MADAME E. DERON,

No. 113 St. Louis street, between Dauphine and [illegible]

SCHOLASTIC YEAR 1851-'52.

THIS Institution which for the last twelve years, has followed a constant career of progress and prosperity, has resumed its annual course of studies since the 1st September.

Madame DERON, formerly a pupil and professor of the Maison Royale de St. Denis, and a graduate of the University of France, has endeavored to profit by the experience which she has acquired in the United States, to place her Institution in the first rank of educational establishments.

Madame DERON, exclusively devoted to her pupils applies herself, not only to the cultivation of the mind, but [illegible]. She strongly desires that the young Ladies confided to her care may be instructed with all those qualities which constitute a really good education, such as the spirit of order and decision, amiability of temper and solidity of judgment, [illegible] disposition, and [illegible] of manners. In order to obtain these results, Madame Deron has always employed as auxiliaries both firmness and kindness; the constant use of emulation, and especially rewards for application and regularity in study. She is seconded by her sister Mme. Lafosse De DERON, who has ever [illegible] the career of instruction, [illegible] the greatest zeal over the daily progress of the pupils.

The locality of the institution well known and appreciated in New Orleans, as one of the most suitable and salubrious in the city is perfectly well arranged; the class and study rooms and dormitories are spacious and airy, looking over several gardens, and the interior garden which some yard also a terrace sheltered from the sun and intended for the recreation of the pupils.

The general instruction is given both in French and English; it embraces all the branches which constitute a finished education for young ladies. The English language is the object of especial care, the creole pupils are required in their communications with each other, and with their professors, to speak the English language exclusively.

Mr. Orton who has been attached to the Academy from its foundation, devotes a great part of his time to impart to the pupils of the higher classes a thorough knowledge of the English language and literature, the other classes are intrusted to well qualified American governesses.

Madame Deron has reserved to herself the direction of the French classes. She has besides secured the assistance of an excellent Professor of the higher sciences, Monsieur H. Jegou who divides with Monsieur IB Deron and Mesdames Deron, the care of the French department.

The Spanish language forms a part of the system of study.

With respect to religious instructions M. l'Abbe Tholomeer, whose zeal is so justly appreciated, continues to prepare the pupils for their first communion in the chapel of the institution.

MUSIC:

The study of Music is the object of particular care. Madame Lavillebeuvre, an artist of the highest order is attached to the institution as Professor of the Piano and Harp. A course of Vocal Music by one of the best Professors of the city.

As a means of emulation the institution has adopted monthly musical examinations at which parents are invited to be present.

A Professor of Dancing is attached to the establishment.

Young Ladies' Academy.

M'ME. FARENT has removed her institution to Custom-street, between Royal and Bourbon, No. 86, the house heretofore occupied by M'me. Granet, and is ready to receive boarders, half boarders, and day scholars. There is a very large yard together with a garden for the young ladies to amuse themselves. G. BOYER'S INSTITUTION

No. 148 Conti Street, between Dauphine and Burgundy.

MR. G. BOYER, founder of this establishment, the oldest in New Orleans, avails himself of this opportunity to make a new appeal to the confidence of parents. The institution is conducted in a large mansion, occupying a fine central position, being well ventilated, and in other respects perfectly salubrious. The range of studies which engage the attention of the pupils, extends over all the branches of learning, which are necessary to a useful, polite and finished education; from primary instruction, to the more abstruse subjects which are especially the province of a collegiate course. The elementary studies are attended to with more than ordinary care considering the decisive influence which they exercise over the other branches of instruction. Discipline, which must not be separated from assiduous study, nor from a good education, is conducted with solicitude. It is calculated according to the age and character of the students, and established to give them an accurate idea of duty and good behaviour.

DUCONGE'S PECTORAL BALSAMIC SYRUP.
LABORATORY OF THE PROPRIETOR,
No. 39 Chartres street, N. O.

THE well known virtue of this vegetable Syrup, in all ailments of the breast, chest, lungs and bowels, is so well established, and has been tested for so many years, by such extensive patronage, that it would be idle to dwell at any length on its efficacy in colds, coughs, asthma, bronchitis, inflammation of the throat, stomach or bowels, spitting of blood and whooping cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Diarrhoea, or dysentery, (summer complaint,) and especially in those cases of cholerine which, for want of proper notice, so often degenerate into confirmed cholera.

In all affections of the lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found to prevent that dreadful scourge, whenever timely resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure, this truly wonderful Medicine has over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantages that, owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without difficulty to children, and it requires no very particular diet.

☞ Prepared and sold at the Laboratory of the Proprietor. F. P. DUCONGE,

Dr. Ed. Martin's Vermifuge Syrup,
Without any disagreeable Taste or Smell.

THE MELIA AZEDARACH, (Follia Espinnati, Linneus' Class X. Decand: Monogyn—Jussieu, Class XIII, order 11, Meliacea—Tournefort, Class XXI, Arbres roses,) one of the most beautiful ornaments of our forests, the root of which for some time past has been, by a few persons, justly reputed the best vermifuge known, supplies us with the principal agent in the above named remedy.

Having sought with the greatest care in the bark of the root of this tree, the active principle which produces such excellent results in verminous affections of children, we have succeeded in extracting it in its purest state and by combining it with other tonic plants which are nearly all indigenous to Louisiana have arrived at composing the above VERMIFUGE SYRUP, the efficacy of which is now beyond the shadow of a doubt.

This Syrup, of an agreeable flavor, can be administered without the slightest apprehension to the most delicate children. Its use continued during three days, the doses being given at shorter intervals as the child may be older and stronger, will infallibly expulse all those intestinal worms which are the source of so many diseases, dangerous and often fatal to children.

Some mothers, rendered timorous by the frightful results of the various vermifuges hitherto employed, have given it to their children, but in doses extremely small; this has, in such cases, rendered the effect incomplete, and might have injured the standing of this remedy, had not several of our most experienced practitioners, by judiciously prescribing it and regulating the doses adapted to the different ages tested and established its excellent virtues.

To avoid debilitating the little patients by too severe a diet, we have modified the doses originally prescribed, in the following manner:

Children 2 to 5 years old, three tea spoonfulls a day, at an interval of from 1 to 2 hours. Above five years old, three table spoonfuls at the same intervals. No nourishment to be given between the first and third dose, nor within an hour after the third.

The SYRUP must be administered during three consecutive days. Composed entirely of vegetable extracts, this Vermifuge does not produce any of the pernicious effects which have often followed the use of those hitherto in use.

Gentlemen—So truly valuable do I consider your Sarsaparilla that I feel it to be my duty to state for the benefit of others, the cure effected on my [illegible]. Previous to 1845, I had a disease of the throat, which destroyed the tonsils, and was then attacked with violent pain in the head. This soon resulted in severe inflammation, and immense quantities of blood and matter were discharged. Many physicians attended me, [illegible] expressly suffering [illegible] your Sarsaparilla [illegible] hope to take [illegible]. ANOTHER REMARKABLE CURE.

NEW YORK, Jan 8, 1850.

Messrs. SANDS—Gentlemen: I have great pleasure in acknowledging to you the great benefit I have received from the use of your Sarsaparilla. A subject of pulmonary disease, I made a voyage to Europe, but while there continued to be afflicted. A few weeks after my return, I was seized with a violent hemorrhage of the lungs, and from the debility and great prostration of strength that followed, with the protracted difficulty of respiration, I was entirely relieved by the use of your Sarsaparilla, which I consider a most important and truly valuable discovery in the healing art. I feel that I have now for fourteen years enjoyed so good health as at present.

Gratefully yours,
S. E. SAYMORE.
