THE KOSZTA RESOLUTIONS.

It will be seen by the letter of our Baton Rouge Correspondent that Mr ROBERTS' Koszta and Cuba resolutions have been ignobly tabled in the House of Representatives. Democracy, with rare and singular modesty grew ashamed of its own offspring and determined to strangle it in its infancy. In vain did the author of the resolutions protest against the unseemly measure, and set forth in eloquent and glowing language the claims of the resolutions to the affectionate care and fostering aid of the democratic party. In vain did he conjure his colleagues to take pity on the helpless stripling. The fiat had gone forth—the dominant party considered the creation of Mr. ROBERTS' genius little better than a monstrosity, and rather than waste their time in fruitless efforts to lick it into comely shape, they preferred putting it to death incontinently. The old war horse of democracy, T. G. DAVIDSON made the fatal move to lay it on the table, and the House by a vote of [illegible] to one, adopted the proposition. Thus perished filibusterism in the Louisiana Legislature. The late democracy itself deliberately consigned to oblivion and disgrace one of its most cherished tenets.

We cannot say that we experience any poignant feeling of regret at the defeat of Mr. ROBERTS resolutions. They were the most incongruous mixture of lofty abstractions and ridiculous sophisms that we ever beheld. Containing one or two propositions that would be acceptable in any American Legislature, they neutralized all that was just and proper by the enunciation of doctrines abhorrent at once to common sense, the plain principles of international law, and specific treaty stipulations between this country and Spain. All that related to Captain INGRAHAM and his gallant vindication of the prerogatives of American citizenship would, we are confident, have encountered no objection whatever, had it not been inseparably associated with the vilest rhodomontade and the boldest and most untenable assertions touching the right of the people to interfere by material aid and individual cooperation in revolutionary movements elsewhere. This sort of frantic propagandism which would counsel a perpetual intermeddling with matters wholly beyond the pale of our legitimate authority, and compel us to play the part of an agitator in every domestic quarrel and intestine feud among foreign nations—which teaches the preposterous notion of the impotent lack of power of our Government to suppress unlawful expeditions, and to punish reckless and criminal interference, was justly and properly rebuked. We are gratified at being able to announce that a Democratic Legislature performed this righteous deed, and displayed a wholesome and sound conservatism the more agreeable, as it was wholly unexpected.

Unfortunately the defeat of the censurable portion of the Koszta resolutions, carries with it the loss of the well merited panegyric upon Captain INGRAHAM. It is a pity that so attempt was made to separate the one from the other. The expression of opinion touching the conduct of the commander of the St. Louis at Smyrna would have been unanimous. Nor is it yet too late for some such demonstration.—We trust that resolutions will be introduced, embodying so much of Mr. ROBERTS' proposition as will meet the hearty assent of the Legislature, so that our General Assembly may be placed in a fitting position on this subject, and may avoid the apparent ungraciousness of rejecting a compliment to Capt. INGRAHAM, while putting upon record its solemn repudiation of filibusterism.

FIREMEN'S ANNUAL FESTIVAL.

Saturday was a gala-day in our city. The gallant firemen arrayed in the costume of their order, and their engines decked out with all possible taste, paraded the principal streets.

In consequence of the heavy rain of the preceding night and the lowering aspect of the morning, the procession formed at an unusually late hour. About 12 o'clock the line was formed and moved from Canal street according to the programme. The side-walks were lined with prettily dressed children who had been eagerly anticipating the spectacle for weeks. While on every balcony were to be seen rosy cheeks and eyes that eclipsed even the gorgeous lustre of the engines. We should rejoice in this annual pageant, if only for the pleasure derived from it by the little ones of our city.

The fire companies of the neighboring cities of Carrollton, Algiers, Gretna, Jefferson and Mc[illegible] honored the occasion by their presence. After a long and fatiguing march of several hours duration, the companies proceeded to Placide's Varieties and listened to an eloquent discourse from that ever ready and accomplished orator, Professor Dimitry.

