NEW ORLEANS BEE

J. MAGNE & WEISSE, PROPRIETORS.

NO. 61 CHARTRES STREET.

Official Journal of the State,

AND COUNCIL OF MUNICIPALITY No. 3

NEW ORLEANS.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 19, 1845.

☞ There are few of our exchange papers which we peruse with so much gratification as we do the New York Courier & Enquirer. We like its politics, and we admire particularly its utter freedom from bigotry and proscription of all kind. It is sound to the core on the subject of abolition. It is perhaps the ablest journal in the United States, with a concentration of editorial talent toward it that is rarely met with in this country. Open the Courier & Enquirer when you will, and you are sure to find a well digested leader, a comprehensive summary of the news of the day, sensible disquisitions on passing subjects of interest, and a careful digest of intelligence, both foreign and domestic.—Whenever the Courier & Enquirer undertakes the discussion of a topic, it argues it thoroughly. Its resources for information of every sort are unbounded. It possesses five able writers as its corps editorial, and by a judicious application of the principle of the division of labor, it is rendered the most perfect specimen of a newspaper in the United States.

BEAUTIES OF PROSCRIPTION.

There is in Georgetown, D. C., a Locofoco Club known as the "Union Democratic Association of Georgetown," of which the President is the well known loco-carpenter CHARLES F. SANGSTER, who bantered the Whigs during the last Presidential campaign, with theory bets, and invariably backed out when taken up. A few days ago, PHILLIPS and MIXON, two of the Inspectors of the Penitentiary of Columbia, had the audacity to appoint an avowed whig to the office of Clerk of that institution. This direct departure from the well known and time honored usage of the Democracy threw the united brethren of the Georgetown Democratic Association into a perfect ferment. They assembled forthwith, and passed resolutions of strong censure upon the conduct of the Inspectors, denouncing them as derelict and recreant to their professions of politics, faith, By a special resolution they moreover determined to transmit a copy of their proceedings to the Secretary of State, in order that Mr. BUCHANAN might be duly impressed with a sense of his culpability in appointing Messrs. PHILLIPS and MIXON to office, and might hereafter learn in his nominations, to respect the wishes of the Million Democracy as the Georgetown Association.

The National Intelligencer comments on this further glorious attempts to browbeat and overcome the higher officers in the country, with a dignity and good sense worthy of all praise; but that journal is whig, and we prefer the scathing rebuke administered to the foul spirit of party by the Editor of the Charleston Mercury—a print which sustains Mr. POLK in good faith, and with unshaken honesty of purpose. That journal remarks:

"Is it not amusing that men can issue such declarations as these above? That they are unconscious that they are thus snapping the foundations of all law by stripping the higher public functionaries of all responsibility for the character of their appointments. The power of SENATE, responsible to the whole of the government, by the House of Representatives before the Senate, for every official act of his, is to be dictated to by a party political Club in the District of Columbia! If he does not repel this insolence with scorn, he will him self merit the scorn of every true man in the Union.

The same degrading influences have been brought to bear upon the N. Y. Custom House. Political Clubs have got together in noisy night meetings and "voted a want of confidence" in Collector MAY. NES,—and hinted that they were ready to "petition" the President to use his discretion to turn out of office a man who has fulfilled its duties with signal ability and irreproachable integrity. We find it in the N. Y. Morning News of the 12th, and in the very next number of the Democratic Review and not being of unmeasured abuse upon President TYLER for appointing "Tyler men," the especial organ, leader and instigator of this interference. We had hoped that the conspicuous position of that Editor would save him from such glaring and incidental trifling with the solemn proprieties. He now stands forth the sole for the removal of a Collector of New York, through whose hands half the revenue of the United States pass, but personal popularity with "the party" in the city!. If he proves incompetent, the News will be the first to expose it, doubtless to be impeached! If he runs away with the U. S. Treasury, the News and its tail are to bear the blame! They pay all the issues, of course, and nobody else has any interest in the safety of our country's revenues or the efficient administration of its laws. The people will not long endure this abominable system of office-beggars,—who have already gone far to establish in many parts of the country, the doctrine that the offices were created not for the sake of the duties attached to them, in relation to party to-day inscribed with buying votes at elections."

