NEW-ORLEANS.
FRIDAY, (MORNING,) JANUARY 7, 1831.

The papers brought by yesterday's mail include the following dates, but announce no arrivals from any of the ports of Europe: Boston 17th, New-York and Philadelphia 18th, Baltimore 20th, Washington 21st, and Charleston of the 25th December.

It having become the established usage in Louisiana, to celebrate the 8th of January as an anniversary festival, a custom which we think laudable and proper, no paper will be issued from this office on Saturday next.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.

In the Senate yesterday, various petitions were presented, and several bills were read a second and third time. A letter of the Secretary of the Treasury was presented by the President pro tem. exhibiting, pursuant to the resolution of 26th May, 1830, the amount returnable to the merchants of the United States from the exemption of the tariff. As yesterday was the day appointed for proceeding with the impeachment of Judge Peck, shortly after 12 o'clock the members of the House of Representatives entered the Senate chamber in a body and took the seats allotted them. The Managers appointed by the House, consisting of Messrs. Wickliffe, Spencer, McDuffie, Buchanan, and Storrs, also took their places at their table in front of the Chair; as did, in like manner, the Hon. Judge Peck with his counsel, Messrs. Swift and Sheredith, at theirs. Mr. McDuffie then proceeded to speak to the Impeachment, and had not concluded at 3 o'clock, when the Court adjourned, on the motion of Mr Holmes, till 12 o'clock to-morrow. Mr. McDuffie then resumes.

The House of Representatives did no legislative business yesterday, having immediately on their meeting, in pursuance of a resolution ordered by Mr. Hodman, come up to the Senate to attend the trial of Judge Peck.—Nat. Jour.

Pennsylvania Election.—All the friends of the Jackson party in the United States of Pennsylvania have been actuated by the friends of sound principles, as our readers will perceive by the paragraph which we subjoin. Mr. Ingham has been elected as U. S. Senator, for 6 years from the 5th of March next, to succeed Mr. Sterigere, who was not a candidate for re-election. The Harrisburgh paper, from which we copy the information, exhibits the political character of Mr. Wilkins, who, if we are not in error, was the Adams candidate for congress in 1828, in opposition to Mr. J. Stevenson. So that it may be gathered from this circumstance, of Gen. Jackson's friends and the President's friends, joining in Pennsylvania. That State is determined to withdraw herself from the persecuting spirit which would plunge the country into civil discord, and we begin to believe that the people in other States will not be less patriotic than in Pennsylvania. She will yet be the Keystone of the Arch, true to the great principles on which she was founded early and firmly, as she proved herself last year in 1832 with a virtue and patriotism worthy of her political reputation.

(From the Harrisburgh Intelligencer.)

We stop the Press to announce that William Wilkins has just received 76 votes, a majority on the 21st ballot. Mr. Wilkins is a Staunch friend of Gen. Jackson's Administration—is opposed to Indian Bills, a friend to the National Currency, and opposed to the latter policy of the National Administration. We are, therefore, gratified.

National Republican Meeting in Cayuga, N. Y.—A large and respectable meeting of the citizens of Erie county, friendly to the protection of "Domestic Industry," and opposed to the vacillating policy of the present National Administration, was held at Buffalo, on Thursday evening the 6th inst. The meeting was organized by the appointment of the Hon. Isaac Phelps, jr. chairman, and Orsa Follett and William A. Bird, secretaries. Addresses were made by the Hon. William B. Rochester, Peter B. Porter, Cyrenus Chapin, H. White and R. B. Heacock. Each gentleman dwelt with peculiar force upon the necessity of a unity of action in sustaining the great principles embraced under the head of the "American System." It was also demonstrated that the present administration of the national government, either from design or inability, would not or could not extend to that system an efficient support. Hence the necessity of a change, and hence the necessity of elevating to the presidency HENRY CLAY, to whose wisdom, talents, and perseverance, may be mainly attributed the success of a system which is every where developing our own natural resources, and which if persevered in will make us truly independent.

It is truly gratifying to the friends of Mr. Clay, to see, that notwithstanding the vituperation and abuse which is daily heaped upon him by his opponents, there is but one sentiment among the people in relation to who shall be the successor of Gen. Jackson. The east, the west, the north, and even the south, have risen up as if by one accord, and proclaim in their primary assemblies that he is the man they delight to honor, and in his hands, "for or grieve whom it may," they mean to place the destinies for the four years commencing in 1833. The election is a good one, and will be hailed with joy by the honor and intelligence of the nation.—Albany Adv.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 17.