The day which began under such unfavorable auspices closed in splendor and all retired gratified and proud of the pageant.

NEW BOOKS.—Our thanks are due the publishers, D. Appleton & Co., through J. B. STEEL, No. 60 Camp street, for the following new works:

A Manual of the French Verbs, comprising the formation of persons, tenses, and moods of the regular and irregular verbs; a practical method to trace the infinitive of a verb out of any of its inflections—with models of sentences in their different forms, and a series of the most useful idiomatical phrases. By T. Simonne.—This is a very useful little publication, and tends greatly to simplify the arduous labor of mastering the French verbs.

Memoirs, Journal and Correspondence of Thomas Moore, by Lord John Russell. Part VI.

JULLIEN'S CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—The last concert but two is given this evening by the superb orchestra of Jullien, and will be distinguished by the introduction of several delightful novelties—such as the overture to Oberon, a quadrille from Jullien's opera Pietro il Grande, Beethoven's Symphony in B. flat, and above all the Grand Exhibition Quadrille founded on the World's Fair in London in 1851, and illustrating the music of various nations, such as the Scandinavians, French, Spaniards, Italians, Russians, Americans, Chinese, &c. &c. This composition is said to be the most pleasing and popular of M. Julliens works. We notice in the second part of this concert, selections from the opera of Norma, a solo on the Valve Trumpet by Mr Duhem, and the Amazon and Tiger Galop.

MDME. SONTAG.—It is hardly necessary to remind the public that MDME HENRIETTE SONTAG appears this evening in her world renowned character of "Amina," in the Sonnambula, assisted by a complete Italian Troupe. If there are any seats still unsecured, a fact of which we are by no means certain, we advise those who are anxious to hear Mdme. SONTAG to apply early this morning, for the rush has been very great, and probably the St. Charles will be filled to its utmost capacity. We who know something of Mdme. SONTAG's powers in opera, confidently promise the lovers of music such a treat as they rarely enjoy on this side of the Atlantic.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.

THE SOUTHERN MUSEUM has lost none of its attractions. The rooms are so spacious that they are never unpleasantly crowded, notwithstanding great numbers flock thither daily and nightly.

DAN RICE'S AMPHITHEATRE always offers something new. To-night the audience will be treated to "Uncle Tom's Cabin in Louisiana."

PLACIDE'S.—To-night will offer the 11th representation of the Tempest. If Placide does make a fortune, it will not be his fault, since he has spared no pains or expense in getting up this magnificent spectacle. After the Tempest comes the farce of "The Secret."

The hour of opening the Theatre has been altered from 7 to half past 7.

SIX STEAM FRIGATES.—On the 23d ult. the [illegible] Gwin's bill providing for the immediate construction of six steam frigates, passed the Senate, nem. con.

☞ A meeting of the Consolidated Association of Coffee House keepers, is summoned for Tuesday evening, 7 o'clock, for particular business. See advertisement.

OUR BATON ROUGE CORRESPONDENCE.

BATON ROUGE, March 4th.

The Koszta resolutions died by the hand of Bowen. The democratic party would not even allow them to go for burial. Their eulogy was pronounced by their progenitor and the whole was covered down by that [illegible] Thomas Green Davidson.

Mr. Collins, of St. Landry, has shown great powers of debate, [illegible] Mr. C. is a very young man, but evinces a clear logical understanding equal to riper intellects. Mr. Roberts made a grand appeal to revolutionary reminiscences but never once approved Mr. Collins. [illegible]

[illegible]

Judge Kenney replied to some party allusions made by Mr. Roberts, in a short and pointed speech. At this point old fogyism, having the floor, [illegible] an address of Thomas Green Davidson, the whole subject of Koszta, and glory in Florida and Mercy was laid on the table. [illegible]

[illegible] President Pierce deserved no more credit than any one else for sanctioning the action of Capt. Ingraham. Avaunt humbug!

