NEW YORK POLITICS.

The State election in New York takes place next Tuesday. Parties there are almost completely disbanded. There is a nominal Whig ticket in the field, with the name of MYRON H. CLARK at the head for Governor. There are likewise a Hard ticket, a Soft ticket, a Liberty ticket, and lastly a Know Nothing ticket. Two or three weeks ago we should have anticipated the success of the so-called Whig candidates as a morally certain event. Since then, circumstances have occurred which justify a suspicion of the defeat of CLARKE and his associates. This may seem the expression of a desire on the part of a journal that supports Whig principles, but will need no explanation to those who have taken the trouble to follow the gyrations and evolutions of New York politics. Mr. Seward Whitezery, until they found it, as a corpse quietly nestling in the arms of the Soft-shell party. No Southern Whig, and no Northern National Whig can breathe a wish for the triumph of CLARKE, without committing a treason.

It gives us unfeigned pleasure to state that the universal denunciation with which that Soft-shell ticket was greeted by the Whigs of the South, has met with a firm and patriotic rebuke by the National Whigs of New York. We have after deliberately surveying the political and investigating the principles and professions of the candidates, arrived at the conclusion that a sense of high constitutional duty peremptorily forbids them to give aid and comfort to the mongrel nominees of the Syracuse convention. The Silver Gray organs general have shown that the period is too late, and that the day of the election too near, to enable that section of the party to call a new Convention to arrange another ticket in season for the election, and it only remains for the National Whigs of this State to determine upon the course to be pursued, and to decide as to which of the candidates nominated to CLARKE they will give their support. They will not, it is to be hoped, act as separate Southern Whigs will have the satisfaction of knowing that a Spartan band of their countrymen could trust and unswerving, will not be merged in the motley cohorts of [illegible] candidates who are evidently the Nationals—viz: REDFIELD, Hard cider candidate for Secretary of State, and ALVORD, Abolitionist in all its phases. We announce a deadly foe to the Administration, that the National Whigs may not with much sacrifice of their principles, [illegible] Democratic Governor.

The Albany Evening JOURNAL, the organ of Governor MARCY, has come out in a Whig canvass. He has been all his life a Democrat or National Whig. It is quite probable that his heathen office-holders will concentrate their suffrages for CLARKE.

At all events the result of the [illegible] depending upon the National Whigs of the State of New York. Their position is one of great responsibility. The defeat of CLARKE by any body else than a Whig candidate is a Democratic triumph, as SEYMOUR, Soft-shell candidate for Secretary of State, is a Democrat, and a supporter of PIERCE. Whoever ought to be considered as the Empire State Democracy, would be [illegible] Democracy. The Empire State Democracy have been for some months in the hands of the Softs, with the exception of [illegible] Democratic Governor, and [illegible] Democratic Legislature. The Softs have had the patronage of the State, and have used it for the purpose of building up their party. The Softs have had the control of the Democratic State Committee, and have used it for the purpose of building up their party. The Softs have had the control of the Democratic State Committee, and have used it for the purpose of building up their party. HAVANA

Arrival of the Cahawba.

The U. S. mail steamship Cahawba, R. W. Commander, arrived yesterday afternoon from New York via Havana, bringing New York papers to the 25th ult. and Havana to the 28th making the run in precisely five days. She left Havana the same afternoon, and reached the Bar Passe à l'Outre at 2 o'clock, P. M. Capt. Wright reports the Cahawba as having 46 passengers, and brings 162 to the principal cities and gentlemen of New Orleans returning to their homes. Also the mail from Havana is on board. The weather during the passage was delightful.

We have from Havana no news of importance. The U. S. mail steamship Georgia arrived at Havana on the 25th ult., bringing dates from the Brazos to the 21st inst. She left Havana the same afternoon, and reached Havana at 12 o'clock, P. M. on the 26th, making the run in precisely five days.
