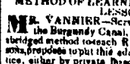
METHOD OF LEARNING TO READ IN 20 LESSONS.

MR. VANNIER—Secretary, former Engineer on the Burgundy Canal, author of the unpublished stereotyped method of teaching writing, presented to the Academies of Arts, proposes to put this admirable method into practice, either by private lessons, or in the public courses which he may open every day, from 6 o'clock in the morning to 10 at night, 18 Toulouse street, between Bourbon and Dauphin.

The Professor will apply the same abreviated method of instruction according to the intelligence of pupils, to writing, orthography, arithmetic, geometry, algebra, linear drawing, mensuration, book-keeping, and accounts of all kinds may 14 1m3w



DENMANSHIP, PRACTICAL & ORNAMENTAL, taught at Dolbear's writing academy, at the corner of Canal street and Exchange alley, under the extensive patronage which their method of teaching writing has received in the principal parts of the United States, and the increasing application for instructions in the science, as well as the practice of writing, has induced them to establish permanent academies in New York, Albany and Buffalo; and it is their intention to afford greater facilities for the acquisition of penmanship, than are afforded by any other institution in the country. Persons entering one of them, have the privilege of attending either of the others, without extra charge. The ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call. Specimens of rapid improvement
