NEW ORLEANS:
WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 1, 1837.

SALE OF SPLENDID PROPERTY.

By referring to the advertisements, the public will perceive that at 10 o'clock to-day at the Exchange at the corner of Chartres and St. Louis streets, there will be sold by Joseph Le Carpentier auctioneer, a splendid property situate in Toulouse street, between Bourbon and Dauphine streets. The mansion house has been built with great care, and is well arranged for the accommodation of a family. The kitchens are out of lines, and have servants rooms above, the yard is spacious and paved from one end to the other. The advantages offered by this property to those who desire to live in the centre of the city are so manifest, that we doubt not, that such capital will deem it a profitable object in which to invest their funds.

Those who wish to purchase, are respectfully invited to visit the premises before the time of sale.

FROM HAVANA.

By an arrival from that city, we have received newspapers and those current to the 15th February, inclusive.

The late news from Madrid are only to December 23, and afford nothing new on the situation of the Peninsula.

The report of Captain W. H. Chase on the improvements to consider the navigation of the Mississippi river, is expected at the Mississippi in a month, in consequence of the surveying parties deputed to him, have finished their duty for this time, to be presented to the War Department, and the result is very flattering to the Western Country, and will, no doubt, meet the early attention of congress, and will, no doubt, be the means of a liberal appropriation, and will, no doubt, be the means of a liberal appropriation by the Member of Congress. Thus we see the wisdom of the action of the west in the exercise of their political and intelligent influence of that character, we should not further recommend to congress, except that we are not a little grateful to the Hon. Alexander Mouton, who has so ably served the people of Louisiana in the senate, in the cause of the great interest of the Mississippi valley, and we have as well as any other state, cause to be proud of our representatives, and we have great reason to be grateful to our representatives in congress, for the great interest of Commerce
