THE LITTLE BOOK of the SEVEN THUNDERS

(Rev.4: 5,10:2-4,Rom.1: 20)

As was revealed to Paul and John the apostle. A manual for mastering the Doctrine of the Holy Spirit, the laws of Ecstasy, Immortality, and Obedience to God after the tradition of the

HIGH PRIESTHOOD OF THE ORDER OF MELCHIZEDEK

(Heb.5: 6,5: 10,7: 1-4, Rev.20: 6)

Of which King Jesus, the apostles John and Paul and the prophets Isaiah and Elijah were members.

1. Explaining The Principles of Perfection (Heb 6: 1-6)
2. How to operate The Oracle of God by which all things may be known (Heb.5: 12)
3. An end to The Mystery of the Power of God (Eph.3: 9)
4. The Anatomic Structure of the Creature called Existence (Act 17:27-28)
5. The Electronic Schematic Diagram of the Brain and the Divine Vessel (Heb.5: 14)
6. Of the End of Babylonia (Rev.18)

I acknowledge that God is the source of all things. By His grace alone I have been able to refine and define the formula of universal peace and prosperity. I acknowledge that I am a product of the finest aspects of my mother and father. They, being descendent of God, all glory to God. I acknowledge the power of the wisdom bestowed upon me from wise men of the past and present, through the teachings of contemporary mentors, educators, role models, and the support of good God-filled supporters; all of whom move according to the dictations of God. Therefore it is God only who deserves credit for the fruits of my labors.

...Therefore, leaving the [elementary] principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto the principles of perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment. And this we will do, now, if God permit.

Introduction

The Little Book of the Seven Thunders is a time sensitive document designed to make the Oracle of God available to the whole world. The Oracle of God is Gods brain, his flesh, and soul. According to the bible Babylonia (which refers to the current broken economic/political/spiritual state of today's society) will not fall until the Oracle of God is the ideal (idol) worshipped in the minds if all people; the guide to the actions of their hearts.

The Little Book of the Seven Thunders is prophesied throughout the bible. In all these instances the information of the seven thunders is accompanied by a warning to the recipient (Jesus, Paul, John, so on) not to divulge the information to the public in its totality but to keep it in their hearts and to use it as a guide to teach people about the universal principles of ecstasy, immortality, and obedience to God. In the book of Revelations it is specifically commanded for John not to write down the knowledge "of the voices of the seven thunders which he did hear" but only that he should eat the "little book" containing the knowledge thereof and warned that the information would be "sweet on his tongue but bitter in his belly". Priest of the order of Melchizedek in former times were restricted as to how much of truth they could teach mankind because society was not yet mature enough to stomach the whole truth. The responsibility put upon priest to know the beauty and comfort of the truth, of the power of the mechanics of God, but be forced to withhold it from the public until this present age (according to the prophecies of the bible) is the reason John was warned it would be sweet on his tongue yet bitter in his belly.

I, Tamara Runile have been blessed by God to be a cog in his great plan for worldwide perfection in that he has given me the exact history, and abilities, and propensities, and motivation to be able to now present The Little Book of the Seven Thunders at the appointed time so that the most people will receive its benefit. The Little Book of the Seven Thunders was originally published under the title of III Booklets. This was before I was interested in having anything to do with the bible because during my life I have been disillusioned by those that taught it, how they didst teach, and of those narrow parts of the bible they chose to teach. It wasn't until after I had published the discovery of the Oracle of God (as the discovery I called the Barometer of truth) that I learned by the grace of God that my discovery was that which was referred to in the bible as the seven thunders.

Although my name was not originally Tamara Runile I have taken this name as to commemorate to myself that I am no longer the person I was born but the person I was changed into as a result of mastering and applying the principles of the Oracle of God to every aspect of my existence.

The information contained in The Little Book of the Seven Thunders is the God sent cure for the dire need of the people for the comfort of truth. Truth is that which is required to cause all the people of earth to blossom into their true mature selves and bring about the kingdom of God on earth. The data presented is arranged to chronologically show the inner workings of my mind relative the information I discovered. For instance the 1st rebellion in my mind led to the information and advancements contained in the 3rd booklet, therefore the 1st rebellion is located immediately before the 3rd booklet.

The High Priesthood of Melchizedek

The priesthood of Melchizedek refers to those individuals chosen by god to enlighten the public the way God has enlightened them. A priest of this type does not choose to be a priest but is chosen by god. Melchizedekadian priest have free wills to do what they please, but the free will they possess is the will of god; all being of one will.

The priesthood is designed to be a temporary institution. The chosen priests are for the purpose of leading the people into the new age, when the kingdom of God is established on earth, when priest will no longer be needed to intercede for the public and the laws of his ways will be written on every heart and mind.

I refer to the priesthood in the title as the high priesthood because there is nothing superior to a priest of the order of Melchizedek short of god. Repeatedly it is said in the bible that god will exalt those who master his ways like unto kings and priest over all the earth. Jesus of Nazareth, Paul, and John the apostle are among those who qualify as king priests according to the biblical criteria.

Duties

1. To lead by example. Strict adherence to the ideal of the oracle and each individual element.
2. To live according to the exact reality of reality. To be conscious of ones immortality and intimate familial relationship with every particle of gods body and conscious of all it's mechanism.
3. To exert oneself toward the education of all people on earth and elsewhere in the course of fulfilling the prophecy of the coming of the kingdom of God when all people will have the laws of God written on their hearts and minds.
4. To continuously praise God.

Authority

1. Due to the priest's strict adherence to divine law they exist continuously under the protection of the two-edged sword. Any harm attempted against them shall automatically befall the enemy aggressor. Any good deed done by a priest will be emulated a thousand fold in the fabric of nature.
2. A priest is privileged to receive direct counsel from god. It is not that the public is not so privileged, only that the priest having his senses well exercised in the discernment of good and evil and the principles of perfection, has an inner voice that is matured and therefore almost as purely God as God himself. The brains of the less exercised will tell the possessor whatever they want to hear. That which they hear will be contaminated by what they don't know or, hearing the pure voice of god, know not what they hear to be pure.

3. The priest has command over all of Gods creation according to those parameters listed in the bible such as the moving of mountains and the parting of the sea and the manipulation of storms and droughts.

Who is Melchizedek?

The title King of Peace and Righteousness and Truth is a generic term that applies to anyone who achieves proficiency at using the seven thunders to reason and therefore exist according to the laws of god. The first mention in the bible of such a king was one by the name of Melchizedek. The bible is the reservoir of the highest technology in God's universe. This fact is provable by using the seven thunders for calculation. In the book of Genesis, Melchizedek is said to have received tithes of Abraham once when the latter was returning home with spoils of war and that Melchizedek was one who had neither beginning nor end, neither parents nor descent. Scholars have almost as many opinions about who Melchizedek was as there are scholars. However, by using divine calculation I can tell you exactly who Melchizedek was.

Enlightenment has it's terms and conditions. One such condition is an ever-increasing closeness to God the more we grow and learn the divine arts. That Melchizedek bore the same royal title as Jesus of Nazareth is indicative of this point. His immortality and lack of specific familial relationship (other than to God) are also standard conditions of enlightenment.

Since Melchizedek was the only one of his kind specifically mentioned in the Old Testament it is consistent that in the book of Hebrews, Jesus is called a high priest after the tradition of Melchizedek.

Aphilosis and Philosis

Aphilosis is the term that will be used throughout this book to indicate the one-way nature of existence. In this universe everything flows in the same direction and acts according to the same divine laws. The term philosis or philosophy indicates the sin of sectarianism and the belief that there is more than one policy at work in this universe. Aphilosis can be likened to a world that is only one color; if everything is green than the perception of other colors is merely illusion, a sign of ignorance; if we live in an all-perfect world then the perception of imperfection is erroneous.

The Principles of Perfection

The principles of perfection such as were taught to the apostles of Jesus and shown unto Paul and expounded upon in the book of Hebrews are inseparable from the Oracle itself and are derived directly from calculations using the Oracle. Much, much more information regarding each principle will be found throughout this text.

1. Feminine Divinity and Supremacy: the concept of female is synonymous with that which is divine and continuously functioning at optimum capacity. Where you find women in the bible committing transgressions against the law, there you will also find the underlying message of the failure of men to properly lead them. The strength, beauty, and wisdom of women, like the cycles of the sun and moon, the rains and the harvests, are for the benefit of man. But like the manifestation of fire (the 3rd element) or creation as some would call it, women show both the effects of proper treatment and improper just as surely as the environment suffers and betrays the effects of mismanagement by man within the age of Babylonia. I believe the divinity of females indicates that our god is more a “mother god” than a father god. Anything that can be said ill of any one woman was taught to her by male dominated society. Fetal (immature) matter can be subdivided into the ceremonial class (females) and the exercise class (males). Females preside over a monthly mandatory blood sacrifice for each month they are fertile and are not with child. This sacrifice is the highest degree of the divine blood oath. The complete ceremony includes menstruation, reproduction, childcare, and post copulation consumption of males (to maintain genetic integrity through diversity. Females are a vital element of God’s immortality. Women are designed to produce enough children at a specific male/female ratio to overcome the natural recycling process (“death”). The pain of menstruation is the automated mechanism designed to motivate the reproduction process in concert with other biologic systems. Females who are not born to menstruate or bare children or to fancy men are not in violation of the tenants of the ceremonial class. They are products of the law of diversity among species. The more aphiosophically mature we become the more varieties of beauty will be produced the way a highly cultivated flower will produce divers new strains or the way foxes when domesticated produce the same coat variations found in domesticated cats. Males are the warrior or exercise class. The duty of the warrior class is to master the laws of progress/growth/education toward the ultimate result of permanently defeating ignorance. Ignorance is the resistance (electronically speaking) we are all born into. Exercise is it's natural cure. Males are designed to provide that exercise and leadership of the species. Education and leadership is the duty of males. Most females are biologically devoted to the rites of sacrifice and abundance. The duties of the ceremonial class are autonomic, involuntary. The duties of the exercise class are to some degree voluntary.

2. Immortality & Lifespans: everything within the body of god is 100% recyclable even producing in excess of that which is sown. The idea of human death is a result of natural immaturity in young gods. In the igneous universe the following things are mortal: war, jealousy, anger, rape, hate, mourning, despair, murder, suicide, working for money, environmental destruction, prejudice, nightmares, extinction, loneliness, and theft. War is the inferior philosophic degrees of pure competition. Competition is the same as exercise in this universe and is designed for and can only produce progress or the necessary elements of progress-advancement and growth. Until this point in history wars were waged to secure the essentials of society. Scarcity is mathematically nonexistent but responsible management of unlimited abundance is impossible by a philosophic (immature) society. When society becomes aphilosophic war and its aftermath, hunger, will disappear. Jealousy is upgraded to pride in the mature brain. Jealousy is what is felt when we accept the falsehood that all things are not cooperatively a part of the body of God. Likewise anger and hate lose their identities beneath proper policies of unity. Mourning and despair are dependent on the illusion of death and loss. Death can mathematically be proven nonexistent. In this universe all parts and particles are recyclable and recycled. Suicide, murder, rape, and prejudice occur from ignorance of the collective anatomy. So also from this ignorance proceeds the concept of theft and working for money. Within the anatomic structure of God, jealousy between two people is as reasonable as jealousy between a proton and an electron or a planet and it's moons. Every achievement made by an individual is to the credit of every person who has ever lived, every life form, and to God herself. Theft and rape is taking from yourself just as giving to others is giving to yourself. Raping someone is no less destructive in terms of convenience (efficiency) than raping and ruining our planet. Both acts result in the technical desolation of the racist, thief, or murderer. Aphilosophic beings are as genetically programmed to overcome acts of evil, as existence is helpless to obey the power of the oracle of God. Every time we detect injustice or evil or inefficiency we naturally react as a collective to eliminate the offending element.

3. Ecstasy: all things are composed of pleasure or ecstasy just as surely they are composed of fire and love (the 3 stages of the 1st element). On the scale of ecstasy the highest degree before maximum ecstasy leads to maximum, ecstasy and the lowest degree (suffering) if exceeded also leads to ecstasy (i.e. the ignorance of bliss, or unconsciousness caused by physical or emotional trauma. All degrees of sensation are degrees of ecstasy and fire and love.
4. Growth Cycle (see 3 Substances) There is 3 stages to anything inside the body of God: the elemental, fetal, and traditional stage. The traditional stage is the perfection of the mind of God. The fetal stage represents the children of God, that which is designed to achieve perfection. The elemental state applies to any other part of Gods body. The elemental accounts for the fabric of our bodies and gods body not including the fetus (mankind) in the same way a skin cell is not an embryo yet through manipulation by man can be made to produce a clone or offspring just as it is said that woman was created from a rib of a man.
5. There are 21 elements and seven spheres to the Oracle of God (see seven thunders) by which all things may be discerned according to the will of God.
6. The Doctrine of Holy Spirits is that all degree of sympathy and propensity that exist, exist inside the mind of God. Wheresoever in the bible an angel, spirit, ideal, or idol of any kind (of mercy, rebellion, charity, the seven churches, the holy spirit, etc.) is mentioned a facet of the nature of God, the All in All, is implied. The term spirit applies to every inspired piece of music or artwork. If two people were to produce the exact same piece of art they would have been under the same spirit just as two jealous people are under control of the same spirit. The relation of spirits to the thinking of God has it's equivalent in the minds of men (as it is above so also below). The human brain has the ability to harness its power to produce personalities from the inherent facets of the subconscious mind and use them (program them) to aid in maximizing the capacity of the individuals brain. The following chart list the 21 categories (each corresponding to one of the 21 elements of the oracle) of spirits that must be understood before receiving official mastery of all spirits (as opposed to the primitive mastery of only some spirits, the holy spirit included).

Classification Of Spirits

20. Male	----- Ecstasy -----	21. Death (asexual)
17. Literature	----- Learning disablers -----	18. Idols
14. Dreams	----- Divinity -----	15. Emotion
11. Pyrotramatons (Angels)	----- Education -----	12. Art
8. Ancestral	----- Fetal -----	9. Evil Spirits
5. Descendants	-- Elemental --	6. Social Groups
----- Traditional -----
2. Holy Spirit 3. Son (Environ mental) (Sentim ental)
1. God (Fundam ental)
4. Rebellion
7. Familiars
10. Music
13. Ideals
16. Competition
19. Female

7. Pyrotronics (see The Pyrotronic Schematic of the Brain and Divine Vessel): understanding that the brain and soul operate according to the same laws as fire itself is essential to controlling your brain. It and our essence (of which the brain is a product) is the only conduit we have between God and us.
8. Regency: all people born before the advent of the kingdom of God is born into Babylonia (fetal society on other planets would be known by the name of some prominent fetal era kingdom of that planet) develop Babylonian or demonic regents in place of their true personalities during normal growth. Overcoming the regent is what being born again means. Jesus shed his demonic regent on the cross, however, the stain of his regency was the need for the New Testament, and was shed when he died as that sacrifice of blood that is required to put any testament into effect.
9. Divine Obedience is the core of what is called the principle of aphiosis. To achieve divine obedience one must first accept and apply the fact that all things in this universe work according to one divine set of laws and all things flow in one direction; forward toward growth, and perfection, abundance, education, satisfaction, etc. Aphiosis is the condition present when no other conditions are possible. Aphiosis is the perfection of God's universe. God is either the author of the perfection of aphiosis, its child (and we its grandchildren), the caretaker of aphiosis, its student, or all of the above.
10. The following is an incomplete list of the facets of fire according to the Oracle of God: luminosity, degrees, potential, circumference, force, peace, adaptation, growth, distance, magnetism, immortality, ambition, lust, data, radiation, convection, conduction, perfection, balance, depth (variety), unity.
11. Poison: there is nothing in this universe that is inherently poisonous. It is not what goes into us but what comes out that defiles us.
12. Lesser Lights. The Oracle is the mathematic formula by which all things are known. In addition to the 21 elements of the Oracle all things can be ordered according to the 3pt. System. For educational purposes a number of these lesser formulas will be included after the section seven thunders.

