NEW-ORLEANS:
MONDAY MORNING JULY 8, 1844.

The vehement declamation of the locofoco journals in regard to the conduct of the whig judges at the election on Monday last, scarcely merits serious notice. That party resorts to its usual tactics, when detected in attempts of wrong and outrage, by charging the whigs with the perpetration of the very acts for which it stands condemned. It is a stale manoeuvre of locofocism to divert public attention from its own shortcomings and culpable practices—a manoeuvre first put in operation in 1840, when locofoco-ism was engaged systematically in "pipe laying" in the Northern States. We never hear the locofoco party make a great ado about fraud and corruption, but we are convinced they have some cunning scheme in contemplation, and seek to blind their opponents and cover up their own concerted plans.

There is one pregnant fact connected with the late election, which our adversaries have wisely and skilfully avoided noticing. They affect an infinite deal of horror and quite a superabundance of indignation at the rejection of the Elliott certificate holders; and they fully justify and applaud the atrocious proceedings of the locofoco judges in the several wards of the Second Municipality. But they do not tell us why their inspectors refrained from pursuing a similar course in the third, fourth and fifth wards of the First Municipality, and in all the wards of the Third Municipality. At each of these wards Elliott voters presented themselves and were rejected by the whig inspectors. Why did not the virtuous indignation and swelling patriotism of the locofocos burst forth with equal violence at these precincts? Why were the locofoco judges content to suffer the election peacefully to continue, notwithstanding the refusal to allow aliens to vote? The reason is obvious. If did not enter into the locofoco plan of operations to disfranchise their own friends. If not! They were too sagacious for such a puerile plot. Their object was to secure the election and obtain an overwhelming majority, by the most simple and easy process imaginable. It was this:—As soon as an Elliott voter was refused in the whig wards, the locofoco inspector waste place his hand upon the ballot-box and declare that no other votes should be received until the holder of Elliott's fraudulent certificate was allowed to vote. The whig inspector would of course decline committing perjury by receiving a vote which he conscientiously believed to be illegal, and thus the polls would be virtually closed, the election stopped and the whig majorities excluded from the ballot-box. But in the locofoco wards, the game was to be different. There the election was to proceed, either by the withdrawal of the Elliott voter, or the acquiescence of the democratic inspector. This was a novel, bold and beautiful experiment, which, had it fully succeeded, would have exhibited New Orleans as a thorough-going locofoco city, without a single whig ward within its limits. Unhappily for our locofoco friends, it was only partially successful. The firmness and manly conduct of the whig inspectors enabled them in some places to baffle the conspiracy, and counteract its effects. We say in some instances, for the result shows that the plan was carried out in the 1st ward of First Municipality, in the 3rd ward, Second Municipality, thus depriving our ticket of about 220 whig majority and securing the election of some of the locofoco candidates.

It is perfectly clear that if the locofoco judges considered the Elliott votes legal, and were resolved not to allow any votes to be deposited in the ballot-boxes and the former were received, they were bound, in the defence of this principle, and by every motive of consistency, to close the polls in every ward where such votes were offered. Now we know that in the 3d, 4th and 5th wards of the First Municipality legal votes were applied for the privilege of voting under Judge Elliott's certificates, and we know they were rejected, and the election went on without let or hindrance. It was only the whig districts which were reserved for the consummation of this most gross and unwarrantable outrage. The Second Municipality and the upper part of the First—regions which have never been celebrated for locofocoism, were alone doomed to disfranchisement, and we have to think the indomitable and inflexible whig judges in some of those wards that the whig ticket escaped utter annihilation, by the ingenious procedure.

There are a number of other considerations connected with this subject which might be pointed out, but we have so frequently recurred to it, that we are disinclined to continue the controversy, unless compelled to an exer what we conceive to be disingenuous or sophistical argument. We suspend the discussion the more willingly, as we trust that measures are under advisement and means about to be employed that will settle definitively this vexed question.

THE ELECTION.

Since our last, we have received returns from East and West Baton Rouge, the Concordia district and several of the strong locofoco parishes in the Fourth Congressional District. The complexion of these returns is such as to satisfy us beyond reasonable doubt, that the whigs have carried a MAJORITY of the Legislature, but have the result in the Fourth District for Congress yet uncertain—the contest between Bordelon and Morse having evidently been close and severe. There is a gain of some 150 for the whigs in the parishes heard from, and Morse's present majority is 330, with De Soto, Sabine and one or two other locofoco parishes, and the Opelousas and Atakapas counties (w) to be heard from. The whigs look for a heavy gain in the latter parishes, and should they have voted as anticipated, Judge Bordelon is elected. The parishes from which returns have been received are as follows:

	Bordelon.	Morse.
Caddo,	185	155
Natchitoches,	439	458
Rapides,	326	489
Claiborne,	—	189 maj.
	991	1321

The Attakapas and Opelousas parishes can easily give Bordelon from 500 to 800 majority. Whether they have done so, is another matter.

