TRYING A PEW.

Some Women Make a Practice of This and Keep It Up. "One of the things we have to contend with," said a trustee of a prominent church, "is the woman who wants to try a pew before renting it."

WASPS IN THE PULPIT.

Nest of the Fiery Insects Made in the Minister's Pocket. A well-known Pittsburgh preacher tells an amusing incident of his early career, when he was serving a country church. The time was midsummer.

DOGS AT KNIGHTS' FEET.

Why the Symbol is a Far-Reaching One. I noticed in one of the newspapers that the king of Siam, during his "jubilee" visit to this country, went to Westminster abbey and that, wearing there the figure of some knight with his dog at his feet, informed his suite that in England "favorite dogs were buried with their masters," says the Words. "It was a pity, no one corrected his majesty, for we may depend upon it that our adherence to the abominable custom—so common in less civilized countries, perhaps in Siam itself—of putting to death the favorites of the dead, will pass into Siamese history as a fact. The dog in question was doubtless a greyhound.
