it included; but this has necessarily further diminished the resources of the Bank. The deficiency of cash means from this cause, and from the failure of the Stockholders to pay up, amounted on the 31st ult., to $175,000. Many of the Stockholders have resisted payment, and suit has been instituted. Unless an early decision be rendered, or the restoration of the Bank to its privileges induces the Stockholders voluntarily to pay up, the amounts yet to be realized from contributions past due, and coming due on the 1st May next, may be obtained too late for the punctual discharge of the dividend of February 1853.

It appears that by the negotiation of 1848, a back debt of $675,000, and a fast maturing debt of $1,250,000—together $1,925,000, were thrown upon the seven subsequent years, from 1849 to 1855. Up to this day, the Bank has paid $790,000, leaving yet $1,135,000 to be discharged between this and 1855, in amounts of $96,000 on the 1st August, and $250,000 on the 1st February each year. Calculating interest and premium, the Bank must pay $250,000 in 1852; $717,000 in 1853, $697,000 in 1854, and $677,000 in 1855. Without entering into minute details, it is calculated that the regular yearly receipts exclusive of contribution on stock, will fall short about $150,000, each of the years 1853, 1854, 1855. These deficits can be supplied only from the yearly call of $1 per share, the realization of which is doubtful, or by the sale of the stocks and property of the Bank, which it may be difficult to effect without heavy sacrifice.

The actual losses of the Bank are calculated for the years 1852, 1853, 1854 and 1855, at $140,114 88. They will result from the excess of exchange and interest to be paid over the rents and interest to be collected. The annual loss will gradually decrease, as the interest on the foreign debt decreases in proportion to the diminution of the principal. We copy the annexed paragraphs:

The above figures show that the gradual loss arising, not from deterioration of the assets, but from the earnings falling short of the expenses and interest to be paid, will go on swelling the deficit of capital. That deficit was estimated on 31st July, 1849, at ... $640,967 97

The actual loss of $120,595 68 in the last two years, has brought it up on 31st July, 1851, to ... $757,563 65

The above figures, if correct, would swell it on 1st July, 1855, at $140,114 88 more, or ... $897,678 53

Thus is the Bank on the wane, with no other prospective relief but the punctual payment of the balance due on the call of 1st May last, and of the amount of the successive calls as they will mature, nothing short of which can check the downward course. Each year brings an additional loss on the Bank, each period of payment will encounter additional difficulty; the contributions intended to meet them will, if Legislative relief is deferred, come too slowly in; and in July next, or at the latest in February, 1853, the obligations of the State will be again under protest. Nor do we think that this mishap could be averted by obtaining a further extension of the instalments next maturing. It was but in 1848, that the Bond holders consented to extend that same debt from 1849 to 1855. To apply again for further indulgence, until Legislative relief could be had, would neither be creditable to the State, or the Bank, or likely to be obtained.

The report concludes by declaring, that in order to protect the State, if not again from an ultimate loss, which shall have to be borne by the stockholders, at least against a temporary protest of its obligations, the only efficient means are the creation of an additional capital by the stockholders and the restoration of the rights vested in the charter by the corporation.

The Consolidated Association has been gradually improving, and all its payments have thus far been promptly and easily met. The contributions called for have been freely made, and a fund has been accumulated, sufficient, it is hoped, to enable it to honor regularly the obligations of the State as they become due.

The question of the Citizens' Bank will be disposed of by the Legislature on Tuesday next. We have taken no partisan part in the controversy which the bill restoring the Bank to its privileges and reducing its capital, has provoked, though we have never doubted the high expediency and the constitutionality of the act. There is one consideration that the members of the Legislature should weigh with anxious forethought. An earnest and persevering effort is about to be made to redeem New Orleans and Louisiana from their present critical position, by extensive public improvements, such as can alone regain for us what we have lost by our supineness, and open new channels to commerce and new avenues to industry. In these enterprises, the State must necessarily embark to a large extent. To accomplish this, credit and standing will be imperatively required. If nothing is done for the Citizens' Bank, the obligations of the State will, within a twelvemonth, be inevitably dishonored. The consequence will be the utter loss of credit and immense injury to those projects of improvement which cannot be sustained, without the aid of credit, and what is worse, such injury will be suffered precisely at the period when they are on the eve of being carried into effect. To the true patriot such considerations should far outweigh mere political prejudices, or the pride of opinion.

