DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

On all hands the convention chosen in the convention which is to assemble in this city on the 8th January next, for the purpose of electing a Democratic candidate for the office of Governor. Why stand the Democrats in the attitude of indifference to this party to cooperate with the Democrats of the country? Did all our men and women who voted for the party in the election of 1932, stand in the attitude of indifference to the party in the election of 1934? It is not surprising that the Democrats of this State have been so inactive in the past few years. It is not surprising that the Democrats of this State have been so inactive in the past few years.

The Bank Convention lately assembled at New York, broke up rather unceremoniously, not coming to any determination on the matter for which they had met, and adjourned to meet again in March. It is understood that there was a diversity of opinion regarding the time of resuming cash payments. The New York delegates wishing to stay some day in the city part of February, and those of Philadelphia, Lancaster and other cities, wishing to return to their respective States, and those of the United States Bank, desiring to postpone the day to a more remote period. The delegates appear to have separated amicably, but with a feeling of dissatisfaction towards each other. The Philadelphia delegates, who are New York people of having some ulterior purpose in view, which they highly valued upon the adjournment, are understood to be plotting to return to Philadelphia and to come down upon the banks of the latter city with a mountain of notes, and to exact a high rate of interest, and to demand the return of the bank notes which have long existed between the rival banks of those two great cities, beginning to be disclosed, and the consequence will be the establishment of a national bank, which will be a great benefit to the country.

We learn that an address to the members of the Legislature has been printed in pamphlet form. It was presented to the members of the Legislature at the meeting of the House of Representatives on December 7th. The address was made by the Governor, and was a most interesting and instructive one. It dealt with the state of the State, and the progress of the Government. It was a most excellent address, and one which should be read by every citizen of the State. It was a most excellent address, and one which should be read by every citizen of the State.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. (AP)—The New York State Bank Convention, which was held in New York City on December 7th and 8th, adjourned today. The convention was held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.