Did you ever know a democratic committee of elections to oust a democrat from his seat, or refuse to give him one when his opponent is a whig? We have had four reports, at this session, from the committee on elections. It was ascertained that Senator Martel, of St. Landry, was at the time of his election and is now an acting notary public for his parish.

The Committee reported the facts, but insisted that by accepting the Senatorship he virtually resigned the office of Notary. [illegible] Mr. Martel is now acting as Notary are his acts void because he is holding a non-constitutional office? Queer constitutionalists, these Democrats. The other day it was necessary for them to lay aside their old cherished doctrines of strict construction and States rights, in order to save a few Democrats in their seats. There was no compunction about it, and the old tenets were laid aside for the occasion.

Mr Oroman, without calling his committee together, has reported favorably on his underground sewerage bill allowing the city to sell $3,000,000 of bonds to carry out the work. This is a new way to get pet bills through. It reminds me of our representative Olney, who came back from the city and reported that he could not find the chairman of the Sanitary Committee, and had held a meeting by himself.

Mr. Morrison has introduced a bill to make dogs property. A city member proposes to amend that the dogs shall have tails.

The Senate has concurred in the House bill giving a privilege to Merchants and Factors on Agricultural products, and, it will become a law with the signature of the Governor.

The several swamp land bills have been up in both Houses, but without any sign of agreement upon either of them. Next week they will be disposed of in some way.

The Senate has passed an appropriation of $35,000 for Red River falls. It is thought this sum will complete the submarine blasting, to excavate a channel allowing boats to pass at a very low stage of water.

During a very heavy rain a few days ago, the Capitol leaked very badly, wetting papers and doing considerable damage to the library. This has frequently happened, yet no improvement has manifested itself.

The Committee on Public Buildings have reported a plan for improving the public grounds at a cost of $21,630 24. An iron fence, grades, terraces, walks, trees, roses and purchases the old well turned into a fountain, are to add ornament to the candy shop building called the Capitol.

I think the bill to restore concurrent jurisdiction to the 2nd, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th District Courts will pass. J. S. H.

CONGRESS.

In the SENATE on the 24th ult., Mr. Walker presented a bill extending the rights of preemption to actual settlers.

Mr. Cooper, from the committee on Indian affairs, to whom certain charges against Alex. Ramsay, late superintendent of Indian affairs in Oregon, were referred, made a report thereon unanimously acquitting Mr. Ramsay of all impropriety of conduct. A resolution directing a settlement of Ramsey's accounts was adopted.

The private calendar was taken up. The bills were passed; and after other business, the Nebraska bill was taken up and Mr. Hunter spoke at length in favor of the bill.

In the HOUSE, a report was adopted declaring Mr. Gallegos entitled to his seat as delegate from New Mexico.

The death of Gen. Armstrong, printer to the House was announced, whereupon the House adjourned to Monday, the 28th.

THINGS IN NEW YORK.—All the evidence in the case of Col. Gates having been submitted, the Court on Thursday proceeded to investigate the charges against Captain Gardiner, preferred by Col. Gates. These charges are, that Gardiner conveyed a quantity of crackers from the San Francisco to the Kilby, for his own private use, and improper means were resorted to to keep away a witness subpoenaed by Gates. The case is expected to terminate to-day.

The clipper ship Dreadnought arrived from Liverpool on Thursday, in the remarkable short space of nineteen days, from dock to dock.

A shocking accident happened on board one of the Brooklyn ferry boats on Thursday. One of the firemen, engaged near the engine, slipped and fell under the crank. He was awfully mangled, and survived his injuries but half an hour. His name was William Johnson, aged 22 years.

The steamship Africa sailed for Liverpool on Thursday with only 29 passengers, and $35,000 in specie. Edwin Bailey, of Baltimore, is one of the passengers.

The Great Republic is to be towed to Boston in a month or so. The iron chest, containing several thousand dollars, has been recovered. The bills inside were ashes, and the gold, silver and copper all melted together.

Wm. Bell, a Scotchman, was washed overboard from the pilot boat David Mitchell, while 100 miles off Sandy Hook, during the late snow storm. He could not be recovered.