With respect to the Legislature, the whigs have eight Senators certain and the locofocos nine. Locofoco majority one. To the House the whigs have elected one in St. Bernard, seven in Orleans, one in Jefferson, one in St. Charles, one in St. John, two in St. James, one in Ascension, one in Assumption, three in Lafourche Interior, one in West Baton Rouge, one in Point Coupée, one in Livingston, one in East Feliciana, two in Concordia—24 in all. They have likewise probably elected five in St. Landry, two in St. Martin, one in St. Mary and one in Catahoula, and probably one in Caddo—Thirty-one members will give the whigs two majority in the House, and one in joint ballot,—a result which, we think, may be considered certain.

The following are the returns we have received:—

East Baton Rouge—Dr. Scott, Dr. Combs, (since dead) and A. Read, are elected to the Convention, by majorities ranging from 100 to 150 votes. They are locofocos. Messrs. Newport and Morgan, locofocos, re-elected to the Legislature, the first by 54 majority, and the second by 18.

West Baton Rouge—Valmont Hebert, whig, and not locofoco, as some of the papers state, is elected to the House. Mr. McCulop, locofoco, chosen to the Convention, beating our worthy friend Clark, 16 votes.

West Feliciana—Howell and Marks, locofocos, elected to the Legislature. For the Convention the result is not known.

Concordia—Patham and Benjamin, (whigs) elected to the House by a vote of 397 and 339, to 206 and 207 for Collins and Guyer, locofocos, a whig gain of two.—Geo. Mornney, (w) is chosen State Senator by 54 majority. Sellers, (w) is elected as the Senatorial candidate to the Convention, and one whig and one democrat are chosen as delegates to represent the parish in the Convention. Tensas to be heard from, which will increase the whig majority.

Caddo—Porter, (w) is elected to the Convention—Ford, (w) has eleven majority for the House; De Soto to be heard from. Brezeale, locofoco, is elected as the Senatorial delegate to the Convention from the district.

Natchitoches—Taylor, (loco) elected to the House by one majority. Prudhomme, (w) to the Convention by 66 majority.

Rapides—The regular locofoco ticket is chosen—Jackson and Tunnis to the House; Brent and Hymson to the Convention; Hampanzos to the State Senate.—General Walker as the Senatorial candidate.

Ouachita—Rogers, Couvillion and Prescott, (locos) are chosen to the Convention, and Griffin and Rabalais, locofocos, to the House.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—On Monday in the morning of the 4th inst. Capt. Morris was thrown from his horse, and so severely injured that he died by the evening.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF ERRORS AND APPEALS.—P. Soule, Esq. on Saturday, concluded the argument on the appeal for an arrest of judgment in the case of L. C. Hornsby.—The Court will deliver its opinion in the course of a few days.

In the case of Albert Morgan, convicted in the Criminal Court of the First Judicial Dist. for an attempt at rape, and sentenced to eight months imprisonment, the opinion of the Court was delivered, sustaining the judgment of the lower Court.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday about noon, the driver of dray No. 2567, while passing near the West Market, of the First Municipality, ran his dray against a horse, the property of Mr. Delery, and broke one of its legs. A negro boy who was riding the horse at the time, fortunately escaped unhurt.

J. A. FORTENEYE, Locofoco Inspector of the second ward, First Municipality, gave bail on Saturday last, in the Court of Recorder Genoa, for his appearance before the Criminal Court, to answer to the charge of arbitrary, illegal and fraudulent conduct, while acting in his official capacity, at the late election.

JOHN CLAIBORNE, Locofoco Inspector of the First Ward, First Municipality, has entered into bonds in the Court of Recorder Genoa, for his appearance before the Criminal Court, to answer to the charge of arbitrary, illegal and fraudulent conduct, while acting in his official capacity, at the late election.

RECORDER GENOIS' COURT.—On Saturday last, Eliza a slave of Mr. Johnson, was brought before the Recorder, charged with stealing a Gold Lever Watch, No. 11,344, from Mr. Huntington, about a month since. The watch is now in the hands of the Recorder, subject to the order of its owner, who we understand left the city a few days since for New York.

Mary Ann Hart alias Matilda Joyce, charged with stealing fifteen dollars in money, was sent before the Criminal Court for trial.

James Robertson and William Riddle, were sentenced to thirty days confinement in the Workhouse under the vagrant law.

Amelie, a slave of Mlle Perrous, was brought before his Honor, charged with concealing a quantity of stolen money. She was remanded for prison for further examination.

☞ Our readers doubtless remember the frightful narration of the murder of a Miss O'Brien on the Shell Road last Friday, by a man named Bond. Since then, the swamp has been diligently searched, and the body of Bond discovered. The wretched man had added suicide to murder. Three pistol ball wounds were found on his face, one of which had perforated the roof and entered the brain. Bond was a married man; he was passionately enamored of Miss O'Brien, and it is believed, killed her through rage and disappointment, at the rejection of his dishonorable overtures, and then committed suicide to avoid the penalty of his awful crime.

MEXICO.

