ELECTION RETURNS.

For President.

First and Third Municipality.

Majority,		174
Rogers,	St. Bernard.	133
Slidell,		34
Majority,		99

Mr. SLIDELL in 75 votes a-head, and Plaquemines to be heard from, which will increase his majority from 150 to 200.

Second District.

Second Municipality.

McMoughton,
White,		5
Labranche,		47
Majority,		42

Gov. White is so far thirty a-head. No opinion of the result in his district can be formed until returns are received from the river parishes.

Livaudais, (l. f.) beats Fortier for the State Senate, 40 votes in Jefferson. The two precincts to be heard from will not probably alter the result, though they will diminish or destroy the locofoco majority for Congress.

By the steamer Gov. Roman, arrived last night from the Balize, we have received the following election returns from the Parish of Plaquemines:—

	ROGERS.	SLIDELL.
Three first precincts,	25	84
Burns' Settlement,	9	42
Balize,	00	180
	34	306
	34	34
Slidell's majority,		272

It is said that the majority for Slidell will exceed 300 when the polls are closed at the Balize, as merely the votes of the first two days are stated above.

☞ We have received by a late arrival from Yucatan two letters—one from Commodore MOORE of the Texian squadron, to Commodore BOYLAN, commander of the Yucatanese gun-boats; and the other from Commodore BOYLAN addressed to the editors of this paper. MOORE'S letter speaks of a correspondence published in the Republican of this city, on the 27th May, relative to the action between the Mexican fleet and the Texian squadron, and alludes to the imputations which it contained upon the conduct and courage of Commodore BOYLAN, as entirely gratuitous and without foundation. He further states that he has taken steps to discover the author of the correspondence published in the Republican, and will embrace an early opportunity of rectifying the many errors contained in that publication. (We have since learned that the writer has been discovered). He is an officer on board the Wharton. He has been suspended.

Commodore BOYLAN'S letter is a detailed vindication of his conduct from the charge of cowardice—a charge, by the way, from which he was long since exonerated in the columns of this paper. He states that the fearlessness of the wind and the rapid sailing of the Texian ship Austin alone, prevented the gun-boats from following Commodore MOORE in the thickest of the fight. The Yucatanese and Texian fleets commenced the action together, and were only prevented from continuing it in company by the same just mentioned. Commodore BOYLAN alludes to the letter of MOORE as further evidence of the truth of his assertions, and points to the history of several late achievements by the Yucatanese flotilla as proofs of the bravery of the officers and their ardor in the fight.

LATE FROM CAMPEACHY.

We are indebted to Capt. Harris who came passenger in the schr. Charlotte, Capt. Best, which left Campeachy on the 24th ult., for the following items of news:

Since the capitulation of the troops who landed at Telchac and the consecration of the Yucatan army at Campeachy, affairs have taken a different aspect, and it is to be feared for the worst for the independence of Campeachy will not be long before it is forced to submit to the terms dictated by the Mexican government. The 16th of May with the Texian fleet off Campeachy and the desertion of his own troops whom he had caused to be entered on board the Texian ships, entirely changed his line of policy; he sent in a flag of truce begging to know what the Governor's terms were. The reply was that the total evacuation of all Mexican territory, including Laguna, otherwise all the troops from the province, including Campeachy, would be marched with him. To this Ampudia assented without requesting the Yucatecos to send him conditions, and the Texian fleet left Campeachy in consequence that commands the beautiful city of Campeachy was abandoned and the troops were embarked as quickly as possible for Vera Cruz. The Yucatecos thinking that the war was all over began to return to their hiding places and the Centralists and others began to repair to the city from all quarters and assumed actually a hostile position in many instances to all strangers, when about 200 more troops arrived and brought in their ranks with them the whole of their own officers. The Texians also hearing the proclamation of their own President always before their eyes, applied to the Governor for terms of settlement, or something on account, as it was the desire of Gen. Moore and Commissioner Morgan to return to Galveston, to the disappointment of the brave Gen. Moore received a letter from Gov. Mexia stating that their tardy appearance on the Coast had been of more injury than beneficial, and the destruction of St. Roman was owing to their want of powder and ball with the Mexican fleet, and hoped that it was quite convenient for Mr. Moore to return no more to the Texian Coast but with the Texian Army, and further, that they had no money, and if they did they could spare none for the Texian fleet. In the meantime report reached Campeachy well founded that the Mexican fleet had left Laguna, and that it was their intention to return and renew the attack on Campeachy. In consequence, the first thing done by the Campeachy-nos was to order their tone and haughty manner to the Texians, but to what purpose when we left we were not able to learn. The ingratitude displayed on the part of the Yucatecos towards brave men can never be passed over in silence. All kinds of reports are circulated to set the population against the Texians—their deliverers! Why, we were not able to say, except with a view of disgusting them and causing them to leave their coast without payment. If the Texians be not capture one or both of the Mexican steamers they have to thank their own president for it. The whole of the English sailors have left the Mexican fleet entering the engineer who received double pay as an inducement to remain. It is reported that the Mexican commander Thos. Martin, offered the few English sailors double pay to remain until the conclusion of the war. The Texian officers and crew of the boat longing to the Montezuma, and Capt Fletcher, were still confined in the Citadel at Merida, although they had been formally demanded by the captain of the British steamer Montezuma, and the remonstrance of Com. Moore with the Yucatan Government, all to no purpose. The Yucatecos had begun repairing the houses within the walls of Campeachy and mechanics are in great request. It was commanded high wages—Com. Moore was preparing for a night attack upon the Mexican steamers. Whether successful or not we will return by way of the Balize to Galveston.