A letter from the island of St. Thomas, dated Feb. 5th, to the New York Evening Post, says:

Mr. Cazneau, the husband of 'Cora Montgomery,' sailed hence recently for the city of St. Domingo, under a commission from Mr. Marcy. His wife, who is already somewhat famous as a filibustera, had preceded him to his post of observation a month or more. What the precise nature of their mission is, he did not know himself when here, his wife having his commission in her possession, but it is inferred from her statements, made in St. Domingo, shortly after her arrival, that they are to make arrangements for the annexation of the eastern part of Hayti to the United States, or, for some good and sufficient consideration, to offer the subjects of President Santa Anna the protection of the United States against the pretensions of his western rival. She has no hesitated to assure the people of St. Domingo, that the country would belong to the United States in six months, and to recommend them to be of good courage. What grounds she could have for such promises, I am not advised, but a woman who talks so freely will be sure to write with equal freedom, and probably before this reaches you, she will have spread her hopes and expectations in extenso before the American people.

☞ Mr. Smith, Baggage master of the New Haven and Springfield Rail Road, has been arrested, charged with robbing the mails to the extent of $100,000.

The investigation relative to the conduct of Col Gates during the wreck of the steam ship San Francisco, which has been in progress in New York for some days, has been concluded. Col Gates had addressed a long letter to the President and the Court denying the charges. The proceedings of the Court have been sent to Washington.

Alfred Tiler has been arrested at Ossendaga, in the State of N. York, charged with the murder of his wife. He endeavored to create the impression that she had been murdered by burglars.

William and Chas Hayes have been arrested in New York, charged with the murder of Mr. Bodmer.

THE EUROPEAN NEWS.

The steamer Europa reached New York on the morning of the 28th ult., having left Liverpool on the 11th.

GREAT BRITAIN.—In the House of Lords on the evening of February 6, Lord Lyndhurst gave notice that on the following day he would ask Lord Clarendon for an explanation respecting the mission of Count Orloff to the Austrian Courts, and the result of that mission.

The London Times of the 9th inst., says that it is understood, as an unauthorised rumour, that the Government had applied for any of the General Steamers for the transportation of troops.

The following order was promulgated at Portsmouth during the afternoon of February 9th.

All Government pensioners under 50 years of age, no matter how employed or engaged, are directed to attend at the pension office between this day and Saturday next, for the purpose of receiving a printed circular issued on Tuesday, the 14th inst., for immediate transfer from the Admiralty, to accompany their Ensigns for service. If this notice is not attended to they will be subject to loss of pension.

The Russian Ambassador to the English Government left Dover for Calais on the morning of the 9th.

Three battalions of guards, with six regiments of the line, were under orders to embark for the Mediterranean, on the 20th February. Their destination in the first instance, will probably be Malta.

The following is the latest intelligence from London, via the morning of February 11:

The number of British troops to be despatched at once is 10,000 officers and men, but as many more will be held in readiness, should they be required. It [illegible] the following will proceed on the 10th or 20th inst.: the battalions of guards, the 7th, 28th, 33d and 50th regiments of foot; [illegible] battalion of rifles, and four companies of artillery. The others will follow as soon as the transports can be got ready. It is also intended to send out at least three regiments of Cavalry.

Twenty-ships of the largest tonnage will be required to convey troops and supplies.

The Government have claimed the service of the mail contract steamers and have taken from the Peninsular and Oriental company, the steamers Himalaya, Ripon, and Manilla.

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.—The London Times of February 10, has the following despatches by submarine and European telegraph:

VIENNA, Thursday Evening.—Count Buol has declared to the Turkish Ambassador, that the recent concentration of Austrian troops on the Northeastern frontier is intended as a measure of precaution against Turkey.

Omar Pasha has had the ague, but is now well again.

PARIS, Thursday Evening.—Telegraphic despatches from Constantinople of the 29th January announce that Mehemet Ali Pasha, the Sultan's brother-in-law, and head of the war party, has left the Ministry, and been replaced by Riza Pasha.

