The canvass in the City.

By the notices in another column, the Whigs of New Orleans will perceive that their political brethren in the First Municipality are already up and doing. They, at all events, are determined to adhere unfalteringly to the good old cause, in behalf of which they have often struggled and often triumphed. They, who are not unfrequently taunted for their seeming lukewarmness and languor, are resolved on this occasion, to take the initiative, and to prove to their associates in the Second and Third Municipalities, that the Whigs of the city proper intend to conduct the canvass with the zeal, spirit and activity that are the certain precursors of victory, and the most efficient means of securing it.

In the meanwhile, does it not become the Whigs of other sections of the city to commence the important labor of political organization? Less than twenty-five days remain to us before we shall be in the midst of the election. Within this comparatively short period, many important duties must be performed. In every representative district, we have to nominate candidates for the popular branch of the Legislature. This is a matter of great moment, and not to be slurred over hastily and inefficiently. The vote of New Orleans will decide which of the two parties will have a majority in the Legislature. Upon that Legislature will devolve the right to elect a United States Senator in the place of the Hon. HENRY JOHNSON, whose term expires on the 4th of March, 1849. With capable and popular candidates, we can carry the seven representatives in the Second Municipality, five in the First, and two in the Third. Fourteen out of the nineteen to which the city is entitled, will, in all probability, give the Whigs the control of the Legislature on joint ballot. We have likewise two State Senators to elect, and should nominate candidates acceptable to the whole party, and whose names, influence and standing will be certain to bring out the entire Whig vote. It needs scarcely to be added that "a full vote is a Whig victory."

We have yet another task before us: Locofocoism is beginning to calculate upon the possible triumph of its candidate for Congress in the second district—not through any strength of its own in that quarter, but through our presumed apathy. It imagines, for example, that the Whigs of the Second Municipality will be too indolent or indifferent to cast their usual vote, and that thus Mr. LANDRY, the Locofoco candidate, may contrive to slip into Congress, just as upon one occasion, through similar supineness, the Hon. ALCEE LABRANCHE was permitted to misrepresent the district. It behoves the up-town Whigs to guard against the possibility of the recurrence of such a disaster. Remember, the two parties are nearly equally divided in the coming Congress, and that upon the Whigs of Louisiana, in common with those of Maryland and Mississippi, will depend our ascendancy in the Representative branch of the National Legislature. With the knowledge of these facts, and with the full conviction that they are urged by every consideration of regard for their principles, and respect for those who maintain them, to be foremost in the field and eager in the fray, we have an abiding confidence that our Whig friends in the Second Municipality will emulate the enthusiasm that prevails elsewhere, and will be prepared by early and thorough organization to gain a splendid triumph on the first Monday in November.

Let the watchword from now till the close of the election, be action, ACTION, ACTION!

OCTOBER ELECTIONS.—Georgia voted on Monday last for Governor and members of the Legislature. The candidates for Governor are Gen'l Clinch (w.) and Mr. Towns (l.f.). The contest has been animated, and bitterly personal almost beyond a parallel. The result may fairly be considered uncertain. Georgia has a knack of changing her politics every two or three years and is not to be confidently relied upon. "Old Withlacoochee" as Gen. Clinch is called, is nevertheless a very popular man, and we think, stands the best chance of success. Upon the next Legislature will devolve the duty of choosing a successor to the Hon. Mr. Berrien, of the United States Senate. We shall get returns from Georgia by the beginning of next week.

Maryland voted yesterday for Governor, Legislature and six members of Congress. The candidates for Governor are Goldsborough (w.) and Thomas (l.f.). This State has likewise been the theatre of a violent party struggle. We believe that the Whig candidate for Governor will be chosen, and that the Whigs will elect, at least, half the Congressional delegation. It is said that the Administration party is making the most desperate efforts to carry a majority of the Congressmen, in the hope of preventing the Whigs from obtaining the ascendency in the House of Representatives. We can well believe this, but are loth to cherish the fear that the Staunch Old Maryland line will falter at this critical juncture. But we shall see. The result will be known here by the end of next week.