Mastery of the Two-edged Sword

The two-edged sword mentioned in the bible is a reference to the aphiosophic (unipolitical) nature of Gods universe. All things occur toward the benefit of all. Just as the ignorance of society causes regular acts of violence so also the resulting suffering of inefficiency and inconvenience teaches us the immaturity of it and of our need to out grow the thing.

The two-edged nature of truth also applies to acts of goodness and love. Anything that is good for anyone should to some degree benefit everyone. Anything worth doing will mathematically bear witness to its own propriety. For example poisoning (mismanaging) the environment with diverse pollutants causes a domino effect of damage to everything in our biosphere to some degree, eventually. Where as acts of love and charity beget love and charity- charity is the mathematic bases for scientific fact that the collective particles of this universe produce more than the sum of their parts; Gods principles and mechanisms of his body are the source off all things.

Whatsoever we teach our children wrong will ultimately bite us. While all the good things we teach them benefits not only the parent but also all future generations. The two-edge principle regarding education is painfully apparent when we examine the nature of media information injected into all minds on earth and the resulting exploration of depravity now widespread, retards not only peoples spiritual growth but is a critical reason why Babylonia will eventually fall, since she will be consumed by the miscreants she rears and the false policies they are loyal to.

Doing unto others as you would have done unto you is the key to expertly wielding the two-edged sword. Doing otherwise makes you a victim of the sword.

The fall of Babylonia

The term “Babylon” refers to the antiquated and decadent world society currently setting policy for all peoples. The term nonsensical is misleading and should be understood to mean immature. The first 6,000 years of our planetary civilization constitutes our mandatory period of the maturation process. This immaturity must be outgrown. When we do grow out of this stage we will find ourselves in the early stages of what the prophets call the kingdom of God.

Babylonia has its own rules and regulations amounting to its suicidal nature. The main characteristic of Babylonian culture is the belief in death. Death is nonexistent yet within these shores the people are encouraged to plan for death, are fed tales of death daily from all information sources, are taught to be fascinated by death, to fear (worship), to perceive destruction though no destruction exist. Societies loyalty to the belief in death is what makes us vulnerable to false standard of wealth and worth.

In all the money and valuables in the world there is not enough to actually equal the value of one single fingernail. Hence all suffering can easily be seen as a result of ignorance of the perfect value system of God. Our suffering and devaluing of human life generation after generation is unnatural and hard on the hearts and minds of the people. Therefore it is necessary for a particular system to be in place that allows us to endure this age of “iniquity”. That system is the system of Babylonian regents.

The Babylonian regent is the technical term that refers to the opposite of being “born again” in the wisdom of God. All people born on earth before the establishment of the kingdom of God during mankind’s infancy is by definition controlled by a Babylonian or demonic regent. Historically a regent is one who rules on behalf of an underage emperor or king who cannot yet properly conduct the affairs of their own kingdom. A regent is sworn to protect all of the young rulers interest: to provide for his education, safety, and protect his political power until they come of age. Likewise the Babylonian regent is that personality found in everyone, designed by God to weather the storm of living in the illusion of an imperfect world ignorant the totalitarian nature of Gods greatness.

By applying the knowledge of the Oracle to ones life you easily increase your brains capacity by 6000% because it is how your brain should work. The 12% average brain functionality really means that only 3% of every thought going through your mind is actually yours. The rest is the thought process of your regent. Babylonian regents are stronger than “sin”. They can adapt to unlimited degrees of depravity and ignorance while giving the individual and society time to overcome our infancy (the fetal stage). The strength and durability of our regent cuts according to the principles of the two-edged sword in that they can endure the suffering of an ungodly world but also are difficult to unseat. In fact the only thing strong enough to unseat a regent is pure truth, the pure knowledge of God. For this reason the seven thunders is the mathematic cure for the suffering of evil, and will ultimately leave Babylon and our Babylonian regents as ashes. Revelations chapter 18 clearly illustrates how knowledge of the inefficiency of the Babylonian system of economy and government will be its doom, the cause of worldwide rebellion against ungodliness (war, waste, belief in evil, so on).

Runelean Test for Divine Accuracy

These test are the test that will allow all doubt to be eliminated from your mind regarding the efficacy of the power of the Oracle of God and make it impossible for the princes of Babylonia to reject truth or hide it from the children.

1. The first test is a point-by-point examination of each of the 21 elements of the Oracle. Each element contains the blueprint of all 21 elements. Any single element when mastered automatically gives up the secret of all other elements the same way any one cell of the body contains the DNA needed to reproduce the individual (fundamentally).
2. The second test is the actual operation of the Oracle and its mathematically infallible calculations.
3. The third is the application of the principles of the Oracle to the problems of society; where it can be proved that pure divine knowledge is good for our bodies and therefore the application of the principles can be felt in your brain, your soul as well as the fabric of your environmental.
4. By upgrading and substituting our current public policies with divine policy, the veracity of Gods policies can be proven to be instantaneously applicable to all areas of life.
5. The fifth test is an examination of the method by which I came to be born again which shall be relayed in the next section

The History of War Scholar Tamara Runile

It was nearly summertime when he discovered the 3 archprinciples. It was the middle of winter when he extended the formula to the 9 pt. Barometer of truth. By the end of the winter he'd written his annotated version of III Booklets that explained his formula of divine truth. He was sure that he had done enough now to go to heaven when he died. It was time for him to take a break. In history no man had ever defined truth so clearly that the entire world would be able to understand it, and unable to deny it. His duty to god, mother, country, mankind, and all the civilizations in Gods universes, had been fulfilled in one super efficient stroke. What he needed now was to put his information in the right hands: the professors at the universities, the preachers and ministers of quality, and those visionary entrepreneurs so often celebrated for their ability to know profitability when they see it. He would rest.

Tamara Runile was now 33. He had spent 20 years of his life searching for the truth. Now that he had it in his hands he was eager to get the burden off his back. He was excited to that his family would finally see exactly what he'd been up to all these years. He was elated to be so close to fulfilling his promises of unlimited compensation to those people who had believed in him and supported him. He pledged to have sponsors and a staff of able administrators assembled by the end of the December. It was enroute to this goal when Runile first became aware of the "Babylonian trance". Whenever he approached someone with his plans of worldwide education, without fail, they would fall into a blank faced trance. Offering mathematic proof of his discoveries, they wouldn't listen. When the book was given to them, they refused to read it.

The entire world is ruled by the Babylonian mentality. Everyone approached reacted the same. The zeal with which people clung to their ignorance was a shock to Runiles expectations. For a brief moment the thought arose "for all the good he had done for society, perhaps his efforts might yet come to nothing". Regarding the man Tamara Runile used to be, this self-doubt was the first step toward his annihilation. There were those who had been watching what Runile was planning, and could see he was soon to meet with failure.

Early in the Fall Runile found his brain overwhelmed with the responsibility of possessing the solution to human suffering. Unable to find any reliable help with his task due to the Babylonianism, he had been forced to attempt simultaneously being scientist, writer, editor, preacher, teacher, fundraiser, and publicist. To take the pressure off Runile devised a plan to apply the principles of the Oracle to the operations of his brain. To increase his own brain capacity he planned to create independent minds within his own brain- a counsel of internal advisors- each with their own point of views, thoughts, and talents. He created these intelligences out the fabric of his dreams then programmed all eight to think independently and to devote all their brainpower toward any problem that crossed Runiles' mind. This counsel of internal advisors had proven invaluable in helping him perfect the 9 pt. barometer of truth and the completion of his abbreviated version of III Booklets.

Booklet I

(The 1st Thunder: The Traditional Sphere)

There are three archprinciples responsible for the structure of existence. These 3 combine to produce 9 other sub principles. These 12 principles are the foundation for all the information in the first 2 Booklets. Understanding the function of each principle becomes the individual's barometer of truth.

Aphilosis or aphilosophy is the term that will be used to describe that which can be mathematically proven to be the standard condition within our universe. It is the condition of all things composed of fire and obedient to one specific set of mathemechanical laws. Philosis or philosophy is the term that will be used when referring to mans natural immaturity of the laws of God. Philosis is the belief in degrees or variations of truth, opposing forces in any given universe, and genetic differences between particles and substances.

The Barometer of Truth, its discovery and implementation, is as natural an event as the education of a child. The barometer will elevate our society from myth to reality by replacing old school faith with functional provable mathemechanical knowledge of the dependence of all things on the totalitarian nature and the magnificence and goodness of God. Mathematical understanding of the 3 archprinciples will take mankind to the next level of existence. The 3 archprinciples are the key by which the aphilosis of reality is easily explained.

The first archprinciple is fire. Fire is the substance all things are made of. Because fire and time are inseparably linked as facets of fire they both cycle forward only. The theoretic temperature called absolute zero cannot be achieved in our universe because things made of fire can be made to move slowly but never be made to stop [burning] (removed from the normal cycle of combustion) which would be needed to achieve absolute lack of fire, loss of energy, cessation of motion. The cycle of combustion (existence) is divisible to 3 interchangeable components: fuel, ignition, and corona (potential). Our universe is a particle universe. Subatomic particles (protons, electrons, neutrons) are the particle manifestation of fire. When an atomic reactor liquidates atoms into pure energy, pure fire is what is being released.

The manifestation of fire is the second archprinciple. The manifestation is equivalent to the sum total of all particles of our universe and others. Our universe may ultimately be proven to be the center of existence but it is more likely ordered according to the similitude of a solar system composed of many planets, in this instance, universes. The manifestation is everything and anything encompassed within the manifestation of fire is measurable. Accurately measuring the elements of existence is possible only through accurate perception.

Perception of the manifestation of fire and of the principles of fire is the third archprinciple. Man is designed to grow from near total ignorance of aphilosis to total mastery and appreciation of it. The formulaic design of the 3 archprinciples is dependent on perception/perspective to fulfill the balance of aphilosis. If imperfect perception were not designed to become, through growth, perfectly sufficient to fully comprehend and appreciate aphilosis, the formulaic structure of aphilosis would be incomplete and nonsensical.

Fire, manifestation, and perception can be equated to foundation (platform), form, and appreciation (understanding) of form; especially if you allow for the existence of other universes and realities that are not fire based. This is the formulaic structure of the 3 archprinciples:

$$\begin{aligned} \mathcal{F} &= \mathcal{M} \times \mathcal{P} \\ \mathcal{M} &= \mathcal{F} \div \mathcal{P} \\ \mathcal{P} &= \mathcal{F} \div \mathcal{M} \end{aligned}$$

It is only possible to understand fire if we proportionately apply (multiply) our perspective by the manifestation. Likewise the manifestation will not make sense to our brains until we rationally apply (divide) our perception by the mathemechanical fact that all things are aphilosophic.

Because God is all, the study of anything is the study of some part of Gods body. All aphilosophically provable mathematic principles descend from and are dependent on the 3 archprinciples. For the first example of this fact, a lesson in geometry. The formula for calculating circumference (the distance around a circle) is $C=D \times 3.14$. Diameter is the length of a straight line through the center of any circle. A line through the center is the geometric manifestation of the perfect balance characteristic of the aphilosophic universe. Perfect circles, spheres, ellipses, etc. are indicative of the continuous completeness maintained within the body of God. Circles, zygotes, tornadoes, hurricanes, eyes, planets, galaxies, karma, etc. are fundamentally circular, spherical, elliptical, so on. Pi is a Greek letter used to represent the numeric value 3.14. This is the standard ratio of any circle to its diameter the same way the 3 archprinciples are the standard ratio of fire to the manifestation. Radius is equivalent to one half the diameter. This line terminates at a point exactly at the center of the circle. The center is geometrically and spiritually the perfect point of view from within or without any circle. From this vantage a circle looks like a circle in that all lines from here to the perimeter are equidistant. Spiritually the center represents mankind, the perimeter-the outer extremities of Gods body. This will be further explained in the section called Anatomics.

The voltage of an electric charge within a direct circuit is a facet of the fundamental fire, being located in the fire third of the 3 pt. equation. Voltage, like the other known facets of fire, is also a combination of other facets. The power and motive force of the current, direction and fuel toward maximum output. Amperes are the measurable manifestation of the current in reality in the same way our universe is the manifestation of fire in our reality. Because our universe is a particle universe all electrical motion must be conducted through particles of fire by particles of fire. Conduction causes energy loss along the particles' path such as a copper wire. Resistance in an electrical circuit is measured in ohms and occupies the perspective third of the 3 pt. equation signifying the electrical perspective standard in our universe. For example 10 volts of current traveling through 1 inch of copper wire will encounter the resistance to that amount of copper wire anywhere in our universe.

The Formula for calculating speed also conforms to the 3 archprinciples. Distance is the field or platform of motion just as circumference was the platform for measuring distance around a circle. The standard by which distance and speed are dependent is time. Time is located in the perspective third of the equation and is directly equitable to mankind's need to master accurate perception before it is possible to understand our environment (the manifestation) and the fire of which all things are composed and powered by.

The formula for measuring mass/energy conversion tells how much pure energy (fire) is released from one atom. Energy is in the fire's place of the equation. The mass/energy matrix of an atom not only occupies the manifestation spot of the equation- it is synonymous with the manifestation of fire. All the mass/energy of all the atoms in our universe would equal the manifestation. There is special significance to the speed of light, which when cubed occupies the perspective third of the equation. The speed of light in this universe is the maximum attainable speed. All speeds less than this fall into the manifestation spot of the distance/speed/time equation. The principle of maximums applies to all things.

The maximum of anything in our universe is an automatic gold standard of aphelion or perfection itself. There are 3 stages or states of the cycle of combustion. Mankind currently occupies the only 1 of these three stages wherein it is possible to master all maximums and all perspectives such as the perspective of a plant, a star, animals, etc.. When a human elevates his perspective to the point when they can see the universe as it is, he is raising himself above being merely a part of the manifestation and becomes the eye of the universe, a standard of perception just as inches or seconds. In the same manner maximum speed goes from a manifestation element to a perspective element so also does the child of God master 1 (of 5) types of immortality by aligning his perceptions to reality.

