Wiki Loves Monuments is a photo contest for European monuments, organized by Wikimedia this September. Wikimedia is the movement behind Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia - a global collaboration authored by volunteers.

Everyone can enter. Local participants can rediscover the cultural, historical and scientific significance of their neighbourhood.

A successful pilot in 2010 resulted in 12,500 freely licensed photos. These images can be used by anybody for any purpose.

Any support is welcome: from uploading a single image, spreading the word about the contest, to becoming a partner or sponsor.

This September, cultural heritage will be in the spotlight on Wikipedia - from Portugal to Estonia, supported by Europa Nostra.