New Jersey and Pennsylvania elect State officers on the 12th. In the first, the chances preponderate decidedly in favor of the whigs. Of the latter we can venture nothing positive. Pennsylvania last year, was heavily whig on little more than half the vote of the State. The event was regarded as indecisive by both parties, and the political complexion of the majority was tacitly referred to the next State election. It is now at hand the candidates on either side are able and popular men, and the issue will be regarded as a fair test of the opinions of the Key Stone State. We shrewdly suspect they will prove democratic. If Shunk is beaten by Gen. Irvin, we shall not only be greatly gratified, but somewhat astonished. [illegible] will doubtless do their best and [illegible] probably approximate that cast at [illegible] electoral election.

State elections in Florida and Arkansas likewise occur this month, but they are of minor importance, and do not involve the choice either of Governor or Congressmen.

AGES OF STATESMEN.—Of our distinguished public men, John Quincy Adams, born in 1767, is the Nestor. He is 80 years of age. Henry Clay comes next, being 70 years old on the 15th of April. Martin Van Buren, R. M. Johnson, J. C. Calhoun, Lewis Cass, Daniel Webster, singularly enough, were all born in 1782, and of course are 65 years of age. Tyler is 8 years younger—born in 1790. Polk is about the same age. Dallas 2 years younger yet, born in 1792. Gen. Taylor is nearly 60. The rest of our prominent public men are generally younger by years. If we cross the Atlantic we find a statesman in Wellington, unimpaired in intellect at the age of 78. The age of Peel corresponds with that of Gen. Taylor, as that of Lord John Russell does with that of Dallas. Brougham is the youngest of the first grade of public characters, being barely born in the last century.

MAINE.—The entire vote cast for Governor at the late election is as follows: Whig 23,904; Loco 32,021; Abolition 7,471. The whig vote has fallen off nearly 6,000 since last year, while the locofoco vote has decreased but 2,400, and the abolition vote nearly 1,000. There is consequently a relative gain to the Locos, though a positive loss. Yet Locofocoism in Maine shouts itself hoarse over so paltry a result.

It is stated that the plurality law has been ratified by the people—the vote being close on the question of electing the Governor by a plurality. The success of this measure seals the death warrant of incendiary factions and third parties. They are now impotent for further mischief.

VERMONT.—The Montpelier Watchman claims a Whig majority of six in the new House of Representatives, viz: Whigs 105, Locos 79, Abolition 20. This leads us to believe that the House will certainly be Whig, while the Senate is known to be so by 12 majority.

☞ The N. Y. Gazette and Times—a Native American paper—has died after an existence of about two years. It was an able and courteous journal, and its discontinuance deprives the native party of an efficient organ, and the community of an intelligent and agreeable newspaper.

CONNECTICUT.—The Abolitionists of Connecticut have nominated Francis Gillette as their candidate for Governor.

Summary from Hayti.

The New York Courier des Etats Unis has something late and interesting intelligence from Hayti. We translate the following paragraphs:

Grave occurrences have taken place in Hayti. Port au Prince journals of August 19th, had informed us that the city was agitated by rumors of a conspiracy, which, however, were believed to have no real foundation. But they were unhappily correct. On Sunday, the 22nd of August, two black generals, named Semilien and Charles Alerte, having for some days, manifested a spirit of insubordination which threatened to bring them in conflict with their superiors, Generals Terlonge and Descayettes, openly raised the standard of revolt, and followed by some hundreds of blacks and a portion of the guard, whom they had ordered to load their muskets and cannon, took possession of the National Palace. The purpose of this insurrection appears to have been identical with that professed by Acau and Moline, to wit, the expulsion or extermination of the mulattoes. [Here follows an extract from the Port au Prince Feuille du Commerce, showing this to be the fact.]

This civil war between the blacks and the mulattoes of Hayti, derives additional importance from the fact that it has broken out now, in the capital itself, and not in heretofore in remote and thinly peopled districts. Its origin or motive is two-fold, being partly natural and in part political. Under the first head we recognise a remnant of that savage instinct which armed the black against the white, and now arms him against the half-white, through a ferocious longing for unity of race. Under the second, we discover the deep-seated rancor caused by the prolonged state of inferiority to which the blacks were doomed under the sway of Boyer, in whose Government the mulattoes had a very large preponderance. This condition of inferiority has indeed reached its termination, since the expulsion of Boyer and his supporters, and therefore it would be a difficult task to explain the present thirst of the blacks for vengeance, if the hatred of caste, which can never be accounted for, made such explanation necessary.

