NEW ORLEANS:
THURSDAY, MORNING, AUG 27, 1840.

When the financial policy of the administration produced the suspension of '37, the pressure in the money market was principally confined to the mercantile and trading classes. The merchant, if he alone was prostrated; the rewards of years of toil were swept away in an hour; the accumulations of a lifetime were dissipated like mist; but the people in the country suffered comparatively little. The debts owed by the planter were liquidated to a great measure by the merchant, or rather the merchant assumed the immediate responsibility of their liquidation. In this manner the brunt of the pressure was borne by the merchant; he became a shield which protected the productive classes from the blow which must ultimately fall upon them.

Owing to this interposition, the distress was not so conspicuous in the growing districts as in the cities—But the administration taken warning from the convulsion '37, and retraced its steps, the ravages of the misdirected energies of the government might have been arrested. The merchant, though crippled and harassed, might have withstood the pressure until the productive interest could have extricated itself. But the general government was not satisfied by this limited exhibition of its power to do mischief. The executive and his advisers, like blood hounds, took a new impulse from the writhings of commerce, and pushed forward their anti American, anti-credit, and destructive schemes with redoubled energy. The lamentations of the people" fell like music upon their ears, and measures were pressed upon congress, the bare discussion of which, the president in his annual message of the year previous declared to be pernicious to the country. The merchant was the peculiar hatred of the administration, and every art was called into requisition to inflame the people against the very persons who interposed between the ruthless policy of the administration, and fell in the effort to protect them. The mass of society were taught to believe that commerce was hostile to the general happiness, and that but for the speculations of trade, none of the consequences of mal-administration would have taken place. It was a sight to grieve the patriot's bosom, to see with what greediness the dogmas were swallowed by the multitude. The incendiary declamation of the locofoco leaders in congress was echoed through the country, and the policy of the administration was wantonly and vigorously persevered in.

What has this policy to end in? For, we are but in the beginning of the end. The distress which was borne by the tradesmen, is now visible in the country. The patience and the power of the mercantile classes are exhausted, and this barrier destroyed, desolation is falling upon the farmer, the planter, and the stock raiser. The earth teems with abundance, but there are none to purchase of its plenty. The miserable decrees of authority are blighting the hearth of the poor. The crops are blasted in the ear, the grain rots upon the stalk; surrounded as we are by all the elements of wealth, we are in fact suffering as though the locusts of Egypt had devoured the fruits of the soil. All this has grown out of the currency and the "periosh commerce" doctrines of the administration—doctrines that have been sustained by exciting the prejudices of the people against those, who defended them until they were prostrated in their cause.

What class, we would almost ask what man, has not being injured by the policy of the administration? The rich, the poor, the mechanic, the merchant, farmer, planter, and day laborer, are all alike sufferers. And yet we hear politicians lauding VAN BUREN and spouting about hard money, as if the country had grown richer instead of poorer by these experiments. They urge the same arguments now that they formerly used. They stick to their theory despite the manifold evidences of its fallacy and ruinous tendency.—How long will the people suffer this disregard of their wants? How long will they tolerate this quackery, or be deluded by these pedaling politicians?

An affair of honor took place yesterday morning, between two gentlemen of this city. The weapons employed were pistols; and we regret to say that the duel terminated fatally, one of the parties having been mortally wounded.

CRIMINAL COURT.

THE STATE vs. TROUPE.—Yesterday was the day appointed for the trial of this case. Messrs. Soulé, Cohen and King appeared as counsel for the defendant. The court was employed the whole morning in examining the various witnesses, and to-morrow the case will be submitted to the jury; we shall then give a more detailed account of the proceedings.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTIONS.

We copy from the Richmond Whig all that we have been able to gather about the elections in this state.—It is hardly any news to our readers, as it merely confirms the glad tidings which we gave in yesterday's paper.

N. CAROLINA—BETTER AND BETTER.

Bring out the big gun.

The glad tidings of yesterday are fully confirmed.—The state is whig all over by sweeping majorities. WHIG GOVERNOR, WHIG SENATE, WHIG HOUSE OF COMMONS, AND TWO WHIG U. S. SENATORS! By from FIVE to EIGHT THOUSAND majority!!! A letter from a locofoco in Raleigh to a friend in this city, says that "the whig majority in Fisher's District is 5000, which is an EXTINGUISHER TO ALL OUR HOPES. The other Districts will swell Morehead's majority to 5 or 6000." Glory enough for one day!

In the Western Districts the Whig enthusiasm is unbounded, and the whig victories unprecedented.—The whole have gone for Old Tip with a perfect locoaness.

From the Salisbury Watchman, Aug. 14.

Glorious news—The Republican Whigs Triumphant.

The whigs of Rowan and Davie have achieved a glorious triumph over corruption, humbuggery, humbuggers great, and humbuggers small—bank humbuggers and all. They have carried the entire WHIG TICKET, FOR GOVERNOR, SENATOR, and COMMONERS!!!

We have not, up to the time our paper goes to press, the official returns; but the whole whig ticket of the county candidates have certainly prevailed with majorities from between 450 to 600. Morehead's majority is not less than 800!!!

P. S.—A passenger, in the cars yesterday, stated that complete returns had been received in Raleigh, and that Morehead's majority was nearly SEVEN THOUSAND, and that the whig majority on joint ballot was at least THIRTY!! This is almost too good to be true!

ARRIVAL OF THE NEW STEAM SHIP PRESIDENT, FROM LIVERPOOL.

A postcript to the New-York Commercial Advertiser of Monday evening, the 17th instant, contains the fol owing:

"The new steam packet President, Capt. Fayrer, from Liverpool, was telegraphed at 11 o'clock this forenoon, being at the time about forty miles distant from the lower station.