The squadron under the command of Admiral Bruat sailed from Brest on the 8th inst.

Letters received at Paris from the Danubian Principalities give a deplorable picture of the misery which exists among the agricultural population, who are torn by the invaders from their homes in order to transport troops, build barracks, and to perform other forced duties. The distress of this portion of the Wallachian population is so great they emigrate in masses into the Austrian or Turkish provinces, or take up arms to resist the outrages of which they are made the victims.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 23.—The French steam corvette Prometheus returned to-day from Varna, upon which Admiral Hamelin immediately called together a council of captains, a step which was also taken by Admiral Dundas.

The result of this counsel was, that all the larger steamers of both fleets were ordered to convoy a number of Turkish transports, which were first to carry re-inforcements to Varna, and thence to proceed to Batoum. This convoy was to sail on the 24th.

VIENNA, Feb. 7.—On the 5th a smart affair took place near Giurgevo between the Turks and Russians. The loss on both sides was considerable. It appears that 3,000 Turks crossed the Danube, routed the Russian outposts, and attacked the town, after which they retired.

The same paper of the 9th inst., has the following despatches.

BREST, Feb. 8.—In consequence of orders received yesterday for the immediate departure of the Atlantic squadron, it is expected that Admiral Bruat, will make signal for sailing immediately.

The squadron, it is said, will sail for the coast of Algeria.

VIENNA, Jan. 29.—Omar Pasha is entirely restored to health. A Wallachian general, two or three American officers, and several French and Swedish officers, have arrived at head-quarters to take service in the Ottoman army.

Considerable re-inforcements are on march from Sophia for Kalafat, where there is already assembled an army of 25,000 men provided with a numerous and excellent train of Artillery.

Before the entry of the fleets into the Black Sea the Russian cruisers were constantly in observation upon our coast. They have since entirely disappeared, and the Turks have complete possession of Euxine.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 25.—The fleets having taken in fresh provision, will re-enter the Black Sea on the 28th. In the meantime three French and three English steam frigates have sailed to-day for Varna. On the 28th, another Turkish convoy, intended to carry men and ammunition to Batoum, will sail under the escort of a part of the Turkish fleet and the French and English frigates.

Military operations in Asia are suspended. General Baraguay d'Hilliers sets out to-morrow on his tour of military inspection.

A vast conspiracy, with the object of raising an insurrection among the Greek population on the banks of the Danube, has been discovered. It is believed that many eminent persons at the Court of Athens are concerned in the scheme.

VIENNA, Feb. 8.—Negotiations for peace are certainly still going on.

The Emperor Napoleon has, is an autograph letter, made a last appeal to the good sense of the Emperor Nicholas.

The most important of the above despatches is that referring to a change in the Turkish Ministry. There appears to be no understanding also that other modifications of the Cabinet were pending. The despatch seems to intimate that the change is favorable to peace, and that the new ministry are, or will be, more likely to listen to negotiations or even to yield somewhat to the demands of Russia. The London Times, however, entirely disproves that supposition.

St. Petersburg despatches of February 1st, had been received in Paris. The excitement was very great. The war party was enthusiastic, and the peace party anxious. Nothing transpired in official circles. The Emperor was suffering from an attack of gout, accompanied by fever. The presence of gout was also suspected.

Correspondence of the London Times.

PARIS, Wednesday, 6 p. m.

Private letters from Brest state the Atlantic squadron had received orders to proceed to Africa, to take on board a first division of 10,000 men, who have been already organized by General Pelissier. These troops are, no doubt, destined for the East. It is very currently stated that Gen. Forey, son-in-law of the late Marshal Bugeaud, is to be appointed commander-in-chief of the cavalry of the expedition intended for the East.

Private letters from Lorient describe the extraordinary activity going on in that arsenal.—The ordinary artisans of the establishment have been for weeks past kept at work many hours beyond their usual time, and all the carpenters are workers in wood of the place are additionally employed night and day in making cases to contain projectiles called boulets asphyxiantes—hollow balls filled with a composition which stifles those among whom it falls. Its powers are said to be of the most destructive kind.