A DISCOVERY INTERESTING TO FLORISTS.—The Paris correspondent of the St. Louis Republican tells of a most beautiful and interesting discovery, which has lately been made by a celebrated Parisian Horticulturist, by the name of Hobart:

"I was persuaded," says he, "to go to his rooms a few weeks since, and I assure you I have no reason to regret the long walk I had taken.—Beneath a large glass case, four or five feet high, and as many in circumference, were placed pots of roses, japonicas, pinks, dahlias, chinasters, &c., all in bud. By means of certain gas, invented by himself, and which is made to pass by a gutta percha tube to any pot required, Mr. Hobart causes the instantaneous blooming of the flowers. The ladies in the room asked successively for roses, dahlias, and japonicas, and saw them burst into full bloom and beauty in a second. It was really wonderful. Mr. Hobart is now trying to improve on his discovery, and to make the gas more portable, and its application less visible. The secret is of course his, and his rooms are crowded every day with the most delighted spectators. I wish I could send you the lovely camelia I received, which, when asked for was tightly enveloped in the green leaves of its calix, that the color of its flower could not even be guessed at, and yet the request was hardly out of my lips when the beautiful white camelia was in my hand. When he has made a little more progress, Mr. Hobart intends to take out a patent and deliver his discovery to the public."

It is well enough to add that another account of this curious discovery states that immediately after the premature and sudden developement of the flowers, it withers and dies. The power which produces precocious vitality does not suffice to maintain it.

DAHLONEGA BRANCH MINT.—The Signal contains a tabular statement, showing the operations of the Branch Mint at Dahlonega for the past year, from which we condense the following. Aggregate value of gold bullion received $[illegible] 53; value of coinage $331,792 00, of which there were $2,710 half eagles; 11,264 quarter eagles, and 9,882 gold dollars. The subjoined table shows whence the gold was obtained, and it is a remarkable fact that over $160,000 worth, or nearly one half of the bullion, was received at the mint during the months of November and December:

A RABBI IN A LEGISLATURE.—At Albany on Monday week, the opening prayer in the State Senate was made by Rabbi [illegible] the minister of the Jewish Synagogue in Albany. Rabbi Wise is a German by birth, and is one of the most talented of the Hebrew clergy in this country.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE.—In the SENATE, on the 29th, Mr. Philips presented a resolution requiring the State Engineer to report the amount of work done in the Third Internal Improvement District.

Mr. Richardson, of Ouachita, introduced a resolution requesting the State Engineer to survey and make a line of levees on the Ouachita river, from Harrisonburg, to the Arkansas line, to ascertain the practicability of establishing locks and dams. Mr. Richardson also gave notice of a bill to reduce the salaries of State officers.

The House bill to prevent the Municipalities of New Orleans from levying taxes on capital, was taken up and referred to the Finance Committee.

The bill passed to pay the publishers of the proclamation of the Secretary of State, and amendments to the Constitution.

Mr. Saulidge offered a resolution to print the resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution. Referred.

Mr. Martin introduced a resolution instructing the Committee of the Constitution to report as to the expediency of calling a convention.

Mr. Robb called up the House bill relative to pledges, and moved that it be printed, which motion prevailed.

Mr. Robb also reported a bill providing for taking the bonds of the State Tax Collectors.—The bill passed.

In the House, Mr. Campbell offered a resolution to employ a Reporter for the House, at a salary of $10 per day. Adopted.

Mr. Fleming reported a bill to restore ——— Cammeyer, of New Orleans to his civil rights.

Mr. Waterman gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill to cede to the United States a plot of ground at Southwest Pass, for the purpose of having a light house erected thereon.

Mr. Curry gave notice of a bill to purchase a certain number of copies of the New Civil Code and Digest.

Mr. Heard gave notice of an act to make appropriations for payment of jury warrants of the First District Court, and also of an act for the expropriation of lands for public improvements.

The House concurred in the Senate bill to pay for the publication of the amendments to the Constitution, and repealing the Militia Commutation tax.

Mr. Curry reported a bill to repeal an act prescribing the duties of notaries public in the Parish of Orleans in passing acts of sale, donations and mortgages, under the act of 21st of March, 1850. He also proposed an act granting relief to persons who have irregularly purchased lands of the State.