IMPORTANT FROM CAPE HAYTIEN.

The schooner Lachiet, Captain Lufkin, arrived at Philadelphia, on the 9th instant, from Cape Haytien, with dates to the 30th ult. Her news is interesting and important. President PIERROT arrived the day previous from Port-au-Prince with but a small escort, and was to return two days after his visit to the capitol being anything but satisfactory. On his arrival at Port au Prince, he ordered the troops at that place to march upon the Spanish frontier, giving the command to Gen'l Riche. The troops refused to march and the President ordered them to be decimated. The order Riche refused to execute, and in the confusion which followed the President is said to have been shot at.

Business was greatly interrupted in consequence of the unsettled state of the country. The stock of American produce was light. Coffee had again risen to 13½ cents, and was scarce, but few vessels being able to obtain full cargoes.

The French Consul had had an interview with the President about French claims, several instalments of which had been due for some time. The President stated that the French had been the cause of the separation between the French and Spanish part of the island, and until they were again united, no further payments would be made; whereupon the Consul demanded his passports. The claims amount to $13,000,000, (Spanish.)

THE CROPS.—The Baltimore American expresses serious apprehensions of material injury to the crops in various parts of the Union, occasioned by the long continued drought and the recent heavy frosts. In the South and West the prospects of the crops are considered discouraging. In Ohio and Kentucky they are said to be literally burnt up. The wheat, corn and grass have all suffered alike. The Cincinnati Chronicle of a late date says that in Ohio and Indiana the joint effects of the drought and late frosts have nearly killed all the fruit, greatly injured the corn, and almost destroyed the wheat crops. The anticipated failure of the wheat crops will, however, it is believed, be confined to those States, with, perhaps, Kentucky. In this case even half the entire crops of Ohio and Indiana would be lost, the entire crop of the United States will not be reduced over one-tenth—an amount taken in connexion with the stock on hand, insufficient to enhance the price very much.

In the year 1837, says the Chronicle, the extraordinary phenomenon was exhibited of the United States importing wheat! It was so extraordinary that the newspapers insisted upon it that it was altogether a scheme of speculators in provisions who raised the price. There was much speculation, but it was not that. Time rolled on, and it was soon found that the crop was really short.

ANOTHER DUEL IN PHILADELPHIA.

The Philadelphia correspondent of the New York Tribune says: Two gentlemen, of high respectability in this city, crossed their rapiers this morning by attempting to blow out each other's brains, at Nannan's creek. Their names are Washington Keith and Morris Meredith, brother to William M. Meredith, Esq. One shot was exchanged, the effect of which was a wound in the thigh of the latter. The injury is likely to prove of a serious character. I am not acquainted with the particulars of this last disgraceful transaction, but much regret the good people of Delaware sould not get hold of some of these foul-hardy violators of the public Peace. Pierce Butler was second for Keith. Meredith was the individual who sent the challenge. The parties are members of the First City Troop. Who was the second of Meredith I am not apprised.

FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA.—OUTRAGES AMONG THE FIREMEN.—On Saturday night, 7th instant, a fire broke out in Wainwright's Lamp-black manufactory, corner of Callowhill and Seventh Second streets, which was destroyed with its contents. During the night and ensuing morning the fire broke out again several times; and the firemen were called out. The old difficulty between the Goodwill Hose and Fairmount Engine Companies was again renewed, and a dreadful fight ensued. The members of the latter company were severely beaten, their engine taken from them and thrown into the river. Shots were fired and several persons, killed or dangerously wounded. It was feared that further violence would occur during the night as the 8th, as intense excitement prevailed among the firemen, but the affair passed off without further outbreaks. A reward of $500 was offered by the Commissioners of the District for the apprehension of the persons concerned in this outrage. Several arrests were subsequently made, and some three or four of the ring-leaders committed in default of bail.