Private letters from Varna of the 20th ult. mention that about 50 English officers, amateurs, had visited that place within the last two or three months from Shumla, and most of them speak in favorable terms of the Turkish army. One of these letters contains the following passage: "You have heard ere this of the victory of the Turks at Citate, near Kalafat. Here at least you have a battle in which it can be said that it is not merely behind ramparts that they can beat the Russians. The true accounts of the Russian loss in killed and wounded is between 2,500 and 3,000, and of the Turks 300 killed and 700 wounded."

It seems that reinforcements from Sofia were expected at Kalafat, where there were already 25,000 men of all arms, and upwards of 60 guns. "The Turks at the battle of Citate," continues my correspondent, "were suddenly attacked in rear by a corps of about 7,000, and with admirable steadiness and coolness changed front to the rear, and beat the Russians."

The last accounts received at Constantinople from the seat of war in Asia described the position of the Turks as becoming every day better. The presence of Kurshid Pasha (General Guyon) had produced the best effect. He had succeeded in paying the army the arrears due to them, and to perform other forced duties [illegible]

THE DESTINY OF CHINA.—Dr. Bowring, the eminent eastern traveller, in a lecture lately delivered in London, on the eve of his departure for the East, took occasion to say that in his opinion the empire of China was destined to fulfil a great mission, by the emigration that was going on from thence through all the eastern nations. Great was the population of China, that there was not a foot of it scarcely but was cultivated. Such was the over-population, in fact, that notwithstanding the most violent interdicts against emigration, its surplus streams were overflowing the countries of the East. In the Island of Java he found 35,000; in the Islands of the Indian Archipelago, there were not less than 70,000 Chinese; whilst in San Francisco there had been settled 26,000 more; and great numbers were emigrating to Australia, and the Islands of Polynesia, or wherever there was a field of labor open to them. It appeared to be a law of Providence that the superior races of mankind should supplant the inferior, and we saw in the progress of time the inhabitants of the West India Islands swept away—that the Anglo-Saxon population was invading and removing (he would not say destroying) the red Indian tribes of America. So the Chinese race was setting aside the Maley in the same way that they (the Malays) had set aside the Dyaks.

REMARKABLE LONGEVITY.—The Mobile Advertiser says: Frances, a free woman of color, died yesterday at the city hospital of "debility," having attained the remarkable age of 146 years. We have known of several cases of Creoles living to a great age, but do not remember an instance anywhere or of any color attaining to such an age as the above, and we should be inclined to discredit this, but that the fact is officially reported to us from the city Hospital.

The Irish Quarterly Review has the following concerning Macklin, the actor and dramatist:

To his seventieth year it had been his habit to drink tea, porter, had wine, and punch, and to eat fish, flesh and fowl. He was moderate in his meals, and whenever he exceeded his usual quantity of wine—a bottle—he always took Anderson's Scotch Pill when going to bed. At seventy some of his teeth failed, and he was forced to have his food minced; milk became his usual food, and that most caused his teeth to pain him, and he then began to use fish, stews and jellies. He always slept upon a mattress, his bed raised to a considerable height, and without curtains to his bedstead. For the last twenty years of his life he never undressed, except on change his linen, or for the purpose of having himself washed or rubbed with napkins dipped in warm brandy or gin. He endeavored by that means to induce perspiration, but was careful on these occasions to change his clothes, and when performing he frequently changed his shirt four times during the stage business.—He was anxious to prolong his life, and even in his hundredth year he seldom spoke of death at all, because his mother, who had taken little care of her health, had lived to the age of ninety-nine. During this time and his life he wrote eight dramatic pieces, the first in 1746, the last in 1781. Of these only two were printed, Love à la Mode, and The Man of the World, were printed. He performed five hundred different characters. The closing months of his life were made happy by the devoted attention of his wife, and he lingered on until Tuesday, the 11th July, 1797. That morning he arose at his usual hour, but shortly afterwards retired to bed, and lying down exclaimed—"Let me go, let me go"—and so expired. He was, at the period of his death, one hundred and seven years, two months and ten days old, and the friendship of his acquaintances was exhibited to the last.—The funeral services were read over his grave by the Rev. Mr. Ambrose, a former pupil, who came from Oxford for the special purpose of paying this last tribute to his memory.