When the revolt broke out, President Soulouque was absent in the North, with a part of his Cabinet. The designs of the chief revolters were at first not precisely known; it was said that they proposed the overthrow of the President, but that they differed as to the choice of his successor, General Semilien wishing to make himself President, while Alerte desired to instal in that office his own uncle Paul, an ex-Minister. Meanwhile, however, President Soulouque, having been advised of what was going on, sent to Port au Prince David Troy, one of his Ministers, a black, of courage and fidelity, to restore order. Troy had a conference with the rebel chiefs, one of whom, Alerte, finally consented to obey his orders, while Semilien still held out, making a declaration which caused no less surprise than alarm, to wit, that he had acted under the instructions of the President himself, who had left the capital for the purpose—his objects being the downfall of the Ministry, whose probity gave him trouble, and the slaughter of the mulattoes, hatred of whom he shared with the blacks in general.

This declaration was believed to be a falsehood; nevertheless the authorities had consented to await the answer of the President, which would bring on either the condemnation and execution of Semilien or his justification, followed by the formation of a new Cabinet from among his accomplices. This last, says the Feuille de Commerce, would be a declaration of war to the death against the mulattoes.

SHIPWRECK—EIGHTEEN LIVES LOST.—A postscript to the New York Commercial Advertiser of the 29th ult., says: We have been favored with the following letter from the wreck master at Long Beach, to John S. Tappan, Esq., Secretary of the board of Underwriters. The vessel is believed to be the [illegible], Capt. Hoyt, which cleared [illegible] on the 24th of August, for New [illegible] has not yet arrived here. We have [illegible] the clearances for the last month at New Orleans, and find no vessel named the Orbit mentioned among them.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 25, 1847.

The ship Orbit, of New York, Captain White, from New Orleans, came ashore on Long Beach, Barnegat Inlet, on Saturday night last. She has gone to pieces, and the captain, first mate and sixteen others are lost.

Yours respectfully,
EDWARD GENNINGS, Wreckmaster.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—Mr. Theodore Devalcourt, for twenty-three years editor of the Attakapas Gazette in this State, died at St. Martinsville on the 27th ult., aged between forty and forty-five years. The Planter's Banner says of Mr. Devalcourt: As a journalist and a citizen, he gained the confidence and esteem of all who knew him; as a husband and father he was kind and affectionate. In all the relations of life, public and private, he practised the virtues of a christian man.

HAYTI.—We are indebted to a commercial house in this City, for a copy of the Manifeste, published at Port au Prince, of the 2nd September. It contains little intelligence in addition to that received from New York. Gen. Semilien still remained master of the National Palace, assuming airs of great authority. President Soulouque appears completely inactive, and makes no effort to repress the seditious movements going forward.

THE CROPS—ARMY WORM AT LAST.—The St. Francisville Chronicle, of the 2d instant, says: We have received information of most undoubted character from various portions of our parish, within the past week, which convinces us that the real army worm is here, and that much damage has already been done to the cotton crop. The apparent favorableness of the season has hitherto led us to hope that our planters would escape the ravages of the worm, and that they would be favored with at least an average yield. In some instances we still believe such will be the case. But in several localities, we learn that the fields are not only entirely stripped by the worm, but otherwise seriously damaged by the dry rot, destroying most of the late bolls. One planter informs us that his crop will fall short at least one hundred bales.

This intelligence is confirmed by the Bayou Sara Ledger, a journal published in the same parish.

CROPS IN THE NORTHWESTERN DISTRICT.—We copy the following from the Planter's (Attakapas) Banner of the 30th ult. Dr. Hawkins, who has just returned from a visit to St. Landry and Rapides, informs us that, notwithstanding the appearance of the worms, it is believed that two thirds of a crop of cotton will be made in Western Louisiana. The cane on upper Bayou Boeuf, and about Opelousas is uncommonly large and should it not be affected by an early frost, it must yield well. From New Town to Opelousas, there is much sickness existing in the prairies, but upon the Bayous the season has been remarkably healthy.

