Munich 9th May - Russia, in order to be able to continue the war with Turkey, seeks to preserve its present relations with other powers; and the statu quo being a favorite idea with M de Mettetnich, (the Austrian Minister,) who influences the Duke of Wellington, the Russian Cabinet hope to escape, by due circumspection, all in crease of political embarrassment. As d Mrs. Murray, principal, Pichot et Roça de to France, the composition of its ministry and the little harmony which prevails between them and the shambers. forbid us to expect a very decided influence from that quarter in the affairs of foreign politics. Hence there is reason to believe that the general peace of Europe will not be interrupted during the present summer.

Under these circumstances the small States of Germany have nothing else to do, but to go on as they are, cultivating in silence a unity of interest. Our commerce with Erussia and Wuitemburg. makes a unity of commercial interests with those States desirable; and a unity of commercial interests is sure to beget unity of political interests. This is so much gained against Austria. Already her Prime Minister Begins to complain liposed to emancipate themselves, cacape from her parental guardianship.
