"LIBERTY AND UNION—IT MUST BE PRESERVED."

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 2, 1833.

FOR GOVERNOR:

J. B. DAWSON.

The northern mail failed beyond Montgomery yesterday.

The legislature adjourned, sine die, yesterday. His excellency, the governor, returned the bills incorporating the citizens', mechanics', and commercial banks, with his sanction. As soon as practicable, we shall publish a list of the official acts of the legislature, as a matter of reference.

At the close of the week, we will have the pamphlet form of the journals, ready for delivery.

The following is the result of the elections for commissioners of this city, held yesterday:—1st ward, W. Christy and C. Lee; 2d ward, F. Labranche; 3d ward; Dr. Thomas; 4th ward, E. A. Caston; 5th ward, G. Culbertson; 6th ward, F. A. Caisergis and J. P. Freret; 7th ward, J. Baldwin; 8th ward, Fred. Buisson.

The following is the statement of the votes given in for wardens of the catholic church of St. Louis. The asterisk prefixed to those candidates who have been elected.

Three or four days will pass through the public [illegible] the more than ordinarily [illegible] proceedings and acts of the legislature. After that time, our exertions will be exclusively devoted to the interests and information of our patrons.

The Rosalie.—This extraordinary family, a whole theatre in themselves, who have [illegible] delighting our fellow citizens of the north, will make their debut on the Orleans boards this evening. Their performances, if we judge from encomiums lavishly distributed by the northern papers, will deserve public patronage.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY THE GOVERNOR: [illegible] with the advice and consent of the Senate.

[illegible] Canonge, G. Pastie, G. Strawbridge, E. A. Canon, F. Grima, C. M. Conrad, [illegible] Morgan, H. B. Canas, J. J. Mercier, and J. K. West, directors of the central and primary schools.

John Moore, parish judge of St. Mary.

B. T. Beauregard, senior justice of the peace, for the parish of East Baton Rouge.

J. B. Derbigny, justice of the peace for the parish of St Martin.

W. E. [illegible], justice of the peace for East Feliciana.

J. Perkins, justice of the peace for St. Landry.

S. McCutchen, and A. Sloan, directors of the [illegible] of Louisiana.

John Materre, notary public for the parish of Assumption.

N. D. Waters, and Isaac Griffin, justices of the peace for the parish of Avoyelles.

Miles Taylor, notary public, and [illegible], justice of the peace for Lafourche Interior.

D. C. Delaroche, justice of the peace for Natchitoches.

A. Rieffel, and Coulon Jamonville, weighers of hay for the city of New Orleans.

W. A. Shelden, justice of the peace for Lafourche Interior.

Thomas B. Harper, gauger for New Orleans.

A. Pope, weigher of cotton for New Orleans.

Charles Pottier, justice of the peace for Assumption.

We have been requested to [illegible] that the exhibition of the inhalation of gas, at the corner of Orleans and Bourbon streets, was postponed last night, on account of the unfavorable state of the weather. In order to give all a better opportunity of witnessing the effects of the exhilarating fluid on the animal system; Dr. Coult has thought fit to reduce the admittance to the moderate price of fifty cents. The rooms will be ready for exhibition this evening.

Case of Samuel Gwinn.—On the faith of the Intelligencer, we had stated that this nominee had been rejected for the third time by the senate. It is said, on the last night of the late session of congress, the senate rescinded the resolution [illegible] previous session, making it unnecessary qualification in appointments, in which the concurrence of the senate is required, that the person appointed should be a citizen of the state in which the office is held. After yielding this point, they thus acknowledging that the senate had no right [illegible] the president, in reference to the manner [illegible] should exercise the nominating power; Samuel Gwinn's appointment to be register of a land office in Mississippi, was confirmed by an almost unanimous vote. In this, the president has obtained a triumph—a double triumph, we could say. He has vindicated the character of his [illegible] who had resisted the encroachments of the senate on the constitutional power of the executive. This has been a bare session to senator Poindexter. All his abandonment of principles and profligacy of politics, have not been [illegible] longer to pervert the good sense of the senate. Poindexter was the original author of [illegible] some two years ago, which excluded Mr. [illegible] nomination.

Human ingenuity is making daily discoveries. An article of domestic use, under the name of German silver, has recently been introduced in England and France, in the manufacture of spoons, tea urns, fish [illegible], and sugar dish a. From its comparative [illegible] and perfect durability, it is for many purposes [illegible] both to silver and gold.

Mr. Audubon.—A resolve for the purchase of a copy of the great work of this eminent ornithologist, was yesterday reported to the Senate by the Committee on the library, and we presume there can be no doubt, that it will be readily adopted by both branches of our Legislature.—There seems to us to be an obligation resting on all public bodies to forward the execution of an enterprise which will do much to advance the fame of our country. It was the remark of Baron Cuvier, when examining the petitions of the work which are already completed, that Europe had been entirely vanquished by the [illegible] in this department of science, and it may certainly be regarded as a peaceful victory, [illegible] than those of war, that one of our countrymen, actuated by a fervid enthusiasm for his delightful pursuit, and in full possession of the talent and skill which it requires, though with little of that encouragement which is derived from a kindred taste in others, should have executed a work, entirely unparalleled in the same department for accuracy, extent and beauty.
