Memoranda.

Ship Bay of the Southwest Pass has been, for the last week, detained by the prevailing westerly winds. Should N. W. winds continue for a few days, she will be towed to the Balize and out; and bound vessels, Yesterday and to-day, were spoken and towed outside; but, in consequence of the wind coming more ahead on the bar, bound out vessels were obliged to anchor.

The wind headed yesterday in the morning, which gives a prospect of a fair
