EXCHANGE on France, for sale by march 3 MAGER

J. R. PUTNAM, DENTIST,

RESPECTFULLY informs the public that he has removed to the house recently occupied by Dr. Ker, at the corner of Canal and Royal streets, over the Post Office, (entrance No. 6, Royal street,) where he may be found from 9 o'clock, A. M. until 5 P. M., ready to attend to the duties of his profession, and where he invites those who wish to employ or consult him to call, as it is impossible for him to leave his rooms during those hours, except in cases of indisposition. He has rooms for the accommodation of his visiters, separate and distinct from his family apartments, where they can be entirely private during the performance of an operation, or whilst waiting for his services, should he be at the time engaged. His charges will be such as are sanctioned by the usages of his profession and will not be deviated from except for persons of limited means, or where families are to be attended to, then a reasonable deduction will be made. As he has no assistant in his business, and as it is expected that he will be found always in his rooms, it must be obvious to all, that it is impossible for him to keep books and attend personally to the collection of his bills; he therefore respectfully solicits those who receive his services to make settlement at the time, or attend to it as soon as convenient to themselves, as he has given offence to some by presenting his accounts through another person employed for that purpose. It is expected that punctuality will be strictly observed where positive engagements are made, or an excuse furnished in time, as a neglect to do this may subject others who have made engagements to disappointment and him to loss and inconvenience. Those indebted for services rendered during the last season, will oblige him by calling and paying their bills. nov 29

CARSTARIAN SYSTEM OF WRITING,

No. 43, Canal Street.

MESSRS T. P. & R. DOLBEAR have the pleasure to inform the public that they have permanently established their writing academy in this City—and intend hereafter to keep it open about 8 months in the year; the session this year will be much shorter in consequence of the indisposition of the Principals. Classes write from half after 9 to half after 10 a. m. from 4 to 5 p. m. from 7 to 9, and from 9 to 10 at night—Also, before breakfast in the morning—hours not mentioned above are reserved for private lessons. Ladies who prefer can receive lessons at their residences A deduction made for families—also for classes formed at schools. Applications for private lessons must be made before the warm season commences. Visiters will please call while the pupils are writing, that they may see with what ease and facility they execute.

N. B.—Those who attend the Academy are not restricted to a limited number of lessons—but are desired to continue till they write sufficiently well to keep books in a bold mercantile style.

I have examined with attention, the system of writing taught by Mr. Dolbear, and it is with pleasure that I certify to its superiority over any other method with which I am acquainted. Mr. Dolbear, having given private lessons in my family, I consider it but justice to add, that I believe him as much worthy of public patronage on account of the correctness and mildness of his character, as on account of the rapid improvement of those who receive his lessons.

New Orleans, July 2, 1834. A. B. ROMAN

NEW ORLEANS, 12th May, 1832

On the invitation of Mr Dolbear, a teacher of Penmanship in our city, upon the Carstairian system; we have carefully examined specimens of the writings of his pupils, whose ages range from 8 to 50 years, written through an entire course of instruction; and after having done so, it is with the highest satisfaction that we can testify to the rapid and improvable progress which they have made.

From the specimens seen, and the examination of the system made, we cannot withhold the expression of a current opinion, that the system is greatly superior to any hitherto taught. If to write legibly, elegantly, rapidly, and in good taste be an accomplishment useful or desirable, it is upon the principles of this system that it is to be acquired. We therefore anxiously solicit of the public a liberal patronage in favor of an instructer, whose qualifications are of the highest order, and whose labors promise to be so exceedingly useful to this and other communities.

Comments on his system, he, himself, deems unnecessary further than to say, that in Europe it has become the standard and generally adopted one, while America,

Many hundred specimens of improvements made by persons of various ages to be seen at the Academy which is open daily from 10 a. m. to 2, and from 5 to 8 every evening.

☞This system differs in every respect from any that has ever been offered in America; and mean time Mr Duhertis begs to call attention to the following:

☞At a meeting held in London, at the Argyle Rooms, Regent street, on the 11th January, 1828, when were present, these distinguished characters: Lord Brougham and Sir Francis Burdett, also the members of the Royal Society of Arts and Sciences, the Society of Schoolmasters, &c. amounting in all, to about 340 personages. After a lecture of two hours and a half, having been delivered by Mr. Duhertis, on his newly invented system of teaching the art of writing in Six lessons, and on the various causes that prevented persons from attaining perfection in the art, according to the ordinary mode of teaching; Sir Francis Burdett then proposed, that the meeting should decide upon a resolution relative to the gratification which they on a resolution relative to the gratification which they felt in bearing testimony to the great and unparralleled advantage of Mr. Dubertis's system of teaching the art of Penmanship. After some deliberation it was unanimously resolved, that, Mr. Duhertis's system of teaching the art of Writing in a few lessons, (six only) appears to us as the most extraordinary improvement in the method of instruction, which the ingenuity of the human mind has hitherto devised. feb 5

DR. PARSONS,
SURGEON DENTIST, from New York.

RESPECTFULLY informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of New Orleans, and its vicinity, that he has removed to No. 68, Royal street, 2d door near Bienville, he performs any operation on the teeth and Gums in a style not surpassed.

NATURAL and ARTIFICIAL TEETH set in the best manner, and at the most reasonable charges. Also, PORCELAIN TEETH, from a single one to a whole set

On the first appearance of Tartar or Scurvy, Teeth should always be cleansed, as the corrosion of the Tartar will in a short time reach the roots of the teeth, and they will eventually fall out; and by attending to them in season they may be restored, at a trifling expense, to their original beauty.

The operation of plugging and filing the Teeth when decayed, is so truly important that it is impossible to recommend it too earnestly to the attention of the public. Thousands of the most useful Teeth, which otherwise would, on account of their painfulness, be sacrificed by extraction, may thus be preserved for many years.

From a practice of Dental Surgery for more than twenty years, he hopes to merit a continuation of public patronage. The most difficult Teeth and Roots extracted.

The most celebrated Tooth Powder and Tooth brushes may be had.

N. B. He will attend at the dwelling of those Ladies and Gentlemen who request it.