"At one o'clock she was five miles outside the bar, and the probability is that we shall not obtain our papers until between three and four o'clock. We shall issue a second edition as soon thereafter as possible.

"Our advices by the Great Western were Liverpool and London to the 24th July." By the President they will probably be to the 1st of August from the former and the 31st July from the latter port."

So that if the mail-boat sails as fast to-morrow, we shall be able to present our readers with some late foreign intelligence.

MORSE CARD COMPANY.—We learn that this company, since the affairs of the committee recently appointed in London and here, to make any examination into the condition of the company's affairs, except as relates to the question of enlarging the canal and the probable consequences of that measure.

Journal of Commerce.

FIRE.—On Saturday evening about 8 o'clock the establishment of John W. Morgan, cutlery and hardware manufacturer, No. 104 Fulton street, was discovered on fire in the third story, and most of his stock, valued at $14,000, was destroyed by fire. He was insured for $6,000.

New York Sun.

THE COMET.—We learn that the steamboat packet ship Columbus, belonging to Messrs. Collins & Co., is shortly to be turned into a steam ship. She is to have a screw paddle, somewhat like Ericsson's, and, it is thought that she can be made to go fifteen miles an hour. Her contour will be as splendid and fine as of a clipper ship when altered to suit the new design. The Columbus will be the staunchest ship in the Atlantic. The Roscius, a noble vessel, and will make a splendid steam ship. We hope to hear we have launched her in the queen's port.—N. Y. Herald.

[illegible] & MRS. DAVIDSON'S
[illegible] FOR YOUNG LADIES,
[illegible] Paul street, Baltimore.
[illegible] that their institution will be reopened on the first Monday in September next, to receive their pupils and increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge will, as they hope, present ample indemnification for a continuance of confidence. Being now, as heretofore, convinced that sound practical education can only be the result of unwearied assiduity on the teacher's part, and unceasing pains-taking on that of the pupil, and unceasing pains-taking on that of the pupil, they propose no novelties shorter way to knowledge. In connexion with thorough instruction in the subject and the plan of their academy embraces all the branches that constitute a refined and classical education, including the French, Italian, Russian, German, Spanish and Greek languages, Mr. and Mrs. D. deem it unnecessary to enter into detail, further than to say that in Botany, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and other departments in which information is more pleasingly and advantageously conveyed through the medium of lectures accompanied by experiments, recourse is had to the aid of instruction, their philosophical and Chemical apparatus being extensive and well selected.

Under the belief that change is often mischievous, and that long tried worth and capability furnish the best assurances of acceptable and efficient exertion in future, the Principals have retained each of their former assistants as long as their opinion entitled to the implicit confidence of themselves and the parents and friends of the pupils under their charge.

They will continue to employ, in addition to the regular Professor, in the French department, a French lady, thoroughly qualified to converse with and instruct the scholars, who will be with them at all times. Twelve hours a week will be given in the foreign languages are given daily, instead of three times a week, a course, in the opinion of the Principals, indispensable to the proper acquisition of languages. The French recitations scarcely from eighty to a hundred minutes daily, independently of the conversational exercises incident to social intercourse, and to aid in the acquisition, during the out of school hours, are regular French and Musical Soirées to parents interested.

Mr. D. will continue to give his personal attention to the Mathematical department, which he flatters himself is practicable, and will hold himself responsible for the faithful discharge of them.

With religious observances of the house pupils, there will be no interference, further than may be necessary to carry out the views of parents and friends and procure suitable accommodations for public worship.

Pupils will be expected to attend morning and evening worship in the institution, when the forms of the Protestant Episcopal Church will be used, at which the young ladies may attend if such be their wish.

Borders are not, on any account, permitted to spend the night abroad, except with parents or guardians, or to visit, unless by the special permission of their friends, nor are they to leave the establishment except on leave granted by the principal or assistants.

It is expected that every boarder will come provided with a silver fork and table spoon and fork, six table napkin be and six towels. To prevent losses the clothes should be carefully marked. Bedding will be furnished, unless parents prefer to provide it themselves. Washing and mending will be supplied for $4 per year. A competent person has charge of the laundry, and will see that the clothes are well washed and taken care of. There will be an extra charge in case of sickness.

Boarders are required to pay half yearly, in advance.—Day scholarship, $50 per quarter; extra charge when parents reside at a distance, in which event payment in advance will be preferred.

Pupils are charged from the time of entrance, and no deduction will be made for absence, except in cases of long protracted or very indisposition.

The building provided for the institution is well situated for health, airy and capacious, and is in every way suited to the comfort and accommodation of the inmates.

The academical year commences on the first Monday in September, and is each year continued during forty six weeks, and is divided into four successive terms of equal length.

Pupils cannot be withdrawn except at the end of a current full term.

Persons who propose to place their children in the institution as boarders will please to make their intention known as early as practicable.

The terms are as follows:

Board, per academic year.	$300 00
Day boarding, or dining, and thus enjoying the benefit of French conversation at table, per academic year	60 00
English instruction, in all its branches, $17 50 per quarter session, for one, two or three pupils; and for the summer recess, $16 00 per term, say, per year.	60 00
French, Italian, Spanish, German, Latin, &c., each per term, $8 00 per year.	22 00
Stationery, per term.	1 00
Music, including harp and guitar, at instructor's prices.
Use of instrument, per term.	3 00
Drawing and painting, at instructor's prices.
Dancing, at instructor's prices.
Washing, per term.	4 00
Bedding, if furnished, per term.	2 00
Fuel, use whether terms.	2 00

Applications to be made by letter, post paid, addressed to Mr. D., or at the institution. With a view to convenience in closing the business of the year, the bills of the last term will be presented a week or two in advance.