STEAMER WESTERN BELLE SUNK.—On the night of the 7th inst., the steamer Western Belle sunk in about 5 feet water at Schooolt's reach in the Ohio. It is thought she can be raised again. The Belle was insured in St. Louis.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

PASS CHRISTIAN.—This delightful Watering Place, under the proprietorship of Horace Ward, of the Verandah, is once more in full the tide of successful operation. The Hotel and out-buildings have been through the hands of the carpenter and painter, and look as bright and fresh as they did in their palmiest days. The furniture of the entire house, as well as the appointments of the dining table, are from the Verandah, and, of course, are inferior to none other in the country. The table d Hote is supplied with the choicest viands that the markets of this city and the country around affords, served up in a style that would do honor to a Lord Mayor's inauguration banquet. Attached to this establishment is a spacious Bar room, containing two excellent Billiard tables for the use of the guests of the house, free of charge. The wines and liquors are from the same casks as those of the Verandah, and are not surpassed in the South. In addition also, for the amusement of the visitors, are to be found bowling alleys, quoit grounds, etc. etc.

For the invalid, the delightful sea bath and luxurious sea breeze cannot but be beneficial and attractive; for the angler, the prolific bosom of the Lake presents almost every variety of the finny tribe, that heart could wish or fancy dictate. In conclusion, we would remark that the ladies have made up their minds that the Pass shall become the fashionable Watering Place on the Lake shore. From the many families already domiciliated, and which are daily increasing in number, we anticipate a gay and joyous season for the paysons and a profitable one for the worthy host.

FUNERAL CEREMONY.

The General Committee of the Councils met yesterday in the Hall of the First Municipality, and have fixed upon Thursday, the 26th instant, for the funeral ceremonies in honor of ANDREW JACKSON.

Messrs. John R. Grymes and Bernard Marigny, Esqrs., were appointed as the Orators of the day.

In consequence of the refusal of Bishop Blanc to permit the ceremonies to be performed in the Church of St. Louis, a Committee consisting of his Honor the Mayor, Recorder Genois, and Alderman Carrolljon, was appointed to make suitable arrangements in the Place d'Armes for that purpose.

☞ Joseph Leblanc was yesterday arrested by the police of the First Municipality, charged with stealing a horse, the property of Mr. Auguste Delachaise. The horse, it appears, after being stolen by Leblanc, was given in charge of Charles Costa, who was sent before the Criminal Court a few days since, for having the stolen property in his possession.

☞ John Doyle, was arrested yesterday, by the police of the Second Municipality, charged by Mr. W. J. Whiting, with attempting to inveigle away a young slave named Abbame, the property of Mrs. Harriet son.

☞ Charles Bloch, was yesterday arrested in the First Municipality, charged with aiding and assisting a Mr. Mulholland, in obtaining under false pretences two half pipes of brandy, the property of Brander, Williams & Co., from the store-keeper of the Custom-house. The examination of the case will take place before Recorder Genois.

CORONER RAMOS yesterday held an inquest upon the body of a woman, name unknown, who was found dead as an early hour on the morning in the yard of a building on Philippe street, near Girod. The jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to her death from intemperance and exposure.

It appeared that the deceased had been living for several days past with a man named Henry Hartwell, supposed to be a deserter from the United States Army, who on the previous night shut her out from the house. In the morning the unfortunate woman was found lying in the yard, dead, holding in her arms her infant child about a year old, who was endeavoring to obtain sustenance from its dead mother's breast. Hartwell was taken in custody by the police and committed to the Hounsfone street prison. The child was given in charge of a lady, who has kindly offered to adopt it.

LOST OVERBOARD.—Wm. Murfin, a fireman, was lost overboard from the towboat Shark on the 5th inst.—He was a native of England, and has some relative in Philadelphia.

