Management Central (Course Number S6218)

This introductory class is designed to assist you in understanding the concepts of Management Central and becoming familiar with its functions.

Duration: 2 ½ days

Audience: New to Management Central or iSeries. Management Central is a key component of Operations Navigator that provides iSeries 400 administrators and operators with the ability to manage multiple iSeries across a TCP/IP network. It provides several functions which help manage groups of systems. With Management Central the operator can monitor key resources, perform remote and long running operations, and distribute management and user data or files across a group of systems.