NAVAL.—The U. S. ship of war Ontario went to sea on Tuesday, bound to Pensacola. The following is a list of her officers and crew:—

Mr. Randolph, Esq., Commander.
Lieutenants—James W Cooke, Edmund Jenkins, Wm. A Jones.
Acting Lieutenant—Henry A Wise.
Purser—Andrew D. Crosby.
Acting Master—Justin D Todd.
Assistant Surgeon—J Howard Smith.
Acting Master's Mate—Edmund F Olmstead.
Captain's Clerk—John G Randolph.
Acting Boatswain—Chas. Woodland.
" Gunner—Francis Kirving.
" Carpenter—Joseph Reynolds.
Purser's Steward—Chas. B Sterling.
The crew consists of 30 petty officers, 61 seamen, 57 ordinary seamen, 30 landsmen and 11 boys.
Marines—2 Sergeants, 2 Corporals and 11 Privates.

ATTEMPT AT MURDER.—The Baton Rouge Gazette of Saturday says:—"A negro girl belonging to Mr. Markham of this place, made a violent assault on her mistress last Sunday. From the too lenient treatment of her kind mistress, the girl had become insufferably insolent, and on being threatened with punishment seized a carving-knife, rushed on Mrs. Markham, and inflicted on her face and forehead two or three deep gashes. The entrance of Mr. M. during this scene, probably saved the life of his lady. The girl was taken to jail, was tried on Wednesday and condemned to be hung on Friday, the 14th instant."

MAINE.—The Democratic Convention have nominated Hugh J. Anderson for Governor. They also passed resolutions in favor of Mr. Van Buren for next President, by a vote of 144 to 74. Delegates to the Baltimore Convention, which is to be held in May 1844, were appointed.

THE BOSTON OUTRAGE.—W. G. Glover, who made the outrageous assault upon Miss E. R. Austin, has been sent for eighteen months to the penitentiary. A light sentence, considering the enormity of the crime he meditated.

DETERMINED SUICIDE.—A man in New York named John Patterson, a Scotchman, attempted a few days ago to strangle himself with a pocket handkerchief. Being prevented, he secreted himself and took an opportunity of bleeding his brains out with a shot gun.

THOMAS W. DORR Esq., it is said, is about returning to Providence, and resuming the practice of the law.—Whether the authorities will allow him perfect impunity for his high offences, remains to be seen.

DEBRIT J. BARKER, Esq., has undertaken the editorial charge of the Vicksburg Sentinel.

A PUBLIC MEETING has been held in Vicksburg by the friends of Dr. HARAN, and resolutions were adopted for the purpose of erecting a monument to his memory

NEW WORKS.

We are indebted to Messrs. NORMAN, STEEL & Co. for the following new works. They are all from the press of HARPER and BROTHERS:

The Home or Family Cares and Family Joys by Frederica Bremer. We have already spoken of this fascinating romance. It abounds in passages of exquisite truth and pathos, and is full of interest.

Shakspeare's Dramatic Works Nos. 4, 5 and 6, a cheap edition at 25 cents a number. Each number is embellished with several etchings on steel.

Home, or the Iron Rule, by Mrs. Ellis.—We have not read the story, but we can venture to say, it is a work of merit. Mrs. Ellis never wrote any thing that would not repay perusal.