3 Substances- 3 Stages of Lifeforms A Treatise on the 1st 3 Thunders (Spheres)

God is everything. He is made of one single substance-fire. There are 3 stages (states, phases, spheres, etc.) of fire: traditional, fetal, and elemental. There are two practical levels of God: our universe or lesser god and all the features of existence, our greater god. The truest definition of God is the highest attainable ideal or idol within a definite system or theater. The highest ideal in this universe is the maximum balance and efficiency apparent in and characteristic of our universe. Mastering all forms and functions in this universe is the only method of determining our true purpose.

In the aphiosophic universe the traditional phase organism is the apex of growth. The structure of the 3 archprinciples is the view of existence from the perception of a traditional phase lifeform. The 3 archprinciples is the formula by which God and universe sees herself. The traditional organism is the evolutionary acme of fetal matter. The greater and lesser god- existence and universe- are the only 2 examples of traditional class organisms known.

Elemental matter is the building block of fetal and traditional lifeforms. The traditional lifeform views the universe unconsciously through the 3 archprinciples. The elemental form sees the universe in its trifold structure automatically. For instance $volts = amps \times ohms$ is the brain of electricity. Anywhere in this universe electricity will behave exactly the same based upon this formula.

The fetal class is the immature version (child) of the traditional class organism. Immaturity is synonymous with the ability to grow. Growth equates to the decrease of inefficiency. Inefficiency is the actual condition inaccurately defined as evil in the mythologies of fetal humanity.

The 3 stages of existence are not fixed but fluidly interchangeable because all things composed of fire are so empowered.

No matter exist in less than a state of perfection and goodness for it can be mathematically proven all of God is good and perfect. This applies to substances classified as by fetal society as evil, unnatural, supernatural, chaotic, and poison. Man and nature cannot produce things that are not natural because anything produced in the aphiosophic world must be produced aphiosophically, consist of fire, and obey the laws of combustion.

Chaos cannot exist as a substance or a condition of substance, neither can it be conceived of within brains born to God. If 99.9% of existence appears to exist in chaos and .01% as an orderly region, then chaos would be a part of the ordered universe and therefore regular not chaotic. If chaos constitutes were to constitute all existence then it is in fact chaos that is functioning as the perfect order of the aphilosophic universe. By this logic it is provable that the aphilosis of existence is immutable by nature and that the authority of Gods laws are perpetually hegemonic.

3 Sciences (The 3rd Thunder: The Sphere of the Elemental)

God is all therefore the study of anything is the study of some part of God. The mathematic study of her anatomy will hereafter be referred to as anatomics. Anatomics can be divided into 3 categories: practical anatomics, dermatology, and pyrometry. The categories are naturally derived from the 3 methods of learning (the 4th thunder: the sphere of education): projection, imagination, and dissection. All things in our universe are microcosms of it. Due to the power of accurate projection understanding ourselves and the substance immediately around us (biosphere earth, our solar system, our galaxy) automatically yields information about all existence, even those areas we cannot yet study firsthand.

The fetal class is incapable of imagining anything that is not native to the fire universe. Because of this fact practical knowledge about our universe does flow from the theoretic and the imagined. Such information can only be data regarding the facets of fire and falls under the category of pyrometry. Dissection is the ability to learn more about something by dividing it into its components. Dissection is the understanding of the old concept of divide and conquer. Dissection corresponds to the new science of dermatology. Dermatology is the study of the nearly infinite layers of the patterns of existence: of the barrier between and the relation of the subatomic to the microscopic, the microscopic to the cosmic, and so forth.

The 3 methods of education are the foundation of their corresponding science as well as the complex forms of education that will be detailed in the 3rd booklet.

Practical Anatomics

Practical anatomics, that which is learned primarily through projection, is derived from the practical anatomic map of the body of god. The anatomic map is simple, depicting the universe as the spherical body of study, the various wombs of God (life producing planets, solar systems, etc.) and the 3 archprinciples that are Gods ganglia or brain. Man being Gods child the same 3 archprinciples responsible for her accurate perception must also apply to our perceptions and parameters via the law of projection.

As shown in the diagram depicting the first 12 elements, pantheism, practical anatomics, and perception/perspective are linked within the perception third of the barometer. The belief in pantheism (conflict in nature) such as good versus evil is the resistance factor to accepting the anatomic as accurate. The monotheism popular today is not true monotheism but rather polytheistic monotheism because it allows for conflicts in nature and opposition to the will of God. Pure monotheism is aphilosis.

Within the body of God and her children there exist no evil producing organs or particles. Any degree of pantheism will prevent understanding this fact. The majority of readers will find it far fetched, at first, to believe our cosmos is our parent and ideal because we are all taught (in pantheistic society) that all things are not inherently good, divine, and that mankind is unrelated to the perfect balance evident in our aphilosophic universe and all the mathematical perfection of everyday existence. When we turn off our inbred belief in pantheism we are forced to see the aphilosis of reality. When we accurately project the aphilosis of reality upon reality the universe makes perfect mathematic sense and we become able to consciously and practically resolve that man is in truth created in the image of God and that God at the least of his magnificence, is our entire universe.

I will now demonstrate how our universe, biosphere, and biological systems all conform to the standard of aphilosophic growth or progression- elemental to fetal to traditional.

e- All elemental matter has the ability to grow into....

f- ...fetal matter, an immature god destined by design to...

t-...mature into a traditional organism, a full grown child of God.

Digestion

e- All things absorbed into bodies for nutrition are first converted or absorbed as elemental matter

f- Consumption for subatomic particles is pure energy usage. Matter consumed by fetal creatures becomes a part of the creatures' anatomy. In this way elemental particles (food) are transformed from the elemental to fetal state.

t- Waste products are a return to the elemental stage. The nutrients contained in ones cells at the moment one grows from fetal to fetal/traditional or traditional, are an instance of elemental particles growing to fetal and traditional stages of existence.

Respiratory and Circulatory Systems

e/f/t- the airborne and non-airborne nutrients (intravenous) involved in these two system travel the same cycle of aphilosis as nutrients during digestion.

Nervous System

e- The anatomic components that produce chemical/electrical energy of sensation and thought as well as the electro/ chemical energy itself are elemental.

f- The electrical system that is our nervous system is a means of elevating electricity to the fetal state.

t- Spent brain energy is a return to the elemental state. Any knowledge and memory you possess at the transition between fetal and traditional also makes a transition to the traditional stage of electricity.

Short cycle of the Fetus

e- The lifespan of one fetal unit- one human being- begins as a zygote (fertilized egg), as round as a planet or proton and purely aphiosophic.

f- The born human is the first step of the fetal stage, a journey from knowing only elemental instincts to potentially mastering everything God knows minus 1 degree.

t- Each person is able to learn enough before they die to technically achieve the fetal/traditional state now. To achieve that state you must educate your mind to think habitually aphiosophically. This is the core component of mans birthright as child of God. Everyone is refined to both traditional and elemental when our human forms are recycled.

Dermatology

Is what we learn through telescopic, microscopic, or plain sight will only ever verify the aphiosis of the fire universe. You will never find anything within the boundaries of the body of God contradictory the laws of aphiosis. By this process everything we experience naturally hypnotizes us into the aphiosophic mode of thinking and living. Hypnosis is the demon of being transfixed on any one part or layer of thought of technology leading to the inefficient pursuit of our destinies. As shown in the graph of the 9 pt. barometer, hypnosis is the antithesis of a functioning understanding of existence.

Pyrometry

The boundaries of our lesser God, our universe, represents mankind's practical limit for the exploration of fire and its realm. Pyrometry is the study of 1) the combustion cycle, 2) linear cycle of fire, 3) facets of fire, and 4) faith in the existence of evil beyond our universe under the following provisions:

A. No instance of genuine evil has ever occurred in the fire universe

B. Genuine evil has never been imagined in the fire universe nor by fire based creatures.

It is vital to understand that the maturity to allow for that which we cannot currently even fathom is the highest manifestation of divine imagination. The ability to record unproven data at no cost to the soul or memory will be discussed in the 3rd booklet.

Booklet II
The 9 pt. Barometer of Truth

The 9 pt. Barometer of Truth

All things are ultimately designed to achieve aphiosophic perfection. When we die comprehending the mathematics of aphilosis we are achieving the minimum (or maximum) standard of honor in the eyes of God.

The barometer of truth is a meter of truth. If you do not believe all existence is made of particles of fire, of God, its solutions will seem alien and incredible. The heart of the barometer is the tri-fold structure of aphilosis. Accurate perception proportionately applied to measurable manifestation of fire yields accurate knowledge of the nature of fire. Rationally applying reality to the substance and nature of fire yields perfect perception, measurement, judgment, observation, so on.

The 3 archprinciples are the spirit, body, and mind of the lesser God, the traditional view of existence. The traditional is so named because it is the proper ancestral, and singularly accurate view of reality.

The elemental view is existence according to its elements; the facets of fire (pyrometry), the layering of existence (dermatology), and the measurable or studyable anatomy of our mother- so far as we can experience from inside the womb.

Comprehending this fact is the simple means of mastering half of the elemental/fetal view. The other half of understanding is derived from the mastery of the perception of the elemental organism. An atom of copper conducting any given number of particles of electricity will conduct in perfect propriety all 3 stages have in common. The need to conscientiously master

Comprehending this fact is the simple means of mastering half of the elemental/fetal view. The other half of understanding is derived from the mastery of the perception of the elemental organism. An atom of copper conducting any given number of particles of electricity will conduct in perfect propriety all 3 stages have in common. The need to conscientiously master these laws is what separates the fetal state from the elemental and traditional states.

The fetal view is mans window to mastering the barometer of truth since man is a fetal stage organism.

Pantheism is the opposite condition of reality. It is a false ideal contrary to the universal hegemony of aphilosis. Pantheism alone produces almost as much inefficiency as all 3 demons combined.

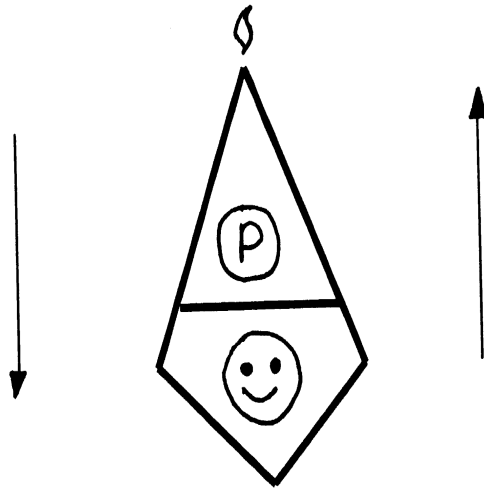

In the calculation of aphilosophic flow, an accurate anatomic map is the cure for pantheism and the greatest barrier to clouded perception. When you remove pantheism from the mind, standard aphilosophic perception must ultimately result.

The universe exists in naturally occurring possibly infinite layers. Hypnosis (the cause of failure to grasp this fact) is cured, depowered by dermatological dissection.

Pleasure is a facet of the fire cycle and therefore synonymous with fire and aphilosis. All motion in our universe is motion toward more pleasure, maximum pleasure. All burning is an attempt to achieve potential. The only ambition is to please and be satiated. The demon "pleasure" is the inefficiency produced when fetal creatures pursue it ignorant that pleasure is the natural state of all things composed of fire. Due to the cycle of combustion the aphilosophic flow of the fire third of the barometer is bi-directional.

What the fetus perceives as pain is in fact a natural mechanism designed to 1) staunch sudden or anticipated decreases in pleasure and 2) facades that mask or transform degrees of pleasure. The fetus is motivated to eliminate all pain via natural instinct to achieve, maximum aphiosis or aphiosophic understanding. Fetal mankind must master the fetal view of existence to grow out of the fetal stage and achieve the fetal/traditional or traditional state.

3 Demons (The 2nd Thunder: the Fetal Sphere)

That which is called evil in the minds of immature fetal organisms (infant deities) is actually nothing more than mechanical inefficiency/ social impropriety/ personal inconvenience. When a person grows from fetal/traditional he does so by understanding that normal inefficiencies of the body, mind, and society are not separate from the natural technological inefficiencies science works to eliminate. The continuous advancement and natural streamlining of everything regarding earth society is normal and predestined by divine law. Every aspect of life is exercise capable only of producing growth and bringing the fetus closer to its' potential. The Resistance man feels comes from the weather and the 3 demons. The pressure we feel from evil and normal everyday learning experiences is synonymous with the pressure that transforms carbon inside the earths crust into diamonds. The natural ignorance to confuse evil with inefficiency is the prime resistance which when mastered will release mankind's ability to consciously exist in the true kingdom of God.

The demons of the fetal sphere of maturity plus the 3 demonic elements of the sphere of learning disablers, cooperatively account for the total effect of philosis. Philosis distorts perception of the full nature of aphilosis. This produces inefficiency and interruption of the pleasure cycle. The belief in genuine fundamental differences in any single universe or adherence to the ideal of pantheism-is evil. Pantheism is the heart of the aphilosophic distortion.

In the mind of fetal mankind pantheism specifically distorts the nature of fire so that:

When the fire is substituted with pantheism in our minds accurate perception is downgraded to the inefficient pursuit of pleasure. Instead of seeing the universe as it is, one sees only what we are hypnotized and institutionalized into seeing. Pantheism is the backbone of the philosophic battery. Without it all hypnosis would be the natural maximum hypnosis of pure aphilosis.

In our universe pyrometry is the study of the pleasure, love, fire cycle- cycle of combustion. Free of pantheism one has no choice but to study the facets of fire as they truly are. Pantheism is a healthy, natural agent of fetal growth. It's lifespan ends when mankind stops believing in evil. To believe in evil is only way to suffer from evil.

Aphilosis is the battery that powers nightmares. Mathematically nightmares are nightmares of conflict (pantheism) not nightmares of unity, cooperation, or oneness. The apocalyptic fantasy is the maximum degree of that which is called nightmare. The apocalypse of popular monotheistic culture, the cult of the popular is called Armageddon, ragnarok, etc. and is a predictable battle between good and evil during the final generation of evil infected mankind.

The collective dream of apocalypse as a cure for evil demonstrates our natural aversion to evil and a natural propensity to defeat it. All nightmares are degrees of pain. All pain is pleasure in the form of an automatic warning system designed to educate and protect us from future decreases of pleasure.

True monotheism is aphilosis. Popular culture is dominated by religions that claim to be monotheistic but are actually polytheistic; practicing pantheistic monotheism. The scale of pantheism ranges from polytheism (the worship of many gods) to pantheistic monotheism (the worship of two gods: one good one evil). The age of pantheism is a part of natural growth in the form of ignorance.

Hypnosis can be divided into 3 types that exert control over mankind: authoritative, cultural, and continuous. The power of hypnosis is the power to limit perception. This deprives our brains of the information needed to bring us to our maximum level of perception/consciousness. Authoritative hypnosis is when we believe what someone says because we believe they're social status makes them closer to God than we and therefore more wiser. Cultural hypnosis is what we are loyal to because of our cultural customs. Continuous hypnosis or fascination comes from the influence of nonstop sensation upon our senses that does not end after "death".

Mathematically all hypnosis is beneficial since all 3 demons provide just the right predetermined amount of resistance for perfecting life forms according to the will of God.

