

( 896 )

At the end of the Treatise he shews the means of weighing up sunken Vessels, blowing up the Decks under Water, and taking out the Goods by means of the Diving Bell, &c.

---

E R R A T A.

N Umb. 200. p. 748. l. 14. r. at. p. 749. l. 12. r. at. p. 751. l. 20. r. Plectro- nites. l. 28. r. lapidis. l. 30. r. titulis. Numb. 201. In the engraved Plate of the Characters, N<sup>o</sup> 2. l. 2. r. BACIAEON. p. 784. l. 12. r. considerable.
p. 791. l. 15. r. at Col. Coles.

---

L O N D O N :

Printed for S. Smith and B. Walford, Printers to the Royal Society, at the Princes Arms in St. Paul's
Church-yard, 1693.