☞ The examination of Charles P. Sweitzer and Charles Rond, arrested for their participation in the affray in Phillippa street, on Saturday night last, which resulted in the death of Robert Criswell, commenced yesterday morning, before Recorder Baldwin. The Attorney General and Randall Hunt, Esqrs., appeared on the part of the prosecution; and — Hunter, Esqr. for the prisoners.

At three o'clock the Court adjourned over until this morning, when the hearing of further testimony will be resumed.

The evidence as far as heard, places Sweitzer in a much more favorable position than was at first anticipated, from the one-sided gossip circulated on the night of his arrest.

REMOVALS.—It is said that the number of removals made by President POLK already exceeds ONE THOUSAND.

GENERAL JACKSON.—Nashville papers received yesterday confirm the news of Gen'l. JACKSON's death in every particular.

BATOU LAFOURCHE, says the Gazette, of that place, is falling. From all parts we hear that the crops are growing as well as could be wished. The weather is very fine, and favorable to the growth of the sugar cane.

THIRD MUNICIPALITY.—We are gratified at learning that on the 13th inst. the Council of the Third Municipality destoyed $14,000 more of their municipal bonds. The amount burned within the last three months is very heavy—exceeding, we believe, $70,000.

A FIRE occurred at New York on the afternoon of the 9th inst. in Washington street. The house was occupied by several poor families, and was partially destroyed, one of the children perishing in the flames.

☞ The French Operatic Company had arrived at New York, and were to commence an engagement at the Park, on the 16th.

THE SMALL POX is on the decline in New York.—The deaths from this loathsome distemper have averaged some 10 to 15 a week, or, about one in twelve cases of disease.

INCENDIARY ARRESTED.—A man named Wm. Johnson has been arrested in New York, on the charge of having fired Mr. Palmer's stables on the night of the 31st ult.

HENRY WARD, whose arrest under the Ashburton Treaty, for a forgery committed in England, has been already noticed, was delivered up to the officer who followed him to New York, and will be transported to England by the Great Western.

CHRISTIANITY IN CHINA.—The Journal des Débats of the 10th ult. announces on the authority of letters from Macao, that the French Mission has undoubtedly succeeded in obtaining from the Chinese Emperor the revocation of the edicts prohibiting the Chinese from embracing and practising Christianity.

☞ The Northern papers complain greatly of the intense heat. A storm of rain and wind occurred however at Philadelphia on the 9th, which has been a perfect blessing to all, and took some over-shadows. It has partially succeeded by a reduced temperature. The storm was quite destructive. Several brick buildings in the vicinity of Arch and Schuylkill Fifth streets were blown down. A number of cellars were inundated, and goods damaged or destroyed.

RIOT AT THE BOWERY THEATRE.—On the night of the 7th inst., a row occurred at the Bowery Theatre, New York, in consequence of a strong named Mrs. Phillips, refusing to proceed with her part, until her promised compensation for several nights' services had been paid. The benches were torn up, the boxes cut up and disfigured, and the soup locks and looters kicked up a tremendous fuss, until they were dispersed by a strong body of watchmen.

☞ A New York correspondent of the Richmond Whig says: The man who had charge of the North Carolina Fat Boy, and who is a loco foco, has, after exhibiting the boy about the country, "fallen in the footsteps" of many of his party by running off with all the funds. The boy's father, who is a whig, supposing he might fall into the hands of some other cormorant democrat, has taken him home.

☞ A Philadelphia paper tells the following anecdote of a certain office holder, named Mr Keller. It formes a noble exception to the general servility of metropolitan office holders:—

A letter received this morning by Mr Ellsworth, Commissioner of the Patent Office, from Mr Buchanan, requesting him to furnish him with a list of the officers employed in the office, the length of time they had been in the department, amount of salary, &c.

Mr Keller, long and favorably known as one of the Examiners, was first called.

"Where were you born?" Ans: erred.