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette says that Prof. House's "Lightning Letter Printer" has been adopted by the proprietors of the Magnetic Telegraph Line between Cincinnati and Louisville. The Gazette remarks:—"Should this machine equal the expectations of the inventor, it has one decided advantage over that of Professor Morse, in this, that it will save much of the delay and cost of transcribing despatches received."

NAVAL.—The U. S. ship Supply, arrived at New York, from Pensacola, on the 25th ult., after a passage of 25 days. She encountered very heavy weather off this harbor, losing mainsail, &c. She brings 34 invalids from the Gulf Squadron. Lieut. Robt. Emmett Hooe died a few hours after her arrival at Sandy Hook.

INDIANA.—The Cincinnati Chronicle, in an article on the physical aspect of this State, says: Indiana has greatly misnamed; it should have been called the STATE OF WABASH. This is an original name, like Ohio, but it has a claim on other grounds, which is a much [illegible]. The Wabash river, in proportion to [illegible], irrigates more land than almost any other stream which can be found. The Wabash and its tributaries water nearly two-thirds of all the counties of Indiana! Of eighty-eight counties in this State, no less than [illegible] are watered by the Wabash river!

Appointments by the President.

City [illegible].

EXAMINATION [illegible] Case.—The investigation of [illegible] took place on Tuesday morning before Recorder Genois. The court room was crowded with a large number of persons who appeared anxious to see how the matter would end. The deputy attorney of the Municipality, Mr. Christoval Morel, was present. The first witness heard, was Mr. Hochford, a merchant of this city. He stated that some time last week the prisoner, came to his store in company with another person, who he thinks is a resident of this city, but whom he does not know personally; the prisoner told witness that he wanted 150 kegs of powder for the Havana market, and wished to know the price, observing that he had a friend in the Custom-house, who would manage to ship them through. James White the mate of the schooner [illegible], was next called, he mentioned but little besides what was contained in his affidavit, and which we have already laid before our readers. After some further examination of the case, his Honor declared that according to the evidence before him, he was of opinion that the prisoner was not liable to a criminal prosecution, as it could not be proved that the latter was in communication with the enemy. The Recorder observed, however, that according to the present municipal laws, the accused forfeited the whole of the powder which had been seized by Capt. Youenes, by placing it in such large quantities on the wharf, and thereby endangering the safety of the public. For such an offence, every person is liable to a fine of $100 for every twenty-five pounds of powder so deposited; so that Jose Maria Carbajal was condemned to pay a fine of $3,800, and the powder was confiscated to the use of the State. The accused was moreover sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution. A bail writ was immediately issued, and Carbajal was arrested for the recovery of said fine, and on being brought before the 3d District Court, Judge Canon required of the prisoner a bond of $4000, for his appearance before that tribunal. The prisoner had not yet signed the above bond at a late hour yesterday.

RECORDER GENOIS.—There was nothing whatever yesterday before this Court. We have been told that a burglary had been committed on Tuesday night last, that the trunk of a poor fellow had been broken open, and a sum of $300 taken therefrom. No arrest has as yet been effected by the police.

Thomas Burke alias Colemen, was ordered to give bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the First District Court. He is charged with having assaulted and beaten a woman named Jane Rotter, on the 30th September last, at eight o'clock in the evening, on the shell road of the Bayou St. John.

RECORDER BALDWIN.—The case of Thomas Ross, charged with shooting at Charles C Cammeyer, on the 6th of last month, and wounding him slightly, was yesterday investigated before Recorder Baldwin, who bound over the accused in the sum of $500, for his appearance before the First District Court.

John Roley, charged with having stolen on board of the steamboat Mary, a Monkey Wrench, was also sent before the same tribunal.

Thomas Green, charged with having bitten the nose of Patrick Croke, (Lord what a morsel,) will be examined to-day.

