THE MOY AMESING RIOT.

We briefly neticed, in our paper of yesterday morning, the diagracela-riot tast had decarred the nigt before, at the clostion ground in Mayamensing. We have heard several varsions of the transaction, each of which was more or less to coloured accurding to the political predilections of the nargative—so that it is almost impossible, in the present state of the public mind, to get at the exact truth. The following are the plincipal facts upon which reliance can be placed, that e.e nawe been able to collect.—A short time previous to the closing of the polit, sonts aboving and sending took place between the two parties in their endeavours to get that, which resulted in the Jackson men, who at the moment happened to be the western window of the Commissioners Hall, which resulted in the Jackson men, who at the moment happened to be the western window of the properties and the fight was shortly afterwards renewed with clubs and shinted, to the east of the Hall, where the Jackson men had a lickory pole eracted, and where there were two tents which served as their head quarters. The tents were demonsished, and the hickory posecut down, as is alledged by some of the Jackson men, with the intention of using it for the purpose of fereing the Hall and centrying awaythe ballothoxes as its send had previously been threatened. At this time of one or more muskets were fired, and several or the Jackson can acrously hurt. Intelligence of what was going on was speedily conveyed to Southwark, apon which a number of persons hartened from theire over to Moyamensing. On the appearance of this reinforcement, the contest renewed, and the whigh forced in the the bouse.

About this time, a strong party from the Northern Libeties, and Spring Uarden, with their lamps, and a band of an ite, appeared on the ground. They had previously visited the residence of Gen. Asit, the democratic head-buarters in Spring Garden and the city cheering th ir friends at their victory, but it does not a, par that they had any knowledge o of the disturbance in Moyamessing; until they arrived in the vicinity. The party is the house finding themselves closely preased, had recourse to their muskets, of which fifteen or twenty stand, were in their possession. How or where they procured them, we have not heard. They fired repeatedly from the windows add roof, and wounded fourteen or fitteen persons, several of them severaly. The Jacksen party pressed on and obtained possession of the bouse, and drowest their considered. teen or titious persons, several of them severely. The Jacksen party pressed on and obtained possession of the bouse, and drowout their oppositute. It appears that in this last attack, one or two of them also had muskets. They took out the ferenture, and harm one the liberty pole erected in front, then set for to the building. An aisrm of fire was immediately made, the State House Bell was rung and the fire companies hassened to the spot, but were not permitted to use their apparatus, until the Laberty Pole was prostrated, which took some sime, is consequence of their not having proper tools with which to cut it down. It fail against the flower, and broke in the front walf as low down as the 2nd story. That house and jour others, all nearly new, admining it, which we understand are the property of Mr. Robb. ing it, which we understand are the property of Mr. Robb of this city, were materially injured.

Lancaster, Oct. 14th, 1834. Dear Sig—Our polis have just closed. The democratic majority in the city district of the county, is about 600. Attacagh we have done nobly here, anti-measonry in the county has no doubt again preveiled by a considerable timpority, the heuters of that party heving encoused in keeping the question of antimasenry separate from that of the Bank, considering the latter altogether a minor question; had the question been Bank or ne Bank, I am well satisfied we should have carried our ticket by a large majority, such is the fading of the peomanry of this county against the Bank. Their superity, I have no doubt, will be much gedened from former years.

First Appearance of Matthews .- This extraordinary actor p wared last night for the first time since his 2nd visit to our country. Some evil disposed persons had placarded h indbills about the city during the afternoon, calling on the citizens to drive histhews off the stage, under the pretext that after his return to England, he had most maliciously ridiculed the American character. The apprehension of disturbance brought perhaps a still greater crowd to the theatre; and long before 7 o'clock the house was filled, of disturbation of the first and long before 7 o'clock the house was more, notwithstanding the raise, from the doors of the pit up to the Shakspeare gallery. A considerable proportion were lidies, which clearly proved that no hostile sentiment towards Mr Matthews pervaded the community. All the annatours and patrons of the drama, critics, literati, and many who editors of the city, we believe, were presents: Many who observed Mr. M.'s little table and chair and screen before the drop curtain, and who had never seen him perform, could not explain what it meant. At length the curtain rose, and hir M. entered from the left of the stage, or right of the audience. A most tremendous shout greeted him, and the plaudits, and clapping, and stamping, and obsering, and the plaudits, and clapping, and stamping, and choering, and throwing up of hat in the pit, drowned every thing for come seconds. Not a solitary him was heard. Mr Matthews placing himself behind his table, continued howing and howing, deeply affected. Silence being obtained, he addressed the audience from where he stood, in a sprain-of pure cloquence. He sincerely thanked them for their warm and generous reception of him. It was the most momentous event of his life. On their approbation his whole inappiness rested. This might be looked upon as the most critical and important of his existence. For it whole isappiness rested. This neight be tooked upon as the most critical and important of his existence. For it was but a few hours before he learned he was to be driven from the stage for having held the Americansup to ridicula. It was falses. Whatever he had said or represented of them, contained sothing he was schanged of, or that they would condemn—nothing in which he had aparten dure spoutfully of them either nationally or individually. It had never been published, except in false and garbled extracts. Its knew they would not condemn him without a trial; he had come 3000 miles expressly to prove to his friends in England, that the good opinion he entertained of we was had come 3000 miles expressly to prove to his friends in England, that the good opinion he entertained of u. was not underserved, and that we did at the believe that he wan capable of treating them a ith ingratitude. Was it passible, if he was guilty, that he would have thus come here to face them? No. I am not setling now, asid Mr M. with exquisite feeling, which had an electric effect.
