No. 20. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1832. VOL. VI.

REMOVAL FROM THE 15th OCTOBER, TO THE FIRST NOVEMBER.

ST. CHARLES SCHOOL, 151 Peruville between Dauphine and Burgundy streets.

MR. CHARLES, principal of the establishment respectfully informs the public that, at the request of his friends and patrons, he has just removed his school from Camp street, as above directed, where he continues his course of instruction.

The studies in the French and English branches of education, without any increase in the prices, are as follows: Reading, writing, grammer, orthography and arithmetick. Terms, $2 50 to $8 per month, according to the age and qualifications of pupils.

The extra studies are those of the Spanish language, mathematicks, book keeping by double entry, drawing, music, dancing &c.

Religion, constituting an indispensible branch of education, the principal of this establishment has solicited and obtained the benefit of the Rev. Abbé Mouly's supervision of that department of the institution.

Boarders kept under unremitted discipline, live with the principal's family, and thus possess means of acting up to strict morality, and acquiring polished manners.

The young ladies under the charge of a French lady, who possesses a knowledge of the three languages, are taught sewing, needle work &c.

This capacious building, to which the shool is now removed, offers every advantage that may be required both for the moral and physical education of youth.

Mr. Charles shall make every exertion to justify the confidence which has been placed in his labours, and to deserve its continuance.

MR. BEDFORD, professor of the English language, being permanently attached to this institution, has the honour to inform the public, that the course of instruction announced in French, are equally given in English, under his immediate inspection. oct 2

A NEW ACADEMY IN LOUISIANA.

LOUISIANA possesses numerous establishments for the education of her youth; and yet every year a voice issues from the legislative hall, and from the fathers of families, pronouncing these institutions to be insufficient to supply the wants of the state; and any one, at all acquainted with its moral geography, will readily perceive that these complaints are not wholly unfounded.

The father of a family, in the responsibility of his calculating in the minds of his children the first principles of science, is obliged to send his offspring to a distant part of this, or to a foreign country, where they are subject to manners and habits foreign to the land of their birth, and denied the benignant solicitude and guardianship of their immediate friends. This deprivation is not only a loss to the pupils themselves and their immediate friends, but to the state.

Why, at a time when literature and the arts are flourishing among us; when our industry is in a state of the highest perfection; and when our commerce is extending itself in every direction, and strangers are viewing our prosperity with a jealous eye, have we no national institution, upon our own soil, to which our youth may resort, with the assurance of acquiring an education commensurate with the individual wealth of our citizens, and which shall qualify them to sustain the dignity of the state?

As it is now, many of our young cresdes are forced to win their academic laurels beyond the seas. Must it then be that while they are thus acquiring the elementary principles; that the enterprising genius is accomplishing its rotation; and we are assiduously cultivating our lands; that that part of our youth who are destined by need as other circumstances at home, to cultivate the crops, are to remain in their primeval ignorance?

Events are rapidly developing themselves, in the moral world; a vast theatre has been opened in one of the two hemispheres, from whence tribe rumbling murmurs. Between the two continents there is but the interval of the sea, which is speedily traversed by our rapid as Power and rapidity have suspended the sword of Damocles over the disciples of liberty, and at some time or other, one of those ulcers which consume vitality, may fix itself upon the institutions of this republic, as may require the deepest probing to cause it to cicatrize. The people require the light of genius and illustration, to prepare for such a crisis, for ignorance is but the passage of the reign of tyranny and the death of freedom.

An academy is open at Pointe Coupee, where a number of pupils, not exceeding twelve, will be taught all the sciences embraced in the course of the French colleges, together with contemporaneous studies in the English language.

Address, immediately, at the office of the Bee, of Mr. l'Abbé De L'Horme, curate of Pointe Coupee.

It is desired that the pupils should previously be able to read and write.

The price of boarding and lodging will be 212 dollars in advance; the course to commence on the 1st of October next, and close on the last of July 1833, the commencement of the society season.

The young men will be obliged to wear the uniform which is already prescribed. They will furnish their own beds, and will pay their own doctors bill. All other expenses at the cost of the establishment.