A number of vagrants also made their appearance before Recorder Baldwin, who gave them free lodgings in the workhouse of the Municipality.

RECORDER SEUZENEAU.—Mr. Francis Whiting yesterday came to Recorder Seuzeneau's office and stated that on Tuesday last, at about half past eight o'clock in the evening, on board of the ship Hannibal, lying within the Third Municipality harbor, one Mrs. Alice Davis did feloniously break open his trunk, and did steal therefrom sundry female clothing, which she afterwards gave to one George, a sailor on board, who concealed the same and refused to deliver these articles to complainant. Recorder Seuzeneau immediately issued a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Alice Davis and the sailor George.

The same individual also informed the Recorder that while the ship was on the high sea, his wife attempted to poison him by putting some arsenic in his cup of coffee, and requested his Honor to issue a warrant for her arrest. The Recorder observed to complainant that the offence having been committed on the high seas, he had no jurisdiction in the matter. His Honor advised him to repair to Mr. Cohen, the United States Commissioner, and the proper magistrate to investigate the case.

AWFUL SUICIDE.—On Tuesday last, at one o'clock in the afternoon, an Italian named G. A. Mazza, residing at 109 Chartres street, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor from ear to ear. The wound was so awful that he died instantly. He leaves, we are told, a wife and two children. His funeral took place last evening from his late residence. No cause is assigned for the act. Some persons say that the deceased had been, for the last two months, of a very melancholy disposition, and was suspected of mental aberration.

☞ The Second Municipality Council met on last Tuesday evening; its proceedings were uninteresting.

NEW WORKS.—Our thanks are due J. C. Morgan, of the Literary Depot, Exchange Place, for the 28th number of the Pictorial History of England, completing the annals of the Protectorate, and commencing a review of the history of religion, during the first half of the 17th century.

We are indebted to the same source for a copy of "Pastourel, or the Sorcerer of the Mountain," a novel from the French of Frederick Soulie.

Crockery Manufactory.

The Crockery factory at Mandeville has just been completed, and is now prepared to execute and deliver at very moderate prices all commissions which the public may entrust to the proprietors.

In consequence of a clay of superior quality, a collection of the most skilful workmen in Louisiana, and the extreme care and attention bestowed upon all the details of the establishment, the products of the factory at Mandeville surpass in every respect those of other establishments—as well in the fineness of the grain, the solidity and strength of the paste and the beauty of the varnish; they are particularly remarkable for the elegance and taste of the patterns—a merit hitherto too often overlooked in this department of industry.

The directors of the establishment are prepared to fill the most extensive and varied orders. To gardeners' and horticulturists they offer every variety of flower-pots, and some of a quality hitherto unknown, together with vases of antique form, Italian do, and the most select and beautiful patterns. To families they offer every species of culinary and household utensil—all resisting the action of fire. Finally, to architects they tender a large collection of articles necessary for building and ornament, such as slabs, enamelled squares, pavement for dressing rooms, centre tables, &c. &c. &c.

Apply to Messrs. de la Bretonne & Co., at Mandeville, La., or the warehouse, in New Orleans, at the old Basin.

M., at the Conti Street Hotel, for the purpose of selecting Candidates for Representatives of the District; and likewise to nominate two delegates to the Whig City Convention, for the appointment of Candidates for State Senators.

SIXTH REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT.—At a meeting of the Whigs of the Sixth District, on the evening of the 5th inst., Messrs. Collens and Sere, were appointed delegates to the Whig City Convention; and Messrs. CYPRIEN DUFOUR and JOHN WATKINS, were nominated as Candidates to represent the District in the State Legislature. This is a good beginning. Keep the ball in motion.

FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—The Locofoco Convention of the First District, has nominated the Hon. EMILE LA SERE for re-election. He is without a Whig opponent.

DEATH OF COL. STILES.—The Baltimore papers state that Col. John S. Stiles, one of the gallant defenders of Baltimore in 1814, who acted a very conspicuous part during the whole of the war from 1812 to 1815, died on the 29th ult., in that city.

HON. MOSES H. GRINNELL, has been elected President of the New York Chamber of Commerce, in place of James G. King, resigned.

