

Five Tips for Driving Enterprise-Wide BI and Performance Management Success

This session will help BI and Performance Management professionals understand the top challenges and best practices for driving enterprise-wide success for their initiatives. We will explore developing a strategy, building a business case, navigating politics and culture, organising people and process as well as delivering a successful solution.