Mr. Heard reported an act to make appropriations for the support of the Orleans Battalion of Artillery.

Mr. Price reported an act to allow compensation to the District Attorney of the First District Court, and also an act to increase the salary of that State officer.

We are indebted to the Crescent for the above summary.

CONSOLIDATION.

We are gratified at perceiving that several of the city journals approve the bill of Mr. ROSS. The True Delta and the Picayune both speak in very favorable terms of this project. The Crescent itself considers that it offers excellent outlines for such a bill as it desires. Our contemporaries generally appear to think that the general arrangements of the bill are unobjectionable. Errors of self-detail or omissions may be corrected during its progress through the Legislature.

RIO GRANDE.—By an arrival from the Brazos, we have received the Rio Bravo of the 21st instant, and American Flag to the 24th.—They scarcely contain anything new. Judge Watrous had reached Brownsville, and would shortly open the U. S. District Court.

Gen. Uraga has been recalled to Mexico and has left Matamoros.

INTERESTING FACTS.—Professor Johnston, in the course of lectures delivered by him before the New York State Agricultural Society, stated that in this climate the temperature rises to 100 degs. Fahrenheit five feet below the surface, and to 140 deg. half an inch below it, facts which he says he learned himself with surprise. He uses them to illustrate the economy of nature in promoting vegetation.

The sunbeam is composed of three distinct and separate rays, one of heat, one of light and one called the chemical ray. These three actinics exist in different proportions in the sunbeam in the spring, summer and autumn. The blue or chemical ray is greater in the spring, the light greater in the summer. The chemical ray is less in autumn, and then the heating ray predominates. The proportion of these rays varies in different seasons of the year, in order that the growing plant may arrive at maturity. It has also been ascertained that the proportions of these agents vary in different climates.

It has been ascertained that the flower of a plant absorbs more heat than the other parts, and the dark more heat than the light, and hence it is inferred that the color of a flower is what determines the quantity of heat it requires, and the amount which nature supplies. It will be found that the soil and the plant contain nearly the same substances, the only one not in the plant being alumina. The mechanical function of alumina in the soil is to anchor the plant. Its tenacity is its valuable property. Some plants grow in mere sand, but the great majority of them require a certain degree of tenacity in the soil, which is obtained by mixing silica with clay. This alumina does not enter into the plant, but only gives to the soil the tenacity necessary to sustain the plant.

INTERVENTION.—We published yesterday the resolutions introduced into the United States Senate by Mr. CLARKE, relative to non intervention. In the House of Representatives, on the second day, Mr. CONGER, of New York, asked the unanimous consent of the House to present the following resolutions, which, as will be seen, directly recognize and approve the Kossuth doctrine of intervention:

Joint Resolution declaratory of the law of nations in reference to the doctrine of non intervention, and the right of every nation to establish for itself such form of government as the people thereof may think most suitable to their own condition, and best adapted to promote and secure their own happiness and prosperity. Also, declaring the view entertained by the Government and people of the United States of the conduct of Russia in the armed intervention by that power in the late contest between Austria and Hungary.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That by the laws of nature and of nations it is the undoubted and inalienable right of the people of every nation to establish for themselves such form of government as they may deem best adapted to their own condition, and calculated to promote and ensure their own prosperity and happiness; and at any time to amend, alter or change their form of government in such a manner as to them may appear necessary or expedient, according to their own sovereign will and pleasure.

2d. That in the exercise, by any people, of the sovereign powers above referred to, no other nation or government has the right to interfere with or to control, or attempt to control, the action of such people in any manner whatsoever, and more especially by the intervention of an armed force.

3d. That any intervention by a foreign power in the domestic affairs or contests of any people is a violation of the law of nations, against which, as such, it is the right of all nations to protest.

4th. That in case of any such violation of the law of nations as above contemplated, it is not only the right of every other government to protest against the same, but also to adopt such measures and resort to such means as may be deemed most proper and effectual in maintaining the right, and preventing any future infraction of a similar nature.

5th. That while we fully recognize the principles and firmly assert the rights herein before referred to, the action of this government in this behalf will hereafter, in all cases, be determined by a due consideration of all the facts and circumstances which ought to exert a controlling influence in each particular case.