CHARACTERISTIC.—The London Correspondent of the Boston Post has the following real good one:

Whatever may be said of other of our foreign embassies—and I know of nothing disparaging to their position—it is certain that we were never better (in every best sense of the word) represented in the chief, secretary and attache, at the court of St. James, than at the present time. To say nothing of the dignified and independent course of Mr. Buchanan, which inspires universal respect, nor of the regret expressed at the temporary absence of Colonel Lawrence from a position which he always fills with great acceptance to all Americans abroad, Mr. Sickles, the Secretary of the embassy, is achieving for himself a reputation, not only as a man of rare ability and fine acquirements, but as a thorough gentleman, highly honorable to himself and his country. An anecdote is told of him in the upper circles with a good deal of gusto. He was standing in a public saloon with an unlighted cigar in his hand, when two Englishmen passed by him mockingly. Addressing one of them, he courteously asked for a light. "Yonder is a light," replied the person addressed, pointing to a burning lamp. "Yes," was the reply of Mr. Sickles, "I see yonder is a light, and I thought here was a gentleman." John Bull like, the insult was pocketed without a remark.

Advices from Jamaica to the 11th ult., state that the attention of the Legislature and Board of Council was directed to the enacting of measures of local reform, and to the maturing of a more equitable plan of government finance and public taxation than that now in force on the island. Many of the papers looked upon the importation of Chinese laborers favorably. The Bishop of Jamaica received a severe injury by reason of his horse falling under him when he was riding on a tour of confirmation.

Statistics recently published relative to the revenue of Great Britain and its colonies, show that the gross revenue of the colonies without representative assemblies was £1,819,255. 4s. 4d., and the cost of collection £166,901. 7s. 2d., making £1,992,156. 11s. 6d.

The balance sheet for 1853 has just been issued. The income of the year amounted to £54,430,344, the expenditure to £51,174,839, showing a surplus of £3,255,505.

The unusual severity of the present winter hitherto has been the cause of much suffering in various parts of Europe as well as in America. Its effects have been particularly visible at London in the enlarged records of mortality in that vast metropolis. For the week ending January 14, the deaths were 1,492, while the average for the corresponding weeks in the previous ten years was 1,147. The severity of the weather has also had the effect of increasing the number of paupers in London.

☞ The Evening Mirror says gravely, with regard to the baby shows advertised in various parts of the country:

The subject is worthy of serious and philosophical consideration. If one half the pains was taken to improve the human race that there is to improve the breed of sheep, the blood of horses, and the size of pumpkins, we would have some hope for the "perfectability of mankind." But so long as physical and moral deformity and disease are licensed to perpetuate themselves, the breed of ill-shapen clowns will continue to multiply so rapidly as to postpone the millennium beyond the boundary of human hope.

LOCAL ITEMS.

RECORDERS' COURTS.

In consequence of Saturday being a holiday, no business of any consequence was transacted at these offices.

During the night, however, an unusual number of arrests were made for the kindred vices of drunkenness, lewdness, breaches of the peace, &c.

FIRST DISTRICT.

One PETRANY was arrested on Saturday night for being drunk and disturbing the Theatre (Placide's). He is also charged with drawing a pistol with the intention of shooting some one, he didn't much care who.

PAUL ROULEMANT was arrested for a like offence, only that he had a trumpet instead of a pistol.

[illegible] was arrested at the same time for endeavoring to rescue the prisoner.

[illegible]

SECOND DISTRICT.

