A paragraph is going the rounds respecting the death by yellow fever of several hundred emigrants who, having arrived in the worst period of the disease, and been offered the means of leaving the city, refused to do so because they could earn three dollars a day in New Orleans, and ultimately fell victims to the epidemic. This affair happened two years ago, and is incorrectly stated as having occurred during the late epidemic.

The Cane in Terrebonne and Lafourche has been greatly injured by the frost. It is thought that the crop will be diminished by the ... 20,000 hhds.

Sugar.—In this part of the State the crop will yield but very little. We were told by a planter of St. Mary, a few days ago, that 100 acres of cane had given only thirty ... hogsheads of sugar.

As for the cotton crop it will be much better than it was at first expected.—St. Martinsville Creole.

On Thursday morning last, the negro man Harry, then in jail, informed Mr Martin, the jailor, that a block of stone, about 3 or 4 feet in length was nearly loose, and that the four condemned criminals, intended to try and make their escape that night, and that Williams, before he was removed from the cell, in which they were confined had showed them the place, which he had been to work, and had succeeded in removing nearly all the mortar around the same, and had placed pieces of paper in the cracks, and hung a shirt over it; upon examination, this was found to be correct, and nothing but the iron bolt through each block prevented their escape. Isaac and Harry have since been removed to the upper part of the jail. This Mr. Williams, or Pumpkin, as he chose to term himself, should be taken immediately to Baton Rouge penitentiary, and there set to sawing, for the purpose of gratifying the great propensity he has for this kind of amusement.—Franklin Republican.

Jamaica.—By the arrival of the schooner Cora, from Kingston, information has been received from Jamaica to the 26th ult.

The Colonial Legislature was in session, but had so far transacted nothing of importance.

The Kingston papers of the 25th ult., mention that a party consisting of four Englishmen and an inhabitant of Bluefield on the Mosquito shore, had been arrested at a frontier town of Central America, and carried off into the interior. The party were making amicable arrangements with the authorities for exploring the Bluefield river, and examining its fitness for a route of ... intercourse with Spanish America, when news was brought that Col. McDonald, the British envoy at Belize, had proclaimed freedom to the slaves at San Juan de Nicaragua. This occurrence, coupled with the imprisonment of the commandant at Belize, Manuel Quigano, had produced great excitement, and was followed by the seizure of the English party at Bluefields. The Kingston papers comment very freely on this outrage on the government of Central America, and blame Col. McDonald sharply.

Farm Burnings.—New York papers contain news from Bermuda to the 23d ult. A hurricane swept over the island on the 21st, unroofing houses, throwing down trees and injuring the plants throughout the island. The shipping in the harbor sustained no damage, but the brigantine Charles Heseltine, of New York, lost her deck-load of cattle.

Mississippi.—Returns from thirty-six counties exhibit the following votes: Shattuck (whig) 8671. Tucker (loco foco) 9251. The anti bond paying ticket is undoubtedly elected. Governor, members of Congress and the Legislature will be locofoco. The Vicksburg Whig says: "The state has gone to the devil heels foremost, and we cannot how large the majority against us may be—we would as soon see it ten thousand as any thing else." We think from the aspect of returns it will be about 1600 or 2000. It is not worth while giving the returns in full, as many of them are only reported, and are differently stated in the papers.

DREADFUL CONFLAGRATION! TWO SQUARES BURNT, AND ABOUT THIRTY HOUSES DESTROYED.

We stop the press to announce the most destructive fire that has ever occurred in this city. It was discovered about 11 o'clock last night in the kitchen of ... on Main street, from which the flames spread with frightful rapidity, destroying in their course two entire squares on each side of Main from Cherry to Locust ... The wind was blowing a perfect gale and the ... of our gallant firemen were of but little avail, ... all was done that strong arms and stout hearts could do to stay the progress of the destroying element.

At this late hour, wearied and worn down as we are, we cannot pretend to state the amount of the loss, but it must be immense. We are unable to give the names of all the sufferers. The principal losers, however, must be W H Hunt ... and the Messrs. Vough of the Union Hotel.—Vicksburg Whig, 10th inst.

Riot at New Haven.—The students in New Haven have had a riot with the fire department of that city, and destroyed a beautiful engine called the "Washington." The city watch attempted to interfere but were beaten off with brickbats. They were at last dispersed by the ... The origin of the quarrel was an attempt ... to lay the hose across a green on which the students were engaged playing ball.

William Jeffreys accused of being a principal in the ... killing Thomas Taws in September ... Bayou ... in Attakapas, was tried at the October term of the court and found not guilty. Farmer, a white indicted for the same offence, has been found guilty.

New Jersey.—That sturdy republican an undismayed vindicator of the Broad Seal of the State, Wm. Pennington, has been again elected Governor of New Jersey, by a vote of 41 to 30. We rejoice at this result beyond expression.

Loss of the Steamer Bunker Hill.—The steamboat Bunker Hill Capt. Huntington, belonging to the Connecticut River Steamboat Co., on her passage from New York to Hartford, ran ashore on the 1st inst., ... breaking her boilers, and injuring her hull. The passengers and freight were landed in safety and the machinery will be saved. Loss $20,000. No insurance.

Significant.—The Madisonian copies so much of General Jackson's late letter as contains praise on Mr. Tyler for vetoing the bank bills. So we go.

The Mobile Register has changed hands, having been transferred by Mr. Forsyth to Mr. Sanford, the original proprietor, on whose account it will hereafter be conducted.

LATE AND IMPORTANT FROM FLORIDA.

Savannah, November 6, 1841.