6th. That the armed intervention of Russia in the recent contest between Hungary and Austria was a manifest violation of the law of nations. And that, in the attempt to assert and maintain her independence as a nation, and her rights as a people, the Government and people of these United States will not remain indifferent should Russia or any other foreign power again attempt by armed intervention to sustain the unjust pretentions of despotic power, and crush the rising hopes and energies of a people struggling to be free.

Mr. Bayly moved to refer the joint resolution to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, desired to know whether previous notice had been given of this resolution.

The Speaker replied in the negative.

Mr. Jones said he would then object to its introduction.

Mr. Conger gave notice that at some future day he would ask leave to introduce the resolution.

Barrel Rolling is a pleasant game to draymen, and has been lately rather extensively practised. It saves much trouble, too, and therefore will—combining pleasure with a saving of what is known among working men as "elbow grease" become quite popular, we have no doubt. To drive a dray up to the curb-stone in front of a store, place the tail of the dray on the side walk and start the barrel with an impetus that sends them right into the building, is a great saving of labor and time. Besides, there is fun in it—to see the passers by hop and jump and play such antic tricks to keep clear of the great ball that is passing among the pins that perambulate the walks, sustaining, it is true, human bodies—the old and the young, the grave and the gay, the rich and the poor—but what of that—it is all fun. One of these days, some poor human form will be rendered limbless, and then the whole community will cry out against the practice. The mangled patient will be left to say, that an ounce of prevention would have been more effective than a ton of cure.—Charleston Courier.

ORLEANS THEATRE.—Halevy's grand opera of La Juive, which has been so splendidly and successfully received at this establishment, will be repeated this evening.

THE CHARTRES STREET FIRE.—Isaac Lagarde, the clerk of L. Busey, made an affidavit before Recorder Genois yesterday, in which he states that the fire which destroyed his employer's perfumery store, at No. 122 Chartres street, was occasioned by the accidental breaking of a lamp, the wick of which fell into a quantity of cologne water and produced a general conflagration, by which the building was destroyed.

INQUESTS.—Coroner Wilkinson yesterday held an inquest on the body of Hugh Hickey, aged 35 years, found dead in the Charity Hospital. Verdict: "Died from a rupture of a blood vessel in the brain." The deceased was admitted into the Hospital on Thursday night and died yesterday morning.

TRUE BILL.—The grand jury yesterday found a true bill against S. B. Conrey for a breach of trust.

COMMERCIAL.

The Markets.

FRIDAY EVENING, Jan. 30, 1852.

The market has not presented any remarkable feature during the past week, a degree of depression still continuing, in consequence of the interruption of communication with the West, and of the repeated failure of the mails from the East, some of which, including the Arctic's letters, will be due on Saturday morning.

COTTON.—Arrived since the 23d instant, 29,654 bales. Cleared in the same time, 30,750 bales, making a reduction in stock of 9,096 bales, and leaving on hand inclusive of all on shipboard not cleared this day, a stock of 136,410 bales.

The market opened on Saturday with a quiet appearance, owing partly to the small amount offering, and the days business was limited to 3,500 bales, at firm prices. On Monday, the demand was checked by the unfavorable accounts brought by the Arctic, and only about 3,000 bales from previous. On Tuesday, only 5,500 bales were sold at easier rates for the lower grades, but at full prices for the better qualities. Wednesday's sales reached fully 9,000 bales, and 6,500 changed hands on Thursday, without any further change of consequence in prices. Yesterday barely 3,000 bales were taken at our quotations, making the total business of the week 32,500 bales, divided principally among purchasers for France, Spain and the Continent of Europe. We quote as follows:

There has been more inquiry in the Tobacco market during the past week, and some 750 hhds have been disposed of, including lugs at 4¾ c ℔, and various lots at 5⅛ a 5⅜ c ℔. We still quote Frosted 2 @ 2¾; Lugs, 5 @ 6; Leaf Inferior to Common, 4¾ @ 5¾; Fair to Fine, 6½ @ 6¾; Choice and Selected, 6½ @ 7 c ℔.

SUGAR.—The supply has been moderate, and prices somewhat fluctuating, with sales during the week of about 4,000 hhds. Our quotations are as follows: Inferior to Common, 2⅞ @ 3¼; Fair to Fully Fair, 3¾ @ 4; Prime and Choice 4¼ @ 5c ℔ ℔.