"How long have you been in this office?"

"Since 1821, sir."

"What is your age, sir?" Ans: erred.

"What is your salary?"

"$1,500 per annum.

"Did you vote last fall?"

"I did not, sir, as I was not entitled to vote, being a clerk in the Department. Are those all the questions you have to ask?"

"Yes sir, that's all."

"Well, sir, as you have sent me a memorandum of my answers, I should have voted for [illegible] had been entitled to a vote, I should have voted for [illegible] SAINT CLAIR of Kentucky. I am and have always been, a whig, and I hope that I may always remain a Whig."

UNITED STATES EXPLORING EXPEDITION.—Vol. 1. We are indebted to LEE & BLANCHARD, publishers, through the politeness of J. B. STEELE, No. 14 Camp street, for the first volume of the cheap edition of Lieutenant WILKES' narrative of the United States Exploring Expedition, during the years 1838, 1839, 1840, 1841 and 1842—with illustrations and maps. This is the edition printed by the publishers for popular and general use, being less costly than the magnificent one in imperial octave, but every whit as useful. It contains precisely the same type, page and reading matter as the large edition—the difference between the two being in the quality and size of the paper, the substitution of wood cuts for steel engravings, the omission of sixty-four plates, and the reduction in the size of the maps.—The present edition is nevertheless very neat and elegant, and equal to most of the ordinary specimens of American typography. The paper is good, the type large and clear, and the general execution faultless

It is almost superfluous to remark that Lieutenant WILKES' narrative is one of absorbing interest. The specimens which have been heretofore submitted to the public, prove that it possesses almost the fascination of romance. To say nothing of the numerous scientific problems elucidated in the pages, the details of adventure, incidents, hair-breath escapes, imminent perils and daring, to regions little known and hardly ever explored, are alone sufficient to invest these volumes with uncommon attraction. In the present form they can be disposed of at a price within the means of thousands, and they will doubtless meet with a ready sale.

FOR NEW YORK.—The splendid steamship New York will leave on Tuesday evening next for New York via Key West and Old Point Comfort. Capt. Wright is an old and experienced navigator, in proof of which we have only to state that with his present staunch and sea-worthy craft, he has made, without the slightest accident, 256 trips between this port and Galveston, and in all sorts of weather at that.

THE PLAGUE.—Experiments made by order of the Russia Government, have clearly shown, that heat will entirely disinfect articles which have been contaminated by the plague. Articles having been brought in the closest contact with the plague, have been exposed to the action of heat and sent packed up to Odessa, and found to be entirely free from all infection. The discovery is likely to lead to important modifications of the quarantine regulations of Eastern countries.

A LIBRARIAN BURIED BENEATH BOOKS.—A very singular paragraph from a Paris paper is republished by the Courrier des Etats Unis. It seems that not long since the coroner of the Rue Richelieu was sent for to the Royal Library to hold an inquest. In the garrets of that great establishment are some three hundred thousand volumes of old or mutilated books, in utter confusion and heaped up in the rats. Some curious person having occasion to make an examination in the literary catacomb, found, under huge piles of books, the skeleton of a man, who had starved and remained in the garret for two years with the official dress worn in 1793 by the persons connected with the library. The clothing was perfectly preserved, but all the rest except the bones had been devoured by the rats. The bones were published in every paper, had been devoured by the rats. It was found impossible to identify the remains,—which were duly buried at Montmartre—or to ascertain how the death was accomplished.—N. Y. Courier.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.—We take the following from the Courier & Enquirer of the 9th:—

FATAL ACCIDENTS.—On Saturday a young man named George H. Shaw, aged 23 years, met his death in a sudden and dreadful manner. The deceased who was employed in Shaw's establishment in the walk, left a friend named Rogers, of Williamsburgh, and while he was serving a customer in Ridge street, Shaw remained in the cart. Rogers, supposing that he had started off, and in turning into Delancy street; the deceased attempted to get out, but in its act he struck his head against the wheel in a cart standing in the street, and was instantly killed, his head being crushed to atoms.