The following guidelines can be applied to determine the negative hypnotic influence of any one or combination of things:

1. Principles dependant on the idea of indomitable or everlasting mystery, ignorance, division, or inaccuracy. [Authoritative]
2. Principles contradictory to the law of fundamental benevolent affinity of all particles of fire one to another. [Cultural]
3. Principles committed to permissiveness of the primitive belief of genetic differences between any particles or groups of particles of fire. [Continuous]

The depths of hypnosis and the normal affinity of particles one to another is the core of the danger of hypnosis simplified. The danger is rooted in the fact that fire particles are designed to adapt to all agents benevolent or inconvenient. The limitations of adaptation are:

1. Individually a man can never adapt to pantheism enough to achieve maximum aphilosophic potential through it.
2. Collectively, as long as $2/3$ of earths population practice philosis, our earth fetal unit cannot survive when the brain (mankind) attempts to function philosophically in an aphilosophic universe like as a diseased mind

Short of these parameters a person can be hypnotized into adopting any ignorance as truth.

Of the Comfort of Demons

The 3 demons do not exist except as degrees of, less than standard aphiosis yet they currently are in comfortable control of mankind; supervising our destruction of bio-sphere earth. The comfort and primary weapon of demons is the same as that of everything else within the fire based universe: pleasure. We are not free to achieve standard divine maturity (the fetal/traditional state) until we accept the undependability of senses, thoughts, feelings, pain, or pleasure to guide us out from under the asses of demons without strict adherence to the guidance of the barometer of truth. Existence is disgustingly sweet. No matter to what degree we may fall short of mastering aphiosophic thought, we are drowning in a world who's every particle is mathematically verifiably composed of pleasure (fire, and love) and designed to achieve pure bliss.

Pleasure, love and fire are inseparable within the tri-fold cycle of combustion. All particles of fire are equally ecstatic, in love, and on fire. When fire is replaced with pantheism as shown in the preceding diagram our perception is proportionately diminished. When pantheism (philosis) is in the fires spot perception is twisted to produce inefficient pursuits of pleasure upon which this current Babylonian society is founded upon and therefore cannot last.

Our blind struggle for pleasure through philosophic policies is the core barrier which slows us down from accepting that only aphiosis leads to maximum satisfaction. The individual confined by philosophic conditioning cannot image nor has he felt the standard pleasure derived from truly understanding God and aphiosis. Consider all the pleasure you have experienced in your life and condense it into one huge pleasurable experience. The feeling you would feel is less than the deepest misery felt by an aphiosophically-trained mind.

Pain is pleasure in the guise of an automatic sensory mechanism designed to teach us through example how to minimize and avoid future decreases of pleasure. This fact is one more instance of proof that we are designed to achieve maximum pleasure and that all things are made of pleasure. The most efficient means of pursuing pleasure is through purely aphiosophic means. To give an example, imagine all the racism in the world. Racism is just one mathematically predictable result of ignorance of the universal relation of all things to the other. The act of racism causes pain. That pain is the automatic warning light trying to teach us how much energy is wasted on racism. The mathematic proof lies in the real time energy conservation that will result after all racism has ceased.

The elimination of such concept as racism may seem an unattainable task. This lack of imagination is a result of philosophic chains our brains are conditioned to bear. The 3rd booklet will provide the information you will need to free yourself from those chains.

Extra Brains

I will now explain the procedure for harnessing more of our unused brainpower by manipulating extra brains. Multiple personalities or extra brains exist like all other things; as an aphiosophic maximum and all inferior degrees less than. Earth society possesses a general knowledge of the inconvenience and inefficiency caused by the psychological ailment. The procedure for manipulating extra brains is the final result of one of my old ideas that became possible and practical only after I discovered the barometer of truth. My need to create extra brains arose from the fact that I am not a naturally talented writer or educator. My lack of talent caused my production of the original III Booklets to be slow, unorganized and impractical. To correct this I determined to increase my objectivity from minimum to maximum by harnessing my subconscious brainpower consciously diverted from those personalities found in dreams.

The procedure is as follows:

1. To be sure you always have sufficient brainpower for extra brain thinking-upgrade to aphiosophic thought ASAP. Much energy is conserved and made available for use after we stop wasting brain energy forcing the brain to feed on philosophic thoughts that cause the additional waste of nightmare. [Power source]
2. The purpose of generating extra brains is to maximize our perspective by increasing our points of view. Objectivity leads to truth. The deeper we grasp the elements of truth the better we are able to serve God. [Policy]
3. The circumference of a circle is indicative the complete, all encompassing body and power of God. All the particles of God can be equated to clock face, where each second mark represents one of the possible subsets of the entire set of existence. The space between 12 and the 1st second would encompass the complete range of possible atomic elements, the next increment-all electromagnetic frequencies, next-all the people who'll ever be born, all mineral compounds, types of stars, colors, etc. Each form and subset of forms is an enumeration equidistant relative the heart (3 archprinciples) or center of God. Likewise, extra brains are the multiplication of your perspective, allowing you to view at will all ideas and situations from all sides just by programming your extra brains to do so. [Principle]
4. Now mentally construct your objectivity room by realizing (visualizing) the brainpower that will now on be diverted to your round table of personally manufactured advisors, dedicated to your growth. These advisors will automatically form opinions on issues even when you are not thinking about them-just like dreams. Your table of advisors may be famous strategist, scientist, leaders, children you haven't had yet, ancestors, any combination of the aforementioned, etc. The only limitation to imagining or conceiving other perspectives and your willingness to accept how easily your brain learns to do things it was designed to do. [Practice]

You initialize your subconscious advisors by visualizing and utilizing them to solve whatever decision faces you at the moment. The process of extra brains is a verifiable product of applying the element of projection to the principle of structural integrity: maximum consciousness' being possible for someone only when all brains are functioning in cooperation. Many minds are better than one even when the additional opinions originate from inside your own head.

Whenever he had need of them he would close his eyes, summon his counsel of advisors and whatever problem he posed to them they would quickly produce a solution. It was the middle of December. His deadline for going public with his discovery was coming fast. Now for the first time since creating and programming them to function philosophically, his internal advisors had convened of their own accord. They had devised a solution to Runiles' problem. Privy to their thoughts and they to his, he could see what they were planning. It appeared his counsel of internal advisors was plotting a palace coup.

Each brain is fundamentally identical to the people/personalities we find in our dreams except these people are programmed to exist continuously and to labor incessantly on whatsoever task they are programmed to achieve. Simply by understanding that our brains are capable of something (i.e. generating and commanding extra-brains) they become free to achieve it. Runile had fashioned his extra-brains according to specific parameters of historic personalities-those he considered would produce the best counsel of wartime advisors history could imagine. For instance there was K'loud the war master fashioned after his cat who had exhibited certain mutations and abilities contributing to his natural mastery of the art of war (much the same as Runile himself); Djinnoa and Djineva, brother and sister, fictional renditions of Runiles prehistoric ancestors; Anakhades, fictional grandson and hypothetic composite of the ancient war strategist Zhuge Liang and the invincible warrior Lu Bu. Chrysanthemum Nile (Rysan) hypothetic composite of the finest attributes of his mother and sister; Obijenga Ling, fictional daughter; Zhu Tubal Cain, fictional descendent; and Zim Ra, ruthless warlord king of the future and fictional descendent of his family and his brothers family. Runile sat in the chair of the counsel's commander and 9th member.

Runiles' mind contained years of ideas, psychological experiments, the details of the religions he'd read about and philosophies he'd studied, and half invented inventions. All these ideas were at the disposal of his advisors. Now the eight advisors had assessed the situation and concluded that if Runile continued on his present course there was no way he would achieve his goal of going public with his formula by the end of the year. The counsel reasoned that Runile's difficulty convincing people of the importance of his ideas and gathering support stemmed from the fact that Runile had drifted out of touch with other humans. Runile had been fundamentally wise with logic from the day he was born and had forced himself to make "progress and growth" his religion. For years he had adapted to the Babylonianism of society until the day he could figure everything out. Now that he had figured out the cure for world peace and enlightenment he was too war-torn from the effort to properly communicate with others.

Runile had little by little conquered most of his ignorances. By now he was so far out of touch with humans institutionalized by Babylonian ideals he was unconsciously unable to sympathize with humanities permissiveness of its immaturity (loyalty to Babylonian ideals). To overcome this, his advisors contrived to replace Runile with a preadolescent younger version of himself combining his unconditioned younger self with the knowledge and experience painstakingly acquired in his adult life. This they hoped would allow him to better play the role of organizer, teacher, publicist, etc.

Runile could see what they were planning because everything they were thinking was in his own mind. The idea of being deposed from controlling his own body fascinated him and unnerved him. All of this was virgin territory. If he was about to become victim of multiple personalities of his own making there was no precedent to warn him. He was the guinea pig. Hence far the extra brains had allowed him to condense decades of physical labor and mental growth into weeks and days. Being that they were programmed to abide by the principles of the barometer of truth he had no grounds to contradict their judgment, nor could he, lawfully, unless he could prove their idea was not progress and could come up with a better idea than theirs. He decided to give himself two days to come up with a better strategy. If he failed to do so he would yield to the recommendations of the counsel.

He did fail. When the two-day deadline passed Runile entered the counsel chamber, a large round room of black bricks decorated only with a round table in its center and nine chairs; for lack of necessity the room lacked any exterior features or dimensions. In this session he submitted himself to the devices of his advisors. Runile's advisors praised him for acquiescing and for his hindsight and foresight, for all of what was now transpiring had been made possible by the core formula Runile had discovered in the old days when he was limited to one mind and a beginner's understanding of the formula of the power of God. By Runile's command court officials ushered in from behind a curtain the child version of Runile who will henceforth be referred to as Ronel. Ronel was 10 years old and was adorned with light ornamental armor and jewels of a young prince. Runile rose and surrendered his chair to the younger and took his new place as one of the counsel advisors.

Ronel was not an extra-brain but rather Runile's personality stripped of 23 years of corruption by philosophic thought. Now that Ronel sat in the commanders' seat and was in complete control of Runile's hands and feet the other advisors had expected Runile to harbor ire against them and the new commander but the opposite came to be true. Runile and Ronel fell in love with each other. Only their love of God was more. Beyond Runile's ability to fathom here he was with his ambitiously curious young self (he had always admired the cool results of his own curiosity when he was growing up) and Runile the conqueror of all his childhood curiosity was no less than Ronel's greatest hero second only to God. Runile now had the chance to revisit his childhood in the flesh; all those lost times no longer lost and Ronel was the child whose childhood wisdoms had laid the foundations of his own "resurrection".

The next fourteen days to the end of the year came quickly. The plan of the advisors to rescue Runile's plan by the end of the year, had not been accomplished. But that deadline had become irrelevant in lieu of the technical advancements made since Ronel had been installed as acting commander and the new frontiers now opened. The experimental technical advancements had given Runile, Ronel and the rest of the counsel members' new confidence, even if Runile had to do everything himself. The value of the ideas produced with the aid of his extra-brains and the new counsel member Ronel (according to the agreement Runile had been restored to the throne at the first of the year) had convinced Runile that he needed no one else to help him as long as he kept faith in the formula he had discovered. For the first time he believed he really might strike a great blow to solve the world's education problem. He was now convinced he could do war with humanities idea of slavery and war. It was at this time that his advisors crowned him warlord; only a man who masters the laws of conflict can master the laws of peace.

The 3rd Rebellion

Runile was back on the throne. Ronel was at his side and now it was a contest to see who admired the other more. They had moved their chairs closer together. Runile praised Ronel. Ronel praised Runile. The two had become closer than the lips are to the teeth. Runile was in love with his past and in love with the loving of it. Now love is one of the 3 stages of the cycle of combustion so in regards to Runile's and Ronel's mutual infatuation, the advisors saw this unique type of nostalgia harmless to their ends. Runile had accomplished much and deserved to have his season. But in time there some on the counsel began to feel uneasy about Runile's indulgences in this time of war here on the battlefield not wholly convinced of the harmlessness of it.

"He is extremely satisfied with the present situation. That is no condition for a warlord of his responsibility and abilities. He needs to be hungry," Zhu Tubal Cain said to Obijenga Ling.

"I agree" Ling said. "The question of whether or not he deserves a respite from his labors to reminisce is nullified by the military protocols."

Anakhades overheard what was being said. "Comrades, I agree that your points are all good points. Why not take it to a vote so all the members might partake of your wisdom," he said.

“ Can we afford to take the risk of a vote my brother? Faith in Runile is high just now. Enough confidence perhaps to override good sense,” Ling said. “And what is good sense in this situation,” asked Anakhades.

“Simply this: Runile has accomplished much due to his natural hunger for truth and has accomplished very little in life that did not originate from his fiery ambitions. Now that Ronel is at his side he has become distracted and is endanger of committing the sin of inconvenience; of settling for a little kingdom, a paltry estate, instead of continuing on point with his greater goal, he education of everyone in this universe. Such was the destiny God has set before him,” said Ling.

“ Let us remember that a sense of urgency is the key to his ultimate success. What benefit is his immortality if the world is doomed in 10 years? It is not only about Runiles spiritual growth but blessing the world with the benefits of his knowledge before the time of judgment. This counsel was formed to succeed where Runile could not do so alone. To keep watch over divers matters to plentiful and critical for him to manage by himself. In his revelry with Ronel, his past, he is behaving less like one hungry and more as one who is full,” said Ling.

“In the interest of Runiles success what shall we do? Rebel?” asked Anakhades.

Rebellion is not necessary brothers. All we need is to declare a state of emergency and put the entire counsel under martial law. If we are just in our actions then the results will bear witness. This is a critical time. The events of the next few weeks cannot be risked on a vote of confidence. I believe we must move quickly if truly we are loyal to the God of gods and the King of kings and the warlord of warlords”, Ling explained.

So it happened that these three did call the counsel together and there declared that they would be taking over Runiles hands and feet under the protocols of martial law. Runile and the counsel agreed with the spirit of the declaration but wondered why the three counsel members had not put their ideas to a vote. Objenga answered and said “ the amount of required mental/spiritual upgrades makes the process of due process insufficient the task. By instituting martial law all of Runiles energies will immediately be force focused back toward his goals in the service of God. In 30 days the throne was to be returned to Runile.

The military benefits of 30 days of pure dedication of Runiles energies, control of his hands and feet toward his goals in the service of God was irrefutable to Runile and the others. In the absence of a better idea, martial law must therefore be implemented. So in the 2nd week of the year he was deposed for a second time twenty days after the end of the 1st rebellion.

According to the divine science that Runile was mastering, the term rebellion had now been aphiosophically redefined. Rebellion is an act that brings one closer to God. Rebellion is a natural divine reaction against any barrier between the child and God. Any uprising in which the new policies are less advanced then the existing regimes’ is merely an ill-advised revolt.

Runiles’ hands and feet were now under control of the triumvirate headed by Objenga Ling. Zhu Tubal Cain was appointed to assist her with all matters of civil administration. Anakhades was in charge of military operations and personally invited K'loud the war master to assist him. He accepted. During this time Runile appeared to those in the outside world mind to have indeed stepped up his game, successfully becoming organizer, administrator, editor, artist, and motivator to carry out his war against the ignorance of Babylonians. The details of all that was accomplished during the period of martial law will not be discussed here. But at the end of the 30 days the counsel had produced a hardcopy of Runiles' III Booklets and had gathered a small group of capable supporters to assist him in the world outside his mind. The three usurpers: Ling, Cain and Anakhades with the expert assistance of K'loud, were commended by all to have successfully conducted operations. And before we go further with the story it is necessary to double back.

