SANCTIONED AND PATRONIZED BY THE MOST EMINENT OF THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

"By merely pouring water on a ten-spoonful of this Aperient, a cooling and grateful effervescing beverage is obtained, resembling Bedfordshire Water in the taste, and imparting to the constitution all the benefits of the celebrated Seltzer Waters of Germany."

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT

SELTZER APERIENT.

"Of all prescriptions made up with a view to alterative effect, none can be compared with Mineral Waters."—JOHN BELL, M. D., F. R. S.

"These waters retire the languishing circulation, give a new stimulus to the vital energies, re-establish the perspiratory action of the skin, bring back the secretions, provoke urinary evacuation, relieve by urine or stool, or by transpiration; they bring about in the animal economy a universal transmutation—a profound change."—Paris.

MEDICAL MEN of eminence commended in the highest terms the preparation known as "Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient." Could the numerous flattering testimonials which its successful and valuable properties have elicited from the most distinguished Physicians be here submitted for inspection or would the columns of a newspaper permit their insertion, proofs of its efficacy would be found so overwhelmingly in its favor, as to leave no doubt of its entire preservation from dampness. The case and cork are secured by a double wire, and the bottle is of the most approved form, and the whole is so arranged, that the contents may be exhibited, by unscrewing the wire, and slightly loosening the cork, without disturbing the other part of the apparatus. Thus the contents are kept in a state of perfect purity, and are thus secured from the injurious effects of the atmosphere, and from dampness, which is the most agreeable, refreshing and efficacious medicine ever offered for the cure of those diseases which are engendered under the heat of a Tropical Sun. In the Seltzer Aperient, which is a medicine which has been so long and so well known, and so universally approved the healthy functions, on account of its superior medicinal properties—its mild though sure effect upon the system—its ease and facility in administering, and its positive preservation from dampness. The case and cork are secured by a double wire. Aperient may be prepared—its delightful effervescent and refreshing beverage, and the bowels are qualities which likewise claim for it a superiority and are well adapted to relieve and make up for the debilitating and patronage of all who have ever tested the beneficial operation of this deservedly celebrated Aperient. The unanimity with which it is received by the public, is the sure guarantee that it is deserving of the character they have given it in the numerous testimonials received by the proprietor.

Its success in Bilious Affections, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Heartburn, Febrile Diseases, Costiveness, Nervous Headache, &c., and all the various complaints caused by the sudden changes of temperature, so usual in warm latitudes has been so great, that it has been highly recommended, and has in consequence been generally prescribed, and the most satisfactory results have invariably followed. In a torpid state of the Liver, its action upon the system has been so beneficial that its energies have been revived and its healthy tone restored.

Planters and residents at a distance from medical advice, would find the Seltzer Aperient so useful and in fact an indispensable addition to their medicine chest, and would obtain by its introduction to their families, the advantage of using high medicinal properties and which would in the various diseases incident to a tropical climate exert a salutary influence upon the system debilitated by the heat of a tropical sun, and restore the languishing circulation to an active and healthy condition. The Seltzer Aperient has been hitherto unimpaired even on shipboard, nor have they been insensible in any climate in which it has been sent. This is a valuable property and deserves the special notice and attention of travellers and others.

In the Seltzer Aperient, such improvements have been made as are calculated to increase its efficiency by the addition in greater quantities of those ingredients, which impart the virtues of an aperient, and which are known to be most valuable, and the rejection of those which have been found unnecessary or injurious in their tendency, hereby in the opinion of competent authorities, rendering it a preparation superior or more health restoring than the natural waters.
