SELTZER APERIENT.

"TARRANT'S APERIENT combines in the highest term the preparation known as "Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient." Could the numerous flattering testimonials which he successful and valuable medicinal powers have elicited from the most distinguished Physicians, now be here submitted for inspection or would the columns of a newspaper permit their insertion, pamphlets of no ordinary UNDESIRABLE AND UNMERCHANABLE would be exhibited, to satisfy the incredulous and astonish the doubt of even the most sceptical, and would stand forth with the weight of the most unbiased evidence, (as in truth it) the most agreeable, refreshing and efficient medicine ever offered for the cure of those diseases which are engendered under the heat of a tropical climate. Let the Medical Physicians, the Aperient has entirely supersed the drastic purgatives, and proved its superior medicinal properties—its mild though sure effect upon the system—its agreeable flavor and the certainty of its positive preservation from dampness and decay and quickness with which the Seltzer Aperient may be prepared—its delightful effervescence and gentle action upon the bowels are qualities which likewise claim for it a strong privilege and must ensure it in its favor the friendship and patronage of all who have experienced the benefits opportunity of this deservedly celebrated Aperient. The unanimity with which medical men join in its praise, is a sure guarantee that it is deserving of the characteristics they given it in the numerous testimonials received by the proprietor.
Its success in Bilious Affections, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Heartburn, Febrile Disorders, Gout, Acidity of the Stomach, &c., and all the numerous ailments caused by the sudden change of temperature, so usual in warm latitudes, has been so great, that it has been highly recommend d, and has in consequence become the most popular and the most satisfactory remedy hitherto invariably followed. In a rapid state of the fever, the action upon the system has been so beneficial that its manufacture has been tendered by
