ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR
OF HIPPOLYTE BRIEUGNE,
INVENTOR OF THE ANTI-RHEUMATISMA
Tropical Balm.

THIS well known medical science has had no power over the acute pains of the gouty subject which has ever made so many victims all over the earth, and still tears daily so many thousands from their families, relieving them up to the moment of their sufferings. It is useless to recall to our minds the symptoms of this disease—we will leave to us numerous sufferers, the matters to name them to appreciate the value of such a remedy against their return. Such is the effect of the GOUTY ELIXIR, which is the result of the laborious searches of M. Hippolyte Brieugne, a celebrated chemist, discovery of the anti-rheumatismal Tropical Balm, that has had down to this day so great a success. The ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR has certainly no equal for relief to the gout, possesses a power no less great, invariably followed by long and positive cures in the most violent attacks of rheumatism, especially when upon its numerous victims.

The ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR is easy to take, and its taste is in no way disagreeable. It can be taken pure or mixed with two or three spoonfuls of any drink. Its effects are felt after a few hours, whatever may be the intensities of the ill. In twelve hours at most the fierces disappear, and all the symptoms vanish away.