The schr. Laurel, at this port, left Santa Martha on the 15th of November, about a fortnight later than our previous advices. Capt. Holmes informs us that there was no important news in circulation. About the 1st of November a vessel went up the river with troops for Rio Hacha, and another, the Packet of Kingston, Mass. was to sail on the 15th or 17th, with troops and provisions. A vessel arrived from up the river a few days before the Laurel sailed, with about 20 wounded.—Bolivar was expected soon at Santa Martha, and the Custom House had been fitted up for his reception. His birth day was celebrated in that city with many demonstrations of joy. Flour scarce, and selling at twenty dollars a barrel. N. Y. Journ. of Com.

Domestic Silks.—On Monday last, the Speaker of the House of Representatives in Congress, laid before the House the following letter, which was referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Philadelphia, Dec. 7th.

Sir: You will receive with this letter a silken flag, bearing the colors of the U. States. This flag is made entirely of American silk reeled from the cocoons, prepared and woven by Mr. Honegue, silk manufacturer. The coloring has been done by the best artist he could procure in Philadelphia, he himself not professing to be a dyer.

The staff of this flag, with the eagle, is fifteen feet long; the flag itself is twelve feet and a half long, and five feet wide. It is woven all in one piece without a seam.

I beg, sir, you will be so good as to present this flag, most respectfully, in my name, to the Hon. House over which you preside, as a sample of American industry, thus applied for the first time, to the most valuable of American productions, and as a result of the efforts they have made during the last five years for the promotion of this important branch of agriculture, to which we owe the rich material of which this flag is composed.

I have the honor to be, with the highest respect, Sir, your most obedient and most humble servant,

P. S. DU PONCEAU.

The Hon. A. STEVENSON.

U. States Bank Stock has fully recovered from its late depression. It was worth yesterday afternoon, $130 a share. A more unreasonable fluctuation never occured. Just before the meeting of Congress it happened to be thought of, that the President would probably renew his denunciation of the Bank, and the stock fell $3¾ a share. The President said all that was apprehended, and the stock has risen to its old price. By the way, there is one idea in the President's plan of a National Bank, which is worthy of notice. It is, that the expenses of the establishment shall be defrayed by occasionally drawing bills of exchange at a premium. All establishments which cannot meet their expenses, would do well to think of this, and draw on some correspondent in another city, directing him, if also an profit and loss account should incline the wrong way, to re-draw, always taking care to sell the bills at a premium.

Territory of Huron.—A meeting of the inhabitants of the country of Brown, Michigan territory, was held at Green Bay on the 25th October, to take into consideration the propriety of expressing their views in relation to the bill reported at the last session of Congress, for the organization of the territory of Huron; to solicit the General Government to authorize a survey and sale of the public lands lying within the limits of the proposed territory, together with such other subjects of general interest as might suggest themselves. Robert Irwin, Jr., acted as president, Samuel C. Stambaugh as vice-president, and A. G. Ellis as secretary. A committee was appointed, which, at a subsequent meeting, reported a preamble and resolutions, which were adopted.

The Road from the West to the Atlantic.

We find our northern neighbours disputing whether the Welland Canal and the St. Lawrence, the New-York Canal, or the Pennsylvania Canal will be the most convenient outlet for the trade of the West to the ocean. This trade derives a new importance from the approaching completion of the Ohio Canal, by which a great commerce will be thrown into Lake Erie, there to enter the New-York Canal. The Pennsylvanians propose to intersect the Ohio Canal, and thus divert the trade, (which will not be forced by the dangers of a lake navigation, and the inconvenience of transhipment,) into their line at their own expense and no small annual sacrifice. This, however, must inevitably be interrupted at the Alleghany summit of their canal, and thus present the same inconvenience of transhipment through another route, as the roof by the lake and the New-York Canal.

Probably each of these will obtain its share of navigation and trade; the country must indeed be contiguous to them will, we hope find a much greater population sufficiently dense and industrious to contribute to the resulting trade and enterprise which has given birth to works so valuable to the two opposite sections of the country, and the mutual benefit policy of the respective States.—But for the discharge of the duties of the West to the Atlantic nations have passed on a shorter route in the north is but about the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio (the harbour of Baltimore and the point of the Ohio river) and to this route which has impressed their minds, are likely to be soon united with an approach even by means of a new mode of locomotion operated by the principle of the steam engine, which is itself a wonder beyond the most sanguine expectation.