We hasten to lay before our readers, our last letters from our friends in Florida, received yesterday by the arrival of the U. S. steamer, Gen. Taylor, Capt. Peck. It will be seen that a prospect of a close of the war is more and more encouraging. The league of the Everglades is now fairly broken up. The chief malignant now abroad is ... who will stand a fair chance of either being killed ... The distant friends of ... will receive this news with ... We ... to record, together with such ... the death, at St. Augustine, on the ... of Pr. W... of the U. S. A.

Correspondence of the Savannah Republican.

Florida, November 3, 1841.

Gentlemen.—We have good news from the West side of the Peninsula. The Chief of the Tallahassees has at last come into Tampa with ... On that same day, 29th ult., arrived the U. S. schooner Flirt, from Caloosahatchie, with a Chief and 23 of his people ... from the South. Rumor says Sam Jones and the Chiefs of the Everglades have quarreled, and left Sam to himself ... 27 warriors. Two important Chiefs ... hard to come in, and no doubt but they ... On the 19th ult. there was a ... gale at Punta Rosa, that swept over every thing ... the store houses at that place. It was with difficulty that the officers and soldiers saved themselves. The steamer ... belonging to Savannah was driven high and dry into the middle of the camp. She is not injured, and will be got afloat without damage. Yours, in haste.

The Lynchburg Virginian thus speaks of Mr. Tyler's position:—

President Tyler has not undertaken "per se" to define his exact position, but it is not less manifest that it will soon be incumbent upon him to do so, for he is at present supposed to be feeling the public pulse, through the agency of some most "miraculous organs," whose ambiguous and contradictory declarations, if they speak by authority, would render it impossible otherwise to conjecture under what flag he fights, whether under the ... or the motley emblem of Locofocoism.

These "organs" are the Madisonian, in Washington, and the Enquirer, in Richmond. The former, as well in its editorial as communicated articles, labors assiduously to produce the impression that Mr Tyler is "every inch a Whig," ... to carry out the principles and policy of the party which elevated him to power, and differing from the great body of his friends only upon the bank question, and upon that question differing from them with inexpressible pain. The latter though occasionally hinting doubt of Mr. Tyler's entire conformity to the locofoco creed, yet ever and anon asserts, "upon indubitable authority" that this and that cherished hope of the whig ... will be realized; that Mr. Tyler will administer the Government upon Republican (meaning of course, locofoco principles) that there will be but few of the old office removed; and that no friend of Mr Clay (who is Mordecai the Jew, sitting in the King's gate, the envy and the terror of our modern Hamans) will receive any of the crumbs of patronage which fall from his table, although he ought to remember that the friends of Mr. Clay put it into the power of Mr. Tyler to dispense this very patronage! In one word, the ... presents Mr. Tyler as a Whig; the Enquirer upon ... authority" too, as a Locofoco! Like the ... upon the cross-road, which led to such a fierce dispute between the two chivalrous knights, whether it was gold or silver, the President presents two faces to the nation; turning the whig side to his old supporters, and the locofoco side to his new adherents. There have been occasional instances in which men have profited for a time by this double-dealing policy; but they have always lost by it in the end, and when they fall they fall like Lucifer, never to rise again." Mr. Tyler will not be an exception to this rule. And he cannot long continue his game. He will be compelled soon ... the touchstone "moral courage" which he evinced in vetoing the Bank Bills was not rather the spasmodic effort of a timid mind swayed by loftier intellects and sterner wills, before which he bowed as does the willow to the storm ... He can not ... "dust and ... a genuine whig who ... from that party with honest purpose, ... to redeem his implied obligations, which are not ... integrity, less binding than if they were ... signed and sealed; or a locofoco ... who wore the livery of the whigs to deceive and destroy them.

The Misers; or the Convicts of Lisnamona, by William Carleton, Carey & Hart, publishers. Messrs. Norman, Steel & Co have sent us a copy of this novel. It is a reprint of a series of articles in the Dublin University Magazine, which met with extraordinary success. The story is woven out of a web of truth, and narrated with great pathos and occasionally much power. Mr. Carleton is well known for his vivid delineation of the Irish character, not only in its broad and coarse outlines, but in its fine and more delicate traits. This story will add to his reputation. In interest, graphic portraiture of character and passion, and nice strokes of art, it is inferior to few or none of its predecessors.

... Gunn has sent us a fresh batch of novelties. Among them we note Nos. 18, 19 and 20 of the cheap edition of the Waverly novels—containing Redgauntlet, The Betrothed, The Talisman, and Woodstock, Nos. 18, 19 and 20 of Thiers' History of the French Revolution; Nos. 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 of the Tragedy of the Seas. We have besides the 1st and 2d Nos. of the People's Library, containing the Ancient Regime, and the opening chapters of Harry Lorrequer; the Young People's Book, of which the last number is splendid, being filled with memorials of the Father of his Country; and the Noteman ... No. of Graham's Magazine.—The embossed and colored plate of the city of Boston in the latter, is worth a year's subscription.

We are requested to call the attention of the amateurs of fine literary works, to the sale of books to take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at Mr. Anthony Fernandez's auction store, corner St. Louis and Chartres streets.

DIED—Yesterday afternoon, at the age of 24 years, Mrs. Caroline Clement born Jourdan. The friends and acquaintances of her father, Mr. Noel Jourdan and John Davis and those of the family, are invited to attend the funeral which takes place this evening at 4 o'clock. The funeral will depart from Mr. Noel Jourdan's dwelling, Burgundy street, between St. Louis and Conti sts.