JOSEPH SMITH was arrested yesterday at the request of J. Mandy for going on board the steamboat Storm and endeavoring to seduce a dog from the legitimate to enter his master's, &c., in plain English, trying to steal the latter.

☞ Dr. WM. H. FARROW, an eminent physician of Worcester county, Md., writes that he has used STABLER'S ANODYNE CHERRY EXPECTORANT and DIARRHOEA CORDIAL "to the entire relief of such diseases as they profess to cure," that they "are happy combinations, not some of our most valuable and safe therapeutic agents, and must be of infinite worth to the afflicted and valuable at large; and that he cheerfully recommends them to the medical profession."

THE GRAND SALOONS OF
E. JACOBS,
NO. 93 CAMP STREET.

Were opened to the public on the 1st instant.

They contain the most valuable and extensive collection of PICTURES in Oil and Water Colors; DRAWINGS, PRINTS, PRINT IMPRESSIONS, of the most costly Engravings; PARIAN MARBLE and BRONZE STATUETTES, with other choice Works of Art, now exhibited in the South.

Strangers and citizens, particularly the ladies, are invited to examine, free of charge, this unrivalled unique Gallery of the FINE ARTS.

The Daguerreotype Department, in its various improvements and appurtenances, surpasses any Daguerrean Establishment in Europe, or in this country.

The Portraits are executed in the finest style known to the art, and by a new Philosophical Process, are fully equal to the most beautiful COLORED MINIATURES, displaying the Life-like expression of the features, instead of that spectral appearance so peculiar to Daguerreotypes taken by the ordinary method.

The stock of MEDALLIONS, LOCKETS, RINGS, and BREAST-PINS, of fine gold, embraces every variety and of the newest Fashion, furnished at manufacturers' prices.

All orders for Daguerreotype Materials must be accompanied by cash. The Dry Sensitive, prepared by E. Jacobs for operators, is warranted to retain its chemical properties pure for six months; price, $10 per jar.

NEW YORK CRYSTAL PALACE,
Exhibition of 1854.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Crystal Palace remains open, and that the exhibition of 1854 will be as attractive and brilliant as that of the past year.

In the several departments of ART, SCULPTURE, MACHINERY, MINERALOGICAL CABINET, RAW PRODUCE, and MANUFACTURED ARTICLES, the attractions of the exhibition are such, as to be worthy of the inspection of every visitor.

IN SCULPTURE.

The Colossal Equestrian Statue of Washington, by Marochetti, the Amazons, by Kiss, our Savior and his Apostles, by Thorwaldsen, and upwards of three hundred original works in marble and in bronze, by the first artists of this country and Europe.

IN PAINTING.

The Gallery contains over six hundred paintings by the principal artists of both hemispheres. It is by far the most extensive ever opened to the American public.

THE MINERALOGICAL CABINET,

Organized by Professor Silliman, and collected from every part of the United States and Europe, exhibits the vast mineral resources of the world, and is one of the finest in this country.

THE MACHINE ARCADE

Contains upwards of three hundred machines in motion, many of which are among the most wonderful specimens of human ingenuity.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT,

Organized by Col. B. P. Johnson, contains hundreds of specimens of the most curious and valuable implements used in this peculiarly American branch of industry.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES Has contributed instruments from the Coast Survey Office, and the arms of the Union.

Through the kindness of
FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS,
The choicest productions of the Royal Factories of Europe, are here exhibited.

PORCELAINS FROM SEVRES AND DRESDEN, ANCIENT ARMS AND ARMOR FROM THE TOWER OF LONDON, TAPESTRY of the highest interest, MOSAICS FROM THE WORKSHOPS OF THE VATICAN, together with countless objects from TURKEY, JAPAN, SYRIA AND THE HOLY LAND, EGYPT, THE DIFFERENT COUNTRIES OF EUROPE, NORTH AND SOUTH AMERICA.

All these are contained in a BUILDING of unequalled beauty, and of dimensions far exceeding any other in the United States.

Circulars, with further particulars, will be furnished on application to the Secretary of the Association, CRYSTAL PALACE, New York.