By the arrival of the schooner Pilot, Capt. Baker, we are put in possession of advices from Vera Cruz to the 21st ult. The principal news of Santanna's death is confirmed. Capt. Pettit, of the ship H. A. Turner, on board of which Santanna's expedition had embarked, was shot together with all composing the expedition.

There were some rumors of a projected attack by the Americans on Upper California. They are, however, promptly and formally contradicted by the official organ of the Government, the Diario del Gobierno, published at Mexico.

The Minister of War and the Navy, has submitted to Congress a progress of law, in which he asked for subsidies to the amount of $1,000,000 and 10,000 men, for the invasion of Texas. He maintains the necessity of the expedition in an elaborate and long reports.

FOR THE WATERING PLACES.—The splendid steamer Patrick Henry, Capt. Dorsey, was late this afternoon towing the Lake end of the New Canal upon the several miles of the Grand Lake barge or raft, and the Railroad upon the arrival of the Grand Lake train of cars.

We understand that two of the companies of U. S. troops which have been stationed at the barracks in this city during the past winter, will embark on board of her, for their summer quarters, on Pass Christian.

THE CANVASS IN MARYLAND is already exceedingly active, although the election comes off early next October. The whigs are making arrangements for successive meetings in every county in the State. They have held a number of meetings generally in Balt. and have been addressed by several members of Congress. PRATT, the whig candidate for Governor, will probably be elected by 5,000 majority.

CONGRESS.—The Hon. Chas. Ogle, Sen. of Congress, has been unanimously nominated for Charles Ogle, Esq., for Congress. The District is now safe doubt. It gave a locofoco majority of 1,700 last October, and a small whig majority at the special election for Congress a few weeks after, when Gen. Clinch was elected.

☞ CLAY.—The National Intelligencer, in allusion to the calumnies so studiously framed and diffused against Mr. Clay, adduces that no serious notice to be taken of such vile and, probably, the best course to be pursued with regard to such shameless false atrocities.—To undertake a great refutation of a false charge, one is obliged to suppose that a sane, cognizant of the facts, will believe it to be true. The libels on Mr. Clay would be lifted up out of the depths of their own infamy by such a supposition. The Intelligencer says:—

Seriously, upon the experience of nearly forty years near and constant observation of the actions and motives of Mr Clay, we take upon ourselves to assure the younger part of our readers, who may not have had equal opportunity of advantage, that the man does not live who can truly allege any thing to impeach in the slightest degree the honor, the integrity, or the patriotism of the distinguished statesman of the great Statesman of the West. He is not to be detailed against such two penny impositions, as have natural only can convert and weak minds only give credit to. Such calumnies unanswered, fall harmless at his feet. He lives and thunders in an element above their level. Heavery countenance belies them:

"For in those lofty lines is plain to read Scorn of base things, a disdain of foul dishonor."

REMORSE APPEAT.—Saturday's Mobile Herald says:—We were told yesterday that a letter has been received in this city from Tuscaloosa, containing information that on the 1st instant a gambler by the name of Verrell, well known in all the principal southern cities and especially in this, as a most desperate and quarrelsome man, was killed by a citizen of Tuscaloosa named Gilmore. The letter informs us that the news states that Verrell travelled from Columbus, Miss., for the express purpose of killing Gilmore, but that the latter hearing of his intention, took the start on Verrell, and succeeded in killing him.

SPEECH OF A WHIG LADY

The following eloquent burst of female patriotism and enthusiasm was addressed by Mrs. LUCY SAWYER, of Clarksville, Ten., on the occasion of presenting a Banner to the Clarksville Clay Club, which had been wrought for them by the fair hands of the ladies of that village. We know not when we have read a more eloquent speech.

Mr. Sawyer's Address.

Gentlemen Whigs! I have the honor—and I deem it no slight one—to present to you this Banner.

The short time allowed to us for its completion, together with our lack of skill, renders it far less perfect than we could wish it, particularly as it is to be borne by such gallant hands, and to so glorious a cause!

Your gentlemen, be it well done or be it ill done, be it in good taste or be it in bad taste, you will all believe that it has the name of CLAY upon it, and that name is amply sufficient to endear it to the heart of every good and true Whig! Yes, though it were the poorest and meanest scrap of bunting that ever fluttered in the breeze, yet, with that honored name inscribed thereon—no good Whig would be ashamed of it!

But, gentlemen, such as it is, please receive it; remembering that our motives, however, can ennoble a bad color; and that on the contrary, a good one needs no such experiments to recommend it to the intelligent and thinking—and we know they are such—we know it well.

We hope, gentlemen, that you will go forward in the discharge of all your duties as citizens; and be found ever ready to sustain, both by word and deed, the principles you have espoused—that you will stack not your zeal, nor neglect any honest means to advance our cause, until, throughout the land, shall be proclaimed the triumph of Whig PRINCIPLES.

Capt. FOSTER, who received the Banner, made an appropriate reply, at the close of which the Banner was unfurled and flung to the breeze, with nine hearty cheers for Clay and Frelinghuysen and the Ladies of Clarksville.

LATER FROM CHINA.—Arrival of Mr. Cushing—The brig Argyle, Captain Cooper, of Baltimore,
