Hiles Taylor, Esq.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

I have shown that the candidate of the foreign party for Congress and his organs have fully endorsed the Nebraska bill. I have also shown that that bill contains a clause which allows aliens immediately on their arrival in the territories covered by it—to be let loose for a day—to vote and to exercise, and enjoy all the privileges and rights appertaining to a native-born citizen. In brief, that a pauper or a criminal just arrived from Europe, can vote for members of the Territorial Legislature and delegates in Congress, and is eligible himself to a seat in the halls of legislation. This is the bill, deformed and disfigured with such a principle of despotism and so perilous to the rights of the South, that we are challenged to a union as a master-piece of statesmanship and political wisdom, and which is to restore the political equality of the South, that was annihilated by the Missouri Compromise.

It has, independently of this infamous principle, been seen that the bill was a perfect abstraction of no practical merit to the South, and was so declared and considered by its peculiar friends, but taken as it passed and at present stands, on the national statute-book, it is a moment disguised under a drapery of flowers. We asked for bread, and they gave us a stone; we asked for meat, and they gave us a serpent; we asked for a garment to protect us against the pelting of the pitiless storm, and they left us naked and defenceless to the assaults of Northern Fanaticism and foreign enemy and Jacobinism.

But to expose a little more the operations of this "ALIEN CLAUSE" to the indignation of the voters of the district of Mr. Taylor, let us look a little further into our national statistics and contemplate the results that will flow thence, and I believe that no true hearted Southern man can fail to award to the able, eloquent and patriotic Hiles, the meed of merited praise for his opposition to it.

If the ratio of immigration to this country should continue the same, during the decade from 1850 to 1860, as it was during the corresponding period from 1840 to 1850, the aggregate amount of aliens which will be thrown upon us will be about four millions. Of this, a very large proportion are beggars, paupers and criminals, when they arrive, or will become so after a short residence. The foreigners occasion to the country, in public charities, half of their expenses, and to the public prisons and almshouses more than one half—and to our criminal tribunals a similar expenditure.

Now, as soon as the Territories have acquired a population of sixty thousand inhabitants, they have a constitutional right to organize State governments and be admitted into the Union. And by the statute of Congress, land to actual settlers, including aliens, without the payment of a cent. By the census of 1851, it appears that the foreigners who landed in great deal more than sufficient to have formed two States equal to Louisiana, which would give them the right to eight Representatives and four Senators, who could wield double the amount of political power in the U. S. Congress than our own States. These five hundred thousand foreigners unnaturalized, ignorant and just released from the yoke of tyranny despotism, could, a simple location in the territory of the United States, which Congress has given to them, exercise a greater political influence than the enlightened citizens of Louisiana.

Again, if the same ratio of increase would continue during the current decennial census, that is, from 1850 to 1860, we will have 4,000,000 of aliens, and whenever sixty thousand have established themselves on any part of these Territories, they can organize representative institutions and enter into the Union. These 4,000,000 of aliens could settle and organize eighty States equal to Florida, which would give to these foreign paupers and pilgrims of the Lower House—32 States equal to Rhode Island—16 equal to Louisiana—8 equal to Maryland, North and South Carolina, Ohio, Michigan, Mississippi, and so on. These States, let it be borne in mind, would be settled by aliens of all castes, nationalities, political characters, unacquainted well-nigh with our Territories bought by the blood and treasures of the Republic, which Congress offers to them as a gratuitous gift, and allows them to serve as a bulwark against our admission into the Union. In one year, now, ten new States could be filled up by the aliens who have arrived in 1850, and will arrive during the ensuing twelve months, and this would give 10 members and 20 Senators in Congress to aliens.