The 2nd Rebellion

Within Runiles' mind was thirty years of partially invented inventions as well as experimental ideas and theologies he had accumulated from all the ideas and religions, philosophies of the minds of the history of man, he could not mathematically verify, swimming around in his head. All this information was stored in a library in his brain. His Advisors had access to these ideas even while Runile was asleep. While Runile was in the outside world working hand and foot to earn the money to do those things he could not accomplish in the counsel chambers inside in his head his advisors were free to study and experiment with those ideas. It was part of their programming to work out solutions and explore ideas Runile could not have consciously explored with his mind alone.

One such idea that had drawn the interest among certain advisors was a series of devices that were composed of imagination and implanted through visualization into the brain (similar to the advisors themselves). Specifically of interest was a device Runile had conceived to alter the speed in which he dreamed. This device had the potential of speeding up a dream to a point where an entire universe could be born and collapsed inside the span of one nights dream. Zim Ra and Rysan were intrigued by the idea. Between the two of them a prototype was developed. The device worked by creating a split timeline between the counsel advisor chamber and the operators of the device, thereby creating a controlled dream within a dream. The device operators had a series of levers by which to manipulate their environment: 1) dream stabilization to prevent dream shifting, 2) time differential control, 3) energy siphoning from Runiles' subconscious to keep the dream continuously playing.

Zim Ra was of an extremely ambitious nature. He imagined that he could create a universe of many worlds in which eventually many Runiles' would come to be born. Then by monitoring the progress of each he could potentially solve all of Runiles' problems and achieve all his ambitions virtually instantaneous. By his designs Zim Ra would become closer to God than Runile himself for there would be a reversal of the role of programmer and program. Through this psycho political logic Zim Ra fathomed that he could permanently replace Runile as commander of his hands and feet.

As soon as the device was completed Zim Ra and Rysan rebelled. And because 1,000,000 millennia could transpire in their universe every 2 seconds of real time, their grand rebellion went totally unnoticed. Within the new universe on a particular planet the two created a stronghold out of the fabric of dreams and servants and soldiers in the same manner Runile had created themselves. To make a distinction between themselves and their creations Rysan called them pyrotramatons, while they themselves would be known as the extra-brains of Runiles' advisory counsel. From within their fortress the 2 rebels were now masters of an entire plane of existence. The real world of Runiles hands and feet and the counsel chamber was now frozen in time. Now they began to run their own experiments with their newly acquired authority in support of their dreams of greatness. But unknown to them their status as lords of their own domain was about to be challenged from an unexpected quarter.

On a planet called Karitukrit, in the kingdom of Empress Magdiel there existed a very credible expectation that in less than ten years the empire would stretch all the way around the world. Her prowess at war and administration was equaled or surpassed by at least Dabulene her son and acting emperor, and his warlord sons Pokiterah, Mu Sheirn, Zephat, Nemoses, Aradi, Beriah, Kang Ding, Sukoth, Gannon Wu; and the military advisors Ava, and Cefaravim; and the civil advisors Ramisis Iko and his sons Bu and Wei. There were a mere handful of resistant tribes in the land, fragments and remnants all. There was no reason for the empress to excessively concern herself with the study of war even when Dabulene scouts reported that they had found a fortress on a steep hillside built seemingly overnight on Magdene territory deep behind enemy lines conspicuously and in a style unknown to the cultures of the day.

There was much speculation about the mysterious appearance among the rulers of the empire but the consensus opinion was expressed by Ramisis Iko: "the faction that has appeared upon our lands is obviously of higher technology than any we have seen even that they be of another place and time. Such a people would for the most part expect no inconvenience from "primitives" such as we. With such power as that they must possess, they could travel to many worlds unmolested and unopposed. If we are to defeat them then we must use this fact to our advantage, attack them with our full army all at once. By this strategy we may be able to capture their high technology and discover secrets." His argument was accepted by the military leaders all of whom of an ambitious nature and eager to be victorious. The forces of Magdene were readied for the attack.

Inside the citadel Zim Ra and Rysan could see what was going on and responded by generating legion after legion of pyrotramatons to meet the attackers. They expected that their ability to produce almost unlimited amounts of pyrotramatons would make victory assured but the fighting prowess of the Magdene overcame the two rebels' ability to produce soldiers and brought the haughty rebels to a sore state. Fearing that the castle would soon be overrun, Zim Ra summoned Anakhades from the counsel chamber and offered him a portion of the greater glory if he would lead the castle forces and repel the attackers. Before Anakhades took control of the defense the situation was doomed. The castle was taken by the Magdene, Zim Ra and Rysan were made prisoners but Anakhades cut his way through the attackers and led a small squadron that fled the castle and made their way to the open wilderness of the empire.

The Magdene were now in control of the castle and all the advanced technology therein. But since they could not figure out the operation of the alien devices they intended to torture Zim Ra and Rysan for their secrets. When Anakhades had gotten clear of the pursuers he could see that he had less than 50 fighting pyrotramatons remaining of the 300+ he escaped with. From here he began recruiting warriors from enemy tribes of the Magdene until he had amassed a force one legion strong. It was important that he retake the castle for inside were the controls to Runiles' subconscious mind. Whatever became of this war would permanently affect his brain. He devised a war strategy, attacked, and quickly succeeded in capturing Iko's son Ramisis Bu.

“ Now that you have caught me you would do better to let me go. Alone you might escape the forces of the Magdene but with me as hostage all effort will be made to defeat, capture and punish you for this,” said Bu.

“ General Bu do not be alarmed I have not captured you as an enemy but because I have need of a worthy ally to save both of our sides from destruction that you my lord are not yet aware of. The technology your people have captured is experimental. It is designed to stabilize dreams into planets, universes, and societies just as real as that which exists outside of the mind. The world you occupy now is a product of such a dream. My comrades and I are caretakers of he who is sleeping. From inside his brain we regulate the affairs of divers worlds and realities by manipulating his dreams. If your people tamper with the controls inside the castle your entire reality will be upset in an instant. And although my comrades and I will survive all that you know will cease forever and not be repeated like a passing night's dream.

Hearing Anakhades explanations, Bu decided to help him retake the castle. Bu entered the castle secretly as a traitor and from the inside brought about the defeat of his own, seeing that it was for their best interest. Zim Ra and Rysan were freed. The secret rebellion remained a secret for some time afterward until the number of advancements that flowed from it into Runiles consciousness caused questions among the other counsel members of Runiles table, and the 3 rebels were forced to confess their acts. The rebellion was considered justified because of all the new information that came from it. Within the world of the Magdene Ramisis Bu was rewarded for assisting Anakhades and provided with a device that would give him the ability to monitor and safeguard the stability of his universe.

Booklet III

Mastering Your Divinity

Elemental and traditional phase life forms exist in a perpetual state of maximum unity and compliance with the laws of fire. The process of mastering the relationship applies only to the fetal class. The fetal class (children of God) are designed by definition to grow from ignorance to intellectual mastery of existence, The 3rd booklet will demonstrate how the 3 archprinciples can be used to fulfill all mankind's needs and dreams dreamed as well as those yet dreamed. This booklet is divided into the list of specific concepts you must master before you die, so you can obtain all you desire and to become free to achieve your potential in the eyes of god and ancestor.

The Barometer of 18 Elements

The barometer of truth composed of 9 elements theoretically applies to all life forms originating in the igneous universe. The barometer now presented here, of 18 elements divided into 6 spheres, applies to the earth fetus specifically and all life forms in this universe and others in general. The barometer is a diagram of existence and all its parts and mechanisms. By dividing the barometer into its 3 prime precepts we can better examine the formulaic logic of the structure of our souls and minds.

-Pantheism is the belief in opposition to god and is condition nonexistent in this universe. Due to the limitations of aphiosis fire based beings cannot actually fathom, dream of or imagine pantheism.

-God is everything therefore the study of anything is the study of the anatomy of God. Anatomics is the neutralizer of pantheism.

-Projection is the ability or power igneous life possesses to learn something about one topic by learning about any other topic due to aphiosophic symmetry in this universe.

Identity- To own accurate knowledge of your identity is your reward for achieving minimum aphiosophic maturity.

Demoncraft- or False Oaths is the fruit of inaccuracy regarding the knowledge of our identities; oaths to the dead, evil, and familiar spirits. Demoncraft is a complex manifestation of pantheism: the worship of ideals and idols less than the one God of gods

Devilry =
 1) Peer pressure
 2) Fear

Spellbinding =
 1) Insanity
 2) Psychosis

Dehonicraft =
 1) Oaths to the dead
 2) Oaths to evil spirits

Learning Disablers

☉ - The highest and deepest form of hypnosis is pure aphiosophic hypnosis. All existence is slanted toward progressive motion toward the achievement of aphiosophic potential. The pure aphiosophic hypnosis of the elemental and traditional class is the ideal man is designed to strive for and achieve. The demonic form of hypnosis is found in any degree less than maximum. Any hypnosis can be sufficient to bind us from accepting truth until we die. By this production of inefficiency the demonic effect of hypnosis may be measured.

⓪ - is the accurate aphiosophic study of the layers of existence, the flesh and mind of God. Dissection is the neutralizer of demonic hypnosis.

Ⓛ - is the ability to understand all things by dividing them into their parts.

Location- is possessing the knowledge of mankind's place in the fire universe

Spellbinding- Spellbinding comes in the form of insanity and psychosis. Attempting to live and believe predicated on philosis in an aphiosophic universe causes spellbinding.

Ⓛ - Imagination is gods mind superimposed upon his children's brain.

Motivation- is the free energy that naturally propels things to move forward only toward potential.

Ⓟ - Pyrometry is the study of all facets of fire.

Devilry- is the ignorance of the false motivation and inefficiency it produces.

☺ - Pleasure is the standard state in the fire universe.

Community and Individual Aspects

The community aspect of any element is the result of that element being distorted by philosophic society and consumed by the brain of the individual. The individual aspect is the effect of any element upon an individual which could theoretically be encountered in a totally aphilosophic environment. By this logic manifestation of the individual personality is purely discernable by calculating the individual aspect effect.

The 4th Thunder (Sphere of Education)
And
The 5th Thunder (Sphere of Sorcery and Alchemy)

The brain is a perfectly aphiosophic device yet its perfection is not protection from the inevitable inefficiency produced when philosophic programs invade and dominate. The brain is not designed to function at maximum operating level while under philosophic influence. The key to mastering the 5th sphere is learning to use our inherent mental powers. The power of the brain is encompassed in the elements imagination, dissection, and projection. My brain is essential to my soul as it is the only tool I posses for which to comprehend what God has designed all humans to master- information. Complete mastery of all incoming information is possible only by judging it against the barometer of truth. Each gigabyte of the complete set of all information is a component in the mathemechanical schematic of the body of God.

Memory is synonymous with truth and data when it is distorted memory because all distortions of perception follow the pattern demonstrated in the barometer of truth. Similarly, evil cannot be made to exist or proven merely because the majority of humans believe in it. On the contrary, believing in evil results in the exact tortures to the soul man suffers from today, calculable to mathematic certainty.

Memory is not a significant function of the brain since information is the same be it stored in books, layers of rock, computers, or brains. Memory without minimum mastery of imagination, dissection, and projection is just information being stored in a device unable to make use of any data. Mastering the brain includes the realization that all data, discovered and undiscovered, is the single memory of our god.

For all 18 elements there is an individual aspect and a community aspect. The individual aspects are responsible for what distinguishes one individual from another. The individual aspect of imagination can be demonstrated through the example of a slinky. The person who invented slinkys, a device capable of nearly perpetual motion, either dreamed the concept or discovered it by happenstance. Our works and the products of our imaginations eternally define us. All invention automatically increases the efficiency and pleasure of the whole race to some degree. Genuine technical discovery is an upgrade for the whole community regardless whether that community be a town or all the children of God in this universe. That a person becomes partly definable as an individual based on how their perception via imagination enriches the community, is the manifestation of the community aspect of imagination.

All inventions, discoveries, new ideas are preexisting and bleed into the reality of consciousness via nature and imagination. Ancient Greek scholars developed this concept. The fact that I can prove this concept accurate is just one example of how the barometer of truth can be used to assess the actual technical contribution of all ideas, literature, and beliefs. Imagination is the visual manifestation of fire in our minds eye. As shown here, fire is the literal and proverbial fire that fuels imagination. Imagination leads to technical increase in ones understanding of the true nature of the element motivation. Society will continue to suffer from the belief in evil until we begin enriching the imaginations of our children with the anatomic proof that evil does not exist.

Dissection is the next element of the sphere of education. In the aphiosophic universe accurate dissection of anything yields accurate information regarding the structure and purpose of the point of study. The individual aspect of dissection lies in the fact that only the individual can completely dissect himself or herself mentally, being the only source of genuine introspective. That all things can be dissected is the community aspect of dissection. Due to the nature of aphiosis no secret or inaccuracy is safe from exposure. Dissection is the standard process of studying dermatology. Accurate dermatological dissection of the manifestation of fire automatically yields accurate information regarding our place in the universe. We are located in the fire universe, eternally a flame within the cycle of combustion.

Projection, the 3rd element of the educational sphere is based on the truth that all scales of perception, each increment of magnification (telescope, microscope, so on) reveals that everything in our universe is a microcosm of the whole. All life forms including pigs, pond scum, and maggots are made in the image of God. All data compiled by mankind to this point proves this when viewed through the barometer. The more aphiosophically accurate our perspective the better our command over the power of projection. Mastering the power of projection increases our awareness of our true identities.

The ego of fetal substance or fetal stage creatures cannot be fully satisfied except through pure aphiosis and accurate understanding. All fetal matter originates in the womb of God. The womb of most animals is located at the biological center and most defensible part of the parent. The human fetus is still inside the womb of God and cannot begin the long journey to maturity until you accept aphiosis as fact, and are prepared to be born for the first time, regardless of how old and wise you think you are now.

The children of God are the most precious part to God above all his other parts. Life and existence are both seed and venue of the ambitions of God just as a child of a proper parent is the center of the parent's existence. The individual aspect of projection lies in the reality that every particle of fire is a microcosm of the whole body of God. The community aspect is the fact that all particles fire are part of the complete and perfect body of God.

The 3 elements of the sphere of education are the heart of the process by which we achieve mastery of the whole sphere of sorcery. One cannot be unified with the one true motivation of all particles of fire until your imagination is sufficiently expanded to suit the task of aphiosophic growth. Without the fundamental understanding of the process of dissection the individual can and will be compelled to believe anything except genuine aphiosis. Without command over the power of projection our perspective of our true identities becomes compromised.

The 6th Thunder (Sphere of Learning Disablers)

Any degree less minimum aphiosophic understanding of true identity leads directly to demoncraft. And the inefficiencies it produces. All 18 elements of the barometer have an individual aspect and a community aspect. Also all elements exist between the aphiosophic maximum and the philosophic minimum. The individual aspect of demoncraft or false oaths is the familiar spirit. The brain is designed to react to those things recognized as familiar and of home as safe. These are the first time experiences of early life such as foods, family, music, routines, and traditions. This data impresses and literally lays the foundation of the shape and operating efficiency in later life.

