NOTICE.—To those who are desirous to preserve their health. The admirable remedy for all the diseases that assail the stomach, by J. B. Montagne, has produced, under critical circumstances, during the late malady, the most satisfactory results; and all persons who have made use of it during that period, are now in excellent health.—It has proved a speedy remedy against those cramps in the stomach, difficult respirations, and weakness of the stomach, for which the apothecaries have prescribed various remedies, which are hardly ever effectual. It may be used as a tonic, which are hardly ever effectual. It may be used as a tonic, or as bitters, directly before breakfast; it will facilitate digestion, and is agreeable to the taste.

The proofs which have already been given of its efficacy, not only in this city, but among the slaves on the plantations of Charles Derbigny, as well as the workmen employed on the canal of Mr. Camille Zeringue, are sufficient to establish its merits.

It would be very easy for the planters to make this compound, without recourse to any druggist or apothecary. Those who desire it may learn from the author the ingredients of the recipe, either by subscription or for a reasonable compensation; and they may rest assured that it will remain inviolable. They, of course, [illegible] it.

J. B. MONTAGNE.

A subscription list is deposited at Hewlett's Exchange, where the remedy can be tested.

TO THE PUBLIC.—The new improved [illegible] of Turnkey, for the facility in the extraction of teeth, is now ready for use. Dr. Plough flatters himself that instruments, for that purpose, at the present [illegible] Europe or America, can surpass it, for its facility, dexterity and neatness, and a perfect guarantee for the one [illegible] himself of this opportunity to say, that those persons who are in the habit of extracting teeth, may now [illegible] the disagreeable consequences which [illegible] attended the dissatisfaction of the profession.

CARSTAIRIAN
SYSTEM OF WRITING.

MR. DOLBEAR, Professor of Penmanship, has returned to New Orleans, & will re-open his writing establishment in this city, on this day 29th inst. at No. 48 Canal street, in the rooms over Miss Carroll's Book Store, where Ladies and Gentlemen are respectfully invited to call and examine specimens of the rapid improvement of persons from eight to upwards of fifty years of age.

New classes will commence every week during the winter and spring. A separate apartment for Ladies.

Persons visiting the city for a few days only, can receive a full course of lessons. Ladies are instructed in a neat, rapid and fashionable style of writing, by a method which obviates, entirely, the fatigue of writing; and Gentlemen in a style, bold and rapid. Hours of attendance for Ladies; one class from 10 to 11 1-2 A. M. another from 1 to 2 1-2 P. M. The remainder of the day and evening until 10 P. M. will be devoted to the instruction of Gentlemen.

Mr. D. expects his brother, from their establishment at the North, this week, when they will be prepared to give private lessons and execute all kinds of ornamental writing in a superior style, &c.

CERTIFICATES.

From his Excellency Governor Roman.

I have examined with attention, the system of writing taught by Mr. Dolbear, and it is with pleasure that I certify to its superiority over any other method, with which I am acquainted. Mr. Dolbear has given private lessons to my [illegible] and I have no hesitation in saying, that the [illegible] is much superior of public patronage and [illegible] of his character, as [illegible] of the rapid improvement of those who received his lessons.

New Orleans, Jan. 24, 1832. A. B. ROMAN.

[illegible] Mr. Dolbear's Teachers of Penmanship [illegible] Carstairian system, we have [illegible] his pupils whose ages [illegible] and [illegible] so, it [illegible] system is [illegible] superior to any [illegible] system [illegible] legibly, smooth, rapidly, and [illegible] accomplishment [illegible] the [illegible] of the public a liberal patronage [illegible] as an instructor, whose qualifications are [illegible] and whose labors promise to be [illegible] to his and other communities.

CONDUCTED BY

MDE & MLLE GARNET;

Mr. Landraux's house, Royal st. corner of St. Philip st.

TERMS.

THE course of studies lasts ten months from the first of November till the first of September every year.—The establishment, this year, opens on the 24th of December.

A general examination, followed by a public distribution of prizes, closes the course of studies and the establishment is shut up from the first of September to the first of November, a period during which the prevailing diseases induce most of the parents to retire to the country.

