DISASTERS.

In the brig Justina from Port au Prince, came two seamen who report having Norfolk in the schr New Orleans, 127 Wood, bound for St Pierre, Martinique, consigned to the consul—laden with paving stones—that the schr went to Port Royal instead of St Pierre, and the Captain and one mate left the cargo there, but the second hearing of some of the small notes in demand, proceeded on the cargo stopped, and ordered her with the balance of the crew to St Thomas and thence to proceed home. Instead of going there, her captain got a load for Bayonne and Porto Cabello where she obtained a cargo for Antwerp. The latter refused to go to York. He proceeded on the voyage home and made the coast of St Domingo, dredging it to the Port-de-Paix—got into that harbor, and from some cause or other, the schr sprung a leak and the captain ran her on shore on a small reef on the coast of St Domingo, where the vessel was condemned and sold, like the cargo. The captain claims for the vessel and cargo. The money was about to be put into his hands, when the crew, having all the pay coming to them, determination, leading to the stopping of the voyage on the mouth of the authorities. The captain still claims the money, and the matter thus rests. The name of the consignees of the cargo is not known, and this is published that they may, if any merchant in this city has letter, information of such a vessel being sold in the West Indies. The schr is one of the finest in Norfolk.—Capt Sherwood may be heard from at 1 Grubb & Co., store, 117 Front street.—New Era of yesterday