A Journal of Disasters in Afghanistan by Lady Sale.—Every body has heard of Lady Sale's sojourn among the hardy mountaineers of Afghan, who seized and kept her in captivity for some months. The narrative of her adventures and sufferings is deeply interesting.

John Tyler—his history, character and position—with a portrait.—This is an elaborate eulogy of the President of the United States. We commend it to his acquaintance—if he have any.

Alison's History of Europe No. 9.—These admirable volumes need no effort of ours to bring them into notice. They are universally read and are universally popular.

Bentley's Life of Nelson—Family Library No. 8.—This is a clear, concise and graphic biography of the greatest Naval Hero that England ever boasted of.

Dana's Encyclopedia of Science, Literature and Art, Part 11.—As a work of scientific reference, Mr. Brande's book is invaluable. It contains a vast amount of useful information on every conceivable subject of art.

Moore's History of Ireland.—This is an attempt on the part of the great national poet of Erin, to trace the annals of his country from the earliest period to the great expedition against Scotland in 1513. How he has succeeded, we can only know after giving the volume a diligent perusal.

MORGAN, of Exchange Place, has received copies of the Life of John Tyler and of Mrs. Ellis' new novel—"Home or the Iron Rule."

☞ The House of Representatives of New Hampshire have, by a vote of 122 to 90, rejected a proposition to district the State for the choice of members of Congress.

"We who have tears, prepare to shed them now."

The following extract from the Philadelphia Sentinel, a Tyler paper, is about the richest specimen of humbug we recollect to have seen, even in these days of overabounding credulity.—Boston Atlas.

PRESIDENT TYLER.—We are sorry to learn, that the President has been greatly fatigued by his journey. He is the recipient of more of freemen that have every where paid the honor due to the Chief Magistrate of the people, at every village, town and city, and the enthusiasm of the strongest constitution. If our memory serves correctly, Gen. Jackson became so exhausted in the course of his tour to the east, that he returned to Washington, without extending his journey as far as he had originally contemplated.

INTERESTING INCIDENT.—A Carrier Pigeon alighted at the house of the Hon. Wm. H. Burrell in Gansaga, on Monday afternoon, giving signs of hunger and fatigue. And as the wife of the Hon. gentleman traveller-ess drew away, she brought out some wheat to his favorite, which is very sparingly use from his hands. While in the act of feeding, its legs were noticed to be wrapt with paper; and on removing the bandages they were found to contain Mr. Webster's Speech, delivered on Saturday at the Bunker Hill celebration, written on tissue paper. The reader can judge of the pleasure of reading the speech while the bird was satisfying its hunger and regaining its strength, and then replacing the tissue bands on the faithful sixty messenger, it took a rapid flight to the west, and no doubt found its way to the owner.—Litchfield Enquirer.

HEAVY ACCIDENT.—An encounter took place last night between Henry Ritter of this parish and a person named Wm. Finn, lately a stevedore in the bay. The difficulty originated, as we understood, about a debt due Ritter by Finn's brother-in-law, Michael Byrne, and the latter was engaged in the affair. Weapons were found to strike Ritter with his hand and the latter was seen to strike back with a bowie knife. Finn's throat was severely cut, and his wounds horrible; he was supposed to be dying. Ritter is surrendered himself to the city officers, and was immediately taken to prison. Further particulars we could not learn. The affray occurred between nine and ten o'clock.

Since the above was written, Finn has died.
[Mobile Advertiser.

DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT.—To-day, about noon, a man named Michael Myers was employed in removing some furniture in a cart belonging to him. The horse took fright on Jackson avenue street, and threw him on the pavement, where he lay, belonging to his cart, when the falling of the cart, the horse was caught in the reins, which he still held in his hands, and the horse gave him a kick in the face, and one of the wheels went over his body. The unfortunate man died almost immediately.—Courier of last Evening.

SPECULATIONS AS TO THE CABINET.—The American is of opinion that Mr. UPSHUR will be a little while enjoy double pay as Secretary of the Navy, and Secretary of State,—that then he will become permanently Secretary of State, and that the Navy Department will be filled by a new appointment. The New England papers have no opinion as to the Attorney-Generalship.

Rumor in Philadelphia says, that the Navy Department has been tendered to Captain Robert F. Stockton, of the United States Navy.

MR. WEBSTER.—Rumors are rife, that the late Secretary of State will take an early opportunity to show himself to the Whig candidate, Mr. Briggs, to be Governor of Massachusetts, and exert his influence in his behalf.