What, then, would become of the political power of this State, and of the personal property of her freemen? Their rights would be crushed up and suppressed; the European mendicant or felon could come up to the ballot box by the side of a planter of five hundred slaves, who pays taxes on the amount of $20,000 a year, and neutralize his vote. The ignorance, without a knowledge of God or the alphabet, can neutralize the vote of the wealthy man in the district. They could impose the duty on sugar and destroy the great staple of the State. They might repeal the fugitive slave law and shelter the felon at the mercy of the Northern robber. They might alter the federal constitution and abolish the federal principle of five slaves being equal to five legal representatives in Congress. This again would deprive the South of more than one-half of her federal power. After they have saved the sacrifices of eight to which Heaven in its inscrutable wisdom has confined them. Such a tribe of politicians and opportunists should be treated with that degree of contempt which they merit. In mental power, parliamentary eloquence, political literature, wisdom in counsel, and all the high branches of statesmanship, he soars far above Mr. Taylor as the eagle does the humble sparrow.

JEFFERSON.

A RIGHT JOKE.—A gentleman played off a rich joke on his better-half the other day. Being somewhat of an epicure, he took it into his head that he should like to have a first rate dinner. She addressed her a note, politely inclosing her cost "a gentleman of her acquaintance, an old and true friend, would dine with her that day." As soon as she received it, all hands went to work to get everything in order. Precisely at twelve o'clock she was prepared to receive her guest. The house was all clean as a new pin—a sumptuous dinner was on the table, and she was arrayed in her best attire. A gentle knock was heard, and she started with a palpitating heart to the door. She thought he must be an old friend—perhaps a brother—from the place whence they hailed. On opening the door, she saw her husband with a smiling countenance.

"Why, my dear," said she in an anxious tone, "where is the gentleman of whom you spoke in your note?"

"You said a gentleman of my acquaintance—an old and tried friend, would dine with us to-day.

"Well," said he, good-humoredly, "am I not a gentleman of your acquaintance, an old and tried friend?"

"Oh!" she cried, distressingly, "is there nobody but you?"

"No."

"Well, I declare, this is too bad," said his wife, in an angry pout.

The husband laughed immoderately—his better half said she felt like giving him a tongue-lashing, but finally they sat down cozily together, and for once he had a good dinner without buying company.

RIVER INTELLIGENCE.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 9.—The river is rising slowly, with six feet two inches water in the canal. The steamer A. L. Shotwell arrived yesterday from New Orleans.

TEXAS.

By the arrival of the steamer Peacevenus we have received our files of Texas papers to the 6th inst.

Galveston continues healthy. During the past week there had been but one death from yellow fever.

The mail from El Paso arrived at San Antonio on the 22d. No Indians were seen on the route. All was tranquil at El Paso.

CORN.—The short staple cotton in Gonzales county is reported to have suffered a good deal from the rot. The Sea Island is doing well.

The Matagorda Chronicle of the 22d ult., says: the planter's work was active, the weather having improved. The late cotton was suffering from the ravage of the worm.

The Victoria Advocate complains of excessive wet weather in that county, and says the worms are doing considerable damage to the cotton.

The Columbia Democrat learns that on several plantations a considerable portion of the cotton crop has been destroyed by worms. On others not a single worm has been seen, planters are picking as fast as possible, and altogether the yield will be much better than expected some weeks ago.

The rusty crop looks finely. The product of Brazoria county is set down at 6000 to 8000 hogsheads.

SNOOTING.—A short time ago, Dr. D. C. Bellows shot Mr. Lackie, of Lavaca county, with a rifle, the ball penetrating Mr. L.'s stomach and passing out at his back. We learn from a late number of the Gonzales Inquirer that Mr. Lackie is slowly recovering. Dr. Bellows has been held to bail, to answer for the offense.

A W. O'Connell, who killed John Vasile, at Lavaca, about a year ago, has been tried and found guilty of murder in the first degree.—O'Connell is an Irishman by birth, and was once pardoned out of the penitentiary, where he had been committed for a murderous assault. He is reported to have shown the utmost indifference during the trial.