MOLASSES.—The demand has been fair, and with light receipts, prices have been quite firm since our last report. The week's sales embrace about 6,000 bbls, at 19 @ 21c ℔ gallon for reboiled.

FLOUR.—There has been only a light supply in the Flour market, and prices have been rather better than before [illegible]. About 6,000 bbls have been disposed of during the week, at $4 @ $4 06 for Ohio, and $4 25 @ $4 50 for Illinois and St. Louis superfine. Fancy and extra brands have ranged at $4 25 @ $5 25 for Ohio and St. Louis. We have also noticed sales at auction of 1,400 bbls. Illinois slightly damaged, at $3 62½, and extra Illinois part damaged at $4 17 @ $4 50 ℔ bbl.

CORN.—The supply has continued light, but the demand has also been quite limited, and prices have not been sustained. The sales of the week sum up barely 10,000 sacks, the latters rarely ranging at 48 @ 50c ℔ bushel for ordinary to prime lots, the ruling rates being 48 @ 50c.

OATS AND BRAN.—There has been only a limited demand for these articles also. Ohio Oats have been sold in moderate lots, mostly at 31 @ 34c ℔ bushel, and St Louis at 45 @ 46c. Bran has continued to sell at 95 @ $1 ℔ 100 ℔.

HAY.—We have noticed some sales of Northern from the ship at $17 ℔ ton.

PORK.—The market has generally been quiet and we have noticed sales of only some 700 bbls Mess, at $14 50 @ $14 75 for old, and $15 @ $15 50 for new, the inside figures for small parcels. Of dry salted Meats, one or two small lots have been disposed of at 7c for hog round.

BEEF.—The principal sale of the week has been 60 bbls prime, at $7 50 ℔ bbl. We quote Mess nominally at $11 @ $12 ℔ bbl.

BACON.—The few sales that we have noticed, have been at firm rates, say 8¼c for ribbed, and 8½c for clear Sides, at 6¾ @ 7¼c ℔ ℔, for ordinary to prime Shoulders. Hams have continued to sell slowly at a range of 9 @ 11c ℔ ℔, for plain and bagged to extra and choice sugar cured.

RICE.—There have been a few sales of Carolina, at 3⅛ @ 3⅞c ℔ ℔, the latter rate for small lots of prime in tierces.

WHISKEY.—The week's sales embrace 3,000 bbls., at 17¾ @ 18¼c ℔ gallon for both common and rectified, the outside figures for small lots and favorite brands.

SALT.—Two cargoes embracing 10,000 sacks Liverpool, one eighth to one-fourth fine, have been sold at 85c ℔ sack, and one of 2,800 bushels Junque, at 15c ℔ bushel. Cadiz Salt has been offering at 12c ℔ bushel, without buyers.

COFFEE.—There has been a good demand for Coffee during the latter part of the week, and about 9,000 bags Rio have been disposed of at full prices. The closing rates for old crop are 7⅞ @ 7¾, and for new 8 @ 8¾c ℔ ℔.

BAGGING AND BALE ROPE.—The demand has been confined to retail parcels, at 13 @ 13¾c for Bagging, and 5¾ @ 6¼c for Rope. Prices have been rather firm at this range.

Memoranda.

The steamship Yacht left Brazos Santiago on the 27th instant. In port, brig Brownsville, schooner L. F. Rogers, arrived on the 25th instant, schooner Susan—came in over the bar on the 24th with loss of part of her bulwarks and cabin stove in, had experienced very heavy weather.

Schooner Alderman outside, bound in; schooner Southerner also outside, bound in, with loss of jib, foresail and long boat—had been out in the severe Northers of the 12th and 19th—would probably get inside the bar the same evening the Yacht left.

The Yacht made the run to the S W Pass in 51 hours, and to the city in 60 hours.

We learn from Capt Thompson, of the steamship Yacht, arrived yesterday from Brazos Santiago, that the schooner Susan, hence for that place, shipped a sea on the 22d instant, which stove in her bulwarks and cabin. Mr. Albert Martin, a native of Newport, Maine, aged 30 years, a passenger, was instantly killed by the main boom shifting suddenly and striking him in the breast, forcing him through the bulwarks of the cabin. He was buried at sea on the 25th.
