The NORTHERN MAIL came through yesterday with the latest dates.

A REJOINDER.

The Washington Union comes to the assistance of our neighbor of the Courier. It may be remembered that we copied a statement to the effect that the Democratic free States had elected none but Anti-Nebraskaists and Freesoilers to the Congress of the United States; that the Courier took exception to the assertion, and denounced it false; that we called on that journal to name the anti-freesoil or nationalmen elected by the Northern Democrats, and that it did not reply to this very pertinent query. Well, the Union answers for it, and after qualifying our statement as scandalous and reckless, proceeds to furnish a list, which, if it proves anything, shows that we did not wander widely from the mark in our declaration. This list is such that one member in New Jersey, two Pennsylvania, two in Indiana, and one in Illinois constitute the entire number of Northern Democrats who voted for the Nebraska bill, and who were returned to Congress by the Democracy; and it is safe to add, that in the districts represented by these members, the Democratic strength is overwhelming, that their party could not be defeated, in spite of their running counter to the almost unanimous sentiment of the North. Conceding, however, to every thing which the Union claims, it follows that the Democracy at the North absolutely did send to Congress seven out of forty-six of those who sustained the Nebraska bill.

From a second list, the Union claims three more members as national Democrats. This is a shadowy, unsubstantial assertion, based not upon the declarations of the members elected, but upon the groundless averments of the Union. That journal may answer for members of the party who, having voted for the Nebraska bill, have never been returned. It cannot answer for men who were elected simply as Democrats in districts where their party could not summon a numerous numerical superiority to give an idea of the looseness of party discipline, it chases the California anti-national Democrats, thereby proving to the utterance that they were opposed to the sectional or freesoil competitors. The Union itself is perfectly aware that no such fort has never been built in California, and that that State, by its Constitution and geographical position, is eminently Southern in sentiment.

Again, the Union puts down every man in the North by the appellation of Whig, Know-Nothing and Abolitionist. This, though open to the point under controversy, is a misnomering, because it is unfairly and unjustly applied. A politician is not necessarily a Freesoiler, because he was opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Mr. Mitchell of Virginia, voted against the Nebraska bill, and has been re-elected; so has Mr. PUTNAM of North Carolina, and he has been returned; so has Mr. BENJAMIN of Louisiana, and he will be returned; so did Senators BELL and CRITTENDEN, Democrats. The Union has two members of its own fabrication, wherein it differs with Democrats and Nationals. Every man who voted for the Nebraska bill has been pressed into the National mould; every member who combatted that measure is ruthlessly thrust into the Freesoil mould. So arbitrary a system of classification is monstrous and false. Will the Union continue to denounce Col. HUNT, and Messrs. BELL, HOUSTON, MILLSON and others as Freesoilers and Abolitionists? We desire to assert that the numerous Democratic journals—among them our own, the Bulletin of this city—which resisted the repeal of the Missouri Compromise predicted the dangerous excitement it would create—are Freesoil sheets? According to the Procrustean standard, all the staunchest Southern members, and some of the strongest pro-slavery Democratic papers, must ipso facto, be put in the same mould with GREELY and SEWARD, Evening Post and the Tribune. Such a statement is at once shallow and ridiculous.

Further, to demonstrate the artful sophistry of the Union's article, we have to point out one or two facts. That journal has a list of eight Congressmen elected in New York, styling them anti-foreign, Freesoil, Know-Nothing and Whig; when the result of the election in that State conclusively proves that the Know Nothings elected but two members, Mr. WICK and a member from Erie, whose name escapes our memory, and that both were anti-National men in the broadest sense of the word. The Union decorates with the same title members elected by the opposition in Maine and Michigan, where the Know-Nothing issue was not even started. Can duplicity and error go further than this?

☞ THANKFUL FOR SMALL FAVORS.—The Democracy yesterday fired a salute of fifty guns for their victories in Tennessee. Truly, our Democratic brethren are grateful for the smallest favors. Two years ago they elected Johnson governor of Tennessee by 63,000 majority, divided the Congressional delegation, and carried the Legislature. They fired no salute then—but this year they re-elect Johnson by a diminished vote, lose two members of Congress and one Senator-see if the Legislature, and yet they salute the event, and have gunpowder in token of their satisfaction at such victory, and of their belief that Democracy be in Tennessee!

☞ LOUISIANA LITERARY GAZETTE.—This monthly publication of the fashions and fashionable intelligence is one of the most useful and interesting periodicals published. It is particularly adapted to the ladies, embracing as it does music, fine arts, poetry in needle work, pretty tales and sketches, &c. &c.

☞ A despatch from Albany says there is no truth in the report that THURLOW WEED retires from the editorial management of the Evening Journal.

A NEW GERMAN COLONY.—On Wednesday last the propeller Queen of the Lakes took some fifty five Germans from Chicago, Illinois, as passengers, who are part of a colony about to settle on the Michigan coast, opposite the South Manitou Island. The colony has purchased about seven hundred acres of land there, and the settlement or town is to be called North Unity. Six or seven hundred Germans are preparing to join the colony, most of them remaining in this country. The propeller also took up a pile-driver with which to construct a dock and breakwater at that point.

☞ A LETTER IN NEBRASKA.—Considerable excitement has recently been attracted to the subject of the probability of slavery being introduced into the new Territory of Nebraska this year. The first instance by a long article published editorially in the Nebraska City Newsannouncing that slaveholders had settled with their slaves in Southern Nebraska, and intended to attempt the establishment of a slaveholding State south of the Platte river. Subsequently the same paper published an advertisement offering a number of slaves for sale. But the News now puts forth an article saying that the whole thing was a fiction of its own coinage.

CHARLES WALLACE, son of James Wallace, the actor, died at New York on the 6th inst. of apoplexy.

SUICIDE OF A PHYSICIAN.—Dr. Silas R. Mosher, formerly of Pocquier county, Illinois, a man of professional distinction and the head of an interesting family, died in Alexandria, (Va.) on Friday evening last, under the most painful circumstances. The Sentinel of Saturday, says:

From his own statement, it seems that worried, and despondent under the pressure of debt with pecuniary difficulties, he resolved to end them; and for this purpose took a preparation of six grains of strychnine, at the house of Mr. Tyson's tavern, on Wednesday morning, about 7 o'clock. It is hard to tell what he must have thought before his fatal resolve to have been made,—for immediately thereafter he seems to have become as sad as at any time with his own virtuous and religious principles and profession.
