What Makes 'Sam Bub Jung Do' Martial Arts Unique From Other Martial Arts Schools

(1) A Return To Traditional Martial Arts (Know as 'Mudo')

In this country, many people are confused about martial arts. Some think that martial arts is simple self defense, while others think it is exercise or simply a way to "get in shape". Still others believe that martial arts is a sport or contest. This is unfortunate since traditional martial arts has so much more to offer. 'Sam Bub Jung' Do has developed over centuries and many generations of individuals have dedicated their lives to finding the best and most correct ways of reaching their fullest potential. This knowledge is highly prized in Asia and a school that can teach true traditional martial arts is not common or easy to find.

(2) Training Provided By A Certified Grand Master

Around the world today, there are only a very few dedicated people that have earned the true title of Grand Master. They are incomparable in their martial arts abilities. Grand Master Yoon is one of these special individuals. His training began at a very young age. His teaching began at the age of 21 when he was the Tae Kwon Do instructor in the Korean Army. a position earned through competition.

(3) A Complete Program That Develops Both The Mind And Body

The main emphasis of Traditional Martial Arts training (Mudo) is to develop and strengthen the individual mind and body. 'Sam Bub Jung Do' martial arts combines knowledge, forms and movements that span thousands of years and generations of practitioners to provide a diverse style of martial arts today. The total knowledge of 'Sam Bub Jung Do' combines and teaches all these martial arts together as one.
