1) History

The deVere Group was founded in 2002 by current CEO Mr Nigel Green. After several years of experience in the field, Green founded the company that specialises in financial advice to expatriates living away from their home country.

After 15 years in London, working in the financial services, Green launched a Luxembourg registered company, deVere and Partners and strove to accommodate expatriates and international investors wherever they decide to live.

In 2002, Green launched deVere, the first of 60 offices, at the time specialising in expatriates and international investors residing in Hong Kong.

Since its inception a decade ago, deVere has established strategic alliances with some of the world's leading financial institutions. The deVere Group's global approach to conducting business has been instrumental in turning it into a leading financial advisory company.

2) Operations

Structure and financial data

The deVere Group has 60 offices around the world. For management reporting purposes, activities are organised into one cohesive group. The company currently employs over a 1,000 employees across the globe, including 400 consultants who cater to the needs of the 60,000 active clients. Moreover, the deVere group has over US $8 billion under administration and management.

The deVere group is an independent financial consultancy providing professional advice to people who decide to live overseas. The company's client base is continually being advised on medium to long term investments, savings and pensions by consultants who have a thorough knowledge of the global market. Essentially, the deVere Group offers advice about any financial situation people moving overseas may encounter.
