First Municipality Council.

The Mayor of the city has convoked an extraordinary meeting of the Council of the First Municipality this evening, at which it will devolve upon the members to select a new Finance Committee. There is a vacancy that has been rendered favorable by the resignation of Messrs. Duncan and Dewees, the two members of the Finance Committee at present in the city. The Chairman of the Committee is now in Washington, on the agency of an immigrant Committee and the other members are in the country. The Mayor has, therefore, a number from which he can select to fill the vacancy. The Committee is expected to return from Washington in a few days, when it will be convoked by the Mayor. These gentlemen are elected to throw on the charge assigned to the Committee of Finance, and to the Council, the responsibility of doing or not doing otherwise, looking like a reflection upon the intelligence of the financial committee, or an acknowledgment that the old Committee misapprehended all the wishes and business capacity existing in the Council. Let others be censured, and on a new Committee of Mr. O'Mooney from the Second, or the new Committee to avail themselves of the financial talents, talent and capacity of the present Council.

We have observed that at the meeting last evening the Council declined to receive the report of the Committee on the Levee, and that any subsequent effect to the Committee's report was to be considered as [illegible] ... Monday by no [illegible] ...