A man named William A. Hosmon, who sat for merly in the U. S. Senate, was yesterday found in the basement of Harlem Rail Road, opposite the Park, yesterday morning. He was slighting from the car which had just come down at the moment another car sent down from the country. Hosmon, in his haste to get aside in time, was caught between the two, and rolled, or rather crushed from one end to the other, causing instantaneous death. The deceased was picked up on the spot, termed the "break," where the cars cross the tracks, and it is the only spot on the road where such an accident could have occurred. The deceased resided at 94 Chartres street, where he has left a family to mourn his untimely end.

☞ A letter from Detroit to Wells & Co. dated June states that the Teller of the River Raisin Bank, St. Hall, was shot twice on the night before, and wounded, but not mortally, by a person named Gregg. The next day Mr. Hall was decoyed about two miles towards Bristol, by Wells, when the latter shot at and wounded him, so severely as to be considered mortal by the physicians. The villain afterwards shot him again in the side of the neck and after driving furiously for about 600 feet, Hall, not withstanding the state he was in, jumped from the buggy on to the road, and the horses were caught and Hall conveyed in reaching his brother-in-law.—N. Y. Courier & Enquirer.

MURDER IN PASSAIC COUNTY.—We learn this morning that a murder, by drowning, was committed on Wednesday last by one Holmes on a fourth who was bathing with them in Pompton River, the dividing line between Passaic and Morris counties. It appears there had been some difficulty between the parties, and the above mentioned Holmes threatened Gregory that on the other, previous to going into the river. The author rities of Passaic county have taken the subject under their jurisdiction, and Holmes has been committed to Paterson jail.—The Coroner's inquest having returned a verdict of wilful murder.—Newark Advertiser

IMMIGRATION.—A gentleman of New York, who last year visited a large portion of Europe, on his return stated his belief, from what he had seen and heard, that the emigration to the United States in 1845 would not fall if not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand persons.—His prophecy was not credited at the time, but from present appearances we have no doubt but his estimate was correct. Over ten thousand immigrants have already landed, and they are daily arriving at Philadelphia, Boston, and Canada. A very large number this year are mechanics, and it is not a little singular that an unusual proportion of them are bakers and tailors—the bakers from Germany, and the tailors from England.—New York Evening Gazette.

ROBBERY—A RARE ADVENTURE—A NEGRO OUTWITTING HIS PURSUERS.—The store of Ward, in Montague, was broken open on Friday night last, and a small quantity of goods and money therefrom stolen. A negro was suspected, and pursuit was immediately made. He was followed to Hinsdale and thence to the State line, where he was arrested and returned to the hotel of Mr. Tuttle, in Hinsdale. An examination was here made, and the goods and a part of the money found. The examination was succeeded by daring feats and deeds. He was locked in bed with a chain. During the night he broke the lock of the chain, and made his escape from a window. He was heard and followed, but from the darkness of the night he eluded his pursuers. His clothes had been taken from him by the officers when left in the room, and of course his exit was in a state of nudity. He broke into the first house he came to and obtained an overcoat; he next entered a shop, and took a knife to defend himself. The next house was that of the minister, the rear part of which he entered through a window and took some clothes. He last place he entered was a tailor's shop, where he fitted himself up in good style and fashion with a broadcloth coat. Where the ministerial wardrobe of him he was in Windsor, traveling with a knife in one hand and a pitchfork in the other. The fellow is a full-blooded black, about six feet high.—Northampton Courier, 3d.

☞ None should suffer with Rheumatism as Comstock & Kemeys, at 60 Poydras street, have the Indian Vegetable Elixir and Liniment, which they warrant to cure every case in which it has been tried and has never failed. The present Collector at Shreveport, certifies that it cured him after trying other things and quotes a prescription for the same, without benefit. Such testimony ought to silence the homeopathicalry of humbuggery.