LUCRIFIS SCARCE.—The Victoria Advocate says there is not a pound of flour, rice or sugar in the town, and then adds in a P. S.:

Since writing the above, a fast ox-team has arrived in ten days from Indianola.

INDIAN MURDER.—The Western Texan states that a man named Voniler was killed, a few nights since, near San Francisco, in Medina county, six miles from Castroville, by Indians. He had gone out near his house to attend to his horses and was shot through the body with two arrows. He fired two shots at the Indians and fell dead. The same paper gives the following account of another tragic affair:

Mr. R. N. Davis, a citizen of Medina county, had just returned to his home from Castroville with his team, when his three daughters, one sixteen another thirteen, and another eleven years old, left the house to go to the spring for water, some three hundred yards distant. A few moments after they had passed down the bluff where the spring is, Mr. Davis heard a shot, scream, and he and his wife seized guns and rushed to their assistance.

Before they reached the spring, their eldest daughter came running towards them, pursued by four Indians, shooting arrows and guns at her. The parents rushed between their daughter and the Indians, who were reaching to get hold of her, and succeeded in getting them off. They immediately went to find the other two daughters, when one came running towards them; although she was mortally wounded by the Indians, and considered it almost impossible for her to escape, being shot by them, yet she did. It was the youngest daughter, who, in the dead night of this savages, had secreted herself under the bank, and thus saved her life. They found the second daughter, she had been shot through the body with an arrow, and, after running a few yards, fell dead.

Mr. Davis fortified his family in the house to the best advantage; but, if the Indians, they would have been killed, had not Messrs. Davidson and Stanford come to their assistance at this moment. The Indians that were seen hovering around the spring during the time were thirteen in number, and continued skulking about until next day.

The families in this neighborhood have collected together for safety. They would escape if they could, but the Indians have stolen all their horses, and they are not confident to leave on foot. The citizens have sent a petition to Gen. Smith, and also to Gov. Pease.

MURDER AT CORPUS CHRISTI.—A man named George Woodford, says the Nueces Valley, was stabbed on the 20th ult., and the same night his brains was blown out by a pistol or rifle shot, fired through a window, near which he was lying, wounded.

He murdered, it is said to have been a desperado, of the most desperate kind. It is not known who fired the first shot.

SUICIDE.—The Matagorda Chronicle says that Judge J. W. Hemphill, of Austin, shot himself on the 18th ult. The Chronicle had previously heard a report that Judge Lamar had shown symptoms of mental aberration. The deceased was a native of South Carolina, but was educated in Alabama, and resided in Texas since 1838.

MURDER AT NEW BRAUNFELS.—The San Antonio Ledger learns that a citizen of New Braunfels was recently murdered in his bed by his own wife—his daughter and son-in-law, it is supposed, assenting.

The deceased had been twelve years a citizen of Texas. The horrible crime caused an unusual degree of excitement.

INDIANOLA.—The health of Indianola continues to be very good. The Bulletin says not more than five deaths have occurred within the last nine months. The population is about 3500 souls.

About 1500 bales of new cotton have been received at Indianola and Lavaca. The receipts this year at those ports, will be much larger than those of last year.

Outrage and Murder by a Negro near Sparta, Tenn.—The Indians Scalped!

A private letter from a young gentleman in Sparta to his father in this city, gives an account of one of the most diabolical outrages upon a white woman and her subsequent murder, both perpetrated by a negro, which has ever fell within our knowledge, or darkened the annals of crime, and also contains the particulars of the summary manner in which an excited and resolute populace wreaked a just revenge, and visited a terrible retribution upon the miserable wretch for his fiendish misdeeds. The information in relation to the tragedy, which has been kindly furnished us, we give below.