The course of studies comprises the complete and simultaneous teaching of the French and English languages and literature, writing, arithmetic, geography, chronology, history, astronomy, and the different sorts of needlework, lace making, tapestry, and fancy works.

Boarders for the course of studies of ten months,	$300
Day Boarders, do.	200
Day Scholars, do.	100
Washing and mending of the linen,	20

USEFUL ARTS.

Harp, per quarter,	20
Piano, do.	20
Italian singing, do.	20
Drawing,	20
Dancing,	20

Beds and bedding complete are found by the establishment, for which the pupils have to pay once for all . . . 5

Each pupil is to bring twelve towels, a silver spoon, fork and goblet, a dessert knife and a sufficient suit of clothes and linen.

School books and writing books are also found by the establishment, and paid for separately.

Payments to be made every three months and in advance. No deduction for the holidays or absence.

Madame Granet will make it a rule to avoid extra bills as much as possible, and will charge nothing but what she has actually laid out.

In opening such an establishment, Madame Granet is well aware that she can, as yet, have no claim herself to the confidence of the inhabitants of New Orleans; being totally a stranger in the city, she must entirely depend upon the kind recommendation of those persons of whom she is known, and among whom she is proud to mention the names of

His Excellency, A. B. Roman, Governor of Louisiana.
Mr. and Mrs. Maxwelcan,
Mr. and Mrs. Holland,
Mr. and Mrs. West,
Mr. and Mrs. Pilié,
Mr. and Mrs. Boyer,
Messrs. J. F. Canonge, Edmond Forstall, Wm. Nott, Theodore Nicolet, J. Garnier, Quertier & Boutin.

Madame Granet has been a long time at the head of a similar institution in Paris; and having since passed seven years in London, she has acquired a complete knowledge of the systems of education in both countries.

Madame Granet is assisted by her two daughters, the eldest of whom, a pupil of the best masters in France and England, teaches the Piano, singing and drawing.

French and English literature will be taught by competent professors, who have successfully practiced in London and in Paris.

A physician will be attached to the establishment.

Religion, the foundation of every good education, will be carefully attended to. One day in the week will be consecrated to religious instruction by a proper person, and the pupils will be taken to church every Sunday, when the weather permits it.

Madame Granet engages to devote herself entirely to the care and superintendance of her establishment; to consider her pupils as her own children, to give them food both substantial and wholesome, a solid and [illegible] tion. In a word, she will never lose sight of her [illegible] but most honorable undertaking, and will endeavor to merit in every way the confidence and esteem of parents.

STEAM SAW MILL FOR SALE

BY ISAAC L. McCOY

THE proprietor being about to remove to his place on the other side of the river, will offer for sale on Saturday, the 5th day of January next, at the Exchange coffee house, the lease of a portion of ground situated on the faubourg Livaudais, together with the steam saw mill, and all the other improvements thereon. The mill is in excellent running order, having undergone a thorough repair within the last four months, that cost the proprietor upwards of twelve hundred dollars. The machinery is nearly all made anew; the old boilers have been taken out and large ones put in their stead, which afford an abundance of steam. There is also a good dwelling house built of cypress, having four apartments, and is so calculated as to be removed, in parts without injury. The purchaser shall have a right of removing every thing off the premises at the expiration of his lease, that is the mill, machinery, houses, &c. There is space enough to contain upwards of two hundred cords of wood, without interfering with the convenience of the saw mill, and a well known safe place for steamboats to wood at, and should the plans be occupied, in part, as a wood yard, with a little alteration, a circular saw could be attached to the saw mill, to cross cut the logs before split up, in the [illegible] would be a saving of two [illegible] dollars, payable quarterly. The stack of cypress on hand can be had by the purchaser at a fair value.

Terms of sale—The purchaser to assume three notes as follows—one due on the 3d of February 1833, for $331 21; one on the 3d of May, for $331 25; and one on the 3d of August for $331 25; the remainder of the purchase money at twelve months credit; for notes drawn and endorsed to the satisfaction of the vendor. Act of sale to be passed before W. Y. Lewis, notary public, at the expense of the purchaser. dec 29