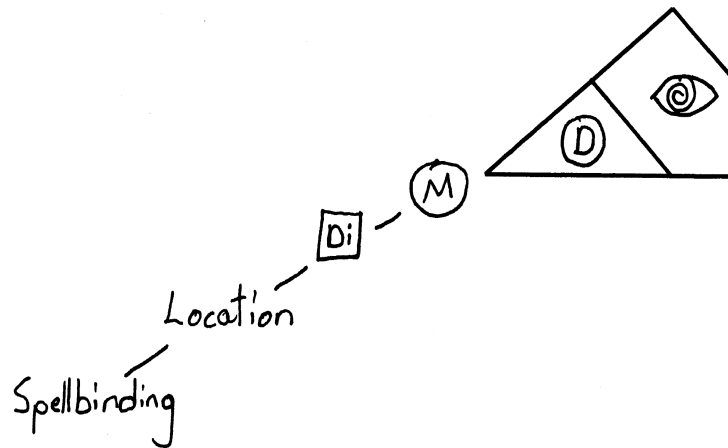

To the brain, memories of pleasant familiarities will arouse intoxicating levels of pleasure. From fragments of memory can come oceans of pleasure capable of overriding proper aphiosophic sense. The familiar spirit seasons all demonic influences with a degree of irresistibility and accounts for the magnetic chains all society is bound with to that phenomenon that can mathematically be termed as being “born into sin”. All the inefficient, inconvenient philosophic ideas our current society holds dear are poison to following generations. Being dominated by philosophic ideas throughout childhood permanently damages our perception of our identity. Although these booklets open the way to a purely obedient prosperous society, the next three generations must overcome the philosophic conditioning of 6,000 by using the power of the barometer and by the inherent fire of our blood. Determining what familiar spirits the individual can entertain and those to be relegated to our immature history must be barometrically determined.

The community aspect of demoncraft is the blood oath to evil and ancestral spirits. The ancestral oath is devotion and perpetuation of philosophic policies/traditions of the previous generation. Philosophic institutions and policies originating in the current generation is the oath to the evil spirit. They graduate to ancestral oaths that will suck the productive blood out of the veins of our children. Permissiveness of oaths that fail to honor the advancements of our ancestors by continued aphiosophic progress is demoncraft. The only true anatomic tradition is that of the policy of traditional (and elemental) organisms. This is why traditional class organisms (the greater and lesser god) are so classified.

Spellbinding or Vertigo is the equal and opposite result of any philosophic inaccuracy regarding our knowledge of our true location (as opposed aphiosophic inaccuracies such as the technical inferiority of Newton’s formula for velocity and Einstein’s).

Insanity-the community aspect of spellbinding- results from the failure of aphiosophically bound and predisposed brains to function productively among the agonies of philosophic society. Psychosis and its younger bother neurosis (the individual aspect of spellbinding) manifest unlimited forms all of which have the mathematic effect of subjugating the pure aphiosophic personality of the individual.

Spellbinding is also listed as the continuous (3rd) facet of demonic hypnosis. Spellbinding can mathematically stand alone as its own element because it simultaneously bleeds from any and all ignorance regarding mankind's location in the universe. The insanity present in our society cannot be accurately diagnosed and cured using philosophic mental policies. Philosophic policies are unequal the task of teaching the 18 elements of aphilosis because the philosis of society is the cause. The only solution a philosophically bound brain can conceive to end the problems of society is self-destruction through Armageddon like scenarios. Where as the enlightened mind knows that it is the pure fire of God that purifies and perfects us.

The barometer of truth is a diagram of the dermatological layers or spheres of existence. If you remove or distort accurate knowledge of location the collective mind can and will adapt to falling victim to every conceivable erroneous view of the manifestation of existence. The history of mankind demonstrates this fact without exception. From this adaptation bleeds forth insanity. The inefficiencies of philosophic institutions attempting to deal philosophically with aphilosophic brains poisoned by philosis is a recipe for circus. If we examine the tentacles of this phenomenon we can begin with violence, the study of philosophic psychology, all curriculum based on philosophic principles, and the manufacture of chemicals capable of doing everything to the brain except cure it of philosis. Please realize that because mad scientist chemicals (pharmaceuticals) do not cure, according to the laws of aphilosis they therefore must increase the variety and dept of future mental inefficiency.

Psychosis and neurosis manifest as philosophically inefficient habit, engrams, addictions, compulsions, and reactions. Maximum psychosis is total aphilosophic (beneficial) psychosis of God. The inferior philosophic degrees attach to our brains and subjugate the true personality. Each psychosis causes a change in the brain representing inefficient adaptation. The inefficiencies of any psychosis defiles the operations of the brain. The time/energy/matter waste to the individual is the means by which the effects of psychosis are quantifiable.

The hypnotic effect of continuous sensation into a brain undefended by aphiosophic mastery is like being a subject of a stage hypnotist dispensing post hypnotic suggestion for the amusement of the audience. There is n limit, due to the power for nearly infinite adaptation, of the number of individual psychosis one person can acquire, often up to and including total eclipse of the true personality. When the brain is conscientiously a master of aphiosophic thought it is as if the subject is actually in mental command of an unsuspecting stage hypnotist.

Devilry is the third complex demon. The community aspect of devilry is peer pressure. The individual aspect is fear taught to us by immature society. The maximum degree of each element can be determined by calculating the maximum aphiosophic understanding a person would achieve were they immortal and alone in an aphiosophic environment. The maximum understanding of fear would be total loyalty to the laws of god. All lesser philosophic degrees of fear bleed mathematically from ignorance of the hegemony of God. Likewise, the ultimate peer pressure is merely accepting the aphiosophic unity of all things. When you understand that God is everything you loose the ability to feel peer pressure from anything less than pure aphiosophic obedience.

Devilry is the equal and opposite result of any degree of ignorance regarding the single motivation of all things igneous to obey God and to achieve genetic potential.

Pyrotronics

Pyrotronic means the mathemechanical process of mind, body, and soul. The Pyrotronic schematic of the brain is to man what the electronic schematic is to a radio. Understanding the Pyrotronic process is the key to mastering and implementing a purely aphilosophic (obedient to God) mentality. This section can be divided into understanding 1) the 5 fire outlets of humanity and 2) the 3 divisions of the brain/divine vessel. The fire outputs are:

1. Reproduction
2. Pleasure
3. Fire manipulation
4. Education
5. Recall

These are the only connecting faucets between existence and the individual. The faucets or outlets must be perpetually controlled consciously by using the barometer of truth. These outlets are the same whether the subject is an individual or the whole society. Once mastered, the autonomic functions of the body will operate closer to maximum efficiency and you will be free to command all that fire which is yours to command.

The divisions of the brain are the 1) fundamental, 2) sentimental, and 3) environmental. The goal of each individual born into Gods universe can be summarized as the perpetual practice of a mental policy most conducive to maximum aphilosophic development of cognition, personality, and structural integrity of the soul. Cognition flows from the fundamental. The fundamentals of existence and thought is what is diagrammed in the barometer of truth, Mastery of the barometer maximizes our cognitive powers.

The personality of the individual can only be purely and completely expressed after we master the act of projecting our true sentiments to the world through a lens of genuine aphilosis. Eliminating the community aspects of the demonic element as an active mental factor in your personality allows your true personality to breathe. Eliminating both community and individual aspects will remove the stain of philosis from your entire person. Personality is the manifestation of the sentimental. The sentimental is the mathematically unique sensation one feels relative the barometer or ignorance thereof.

Integrity of our souls is partially dependent upon our environmental state. The closer we grow our perspective to match reality the stronger the integrity of our souls at the time of our transfiguration. The more we know of the actual laws of God, the better we can obey. Obeying God to the maximum potential of a human being can be summarized as understanding the indisputable mathemechanical evidence that proves fire is universal, love, is everything, and the endlessness of pleasure.

The fundamentals of my universe are the fundamentals of your universe. My environment is everyone's environment. But in sentiment the individual has no equal. Only you know exactly how you feel. Hence the environmental and fundamental are the community aspect of mentality. Sentiment is the individual aspect.

The following diagram depicts the 12 points. of the Pyrotronic brain circuit as well as the root of the mental manifestation of philosis.

1. Environmental fire is the theater of the small and large cycles of growth; from the birth and transfiguration of the individual and from the growth cycle of the anatomic structure of God. The interaction of the individual with external existence is conducted with the senses.
2. The antenna  is a life forms sensory perception apparatus and includes all 9+ senses thus discovered in earth life forms. In electronics and Pyrotronics the antenna convert energy waves into energy pulses.
3. The diode  is a device that allows current to flow in only one direction. The mental diode performs the conscious act of allowing information into the brain only after it has been aphiosophically classified to prevent philosophic contamination of the cognitive region of our divine vessel.
4. The plug  indicates the process of direct input be it mineral, chemical, or energy (UV radiation, electroshock treatments, etc.). Direct input is any input other than sensory.
5. The meter  represent conscious continuous barometric monitoring of all cognitive thought for aphiosophic impurities. The subconscious region of the vessel automatically behaves according to divine law.
6. The perception icon  inside the vessel indicates the act of choosing how many fire valves to open at one time and to what end.
7. The battery/fire symbol  represents 1) the total amount of energy in our bodies that must be subtracted to cause death and 2) the fire of life upon which all life forms are succored.
8. In electronics the iron core inductor  is a device that stores electric current as a magnetic field. All subconscious mental activity is stored in the same manner and affects the integrity of the vessel.
9. The fire valve  is the manifestation of the overall life goal and secondary ambitions such as reacting to unexpected situations.
10. The secondary outlet  is fed directly by our subconscious by dreams, instincts, and sensation, sending that information to the internal antenna.
11. The internal antenna  receives the data produced by our subconscious.
12. The jagged pathways  identify the points where information that has not been aphiosophically classified causes philosophic poisoning.

The Pyrotronic circuit and the following general procedure for mastering its operation may seem alien, complicated, impractical due to your current ignorance level. Yet because this process is a return to maximum thought it will quickly become automatic for all humans after a few generations of practice. Compared to the relative madness of philosis mankind has thus far in history adapted to, upgrading to Gods true policy will be the easiest and most rewarding thing humans ever learn. I am the most technically qualified person to make this claim because I am learning about aphilosis as I write. The writing process has been my own exercise in growing and learning to utilize the barometer to make things clear that the world at large (chained by the bounds of philosophic thought) cannot clarify for me.

This section provides the process of by which we may become the best we can be. The diagram of the Pyrotronic (bio-electric) brain operation was calculated and verified by myself just three months ago. Until now I've practiced the method of aphilosophic thought and now will describe for the educational benefit of all. Be reminded that mastering aphilosophic thought is impossible without subjugating the demonic elements of the barometer. Aphilosophic thought functions according to twin mechanisms dependant on the areas of the brain.

- 1) The closer our cognitive fire valve is in line with the aphilosophic battery of our subconscious the better our autonomic systems function. The symmetry between the valves and battery reduces the mental barriers we accrue over time. Reducing those barriers actually shortens the operational distance between the conscious and the subconscious, cognition and ignition, hence increasing the aphilosophically fueled inherent (genetic) efficiency of the system. The more tuned in we are to the reality of the laws governing our internal fire the better suited our perspective becomes for the reception of future aphilosophic growth.
- 2) The closer our divine vessel [cognitive faucets + subconscious fire] is aligned to the reality of the manifestation of fire, to the single collective mind of God that is the environmental segment of the 3 part mentality of the individual, the more useful and richer becomes the contribution our individual structural integrity to ourselves and to God, before and after transfiguration.

The following exercise is specifically targeted for upgrading our philosophically conditioned mind into the habit of mature aphilosophic thought. Future aphilosophically conditioned generations of man will consider mental policies other than the following, disobedience to God and the laws of endless abundance.

1) Your brain is your processing center. It received data via internal and external antenna and direct input.

2) All incoming data can and must be consciously filtered through the diode of apholosis, subjected to and classified by the power of dissection, imagination, and projection into one of the following categories:

a. Discard-ideas resulting from or fertile with philosis. Discard such ideas by mentally dissolving it and its memory as soon as they are identified. After discarding ideas return to your most recent aphilosophic thought or to your preprogrammed fires of the ambition valve.

b. Save data/ delay dissection- when you need additional time to analyze the accuracy of any incoming data. Data stored for future processing should be stored outside the vessel as daily fire goals next to the main fire of ambition upon the fire faucet. These fires are literally “burning curiosities” that will consume your internal fire with “wonder” until you barometrically resolve the issue.

c. Policy/Program update- should occur when new aphilosophically verifiable data is added into the vessel. Daily ambition fired and life goal ambition fired should reflect the policy upgrade immediately. For example when a psuedoracist learns of the mathematic inefficiency of psuedoracism his entire vessel should cease to waste fire supporting racist thought.

d. Repeat- information is ideally aphilosophic information already inside the vessel, resurfacing due to the need for practicing thought management. A philosophic thought repeating itself is a discard thought that has not been properly disposed of. When a repeat is identified it should be forcibly reentered into the diode of apholosis for reclassification. When aphilosophic thought becomes a habit one should expect an initial parade of repeat thoughts going back to childhood to resurface randomly, initially. This natural phenomenon is caused by the instinctual desire in your brain to aphilosophically put your history into a more accurate perspective. By this mechanism all emotional baggage is ultimately eliminated as reward for thinking the way God designed us to think.

e. Reminder- remembering vital data is easiest when done in an aphilosophic context. Overuse of memory is such that interferes with ur power of projection, dissection, and imagination.

f. New aphilosophic data- should be treated as saved data when it is unsaved and barometrically analyzed.

g. Basking- is the standard mental state of alkane (fire based) organisms. Basking is experiencing overpowering pleasure of being a child God. The better you understand the technical proof of our relationship to God the closer to maximum pleasure your basking will be.

3) The meter symbolizes constant barometric verification of thought classification, direct input and conscious ambition fires of our valves. It is ironic how the symbol for the meter, long used in electronics schematic perfectly jives with the symbol used for measuring electric current.

4) Philosophic bleeding (thought) marked by zigzag lines is the path where philosophic thoughts are allowed to by pass the diode and go directly into the vessel thereby corrupting it.

5) The individual should practice minimizing the fire consumed in the process of thought. Perfectly conducted aphilosophic thought hypothetically should produce not consume energy. Sleep is hypothetically required for autonomic body functions only.

When aphilosis becomes standard conscious policy of this planet we will begin to better fathom what it is to be a race of gods in a universe made of fire, bound securely with chains of love and fueled by ecstasy. Knowledge of the booklets will precipitate the long awaited age of heaven on earth. After aphilosis is elevated to basis for all laws of society one barrier will still remain. That barrier is the mandatory period of worldwide expansion of imagination that must accompany education.