Some three weeks since a vicious and unruly negro met a Mrs. Lowell at some distance from any house, and alone, going upon some errand to the house of a neighbor. As was learned from his own confession afterwards, he seized her, when a desperate struggle ensued, she in the meantime screaming for help. Unable long to maintain the unequal contest against her powerful adversary, she begged and prayed him to release her. She plead in vain, and, after twice violating her person, he crushed her head with a rock, killing her instantly. After committing the hellish deed, he went to a field on the plantation on which he worked, telling the overseer that he should not go to dinner as that he wanted them to bring it to him. They discovered from his clothes that he had been engaged in some bloody work, and learning at the house that Mrs. Lowell had been murdered, the news having quickly spread over the country, the negroes informed their master that the negro in the field was doubtless the murderer. His dinner was sent out by the master, who gained the locality shortly after, and at a sign given, the three spring upon the murderer who, after a hard struggle, was overpowered and secured. He was taken northward and lodged in jail. It was with some difficulty that the officers of that place and vicinity were restrained from taking him out and lynching him. He was put upon trial, however, without being tried with violence, but the excitement soon reached such a pitch that the judge remanded him back to jail under a strong guard, fearing that the crowd would rush upon and lynch him.

A crowd of more than 300 men soon collected about the jail, cut out the door, took him out to the grave-yard, where he confessed his crimes. He was allowed some time to prepare for death and had the benefit of spiritual advice from a clergyman, after which he was hung upon the limb of a tree.

Although this legal mode of punishing crime is deplorable, under circumstances so aggravating in their character, it is in some degree satisfactory, and it should reach the lesson to the race to which this miscreant belonged, as well as others, that such devilish deeds are certain of visiting upon the heads of the perpetrators a sure and terrible vengeance.

☞ The Pensacola Gazette has the following in reference to the late election:

The election for Sheriff and other officers on 30 ninety best was conducted in the most orderly, quiet and sober manner imaginable, both in the city and at Warrington, by the Navy Yard.—This is a surprise to those predictators who so confidently said to all the lovers of law and order generally, especially at this Navy Yard, for them sets employed within that arsenal have concentrating and turbulent spirits, many whom some disturbance was anticipated.

Joseph C. Crosby, Esq., was elected Sheriff, Capt. C. N. Jordan, Judge of Probate, F. E. D. LaRue, Clerk of the Circuit Court.

The above gentlemen were re-elected we should have said, for they have ably performed the duties of the offices which they now hold to a considerable length of time.

THE COUNCIL.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—This body met last evening at six o'clock, Alderman Logenbach in the chair.

The Mayor sent in a message vetoing the resolution of the Council, which provides that when any of the public departments, except the police and fire department, become vacant, the vacancy shall become permanent. The chief reason the Mayor gives for his veto, was that our police force already too small to properly protect the interests of the city. Mr. Degnil warmly supported the Mayor's veto, and denounced the resolution as being, in his opinion, had its origin in party spirit. This provoked spirited replies from Messrs. Culbertson and Du ra, and a warm debate ensue. The resolutions in Core have been sustained by 100 votes, requiring 200 nay, at 6¾c, and 200 out, at 7 1-16c; 9 bought.

The Mayor announced the resignation of F. Connor, elected director of the First District.

The Mayor also announced that he had issued an order to the city policemen of the city, to appear by the 1st of November in officer's dress, consisting of a blue frock coat with standing collar and brass buttons, and a leather cap, to be provided with the ordinance of the Council, passed some time since. He announced that he awaited the action of the Council upon the matter of providing a special uniform.

The Board of Assistant Aldermen announced that it has refused to approve of the action of the Board of Aldermen of the 8th section of the city wharves, on account of his not having furnished satisfactory security. The Board has concurred, and also concurred with the Assistants in authorizing the Comptroller to resell at auction the delinquent property.

The Board concurred with the other Board in amending the contract of L. S. Chandler for supply of the city with stationery, and also in authorizing the Comptroller to resell at auction.

Communications were granted, with a resolution authorizing the Comptroller to sell at auction the contract for cleaning and keeping in repair streets in the 10th Ward, the Delaire.

Mr. Cash's resolution relative to forming out the public house terrace, came up from the other Board, and was referred to the Finance Committee.

