

Wikipedia Regional Ambassador Application

Name:

Email:

Phone:

Address:

Affiliation with university (please check):

Undergraduate

Class standing at university (e.g. 3rd year, 4th year): _____

Graduate

Staff

Local Resident

University name:

Are you currently, or have you been, a Wikipedia Campus Ambassador or Online Ambassador?

Campus Ambassador

Online Ambassador

For which academic term(s) – e.g. Spring 2011 or Fall 2011?

Which professor(s) did/do you work with, and at what university?

In your own words, briefly describe what you did/do as a Campus or Online Ambassador:

What was the most challenging part of the Campus/Online Ambassador role for you?

Please include your physical location, beginning in January, so we can assign you to an appropriate region. Note: the regions will differ from the current regions listed on our wikis.

Why are you interested in being a Wikipedia Regional Ambassador?

Describe an experience you had leading or coordinating a team (e.g. what exactly did you do? How did you like the experience? What were the biggest challenges you faced and how did you react to them?)

If a professor in your region complained to you that his Campus Ambassador was unresponsive to emails and showing up late to in-class presentations, how would you address this issue?

How do you think a professor can benefit from using Wikipedia as a teaching tool? How can students benefit from completing an assignment involving Wikipedia-editing?

Will you be able to commit approximately 5 hours a week to the Regional Ambassador role, between December 2011 and August 2012?

Would you be willing and able to travel to other locations within your region to meet professors and Ambassadors in person, if the need arises? (being able to do so is not a requirement)

Which other Regional Ambassadors, Campus Ambassadors, Online Ambassadors, professors and/or students can speak to your qualifications?

Please also attach your resume/CV to this application.