NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 4, 1865.

Pleasants buy their own shoes. Messrs. A. & C. M. Clark, 50 Camp street, New Orleans.

On our second page will be found a list of various advertisements, including:

- Blaffer & Co. Sugar and Coffee.—No establishment of similar character in this city has achieved a higher reputation than that of Messrs. Blaffer & Co., 408 Poydras street, and it is an advertisement placed in this paper which will bear testimony to their high standing in the market.
- Church & Co. Hardware.—Messrs. J. B. Donnelly & Co., 77 Natchez street, advertise 100 bbls heavy mass port from Louisiana, overboard.
- The Rotarian Star.—If a brilliant advertisement of a pamphlet character, the Rotarian Star, which made its first appearance yesterday morning in our journalistic frammant, may claim to be the first of its kind in this city. It is a weekly paper, published by Messrs. J. B. Donnelly & Co., 77 Natchez street. Its object is to give the public a full and complete view of the city, through the aid of the old and familiar habits of a popular journal. It is published in the city office of the Rotarian, 77 Natchez street, and its circulation is the most extensive and commodious of the kind in the city.
- As we have before stated, the Southern Star is the property of Messrs. J. B. Donnelly & Co., 77 Natchez street. It is a weekly paper, published by Messrs. J. B. Donnelly & Co., 77 Natchez street. Its object is to give the public a full and complete view of the city, through the aid of the old and familiar habits of a popular journal. It is published in the city office of the Rotarian, 77 Natchez street, and its circulation is the most extensive and commodious of the kind in the city.
- On Monday, we understand, the new paper will appear as the official journal of the city. Last evening Mr. J. B. Donnelly, in the presence of the agents of the Rotarian, in a meeting held at the office of a professional man which was presided over by the most cordial and enjoyable of the sort, which we have previously reported.

Provisional Governor for Louisiana.—The Southern Star of yesterday, speaking of the Provisional Government for Louisiana, by Mr. E. L. Axtell, who proposes to shape his course in accordance with the principles of the National Conservative Democracy, and to support the general principles of the Rotarian, has made a reply to the above, in which he has expressed his objections to the course of the Rotarian. He says that the Provisional Government is a mere name, and that the only real power is in the hands of the military. He says that the Rotarian is a paper which is published by the same party which is in the hands of the military, and that it is therefore a mere tool of the military.

Arrival of the General Grant.—The General Grant, who has been in the city for some time, is now on his way to the West. He is expected to arrive in New Orleans on the 10th inst. He is a very popular man, and his arrival in this city will be a great event.

Specie for the Government.—The Government has received a large amount of specie from the State Bank. This is a great relief to the Government, and will enable it to meet its obligations more easily.

Notice from the Mayor.—The Mayor has issued a notice to the effect that the city council will meet on the 10th inst. He has also issued a notice to the effect that the city council will meet on the 10th inst.

News via the West.
By the steamer Enterprise we have Western news of the 20th from which we gather the following, which we are obliged to relay for.

Trial of Capt. Wertz.
Washington, August 26.—The West Commission has today heard the testimony of the witness in the case of the late Captain Wertz, who was charged with the murder of Major General Phelps. The witness, a private in the 5th New York Cavalry, testified that he saw Captain Wertz shoot Major General Phelps on the 10th of August, 1864. The witness testified that he saw Captain Wertz shoot Major General Phelps in the back, and that he saw Major General Phelps fall from his horse. The witness testified that he saw Captain Wertz run away from the scene of the murder, and that he saw Captain Wertz hide in the woods near the scene of the murder.