A resolution to place the hose of the steam fire engine under the charge of Lou-lans Hose Company came up from the Lower Board and was laid on the table.

The resolution from the other Board, to place the steam fire engine under the charge of the Exempt Firemen, was referred to the Committee on Fire.

A petition from the House Judge R. Robertson, of the First District Court of this city, calling attention to the miserable condition of said Court, and requesting an appropriation to remedy its condition. The petition was disposed very summarily, we thought, for it was referred to the Judiciary Committee, the Aldermen not even condescending to hear it read beforehand. However, two other petitions, one from a person who is struggling to be allowed to keep a cigar shop free of license on account of old age and debility, and another from the keeper of a bakery, requesting the Council not to allow an old shed attached to his establishment to be torn down for contractors' use, on ordinance of the Council were read immediately after, and ten minutes spent in hearing and discussing them.

BOARD OF ASSISTANT ALDERMEN.—This Board met last evening, pursuant to adjournment. Nine town in attendance and Geo. Cole in the chair. The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, after which the Board adjourned, without doing any more business of importance.

ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER

THESE instruments, invented by Dr. Dent, are so superior to any other for supporting the body, and so much more comfortable to the wearer as essential to health, vigor and good appearance, that no lady who has worn them will ever dispense with them. The chief reason the Mayor Lewis gave for his veto, was that our police force already too small to properly protect the interests of the city. Mr. Degnil warmly supported the Mayor's veto, and denounced the resolution as being, in his opinion, had its origin in party spirit. This provoked spirited replies from Messrs. Culbertson and Du ra, and a warm debate ensue. The resolutions in Core have been sustained by 100 votes, requiring 200 nay, at 6¾c, and 200 out, at 7 1-16c; 9 bought.

The Mayor announced the resignation of F. Connor, elected director of the First District.

The Mayor also announced that he had issued an order to the city policemen of the city, to appear by the 1st of November in officer's dress, consisting of a blue frock coat with standing collar and brass buttons, and a leather cap, to be provided with the ordinance of the Council, passed some time since. He announced that he awaited the action of the Council upon the matter of providing a special uniform.

The Board of Assistant Aldermen announced that it has refused to approve of the action of the Board of Aldermen of the 8th section of the city wharves, on account of his not having furnished satisfactory security. The Board has concurred, and also concurred with the Assistants in authorizing the Comptroller to resell at auction the delinquent property.

The Board concurred with the other Board in amending the contract of L. S. Chandler for supply of the city with stationery, and also in authorizing the Comptroller to resell at auction.

Communications were granted, with a resolution authorizing the Comptroller to sell at auction the contract for cleaning and keeping in repair streets in the 10th Ward, the Delaire.

Mr. Cash's resolution relative to forming out the public house terrace, came up from the other Board, and was referred to the Finance Committee.

A resolution to place the hose of the steam fire engine under the charge of Lou-lans Hose Company came up from the Lower Board and was laid on the table.

The resolution from the other Board, to place the steam fire engine under the charge of the Exempt Firemen, was referred to the Committee on Fire.

A petition from the House Judge R. Robertson, of the First District Court of this city, calling attention to the miserable condition of said Court, and requesting an appropriation to remedy its condition. The petition was disposed very summarily, we thought, for it was referred to the Judiciary Committee, the Aldermen not even condescending to hear it read beforehand. However, two other petitions, one from a person who is struggling to be allowed to keep a cigar shop free of license on account of old age and debility, and another from the keeper of a bakery, requesting the Council not to allow an old shed attached to his establishment to be torn down for contractors' use, on ordinance of the Council were read immediately after, and ten minutes spent in hearing and discussing them.

BOARD OF ASSISTANT ALDERMEN.—This Board met last evening, pursuant to adjournment. Nine town in attendance and Geo. Cole in the chair. The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, after which the Board adjourned, without doing any more business of importance.
