

FINE OPENING FOR BALL TOSSERS

YESTERDAY'S GAME TO NEW ORLEANS

WOULD MAKE FANS SIT UP WITH STRONG TEAMS BEHIND THEM

"What is a bush league?" asked an English captain in Macedonia. He was enlightened.

The best bomb thrower in my regiment says he used to pitch baseball in Kansas. But I didn't like to ask what a bush league is.

Bomb throwing isn't unlike pitching ball, come to think about it. There are half a score of different sorts of bombs, but the ones most often seen are about the size of a baseball.

This bush league soldier, said the English captain, "says there are rough baseball pitchers in the United States to kick the German army all by themselves if they could get enough bombs."

The United States army is arranging to buy 3 million bombs. Off-hand, that seems like quite a quantity. But if by any chance an American army of 1 million men should reach the front trenches in France and every tenth man should be a grenadier and a day of activity should happen, and each grenadier were to toss ten bombs—well, figure out for yourself how long 3 million bombs would last.

Bomb throwing is an art, but it is an art easily acquired. Plenty of field, nerve and judgment and a stout right arm are all that is needed.

New Orleans secured a good lead over Atlanta early in yesterday's game and retained it throughout, winning by a good margin. Results: SOUTHERN LEAGUE

VITAL STATISTICS Births Mrs. Thomas Lee, 2051 Josephine, a girl.

By JACK VEIOCK, International News Sports Editor. New York, May 2.—There are quite a few pitchers in the big leagues who could be hung-up winners if they were only tied up with some of the stronger clubs.

Every twirler famed here has natural pitching ability. Every one of them can give the best clubs in the big leagues a battle on the mound, and all of them lose many close games because, as a rule, the teams they are with are not consistent run-getters behind them.

There isn't a manager in either big league who wouldn't be proud of a staff like the one named here, for although Jim Vaughn is the only southpaw, the right-handers all have class, and they would be consistent winners with a strong offensive team.

BASEBALL STARS OF MILITARY AGE New York, May 2.—Baseball—to use the words of Ban Johnson—will be honored and glorified by a war call to its young men who are eligible to military service, according to present plans of the War Department.

Someone asked Ban if baseball would "suffer" through selective conscription and Johnson instantly resented the word.

Manager Hal Harvey has arranged two interesting fistie matches for the Tulane Athletic club. Monday night, Pat Moran, the local featherweight, and Sailor Davis, of Texas, who neatly disposed of Jimmie Ward of Algiers, the other night, will meet for a 15-round go.

While it is unfortunate in a way that such pitchers must be tied down to some of the weaker offensive clubs, it is a mighty good thing for baseball, for a good pitcher with the weaker teams often upsets a winning streak by the stronger clubs, and when they hook up with such stars as Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Babe Ruth, Guy Morton, Slim Sallee, Ferdie Schupp or Red Russell there is generally a pretty mound battle in store for the fans.

There are other pitchers tied with some of the weaker clubs whom we have neglected to mention here and who are considered equally as good. It is this class of pitchers who keep the managers guessing.

Les Darcy enlisted in the Reserve Aviation Corps because there was nothing else for him to do. Les tried his luck East, West, North and South, and everywhere he went he was greeted with the same song and dance—"No room for slackers here!"

NO BOTTLE FAMINE IS THREATENED The home-canning specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture urge every housekeeper to save bottles—especially wide-necked ones—for putting up fruits, preserves, jellies, jams and fruit juices.

NEW EPISCOPAL BISHOPS An Especially Large Number To Be Elected in May and June New York, May 2.—An especially large number of new bishops are to be elected by Episcopal conventions in May and June, due, in part, to vacancies caused by death, but chiefly owing to the advanced ages of diocesan bishops and the growth of dioceses. In some instances it is possible that suffragan bishops may be chosen, so it is reported, but the tendency seems to be away from such bishops and in favor of assistants who have the right of succession upon the deaths of their chiefs.

OFFERS SERVICES TO U. S. Rome, May 1. (via Paris)—Pepino Garibaldi, grandson of the Italian patriot, who was chief of staff to the late, President Madero of Mexico, then commander of Italian volunteers in the Argonne, and now a colonel at the Italian front, made a special visit to Rome with three of his brothers, all officers under him, to offer their services to the United States. The Garibaldi brothers were received by Thomas Nelson Page, American ambassador, and they asked him to convey their offer to Washington.

SUB LOSSES ARE APPALLING London, May 2.—Admiral Lord Berosford, speaking in London and complaining of the incompleteness of the official returns of the submarine sinkings, said the losses were appalling. He declared that he felt so keen on the matter that he was inclined to risk the penalties of the defense of the realm act and tell the people himself, because, until they were informed, they would not realize the importance of economy.

HEAVY LOSSES IN THE AIR Parliament Member Criticizes British Aerial Service. London, May 1.—In the House of Commons W. Johnson-Hicks, who on several occasions before has discussed the British air service, severely criticized that service, complaining that inefficient machines, which ought never be allowed to fly over the German lines, were being used against superior enemy aircraft. He gave figures, compiled from the casualty lists, showing the following losses of British pilots: January 56, February 119, March 152, April to date 319.

NEW BULLETIN ON MAKING OF BREAD

If home-baked bread were uniformly well made it would be more extensively than at present in face of more expensive foods, say specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture, and this would be a distinct economy. From the standpoint of nutrition it makes very little difference whether breadstuffs are served in the form of bread or in the form of breakfast cereals, side dishes with meat, or desserts. A man engaged in moderate muscular work can profitably consume about three-quarters of a pound a day of breadstuffs in any one of these forms. This quantity is the equivalent of one pound of baked bread. As a matter of fact, however, it is not probable that in the average family this quantity is consumed and the deficiency is made up by the use of more expensive substance. Of course, bread alone is not sufficient for the maintenance of health, but from both an economical and a hygienic point of view should be used more extensively than it usually is.

In a new publication of the department, Farmers' Bulletin 807, detailed directions for the making of bread in the home are given, together with a number of convenient recipes for home-made biscuits, rolls and bread in which rice or potatoes are used with flour. The bulletin also gives a score card by means of which it is suggested the housewife can estimate the merit of her product.