The inefficiency produced by forced adaptation to philosis automatically causes 1) the brain to work unnecessarily hard to accomplish simple tasks, 2) keeps the brain tied up with false ideals that leave us relatively incompetent for the task of mastering aphilosis before we are recycled. When we teach our children to ignore verifiable truth we produce future societies doomed to believe it is acceptable to devote our lives to meaningless conflicts of ignorance and nonstop fascination of the repetitive mundane. The process for releasing our potential has a precedent in nature called the law of variety. It has been proven through experimentation with foxes how the transition from total instinct to mastery of the technical aspects of society causes increased genetic diversity to rise to the surface. Genetic variety gets released only as life gets easier, more technically advanced, closer to maximum, closer to God. Mankind's full genetic beauty will be on display when our society upgrades to aphilosis.

Dream Conversion

Subconscious brainpower, dream energy, is a major resource made practical via the technical advancements regarding the understanding of aphilois. Dreams are the emotions and thinking processes of the subconscious. As aphilois becomes the habitual policy of the conscious mind, the conscious mind will begin taking over some of the mental activities of the subconscious such as increased awareness, automatic recognition of aphilosophic logic, and hyper creativity. The more you begin to think aphilosophically the less you dream in the abstract. When philosophic pollution is reduced the wisdom of the subconscious mind becomes more accessible. To make maximum use of subconscious wisdom you need to have access to the barometer of truth and your dreams.

Through barometric calculation I have devised a method that will enable everyone to potentially recall every dream they have ever had. The reason dreams are harder to remember than actual events is that the method we use is inherently insufficient for the task. Dreams run faster than conscious thought due to the efficiency of the subconscious. This causes dream data to be stored in much denser blocks of data than consciously recorded data. The concentrated information cannot be properly accessed with short-term memory (even though a dream may have just occurred in the previous nights sleep) because short-term memory strands are too small to properly read the super condensed data. The solution is to use long-term memory strands to read the data. Long-term strands are like huge electronic storage devices that typically contain very little data. These strands are much larger than short strands to enable the brain to have access to old layers of memory. The extra length acts like a tether to the bygone but is almost entirely unused. The data of my first ham sandwich is extremely small compared to the data on the strand that contained my short-term memorization of the fifty presidents.

The key to mastering the process of dream recall is learning how to use long-term memory strands for short-term recall. To do this you'll need to visualize your short term and long-term memory strand as retractable lengths of measuring tape that can be extended with a mental pull on the end. When you first wake from a dream and attempt to isolate a fraction of the memory. Only isolate about two seconds of the dream and do not attempt to remember more of the dream even if you can because it will consume the short-term memory you'll need to operate the conversion process. Once you isolate the fragment you must extend the long-term strand that will be used to read or open up the dream. Do this by remembering that ham sandwich then superimpose the dream fragment upon this. Because of the natural magnetism between memory strands and data, your previous nights dream will instantly expand to fill up the long-term strand thus enabling you to see it clearly with your waking mind. The benefit of remembering dreams is two-fold. Being able to regularly remember dreams typically lost forces your brain to use more of its natural capacities. Second, the subconscious operations of the brain, the fundamental, is a more accurate thinking method versus the conscious mind therefore dreams are helpful when making the transition to aphilosophic thought because they allow us to see aphiosophic thought in action and make use of ideas we normally would not have practical access to.

Using long term memory strands to remember dreams causes those memories to be permanently linked to whatsoever dream was recalled. For this reason you do not want to use precious memories to recall dreams. For instance if I use the general memory of my sisters' wedding to recall a dream, the memory of her wedding will thereafter be fused to that dream. To avoid memory corruption one can use a process I call microstranding. Microstranding involves using nonprecious memories such as a tree in the yard of my neighbors' house when I was growing up. Microstranding is breaking up the memory of the tree into its' parts (trunk, roots, top, what it looked like in fall versus spring, so on) and using each part as a long-term memory strand for recalling this dream or that dream.

The 4th Rebellion

Before I had relayed the events of the 2nd rebellion we were at the end of the 3rd, when the 3 militants had been commended for their victories during the period of martial law. So esteemed were the 3 in the eyes of the rest of the counsel that when they stepped down (at the prearranged date of thirty days) they made a parting suggestion for the next plan of action to warlord Runile which everyone agreed upon and voted into policy.

“ Although the advancements made under martial law saved us decades of trial and error, bringing Runile so much closer to his goals, we can see that the stubbornness of the denizens of Babylon will require at least another 1-3 years of continuous fighting against societies ignorance before they were able to properly go public with the formula of divine truth. Also, the act of going public will most likely cost Runile his mortal life. Though he is no messiah still many will see him the truest messiah yet to be proclaimed and history proves that in Babylonia those who are slaves to false idols are historically compelled to slay their saviors or attempt to do so. So as we relinquish our authority and return to Runile control of his hands and feet, I say we should now honor Runiles accomplishments amongst ourselves because no men alive can be expected to appreciate all he has done for humanity in the service of his god. Let us use the technology we have developed regarding dream conversion to slow down the flow of time in the outside world to near zero while inside his mind and enjoy a period of a thousand years long during which we and lord Runile might relax for a time from this tedious war, from the frustrations of rescuing a world that refuses to accept rescue, from properly honoring mother and family all the while they not able to see it, from dwelling in a country which has heaped false dishonors upon his head. I recommend that after this period of rest we return to the business of saving the world. A thousand years of basking in the light of the knowledge of God should take the bitterness out of the ingratitude of the people of earth,” said the triumvirate.

Runile put the policy to a vote as soon as he was officially reinstated to the throne. The suggestion was passed unanimously. However, no sooner than it was passed, some counsel members began regretting the wisdom of going on “vacation” in the midst of a war for the spiritual health of the world.

“In honor of Runiles sacrifices and contributions, a thousand year respite seems in order, especially since we have the technology to stop time to protect our military gains. But in playing devils advocate I have find critical flaw with this course of action,” said Djinnoa to himself. So as the device was constructed and programmed that would create for the counsel members a period of rest, Djinnoa prepared his own device and activated it. Thus trapping all the other counsel members in a micro time zone and leaving himself as sole commander of Runiles hands and feet. From within the micro time zone he extracted his sister Djinneva and the young Ronel. He explained to them his idea and reasoning and goals.

“My friends, the suggestion of a thousand years respite entails hidden dangers that were not apparent at the time the vote was taken. My thinking is thus: the idea was to give our lord rest from his battles, time to enjoy his victories, and to give us time to hatch new plans for convincing the world of the veracity of the formulas he has discovered, while the outside world sits nearly frozen in time. The problem is that a thousand years entails a lot of growth. With growth comes change. In a thousand years who is to say Runile will still be interested in spending the rest of his life educating humanity. In a thousand years he and we may be too enlightened to care if the world thrives or perishes. If this occurs will we not have failed Runile in achieving worldwide enlightenment in his lifetime? I say yes. I have chosen you my blood sister because my intellect is best complimented by you. I have chosen you young Ronel because it is your legacy at stake so I value your perspective to add your expertise and talents to this endeavor. I intend to make this the rebellion that will end the age of rebellion within Runiles mind. I intend to succeed or be consumed by the ambitions fire.

After Djinnoa had thus spoken the 3 engaged in a lengthy debate on the justifications of this coup, the dangers, the reward until finally all 3 had agreed that the spirit that moved Djinnoa to action was honorable and ought to be in possession of them all. Now the advancements that had been made during the 2nd rebellion were finding heavy use during Djinnoa’s regime. Much virgin ground was about to be breached. The rewards for success were mathematically immeasurable; the wages of failure, unique and unfathomable.

The Reign of Xerothakeda

It was the combined genius of the 3 latest rebels that was responsible for bringing Xerothakeda to power. Xerothakeda had existed for years in the mind of Runile/Ronel as a name etched upon a tree in one of Runiles childhood dreams. As Runile grow, his imagination grew, so also grew the story of Xerothakeda hidden in the caverns of Runiles mind waiting for its day. When the 3 decided to create a pyrotramaton after the tradition that they themselves had been created by Runile it was decided to call it Xerothakeda. Xerothakeda was to be their masterstroke; the ultimate psychological weapon. He was programmed to succeed where they had failed, strong where they were weak. He was programmed with the wisdom of 100 pyrotramatons and given the power of absolute dictator, even over his 3 creators. Their plan seemed to be working up until 3 weeks into his reign.

Set upon his throne, Xerothakeda had become guilty of victory after victory. It was his successes that now threatened the cause from the perspective of his creators. In the outside world Xerothakeda had repeatedly successfully marched Runile, hand and foot, against giants, wild beasts, and army after army. Inside Xerothakeda had created and applied dozens of devices to increase his own mental capabilities. But because of the amount of energy these devices consumed or gave off, when one looked out the window of the counsel chamber the landscape (which was actually the fabric of Runile's brain) was aflame with firestorm. The amount of mental energy at work was taxing Runile's brain to its limits. He had needed to create devices to regulate the enormous power of other devices. He'd force-marched Runile hand and foot without food or sleep by creating devices that converted solar energy into brainpower in the day and gravitational energy into brainpower at night.

The 3 rebels considered Xerothakeda's policies overly aggressive. If Runile died in the physical world all their efforts would be in vain. But they were powerless to impose discretion upon him since they had given him autonomy (in anticipation of such a moment like this, when they would lose faith in his ability or become too or rescind their ambitions). Secluded amongst themselves in their personal chambers all they could do about the situation was lament therein. Djinnoa and Djinneva were not born creatures or direct creations of God. If anything happened to Runile during their watch their cosmic punishment would be unique, the specifications of their damnation-unprecedented. The problem facing Ronel was equally unique and considerably graver: if anything happened to Runile, would not Ronel be guilty of autoinsurrection having had his greater parts betrayed by the lesser? For the young Ronel if they failed, the place for punishing creatures like himself would be populated by he alone.

They reasoned amongst themselves what they might do about the ugliness of the situation. They could attempt to reason with him only. Force was not an option. They had pledged that this would be the last rebellion, the rebellion to end all rebellion. And to help insure this happened they had given Xerothakeda all the power and had taken away their ability to depose him. The three were just now making their way through the corridors to Xerothakeda's throne room (formerly the counsel chambers) to attempt to curb his aggressive policies by weight of reason. As they approached the main chamber they could smell the fire and brimstone of Xerothakeda's ambitions and devices and determination for those fires raged day and night and now were even stretching their hot fingers inside the windows of the chamber.

As they entered his throne room dozens of upgrades and changes were immediately visible. He had divided himself into three entities according to the 3 archprinciples of fire: one to manage his energy, one to focus on perception, and thirdly the manifestation of Xerothakeda the dictator. The cameo of Runile crafted by God upon cloth had been reproduced on a huge disk of brass that now hung high overlooking the chamber. Xerothakeda also had created scores of pyrotramatons to help him manage the fires of the 3-tier fire outlet and the operations of the many fire devices he had designed and implemented. Also there were four new thrones in the throne room, one of which was occupied by a youthful man unfamiliar to the three rebels. Before they could inquire of the enthroned youth, Xerothakeda had seen them and beckoned to them.

“Welcome, masters. I was just about to send for you”, and offered his programmers the other three thrones to sit upon. With a wave of his hand there was sounding of the gong (which bore the likeness of Runiles mummified head) and all the pyrotramatons came to attention. Xerothakeda had an announcement to make. “Masters, I have decided that the time is nigh to begin large scale recruitment of people in the outside world to manage the new education system that will enlighten all the world. To accomplish this I have fashion and programmed a pyrotramaton specifically programmed to the task”, he said pointing to the youth who sat on the other throne. “I have named him Innocent the last because he is the last pyrotramaton I will need to create before I achieve final victory as you have programmed me to do. I have programmed him to be the perfect educator, patient intelligent and packed with all the charm his pyrotronic brain can hold. With Innocent I will diminish the power drain on Runiles body and mind by delegating control of world education to a real world staff.”

Xerothakeda was ready to send Innocent out immediately but before he did so he decided to ask the boy a test question. “Child what will you say to those men who listen to everything you say only to conclude you to be a teacher of the policies of the devil?”

Innocent replied. “Master I will say nothing to them my lord. I will never leave this chamber. My day will be short lived.” Then the chamber erupted into a quiet commotion at the boy’s unexpected words. Innocent continued. “Father the situation is thus. You designed me to be your key to victory just as the three rebels created you to overcome their weakness and achieve victory. You have successfully created in me the apex of your own design. If you are willing to learn from as is required of our superiors then I will give the solution to that which you desire.” Xerothakeda’s programmers (the 3 rebels) sat silently watching the drama unfold with intense curiosity.

Xerothakeda seemed unperturbed at the boys’ words. He even motioned to him to continue.

“The solution to your problem should not be allowed to slip through your fingers. It requires an act of faith my lord equal to the faith your programmers put in you when they gave you autonomy. This solution to your problems is on the tip of my tongue but I dare not tell you unless you bequeath all your authority to me now temporarily.” Innocent’s words caused the gathered throng to erupt into an uproar. Outrage had ejected the 3 rebels were out of their seats. The absurdity of Innocents request threatened to further jeopardize their plight. Xerothakeda was already putting their plans at risk with his aggressiveness and they could do nothing about that. Innocents request for autonomy was not in their plans. They could do something about him.

They gathered a number of their own pyrotramatons about them and prepared to charge Innocent on his throne and do away with him. But Xerothakeda rose and commanded a number of pyros loyal to him to surround and protect the boy and another detachment to bring order to the rest of the agitated pyros. Having restored calm in the chamber Xerothakeda retook his position on his throne and began to speak to Innocent.

“When you say temporarily how much time are you exactly implying.” And with these words the 3 rebels and their pyrotramatons gathered themselves together again and attacked the pyrotramatons that were guarding Innocent by command of Xerothakeda. Innocent was removed from the fray and the two factions of pyros battled each other until those led by the three rebels were annihilated and they were forced to accept peace and compelled by the forces of Xerothakeda to retake their seats.

With order restored Xerothakeda returned his attention to Innocents proposition and having agreed to relinquish his authority, did so. Now that Innocent was in command he stepped up to the podium and prepared to enlighten everyone gathered in the throne room with his plan for winning the war against the iniquity and ignorance of the world and bringing about Runiles’ final enlightenment.

The Vivisectionist and the Archereon

“ The problem that is keeping us all from achieving the final goal are those barriers which keep us from accurately examining ourselves. Therefore when we pledge to analyze ourselves we must fall short. All of our success is dependent on not only Runile examining himself, but we, the subservient and derivative brains, accurately examining ourselves according to the principles of the barometer of truth. Although I have been in existence for only a few minutes my power to learn quickly is the outstanding trait of my genetic line. From God to Runile to the three rebels to my father Xerothakeda, until now I have been born with the key to victory on my lips.

“ In my hand is a new device which has the ability to measure and analyze all of Runiles’ brain while protecting the brain from outside thoughts. When the device finishes its’ cycle it will make a determination as to the ideal solution for eliminating Runiles’ remaining limitations and automatically turn itself off.”

“And what will happen to us who live inside Runiles’ mind during this examination process,” Xerothakeda asked. “ We will be in suspended time just as Runile and the counsel members are now,” Innocent replied.

