INSECT TENT.

A NEWLY invented article called an insect tent is now offered to the public at No. 46 St. Charles street opposite the Exchange Hotel, of such an elegant and novel form and construction, and so light, portable and comfortable, that it must meet with universal approbation.

As a complete protection against annoyance from all winged insects, without causing the least incumbrance in repose, this tent is all that the most fastidious could possibly desire. It will give to the inhabitants of warm climates a comfort and luxury never before approached by any other muspitin device. The tent is suspended from the ceiling of the room; limbo of a tree, or any other thing to which it may be desirable to fasten, and may be raised or lowered at pleasure, it is so contrived that it may be instantly folded up into a bundle of light weight and small size and run up to the ceiling and be as much out of the way as a suspended lamp or chandelier would be, and it may be as quickly unfolded and prepared for use. The time required to form the tent or to put it out of the way will not require more than one minute. It will be an ornament to a room instead of an unsightly incumbrance, and is so simple in its construction that it cannot get out of order. It is intended to be used for sitting, reading, writing, dining and sleeping under, and to be used in dwellings, counting houses and offices, and may be used by travellers, sportsmen or parties of pleasure, in the woods. Ladies will never know the comforts that may be had in sleeping in this warm mosquito country until they try one of these newly invented tents. They may be made of any required dimensions and of any desired colors, at an trifling cost. There now is under a hexagonal, of 6 square and 5 feet 6 inches in diameter, 10 feet 6 inches high, and when folded up will make a bundle of 4 feet 8 inches long and 8 or 10 inches in all sizes. The cost of one is only $20.

The ladies should examine this new tent, especially as it will afford them many comforts heretofore denied them on account of the inconvenience of the ordinary mode of protection against insects. The new insect tent is really one of the most useful and comfortable conveniences of the day and must soon be used by every family either in the cities or in the country.

The above description of the insect tent may appear extravagant and calculated to give a false estimate and colouring to the matter as is too often the case with notices and advertisements of new things, but the public may be assured that no such attempt has been made in this article, of which people will be convinced by calling at 46 St. Charles street.

LIFE INSURANCE.

OCEAN INSURANCE COMPANY.—The absence of any institution in this city for insuring lives, and the extraordinary agent rates of premium demanded by the northern and European companies for granting life policies to persons residing in Louisiana, have determined the Board of Directors of the Ocean Company to put into operation the right their charter which authorizes insurance upon lives, on a scale of premiums which will enable every one who is in receipt of a moderate annual income to secure for those who are dependent on them a comfortable provision in the event of their death.

The scale determined on is, as nearly as possible, the average of the rates charged by the Northern and European companies in England, in addition which no allowance being made for difference of climate, and by this scale the annual premium of twenty dollars paid by a person 25 years old will secure the payment of one thousand dollars to his assigns should he die within the year—an annual premium of one hundred dollars will secure the thousand dollars—and so on in proportion for any larger amount.

The Company will issue policies for any term from one to seven years, and the premium can be paid quarterly, half yearly or yearly.

Any further information that may be required will be furnished on application to the office No. 45 Camp street, corner of Gravier street.

By order of the Board.

CHS BRIGGS Secretary.

GALT HOUSE.

Cincinnati, corner Main and Sixth streets.

THIS location of this house being central, half way between the river and canal, and only in the highest level upon Main street, and convenient to all the business, together with the late additions and improvements makes it now the most desirable hotel in the city for merchants and travellers in general. Fare not surpassed by any hotel in the city—bills moderate, suitable to the times. Feeling grateful for past favors, I hope by strict attention to the comfort of all who may call to merit a continuance of public favor as liberally bestowed.

N. B.—A brick stable is attached to the house, and good hostlers in attendance.

Baggage taken to and from the river and canal free of charge when called for.
