JOHN MAGEE & Co.

Arrival from France.

The ship Thomas Jefferson, arrived on Saturday from Havre, we have received Paris papers to the 26th of November.

There was much trouble in that capital, and we chronicled the meetings of the Chamber of Deputies, which proved to be a terror of the liberals. The ministers endeavored a great number of visions to restore public tranquility, to find a means to prove that a liberal system was contrary to maintain the dignity of the crown ; several men disguised in different characters, were making a bold Parisian "give Pompernuckle" with the King, &c. ; large bodies for people were out on the occasion, the government ordered to charge [illegible] wounded, and se[illegible]