Having said that, Innocent turned on his device and the program immediately began the analysis process. Suddenly the counsel chamber that had been transformed into Xerothakeda’s throne room was now being transformed again. The chamber and the surrounding landscape had vanished. Now there was a black void such as in space. In its midst hovered a round platform covered with a clear crystalline dome so that it was like a giant make-it-snow ball. Under the dome, on the platform there was a semi-round table with many sorts of protrusions and insets and compartmentalization's, transparent in some places, reminiscent of alien abduction examination tables. Aside the table stood an automaton with many arms of divers sizes complete with mechanical rotating arms bearing divers tools. On the table lay the pulsating twitching brain of Runile. Its duty already preprogrammed, the machine deftly began its task- slicing the brain into microfiche thin sheets. Its sensors recording everything it discovered.

As the vivisectionist continued its vivisection suddenly bolts of fire began to reign down in the direction of the dome. As each bolt neared the dome an archereon (tiny archer) would fire arrows from below to knocking it off course before it could make contact with the dome. The fire bolts were the thoughts of Runile. The archereon was programmed to divert all these thoughts so as not to disturb the vivisectionist during the examination. On the track located on the edge of the platform similar to the tracks of a clock with built in figurines that parade about on the hour, the archereon traveled about the dome firing his arrows. The heavier the rain of fire bolts the faster the archereon wheeled about to meet them. According to the program Innocent had designed, the vivisectionist and archereon would continue like this until the flaws in Runile's brain were diagnosed. (The flaws implied are the barriers keeping Runile from achieving his ambition today rather than tomorrow. In his pursuit of perfection ignorance is the flaw at issue.)

It is an historic and mathematic fact that Runile's brain was designed to see patterns and discern truth out of any information provided him and make efficient use of that information. When the vivisectionist located the flaw the information was automatically relayed to Innocent's brain and the diagnostic sphere vanished. In its place Xerothakeda's throne room had reappeared with all its' occupants just as it was before the vivisection began.

The fall of Warlord Runile

Warlord of all warlords some will say. He was the scholar who discovered the barometer of truth. With this as his weapon he was favored 3-1 one to put an end to the idea of war and evil forever. It was his discoveries that would precipitate the prophesied reestablishment of the kingdom of God on earth. He was the spiritual field commander of an army made up of anyone who truly loves God, supported by a cast of military advisors in his head unequalled in all history, safely residing inside his brain. By oaths blood pledged all these things were true of Tamara Runile as he prepared to begin his thousand years of rest and contemplation on the wonders of God (per the advice of his advisors), inside his impregnable fortress, in the imperial bedchamber, in the privacy its perimeters, at the time he fell asleep. But by the time the servant came to rouse him in the morning with the gentle ringing of his dainty silver bell carrying the message that his warlords would like to see him in the war room, much had changed. Runile was no longer the Runile of old because secretly while he was sleeping he had been overthrown. And so now the image of his mummified decapitated head that had appeared weeks ago at the bottom of the blue curtain in the library, initially interpreted as a sign of good fortune now seemed to have been hanging there pregnant with another meaning much more profound which he was unaware of but soon to find out.

He dressed and descended to the counsel chamber wondering why he was being summoned when everyone was supposed to be starting the thousand years of relaxation. Arriving at the counsel chamber the changes that made since yesterday were legion. The image of his head in bronze hanging from the ceiling, the removal of the counsel table and addition of the four thrones; there were commanders here he didn't recognize and dozens of pyrotramatons he didn't create. He was nevertheless greeted by all with much respect and then debriefed on the events of the recent months and the plan his advisors had devised to accomplish all of Runiles' goals. Because he was in suspended animation during the 2nd and, this, the 4th rebellion, to him it was as if just one night sleep had passed.

He was informed of the details of the 2nd rebellion and the advancements that had been made therein (which manifested as ideas and possibilities in Runiles' mind being that he was unaware that those events were actually taking place-like a dream) and then told of the 4th rebellion, of the victories of Xerothakeda. And finally he was told about the analysis of the vivisectionist and the results of the examination of his brain. The conclusion of the vivisectionists report was that the demonic regent must be exorcised from Runile's person and that the best way to do this was to permanently erase Runiles' core personality from the inside. That the solution to his problems was his own decapitation did not surprise him. His many limitations physically and mentally in going public with his formula were derived from his philosophic conditioning. His failure to wield the barometer of truth must lay in him and not the barometer, which is a perfect thing. So the idea of losing his head and to be thereon ruled hand and foot by his spiritual/technical knowledge seemed sound.

Runile was also very proud at the advancements his extra brains had made since the time of their manufacture nine months ago. Programmed to help teach him to use more of his brainpower, Runile, after 4 internal rebellions was unrecognizable to his own self. He had grown so much now that he felt he needed to make a written log of the events for the sake of his own understanding of what had happened to him enroute to enlightenment, and for the benefit of future historic research. Because of the increased efficiency added by the extra brains as well as their perfection of the process of dream/time manipulation, the past nine months literally had many life times packed into it. Runile was enlightened beyond any other person on the earth, but he was still not enlightened enough to confidently go public with his 3 booklets on divine knowledge. Loosing his head might make him ready.

The guillotine was produced and Runile was prepared. But just as the ceremony was about to commence a sun bright flash exploded in the midst of the chamber. When the light was gone a golden tiger striped she-cat was now sitting where the light had flashed. “I am Karma”, said the cat. “Since you are going to execute someone who has done more for my health than anyone has in a long time I feel obligated to pay final respect in person. May I be allowed to speak?” she asked and of course all who were gathered acquiesced, feeling most honored at the divine manifestation of such a force of nature—all except Xerothakeda. During his reign he had devised many devices to increase his effectiveness. One such device was designed to generate a mathematically accurate view or opinion of Karma regarding the multiple dramas within the mind of Runile and his accomplishments in the physical world. The device had failed to operate until now. But suddenly it was working. And Xerothakeda was as interested in hearing “Karmas” opinion as everyone else was.

“If the death of Tamara Runile is what you want then you have it. Tamara Runile is dead. The creatures are descending upon the creator with the notion that they can succeed in making him a new creature of God. And after all the rebellions that have taken place you all pretend as though you have discovered something new, a new strategy in the war against evil and against overcoming Runiles Babylonian conditioning. But in truth since the very first rebellion that is what you all, including Runile himself, have been doing. First Runile created you to expand his mind to the point of high enlightenment knowing that he’d soon be changed. Then the advisors attempted to permanently replace Runile on the throne with his adolescent self (Ronel). And rebellion after rebellion Tamara Runile was upgraded. Infused with more understanding and mastery of the ways of our God. In the past nine months Runile has learned, studied, practiced and mastered the art of receiving miracles from God. In the Christian sense of being born again he has been reborn a hundred times over! Yet here we stand with Runile bound for the guillotine as though you all, the creatures, have no more need of the creator!

In the search for Runiles’ key flaw the poison will not be found on the shelf in Runiles’ head in a cross bone marked bottle labeled Runile! Stop looking so closely into Runiles’ head for all the answers. Runile is not God. God is God. Look to God! At this late stage in his development, cutting off his head one more time is not the answer. Consider this. Books celebrated worldwide as containing the knowledge of God such as the Bible, the Koran, Vedic literature, the Torah, so on, have been strictly avoided by Runile so as to keep the information in the 3 booklets pure of anything other than divine inspiration of the barometer of truth. But now is the time to put Runiles’ claim to the test. He has said that the barometer can be used to determine the mathematical truth about any belief system. Therefore let him return to his days of scholarship, and examine these books for the divine reinforcements you all are so desperately in need of now. If no help can be found there then a new plan of action can be decided upon in the future. However any new ideas from the mind of Runile should henceforth come from one mind.

Congratulations Djinnoa, Djinneva, young Ronel! You three set out to launch the rebellion that would end all future rebellion. Through your wisdom and courage your gamble has born fine fruits (and Xerothakeda knew that he himself and his karmaic projector were one of the fruits being referred to). Truly you 3 have taken Runiles growth to the highest level possible from the inside; and have pushed the act of “self-help” to utterly insane outer limits of imagination. You have made yourselves obsolete in doing so. All the advancements that have been made by you extra-brains and subsequent pyrotramatons have indeed increased Runiles’ abilities so that he has no more need to brook such internal division. From now on I suggest that Runile go forth with one mind and concentrate on discovering the truth of how much truth about God is still out there that Runile has yet learned.”

Having spoken those words Karma disappeared. The gallery was dumbfounded. Karma had shown them exactly where they were in the battle for Runiles enlightenment and the enlightenment of the world and it was drastically different than the ideas they were set upon just moments ago. Instead of Runile being permanently removed from power, they, the pyro’s were the ones that would now be exiting into the annals of Runiles’ history. Because the words of Karma were mathematically correct no one present could refute her wisdom. Also because she was correct, Xerothakeda did not reveal that she was merely a projection of one of his devices. Due to the laws of the element projection, that fact could not diminish the wisdom of her words.

And so the age the internal rebellions, and of pyrotramatons, and of pyrotramatons begetting pyrotramatons, was finished. Having been informed that he no longer needed the aide of extra-brains, Runile absorbed them all into his brains workings. The workload previously possible only with help of his advisors was now within Runiles own capacities to perform.

The Oracle of God (The 21pt. Barometer of Truth)
The 7th Thunder (Sphere of Ecstasy)

The oracle of God differs from the 18pt. barometer only in the addition of the 7th thunder. The 7th thunder is the sphere of ecstasy. The 3 elements of shame, disappointment, and regret are the 3 barriers to divine ecstasy. Each one corresponds the environmental, sentimental, and fundamental. Shame is the public or environmental manifestation. Regret is the sentimental manifestation. Disappointment is the parental, fundamental aspect. Things we do that cause us regret also cause public shame and parental disappointment. Using the Oracle of God and the principle of perfection (whether you learn them here, from the Bible, or elsewhere) to make your decisions is the way.

Lesser Lights and Rumbings

The following formulas demonstrate how the 3 pt. formula can be applied to every aspect of life.

Age of the 7th Angel

Runile didn't waste a day putting to practice Karmas' suggestion. He spoke to followers of the Vedic traditions. Their wisdom and mastery of high technology and high esteem for Jesus of Nazareth led him to revisit the Bible. When Runile reread the Bible with the barometer of truth as his guide, he discovered things he had never thought he would find in the Bible. He discovered the importance of Melchizedek, the mastery of Jesus Christ, the Oracle of God, and that the 7 thunders mentioned in the bible were actually the 7 spheres he had discovered and called the barometer of truth. He also learned of the importance of the 7th angel of Revelations, had come to believe that this angel in the form of the king of kings and lord of righteousness and truth represented all those people on earth willing to master the oracle of god, to learn to exercise their senses for the perfect discernment of good and evil, who would be willing to live eternally with honor of the highest order for their part in bringing about the kingdom of God on earth, through perfect education as is prophesied in the holy texts. Amen.

Parting Keys to Availing Yourself of all the Power of the High Priests of Melchizedek for Battling Evil and Promoting God

1. Beware of over Enlightenment: your location in history is everything. There are many advanced religious systems aware of the keys to perfect enlightenment. Some of these systems over encourage individual enlightenment giving no relevance to the need, at this time in history, for worldwide enlightenment according to the words of God. In an age when mankind must prepare itself for war with the bonds of evil, it would be counterproductive to achieve the same level of inner peace as a flower, for instance, in a time when we must summon all of our ambition fires to defeat the idea of evil.
2. Master the Little Book: know your god and worship him. The Little Book of the 7 Thunders is the blueprint of the mind and body of God. To worship God you must know him. Accept no imitations or half correct ideas of God. To do so, with the book of truth at your disposal (at the disposal of all the earth) is sin.
3. Fluidic Religion: maintaining cutting edge enlightenment. When mastering your fire outputs according to the pyrotronic schematic be prepared to continuously update your policies of fire maintenance as the laws of perfection become habitual.

4. Fear List: the power of penmanship. Wielding the power to solve all your problems is most apparent when you use your self-honesty to clarify and eliminate weaknesses, fear, and ignorance. After one achieves proficiency with the oracle, listing your desires and needs becomes the means of activating perfection of your conscious and subconscious minds.
5. Value your perfect mindedness- though the whole world avoids it. Babylon (current earth society) has its' rules. One of these unspoken rules is that zero enlightenment is good enlightenment. In Babylon you can expect to be encouraged to invest in a "lifetime" supply of male enhancement narcotics long before anybody offers you the key to divine maturity and true immortality.
6. Join the Feast of Babylon: the tyrants, banks and merchants are feasting at the expense of our Babylonian infrastructure-so should you. The bible clearly tells how the "princes and merchants of Babylon will be filled with the spirit of self-destruction which means they will become possessed with fear and begin to rob themselves blind as well as the people with their financial tricks and demonic business practices. Banks (private and public) even now are routinely convicted then bailed out of financial trouble with tax money-our money-even as I write; this is their reward for oppressing the people and robbing the world blind (robbing Babylon blind so that "she" cannot see). Babylon's foundations are made of sand. The hordes of those who are misled by the iniquitous leaders of Babylon are encouraged to weaken those foundations through the encouragement of ignorance which will ultimately bring out Babylon's fall. If you are willing to master the principles of perfection then you should also be willing to help the princes and merchants of Babylon cannibalize themselves: if someone tells you "you should starve"- then feast at the expense of Babylon. If Babylonian officials tell you justice is not feasible-then wreak justice all over their worthless skulls (for the purpose of education). If Babylonian ministers tell you to turn your brother or your sister over to the jail because they partake of marijuana (an herb most conducive to enlightenment)- despise them and defeat them through enlightenment.
7. Prepare for Divine Victory: God needs soldiers (priest and kings of righteousness)-be ready for the call. Don't take a Babylonians word for anything for they cannot be trusted, even if it's your mother (see the Bible). Babylonians will not admit that Babylon is fallen until it is too late to atone for their loyalty to Satan (inefficiency). The Melchizedekadian priest is he who is prepared to join God on the battlefield through mastery of the divine laws. Master them. Worship God.
8. Learn the Value of Cowardice: fear God and no one else. God is the most powerful force in our universe. Not having faith in him is stupidity/insanity. Only natural ignorance can hide the truth. But even so, not forever. Today is the day that everyone on earth is free to learn all there is to know about God. The availability of the Little Book of the 7 Thunders consequently relegates ignorance of Gods' true nature to a crime at this point in history(as opposed to earlier days). Those who feel confident that Babylonian policies will save them are the same people who will need to be purified by the fire of truth after they die (see the Bible). A high priest of Melchizedek doesn't need to die before they come to master the principles of God. Hence they are blessed with immortality.

9. Avoid the Inefficiency of Sectarianism. Sectarianism is like ones nationality. Your country of birth never changes yet the significance of your country of origin changes when you realize that everyone in this universe is family and every particle of existence a part of your body. Likewise sectarianism is nothing more than being born into a particular "faith" (or growing up and choosing for yourself) and adopting the Babylonian policy of "zero advancement"-refusing to grow when it entails upgrading your religion to practices that can be mathematically proven superior to the ones you practiced yesterday or by your parents or even the rest of the world.
10. Moderate Everything because every idea, act, and object is necessary to the greater purposes of Gods plan for existence. When an idea is so repulsive your hard pressed to resolve its necessity in the universe, then you must rely on the divine foresight of God to tide you over until your enlightenment level is sufficient to understand all aspects of your universe.
