Peter Drucker says :

In the past days
Nonprofits used to say,
"We don't pay volunteers
so we cannot make demands upon them."

Nowadays they are more likely to say,

"Volunteers must get greater satisfaction from their accomplishments and make a greater contribution precisely because they do not get a pay check."

Essential Drucker: "What the nonprofits are teaching business" P.46

يقول بيتر دراكر :

لقد اعتادت المنظمات غير الربحية أن
تقول في السابق،

"إننا لا ندفع أي نقود للمتطوعين لذلك
فإننا لا نستطيع أن نطلب الكثير
منهم."

أما اليوم فقد تحولت النظرة لتصبح ملخصة بالقول،

"يجب على المتطوعين أن يحققوا
انجازات أكبر بكثير تحديدا بسبب أنهم
لا يتلقون أي مقابل مادي لذلك."