By that mode, when a railroad shall be projected across the mountains, or rather through the valleys which run on each side of the Alleghanies, to the Ohio, a passage will be opened for the produce of the Ohio river to the ocean, there will be no cessation from loading to unloading, interruption from drought or frost, loss or accident to cargoes, or delay to repairs. It is, in short, that circumstance, so important to commerce, and yet more so in travel, this mode of transportation contains in itself sufficient to counterbalance many disadvantages which, however, do not exist.

THE EXPLORING EXPEDITION.

We have been permitted to copy the following letter addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, on the subject of the exploring expedition.

Wash. Telegraph.

VALPARAISO, 12th Sept. 1830.

SIR: Three seamen who left the sealing brig Seraph, Capt. Benjamin Pendleton of Stonington arrived here this morning, from the Island of St. Mary's, a little south of Concepcion, report that that the brig Antarctic, Capt. Palmer, on board of which Mr. Reynolds and other scientific gentlemen are employed on the double object of exploring and shooting, was at the Island they came from, having been obliged to abandon the idea of making any discoveries, in consequence of the difficulty of keeping the crew in order, eight of them left her near Pisco on the coast of Peru, after she left this in May last.—They say Mr. Reynolds landed at Arnca on or about the 28th of July, who, with Mr. Hampton Watson of Philadelphia, intended to come to this place by land. Mr Watson came out as an amateur in the brig Seraph.

I feel satisfied of their perfect safety, and am of opinion, the world will derive more information from the observations and researches of the sanguine persevering disposition of Mr. Reynolds, than could be expected, had the project by sea been continued for the time intended to be devoted to it. The Araucanian country is the finest of South America, affording field for the most scientific pursuits, superior, perhaps to any thing that Mr. Reynolds could meet with in the Pacific. In future years it will become a object of the first importance; its ports and capabilities render it of the utmost value to maritime powers, the flat parts of its surface, like part of Austrian Netherlands, its climate severe mild in winter, with a greater degree of heat in summer, which is longer.

The failure of the Annawan is proof that merchant vessels are totally unfit for exploring:—ships of war only are calculated for service, requiring discipline and good order. Those seas will soon be swarm with runaway seamen, who, on appeal, must become pirates; upon which subject, I will on another occasion, take the liberty of offering you an opinion founded upon some experience. Having now the honor to assure you of the greatest respect, of, sir, your most faithful and obedient servant.

MICHAEL HOGAN.

REVIEW
OF THE NEW-YORK MARKET.
December 18 1830.

COTTON—There has been a continuance of the demand for export, which has been very freely met by the holders. The transactions, for the last three days, comprise about 120 bales of Upland at 9¼ a 11¼ cents, a small proportion only at the latter price; 100 Alabamas 10¾ a 11¾ cents, and 100 New-Orleans 11¾ a 11¾ cents—making the total sales of the week 2300 bales.—The business has been chiefly for export, and in some instances lower terms have been acceded to. We reduce our quotations ¼ of a cent.

The import has been—from

Alabama	407
Georgia	651
South Carolina	439
North Carolina	305
Virginia	69
Total	1871 bales.

Total import, since 1st inst . . . 8,139 bales.
Export, from 1st to 9th inst . . . 3114 bales.

LEAD—Sales have been made of about 1500 pigs New-Orleans, in two parcels, at 4¼ cents, less 2½ per cent. for cash.

MOLASSES—Several parcels have been received coastwise since our last, and about 200 hhds. Martinique and Guadaloupe sold at 32 a 33 cents, and a few New-Orleans at 35 cents. The stock of all kinds is exceedingly small.

SUGARS—The import of Cuba Sugar, has been very heavy for some time, and the anxiety of holders to realize has caused a decline of ½ a cent per lb. This has brought purchasers into the market, and the sales, since our last publication, to the trade, and for export, amount to about 1500 boxes brown at 7 to 7½ cents; some very inferior as low as 6½; some at 7¾; and fifty boxes superior at 8 cents; a small lot of white at 11½ cents, a few hhds. new crop New-Orleans at 7½ cents; 40 large cases brown Brazil, for refining, at 6½ cents, cash; and by auction, 107 bags very inferior Brazil, 5 a 5¼ cents, and 53 hhds. New-Orleans, Porto Rico, and St. Croix, besides a quantity of brown Havana, which we understood has been shipped by the importer.
