INSTITUTIONS.

St. Louis Institution,

CONDUCTED BY MADAME S. DERON,

No. 148 St. Louis street, between Dauphine and Burgundy streets—New Orleans.

SCHOLASTIC YEAR 1851-'52.

THIS Institution which for the last twelve years, has obtained constant success of progressive prosperity, has resumed its usual course of studies since the 1st September.

Madame DERON, formerly a pupil and professor of the "Maison Royale de St. Denis," and a graduate of the University of France, has endeavored to profit by the experience which she has acquired in the United States, to place her Institution in the first rank of educational establishments in America.

Madame Deron, exclusively devoted to her pupils, applies herself not only to the cultivation of the mind, but also to the formation of the heart. She strongly desires that the young Ladies confided to her care may be remarked for all those valuable qualities which constitute a really good education, such as the spirit of order and decorum, amiability of temper and solidity of judgment, mildness of manners and a sympathizing disposition, and finally easy grace and reserved elegance of manners. In order to obtain these results, Madame Deron has always employed as auxiliaries both firmness and mildness, the constant use of emulation, and especially rewards for application and regularity in study. She is seconded by her sister-in-law, Mademoiselle J. Deron, who, like herself, has always followed the career of instruction; these two ladies watch with the greatest solicitude over the daily progress of the pupils.

The locality of the institution, well known and appreciated in New Orleans, as one of the most suitable and salubrious in the city, is perfectly well arranged; the class and study rooms and dormitories are spacious and airy, looking over several gardens, and there are besides a handsome yard and a terrace sheltered from the sun and intended for the recreation of the pupils.

The general instruction is given both in French and English; it embraces all the branches which constitute a finished education for young ladies. The English language is the object of especial care, the pupils are required in their communications with each other, and with their preceptors, to speak the English language exclusively.

Mr. Orton who has been attached to the Academy from its foundation, devotes a great part of his time to impart to the pupils of the higher classes a thorough knowledge of the English language and literature, the other classes are intrusted to well qualified American governesses.

Madame Deron has reserved to herself the direction of the French classes. She has besides secured the assistance of an excellent Professor of the higher sciences, Monsieur H. Jegou, who divides with Monsieur H. Deron and Mesdames Deron, the care of the French department.

The Spanish language forms a part of the system of study.

With respect to religious instruction M. l'Abbe Tholomer, whose zeal is so justly appreciated, continues to prepare the pupils for their first communion in the chapel of the institution.

MUSIC.

The study of Music is the object of particular care. Madame Lavillebeuvre, an artist of the highest order is attached to the institution as Professor of the Piano and Harp. A course of Vocal Music by one of the best Professors of the city.

As a means of emulation the institution has adopted monthly musical examinations at which parents are invited to be present.

A Professor of Dancing is attached to the establishment.
d20

NEW ORLEANS FEMALE INSTITUTE, OR DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL, For young Ladies, 259 Camp st.,

CONDUCTED BY MRS. MACAULAY.

THIS Institution is under the personal supervision of Mrs. MACAULAY, and the classes advanced in literature, science and philosophy, are under the care of Dr. Macaulay. The most accomplished teachers are employed in giving instructions in the French, Spanish and Italian languages, also in drawing and dancing. The piano, harp, and guitar, as well as vocal music, are taught by professors of the highest grade of qualifications.

There are now eight instructors in the institution, and it is the aim of the principals to make it, in all respects, such as parents may desire for their daughters. Every care is taken not only to instill pure morals, and promote habits of correct, lady-like deportment in the pupils, but to make them intelligent as well as accomplished, and, consequently, fit them for society and future usefulness.

Young ladies from the country, living in the family as boarders, share in the enjoyments, privileges and attentions of daughters, and are uniformly treated, not so much as members of a boarding school, as daughters of an affectionate family.

To the establishment is attached a large and well selected library; and to create a thirst for the acquisition of general knowledge as to the improvements and changes that are continually taking place in the literary, scientific and political worlds, leading Periodicals of a truly valuable character, and standard books of reference, are at the command of the young ladies well advanced in school education, for the important purposes of teaching them to acquire useful knowledge for themselves, by means of research and examination.

Monthly reports issued, as to progress and conduct.

A class for the study of the Latin language, will be formed on the first of November, and one on the use of the Globes.

References are made to parents who have had their daughters at the institution for years; and further particulars and circulars can be obtained by applying, personally, or by letter either to Dr. or Mrs. Macaulay.

Orleans High School, No. 58 and 59 Esplanade Street,

ERASTUS EVERETT, A.M., Principal and Proprietor.

THIS Institution, for the education of young gentlemen, was opened in April, 1843, by Mr. Everett in company with other Professors, and soon secured for itself a place among the best Seminaries in the South.

The buildings and play-grounds have been carefully adapted to all the necessities of a Day School.

The various branches of knowledge are taught by Mr. Everett and a corps of Assistant Professors, selected with a view to good character, sound learning, and experience in teaching.

The English classes are taught by Mr. Everett solely, and he will give, as heretofore, all diligence in imparting to the Students of the School an accurate knowledge of the language of the land. To the higher classes is given, in connection with Rhetoric, a course of English and French literature.

The course of study embraces the Grammar and Literature of the Greek, Latin, English, French and Spanish languages; History, Geography, Rhetoric, Versification, Logic, Political Economy, Moral Philosophy, Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Natural Philosophy and Chemistry.

As the Modern Languages, (particularly the English and the French) and the higher Mathematics receive very special attention, the School offers singular advantages to boys designed for mercantile pursuits.

The annual organization of the elementary classes has been recently completed, and as they are instructed almost exclusively by the Principal and are under his immediate supervision during the whole day, he can answer for their rapid progress in English, French, Arithmetic and writing.

LOUIS DUFAU, Principal.

In order to achieve this object he has associated with himself the most distinguished Professors of New Orleans.

The Principal will spare no pains, and will endeavor constantly to develop in his pupils the moral attributes, as well as to cultivate the faculties of the mind.