INDIAN T[illegible].—The Daily [illegible] [illegible] in the "[illegible]" [illegible], by [illegible] the [illegible] which have been ceded to the United States by these two Indian tribes:

"The first treaty was concluded at Fond du Lac, at Lake Superior, on the 2d of August, 1847, with the Chippewas of Lake Superior and the Mississippi. The land [illegible] is bounded on the east by the Mississippi river, on the north by the Crow Wing and Long Prairie rivers, [illegible] [illegible]

ENGLISH SYSTEM OF WAREHOUSING.—The Washington Union of the [illegible] refers to this subject in the following paragraph:

We hope to have the pleasure, in a few days, of laying before our readers the results of the information which will be collected by the two agents whom the Secretary of the Treasury has despatched to England for the purpose of investigating the English system of warehousing. We regret to learn that [illegible] the government has [illegible] its warehouses [illegible] their variety [illegible] and given every facility [illegible] progress of [illegible] researches which is calculated [illegible] enlighten [illegible] and operation. We have no doubt that they will bring back a mass of important and useful information. They may also visit Belgium and Paris for the same purpose, and are expected to return to the United States in the month of October.

SECRET COMMERCIAL SOCIETIES IN THE UNITED STATES.—It had long been known, that in New York, and in other large American cities, there exists a confederation, or society, for the mutual protection of the merchants and others of goods against needy and dishonest customers. This society has its agents in most places in the Western States and in Canada, with whom it communicates, (by the magnetic telegraph,) when any of its members wishes for inquiry relative to the standing or honesty of intending purchasers. We are not going to quarrel with this society for safety measures, and assuming that nothing we write could ought affect its business, we intend to allude to a recent circumstance connected with the Kingston agency, to show that it is capable of doing an injury to a mercantile house. A Kingston merchant had occasion lately to visit New York. One of the parties of whom he wished to buy, being a member of this intelligence society, made inquiry of the Kingston agency. The answer returned was, "that the intending purchaser was what he represented himself to be, but that he had taken another gentleman into copartnership, for whose heavy debts he was liable." Of course the negotiation was suspended, but the Kingston merchant, knowing that he had taken no man into partnership, and therefore was responsible for no man's debts, was as much astonished as confounded at the statement, and could not be made to believe that other parties had been returned, until, by some means of management, he obtained sight of the letter and took a copy. Then convinced of the fact, he gave references to parties of unquestionable respectability, and with some trouble and delay, removed the scandal and made his purchases. Parties who accept the agency of a secret intelligence society of the [illegible] ought to be extremely cautious [illegible] conduct. They have it in their power to do serious injury on their fellow townsmen, and in one case out of ten, affording [illegible] no means of explanation. In the case which has come under our notice, there existed no reason whatever for the information given; it was gratuitous, and it was incorrect; and knowing something of all the parties interested, we cannot imagine why it was given. Secret societies are not much influenced by newspaper notoriety; and we greatly fear we have thrown our labor away on the present occasion.—Kingston (Canada) Whig, Sept. 18.

THE STORM IN NEW-YORK.—The Tribune of the 27th, says: The rain fell on Saturday with the greatest violence, and for a part of the day, the streets were deserted, except by the [illegible] and such travelers as necessity [illegible] abroad. Owing to the violence of the storm, the Norwich and Stonington boats did not leave till yesterday morning. The Bay State, however, put out, but it is probable that she was forced by the inclemency to [illegible] till the abatement of the gale. The Traveller, which left for New-Haven, at 6 o'clock this Saturday morning, was compelled to return to the City. The Stephenson, which was to leave on Saturday [illegible], also postponed her departure to 9 o'clock this morning. The Eastern mail to this City did not arrive yesterday till half past 2 P. M. The brig London, which was at anchor near the quarantine, dragged her anchors, but luckily received no damage. The [illegible] was [illegible] of the public dock. The bark Panchita was blown at the same time from her moorings and came in contact with the same dock, but received little injury.

Some damage was also done to unfinished buildings in various parts of the City, and trade trees and shrubbery were also considerably injured, both here and in Brooklyn. We have, however, heard of no considerable disasters.
